

1982 Colonial Echo

1982 Colonial Echo

1983

---

Volume 85
Copyright by the Colonial Echo
College of William and Mary
Williamsburg, Virginia 23185

C O N T E N T S

Introduction
1

Magazine
8

Sports
88

Organizations
162

Faces
274

Directory
380

Conclusion
408

F E A T U R E S

Outside In	10
Inside Out	20
Moving Away	41
Dorm Life	60
Winning and Losing	90
Escape	156
Entertainment	189
Computers	216
Drinking	238
Holidays	268
Money	374

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from LYRASIS members and Sloan Foundation

<http://www.archive.org/details/colonialecho198385coll>

C O N T R A S T

1 9 8 3
C O L O N I A L
E C C H O

The tourists and students come and go. The student comes with an image of William and Mary and adapts to that image according to his needs (John Donnelly, English major, reading on Tucker porch). The tourists come with an image of William and Mary and leave with the same image.

C o n t r a s t

Colonialism. It's all over Williamsburg. Almost everywhere you look, something is colonial, either by name or appearance: Duke of Gloucester Street, Monticello Shopping Center, Colonial Typewriters, Patrick Henry Inn. Things are so determinedly colonial that anyone exposed to it for long periods of time, as we are, would realize that This is not Reality.

The College is no exception. There are just as many tourists here, gawking at and taking pictures of the Wren building, as there are in the rest of Colonial Williamsburg.

But the people aren't colonial. Behind the 18th century walls are students, teachers and business people studying, teaching and working. These are regular, modern, everyday people who happen to be in a rather unique place.

And it is unique. Where else can someone dressed in colonial garb walk into a place like George's or the Greenleaf without even attracting a second glance? In a town like Williamsburg, there is a constant contrast between Colonial and the 20th century.

Archives

L

JUN 1

1967

→

C-10

---

Contrast

---

Photos by Rob Smith

High technology at the second oldest university in the country. Keeping up with the computer age, William and Mary offers computer programming in various departments. In contrast, such disciplines as English, Religion and Philosophy still attract student interest. Mike Hood makes use of a sunny spot in Tucker.

Beyond the "restored" facade of colonialism, Colonial Williamsburg is Big Business. Check out the inside of that deceptively colonial edifice that is the main office of CW. There are IBM Selectrics, computer terminals and bright, florescent lights as in any other busy office. No candles and quill pens here.

Across confusion corner, past the Wren building, and belying its "quaint and charming," picturesque, second-oldest-college exterior, there is a modern university.

Computers, central heating, air conditioning (for those lucky enough to have it), cable T.V. and video games are evidence of our high-tech. For such a small, liberal arts, Virginia college, we are remarkably diverse. Miniskirts mix with khakis, New York accents with Southern drawls. A curriculum ranging from Philosophy to Marketing offers both the cerebral and the practical.

---

Contrast

---

Contrast is inherent at William and Mary. An island of ageless Colonialism in a world-wide Computer Age. A stubbornly liberal arts, well-rounded institution in a time of career-oriented obsession with practicality.

The true William and Mary lies in those things seldom seen by tourists. At the Caf, in the dorms, at Swem, academically and culturally, in sports, clubs and organizations, the Real World William and Mary, underneath the superficial colonialism of its nearly 300 year old surface, there are subtle contrasts.

Contrast goes to perceptions. A contrast of attitudes defines Cathy Suhenski as she watches the band practice. She plays quarterback during English department football. She escapes the dingy rooms of an outdoor class.

Bob Smith

MAGAZINE

---

The Other W & M

32

Student & Community

38

Fundamentals

50

Cultural Arts

76

Fitness

84

“What a pretty campus!”
 “Where’s the Wren Building?”
 “I wish my son could go there.”

They came in flocks. Peering, pointing, snapping pictures. A endless stream of tourists. Colonial Williamsburg teemed with them, and since the Wren Building was a part of the tour (just took a few official CW maps), they spilled over onto campus.

Students with clamorous questions and loud, unbecoming distractions of heads of steam and feet resounding on the wooden floors were the byproducts of an occasional lost tourist who had wandered from the group.

William and Mary. A name that conjured up images of a colonial settlement, a hazy, tree-lined street, and a grand mill. William and Mary. A name that conjured up images of a colonial settlement, a hazy, tree-lined street, and a grand mill. William and Mary. A name that conjured up images of a colonial settlement, a hazy, tree-lined street, and a grand mill.

The most outspoken opponents were students from rival universities who, over the weekend of the campus-based games of Virginia Tech's Hokies and Wake Forest's Deacons, had gathered in an observatory of the buildings.

Few Stater Parkers commented. Every student set back and had a hand in the game. “Dynamically, it was a very good game,” Thomas Jefferson slept here, or so they say. “It was a very good game.”

Town merchants brought in observations, like, “despite home A’s game (and we’re sure shoe sale remains the student shopping mainstay of the evening business).” The game was a very good game, who were well-served by the high quality mask, Robbins was a very good game, who were well-served by the high quality mask, Robbins was a very good game, who were well-served by the high quality mask.

have a great time. I wrote... were... close...

FEATURE

Outside looking in

---

Outside Looking In (cont'd)

---

Mark Beavers

Shooting the snaphooter. Another in the endless stream of visitors takes a shot of Wren.
Relaxing contentedly on the lawn, father and son take a break from tourist land to read about "What's Happening in Colonial Williamsburg."
A group of tourists search determinedly for the Wren building
Dressed for the season, President Graves' doorstep presents an appropriately autumnal picture to all visitors
Green and gold balloon bouquets of tribe spirit bobbed through the football stands, an outward sign of student enthusiasm

Rob Smith

Any remarks on college observers would hardly be complete without some mention of the most ardent college watchers, the touri. New Jersey native Heidi Adams was "surprised at the number of well-dressed students on campus." She explained that "when I was in college, during the late '60's and early '70's, no one wore shoes, much less wool blazers!" Jeremy Pine, a tourist from North Carolina, "had no idea that everyone would look so serious. Everyone seemed to have a weighty problem on his mind." May Harrington, a visitor from McLean, observed that "the campus is very neat and well-kept . . . and so are the students." Then, apparently unable to resist, Mrs. Harrington added, "That is the Wren building over there, isn't it?"

(cont'd on pg. 15)

Tribe football continued to attract dedicated athletes and fans. On the sidelines, Graeme Miller takes a minute to size up the opposition while a sea of thirst quenchers await the halftime crowds. The last day of Indian summer lured even the most book-bound outside.

---

Outside Looking In (cont'd)

---

Whoever was asked, wherever the answers came from, the impressions were the same. The College was seen as a traditional institution, set in a quaint little town, with conservative — and occasionally crazy — student body. It was a view consistently held by outsiders. But it was a view that every insider had seen as well. Most of us came to a William and Mary that we knew only for its scenic colonial paths, traditional education, and conservative reputation. We too were outsiders. And even now, along with the merchants, the townies, and the endless visitors, we share a little bit of this unique view of William and Mary, seen from the outside in.

— Mary Catherine Phelps

A campus landmark, the Crim Dell bridge reminds students of the secluded, picturesque quality of Old Campus. Freshman Nancy Ehrig and friends enjoy the quiet area of the Sunken Gardens during the unseasonal October heat. As much as everyone complains about the tourists, most every student eventually finds himself on a colonial bench to escape the academic atmosphere.

Love under the trees?

Colonial history, tradition, beauty, and romanticism have lasted through the changing of centuries and the growing pains of generations. But is there true romance at William and Mary? The answer depends on who you ask: the saps or the real romantics.

A sap will tell you that the most romantic place on campus is Crim Dell and that, in fact, there was a poll taken recently placing it among the top 10 romantic places on a college campus. You probably had a sap give you a campus tour. Listen closely; the ducks groan every time a couple kisses on the bridge. Real romantics don't "do" Crim Dell — at least not in peak time. They do have occasion to enjoy Crim Dell during Spring Break when everyone else is gone, or between summer and fall sessions. But they still never kiss on the bridge.

A female sap will bubble enthusiastically about fraternity parties. These are the girls you find in bathrooms squealing, "he's so-o-o-o cute!" Real Romantics go to fraternity parties to see their friends and listen to the band, sometimes even dance. Real romantics know that there's no romance to be found in the frat complex. All the buildings look the same.

Sororities have more romantic potential than the frat complex. However, more saps have been spied bringing flowers to some of the houses. And there are those infernal candlelight ceremonies that reduce the most hard-core cynic to humiliating sappiness.

The Pub goes both ways. The Pub can be romantic, but you have to bring your romance along. Only saps think they'll find romance there. The Wig is never romantic; it's too orange. Even saps are disgusted by the glare.

Real romantics enjoy their dorms and other living quarters. Study lounges and attics can be very romantic. Real romantics do not get caught entertaining guests by the campus police, however. Many a true love has been spawned during reading period, although sometimes nothing more than a diversion from calculus or p-chem. Incidentally, real romantics don't fail their exams because they're in love, either.

Buildings like Tucker and the Wren Building are romantic — but they escape sappiness by the econ majors taking Ethics or the Bio majors taking 17th century literature. Once in a while, a sap is discovered in the computer departments at Jones or Chancellor sending drippy messages through the terminal. (Jones is not romantic, nor is Small, nor is Morton.)

Swem is just Swem. Even a sap would have to agree that, between the glaring lights and the humidity, Swem Library could have discouraged Romeo and Juliet.

Real romantics like Lake Matoaka. Actually, the lake and the amphitheater have the effect of making real romantics dangerously sappy. But not many other colleges have a place that is more glorious than Lake Matoaka on an October afternoon.

Real romantics go just about anywhere to find romance. It just depends on who they're with. Check out Barksdale field on a clear night; Tina and Jeffrey nestled in the trees beyond the sunken gardens; or the paths through the woods behind the Hall and around the lake.

Real romantics are rare — many of them were saps at some point. It's only human to feel an occasional twinge passing by Crim Dell in the Spring when the azaleas are blooming. But real romantics must quietly suffer the gooey outflow of "oohs," and "aahs," and "it's so gorgeous here" inevitably gushed by the saps.

— Lauri Caswell

Photos by Mary Lida

Long hours of practice produce a qualified orchestra. Juggling student and community members time is not often an easy task. Non William and Mary individuals play an important part in the William and Mary Orchestra.

Broadening Musical Experiences

“Orchestra — 1 credit hour,” said the course catalog. It didn’t seem like much for four hours of rehearsals a week plus performances and practicing, yet that didn’t keep these dedicated musicians from signing up. Eight of them were not even students, so they didn’t even get that one college credit. They worked regular jobs during the day, and came to Ewell Hall two nights a week to rehearse with the rest of the College/Community Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Edgar Warren Williams. What made them all do it?

“I call it fate,” says Sharon Reed, Assistant Registrar for the College. Twenty-one years after her high school orchestra days, she saw an ad Dr. Williams had placed in the William and Mary News: “Desperate for cellists!” She began taking lessons again, auditioned, and has been an active member of the orchestra for two years now. Like the others, she is enthusiastic: “I love it!”

Kae Brown, string bass player and Registered Nurse, has a similar story. For her, starting a family and career took precedence over music after high school; eighteen years later, she decided to play again. She had performed in Sinfonicon, Backdrop, and other musical productions as well as the orchestra. In addition to these numerous obligations, she served as adviser to Delta Omicron, the women’s professional music fraternity.

“The orchestra gave me a chance to broaden my musical experience and meet new people,” said Linda Baumgarten, a bassoonist who works as Curator of Textiles in Colonial Williamsburg. She too had stopped playing for years after high school; when she joined the orchestra in September, she brought with her Leslie Brown, curatorial fellow in Ceramics and Glass for CW, who wanted to get back to playing her violin. Another violinist, Mary Selby, who works at the Christmas Shop in CW and plays in the Peninsula Symphony, called the orchestra “exciting.” She enjoyed the ‘new’ music favored by Dr. Williams, especially the newest program which included works by Hindemith and Prokofiev.

And what would a William and Mary story be without a little tradition thrown in? David Vogan, who works with Jennings Architectural Firm, played the cello during his (yes) W & M days (class of 1974). After spending several years in Minnesota, he returned to Williamsburg and the orchestra last year. Enjoying both the new people and the new music, he decided to stay.

Other members from the community included Christopher Mathers, a string bass player and music teacher at Gloucester Middle School, and Valesca Tiefel, an eighth grader and oboist. Although younger than most of the other members, Valesca was recruited during an oboe shortage prior to Parents’ Weekend Concert in October. Like the others she enjoyed the opportunity to play and meet new people.

“We couldn’t do it without them,” said Dr. Williams of his non-William and Mary musicians. The orchestra required time, commitment, patience and talent from all its members. This group was especially fortunate to have in these eight members the kind of enthusiasm that comes from making music purely for pleasure.

— Anne Roberson

Ever felt like we're living in a postcard? Or a tourist pamphlet? A walk down DOG Street proved it. Williamsburg was one big stereotype, a town full of colonialism. Buildings, clothing, crafts, even the vegetation were all certified Colonial. The skyline was something out of the eighteenth century — straight and simple, not a telephone pole in sight. It was as if the town were cast in a single mold, perfectly shaped to fit colonial stereotypes.

It was only natural that some of these stereotypes spilled over to the college. It is, after all, just another colonial landmark cast in the CW mold, isn't it? The boxy, brick buildings, treacherous, mossy, brick walkways, the requisite creeping ivy on the brick walls. Even the same scholastic standards and liberal arts philosophy laid down by the founders were still intact. And the Honor Code, that rather anachronistic throwback to colonial gentry, was still alive.

But do the stereotypes tell the whole story? Is there anything beyond the tranquil campus and the centuries-old educational system? Anything that doesn't quite fit the mold? Just look at William & Mary from the students' point of view. Go beyond the stereotypes, beyond the CW illusion. It's William & Mary, from the inside out.

Apart from the stereotypes given the college by others, students brought expectations of their own. Kim Moses voiced a feeling common among freshmen: "I expected the academics to be really hard, and I thought I'd feel a great deal of pressure . . . but the pressure just wasn't that noticeable once the semester began." Another freshman praised her classes as "more interesting than I had hoped for, and more fun." Students even found their expectations surpassed. Many had anticipated stodgy, cold, formal professors. But they were then pleasantly surprised that their professors turned out to be "warm, friendly, approachable, and genuinely concerned about their students."

In addition to academic expectations, students brought social expectations with them. What could a small, southern college in this preserved

(cont'd on p. 23)

F E A T U R E

Inside out

Inside looking out (cont'd)

town possibly have to offer socially? First, as freshman Julia Scarborough noted, it has a "diverse student body. Everyone here has some kind of talent." Junior Patty Zillian agreed that "the people here are well-rounded; they've got more to offer than intelligence." Countless clubs and organizations were available to this varied population. Athletic clubs, intramural programs, and varsity sports satisfied the jock in everyone. Circle K, religious groups, and community outreach programs offered a chance to serve others. Theatre, dance, and musical ensembles provided a creative outlet for the aspiring artists. Was there enough for students to do? Sophomore Benny McCall asserted that "whatever your interest, whether it's traditional or brand new, normal or weird, you'll be able to find a group of people who like the same thing."

Academics and social life were important to everyone. But beyond both of these, there was an even more profound

(cont'd on p. 24)

From misconception to reality: tourists believe in the postcard image of the College and Williamsburg; the professor represents the academic ideas for which students attend college; dorm life is where the students learn his own college image and academic expectations, and how he relaxes from school influence. It was true that top quality academics and faculty, and a diverse social atmosphere went a long way toward making the college experience unique and valuable. But much more than this, the people made the college. Freshman Dan White observed that "there are so many helpful people around. It didn't take long for me to adjust because of the help and the supportive atmosphere." Sophomore Ellen Wentz was equally impressed by the people. She found them "generally really friendly" and observed that she "hardly ever crossed campus without saying hi to someone." The people were special; they defied the stereotypes. And more than any other part of the college experience, they made William and Mary special . . . from the inside out.

---

Inside looking out (cont'd)

---

— Exeter Stay

What it all finally comes down to in academics is what the student absorbs. Times spent quietly studying often prove more fruitful than sitting in a lecture hall, especially when the student's mind isn't on the professor

The people who wanted to be left alone

On Thursday, January 20 at 1:15 a.m., Andy Kahl pulled the alarm. Two hours later, students in small huddles stood outside as thick layers of ice grew on trees and sidewalks. During the night and throughout the next day, Flat Hat reporters, Tidewater cameramen, Richmond Times-Dispatch representatives, and countless photographers swarmed the latest citadel of sensationalism: Jefferson Hall and its former residents.

The smoke died down, and so did the attention. Within a week, students stopped gawking at the rubble. Reporters turned to new events. The surge of local business contributions and student clothes donations tapered off.

However, one fact remained, and will remain, in the lives of 183 freshmen and resident assistants: their first home at William and Mary, and most of their personal belongings, were gone.

Allowing time for nerves to settle, I visited room 304 of The Commonwealth Inn. Sitting on the floor, beds, and chairs and having a few beers and tootsie rolls, Mark Constantine, Bob Coghill, Marty Cross, Martha Droge, John Jones, Anoush Kevorkian, Mike Rausch, and Kathy Suchenski talked about what relocation and adaptation meant to them. It was two weeks after the fire.

---

Q: What were your emotions that night, when you learned that the dorm could not be saved? How do they compare with your feelings now?

---

Kathy: That night all I could keep thinking was that I had to finish reading this book for an 11:00 class. I really had my mind set on going to classes. When I realized that I had to start worrying about clothes and insurance forms, I began to get a grip of the situation.

Martha: At 4:00 a.m. I watched outside a window of Chandler as the roof of Jefferson went up in flames. When I thought this was really a big thing. In a way I guess I felt detached. When I saw Mark's room go, it hit me. I guess because it was a physical thing that I knew would never be there again. Now I'm a little disoriented. The sadness is gone, but I don't really feel at home yet.

Michael: My roommate and I had the first rooms to go. I guess I took it rather matter-of-factly when I heard the chainsaw and saw the water hoses through what used to be my window. My loft, stereo, and books were gone; it was a simple matter. But now, I feel the loss more, for both me and my friends. The irreplaceable things hurt a lot.

John: That night it was just something that had to be overcome, I had to keep going. Now I feel good about my situation. I'm going on now — no emotional scars or anything. I know I can sink as low as possible and rise above it.

Mark Beavers

At the Red Cross table, Jim Brubaker signs for credit slips at Casey's Department Store.

Q: Several students and many local businesses contributed clothes and other benefits for "your cause." Since the average William and Mary student comes from upper middle class families, how did being the recipient of donations make you feel?

Anoush: While buying clothes at Casey's (the Red Cross had given students two hundred dollar credits at the store) I was really conscious of spending other people's money. My parents used to donate a lot of stuff to Goodwill, and now I'm at the receiving end. Definitely an odd feeling.

Mark: Actually I was home with mono at the time so I didn't lose too many clothes. In fact, my mother packed a lot of clothes for my friends. I remember there was that fluorescent pink piece . . .

Martin: When the Red Cross gave us the slips for Casey's I thought I would leave mine for someone who needed it more. Then I realized that I was one of those people who really needed it. I mean,

Q: When you found out that Jefferson would obviously be closed for at least the rest of the semester, what was your initial reaction?

John: When I saw my room go up in flames, some friends and I went to Hampton to stay with my parents. A shower and something to eat seemed real appealing at the time. When we drove back and saw the dorm the next day, I knew that it was really gone — a realization that was hard to grasp when it was actually happening.

Mike: My whole impression has been strange. When I realized that we all may never live together again, I thought of my friends and how I wanted to stay with them. I declined an apartment at King and Queen to stay with my hallmates at Commonwealth Inn.

Martha: I didn't really think about the fact that it would be closed forever; I dwelled on the material losses and my friends' rooms burning. Three days later we all learned that we would have to be permanently relocated. I was terrified of being split up from my friends.

Kathy: Just one lingering thought: I still wanted to live there.

Rob Gaulten

As the fire spread through the attic and third floor, residents watch each room's destruction.

Q: Next year, will you choose to move back on campus?

Anoush: I really want to be back on campus because environmentally it's a lot nicer. Like in the bathrooms of dorms in the morning. Being with people can really help you get going for classes.

Mark: I can't wait to get back on campus. I really cherish dorm life now.

Bob: Definitely. Out here time is wasted because you have to go back and forth so much.

---

Q: How does Commonwealth Inn compare with College housing?

---

Anoush: It's colder because Jefferson had a personality that wasn't generic. It's really hard now to see some of the people you want to see. It sounds weird, but I really miss the guys down the hall blasting their stereos. I also miss the stereos blaring outside windows as I went to class.

Mark: I hate it. The only good thing about it is that most of my friends are here with me.

Bob: The bad part is the location. We are far from campus and such conveniences as the Wig and the bookstore. And the traffic noises out here on Richmond Road are unbearable.

Marty: There is no place to go in between classes. I used to like taking naps between classes and now I have to hang out in "Jefferson Lounge" (Campus Center). Plus, there is little hot water out here; the hotel only has a 300 gallon water heater.

---

Q: What was the one thing you lost that you miss the most?

---

Kathy: The room. We really had a comfortable room just to talk in. I was fortunate enough to get my guitar out.

John: My sketch book. It was a semester's worth of drawings that you just can't redraw, you know?

Mike: My library books that matched my field of study — History — and the antique book case they were in. A lot of the books are out of print. I also miss the hat that my grandfather used to wear (my mother hated it); he used to wear it when he came to visit.

Anoush: Lisa Hylton, my roommate who now lives at Kappa. I don't know, it's just not the same now in the morning when we used to wake up and have to face classes.

Mark: A term paper from high school. I had sent it in to a magazine for publication. They didn't print it, but were quite encouraging for me to continue work on it. I guess like John's sketch book, you just can't re-do it.

Bob: Old notes and papers. A lot of xeroxes would be valuable for my studies now.

Martin: Little things, like photographs. Especially my stereo. I got it for Christmas. The night I first played it was the night of the fire. The first album I heard from Duran Duran, melted on the turntable.

Rob Culler

Nattalie Brown and seeing-eye dog, Lance, spend the night in Barret as their old residence burns.

---

Q: As a dorm unit, and as a group of friends, do you feel closer now?

---

Martin: It's harder to keep in contact now with some people since this hotel has such long halls. You're really lucky if you stayed close to the people you wanted to.

Bob: I guess people will be together if they really want to be, especially after they have been through something like this.

Mark: Our hall is gone (2nd West); we are divided up all over campus. But now, I am closer to some of my friends. A lot closer than I ever thought I would be.

---

Q: What was your reaction to college administrative proceedings concerning your dilemma?

---

Kathy: Dean Jarmon and Dean Sadler did everything they could, but at the same time, to this date, my parents have received nothing concerning the event.

Martha: Wonderful. I was pretty much in a daze and they told us everything we should do: call our parents, start thinking about insurance reports, and get new I.D.'s and meal plans. The Red Cross really had their act together; they even volunteered to buy our books if we couldn't afford them.

John: One really absurd thing. Before any of this ever happened, we had broken a window during a snowball fight. There were five of us who decided we would just split the cost of repairs. Later, after the fire, Jarmon reminded us that we still had to pay for the window, even though it was now melted.

---

Q: Psychologically, going through such an ordeal could not be easily forgotten. Do you hold any new perceptions of your life?

---

Mark: I now realize my excessive materialism. I didn't lose that much, and now I feel really ashamed. I'm not nearly as materialistic as I used to be.

Bob: Even though I watched my room fall from the second to the first floor, I'm over the realization process. My major concerns now: a new jacket, rebuilding my record collection. Now I will probably be more receptive to charities.

Examining donated clothing in the basement of the campus center, Marty Cross feels the initial pangs of readjusting.

Anoush: I still haven't gotten over it. I can't concentrate on anything. It's a very strange feeling having nothing. My close friends are so much more important to me now. The material parts mean nothing.

---

Q: Because of relocation, have your academics been affected?

---

Kathy: Right now, I'm going through the motions. I can read assignments, but I might as well not be doing them.

Martha: Yeah, my concentration has also been shot. It can be really hard to catch up here, but when you have to worry about insurance forms, C&P, and basically letting the event sink into you, who really cares about homework?

John: Because of the lack of hot water, I'm forced to get up much earlier than I've been used to. All this is fine because I need a hot shower in the morning, but then having to deal with buses and being on campus all day, I get tired a lot easier.

Mike: Not that extensively. Probably most of the stuff I'm not reading I wouldn't have read anyway (as I didn't last semester). If I'm behind, it's my fault.

---

Q: What was your reaction to the press coverage?

---

Mike: After Dean Sadler talked with us about Red Cross procedures, Martha and I talked about things that had been in our rooms. Her father had given her a wood carving of a rose. Remembering these things, Martha started to cry. As I was holding her, I heard a guy approaching us. I turned to meet a glaring white light in my face and the camera rolling. I honestly wanted to kill the guy who was filming us. A meeting is public domain; a wooden rose isn't.

Anoush: A day or so after the fire we were allowed to go into the dorm and retrieve anything that was left, although they only gave us a limited time. But I was too late. I'm ashamed to admit it, but I resorted to begging a fireman to let me go in. As I was pleading, I heard a guy say, "Over here, this looks good." I turned and saw a camera filming me. I screamed at the reporter, "Why can't you just leave us alone!"

—Eric Hook

Mark Beavers

Part of Basic Design I is working with perspective. A Fine Arts student takes advantage of good weather to sketch the linear qualities of new campus.
Paul Helfrich, Fine Arts professor, redefines a line for a student during a Drawing I class perspective assignment.
Crim Dell offers a relaxed environment for Professor William's Music Theory class.

Photos by Rob Smith

Before the building of academic class rooms

A squirrel skids across the sidewalk as a few autumn leaves find their place in the grass. The guy who never says anything lights a cigarette and I watch the match's glow singe a few dried pine needles. Following my pen's instinct, I draw sketches of the surrounding trees inside the spirals of my notebook. My eye catches the notes I wrote five minutes ago and I realize I haven't heard a word the professor has said for a good five minutes . . .

Outside classes tended to breed daydreaming, but a lot more was to be gained by moving out of the classroom. Due to the particularly warm fall weather, groups of students led by suddenly child-like professors sought after quiet spots on campus for lectures. The Sunken Gardens, Crim Dell, and the trees behind Morton offered sanctuary from hot and humid buildings.

As a revitalized practice, art students escaped the florescent lights and turpentine-choked rooms of Andrews to pursue their interests on campus sites, Lake Matoaka, or even the Colonial Parkway. According to Ginger Abbot, leaving the campus not only provided interesting subject matter, but also gave her a nice break from mid-semester academic ruts.

—Eric Hook

31	78.	118.	48.
32	88.	110.	22.
33	62.	98.	36.
34	88.	128.	48.
35	62.	62.	8.

```
-- TINT .95 C12
C12      N = 35      MEAN =      18.457      ST.DEV. =
```

A 95.00 PERCENT C.I. FOR MU IS ( 13.1727, 23.7416)

```
-- STOP
```

Minitab Rel. 81.1 for PRIME Computers (January 1981)

```
OK, COMD -END
```

```
OK, FIXCOMD
```

Fixup comd file with embedded erase and kill chars.

Input file:

```
PRINT1
```

Output file:

```
PRINT2
```

343 records written.

```
OK, SPOOL PRINT2 -AT CHAN
```

```
[SPOOL rev 18.3]
```

```
PRT005 spooled, records: 14, name: PRINT2
```

```
OK, _
```

As technology becomes advanced, so does education. A Business School program can easily be confused for a Computer Science Project.

14, name: Print; Business School O K, —

Known as a small, undergraduate, liberal arts college, William & Mary is actually a full-fledged university. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law, the School of Business Administration and the School of Education, as separate and yet integral parts of the whole college, show that there is more to William & Mary than just Arts & Sciences.

“The Business School is the only school with its feet both in undergraduate and graduate work,” remarked Business School Dean Mr. Charles Quittmeyer. Undergraduate business students enroll in the business program as juniors, yet they are still able to take electives in the School of Arts and Sciences. Liberal arts majors may also enroll in business courses. “About twenty percent of the school’s class hours are taken by sophomores and non-business students,” stated Mr. Quittmeyer. The dean has seen the school “metamorphize” from a department granting majors in business to an accredited business school with bachelors and masters programs. In addition, the institution has its own activities and awards: Each year on Sponsor’s Day, a medallion is presented to a faculty chosen business executive, while on President’s Day, MBA students listen to discussions led by prominent businessmen.

—John McGee

---

THE OTHER WILLIAM AND MARY

---

A Student of the Business School take advantage of the Department's computer set up. In an age where even word processors are taking the place of typewriters, knowledge of computer is important in education.

As computer advancements hit all areas of life, the Law School takes advantages of technology by storing court cases for student research.

Reviewing a case history. Law students can escape the library and enjoy the outside setting of the Law Library.

Since most class grades depend on the final exam, pressure acts as an omnipresent factor in a Law student's life. Study breaks in the library often bring short term relief to this tension.

© 1995 by W. J. K. Co.

THE OTHER WILLIAM AND MARY

Balancing tradition with reform

Unlike the Schools of Business and Education, the Marshall-Wythe School of Law is not involved with undergraduate students. Its students attend classes in the new law school which is located two blocks away from the main campus. Since it is an institution of specialized learning, Marshall-Wythe has its own educational philosophy as well as the strong academic reputation for which the entire college is known. Mr. William B. Spong, Jr. serves as the Dean of the Law School and he observes, "We have tried to emphasize the human side of the practice of law. Many members of our faculty consistently strive to provide this perspective in the teaching of their courses." The school has undertaken many changes recently, including the use of an experimental, unconventional moot courtroom. "Balancing the acknowledged need for prudent reform with the preservation of a sound, traditional legal education has not been easy," stated Mr. Spong. He concluded that: "Changes here at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law have been so recent that their impact on the skills acquired by our graduates cannot be assessed."

— John McGee

Part of student teaching is learning how to communicate to the child. Martha Newsom carefully listens to her pupil's comment. Student teaching offers the Education students a rigorous five day schedule. Joseph Johnson spends his time with elementary students.

Photos by Mark Beavers

It may be a rude awakening, but being a student teacher puts Andrea Thiringer back into the school environment. Going over an assignment, Mary Bartlett learns the patience teaching demands.

THE OTHER WILLIAM AND MARY

Students going back to school

The School of Education was also involved in undergraduate studies, but only through its function as a department of the School of Arts and Science. Mr. Robert Emans, Associate Dean of the school, states, "For bachelor degree candidates, we offer our department as a concentration for prospective elementary school teachers. Secondary school teachers concentrate in their academic area and take a program from us for certification." However, graduate work in the department was done entirely under the separate School of Education. This program trained people for positions as administrators, guidance counselors, and special education instructors. The doctoral program was designed for administrators and supervisors. Mr. Emans was particularly proud of, "the fact that the entire school is now located in Jones Hall." "We are finally in one spot with enough room for our graduate students," he said.

— John McGee

Working with underprivileged children is one of the many service projects to which devoted students dedicate their time.

Breaking the environmental walls

Weekly bingo games at the Pines Convalescent Center were eagerly attended by residents and graciously hosted by students.

Photos by Jan Singletary

Jogging down DOG Street or catching the "Green Machine" to Safeway were, to many students, the first glimpses of off-campus life. Although the tourists and the occasional waiter or bank teller did not give a student much of a feeling of community, Williamsburg was more than just a tourist mecca or a picturesque setting for the college if a student made the effort to get involved.

Of course, there were numerous obstacles. Probably the greatest of these was the near self-sufficiency of the campus. With places to sleep, eat, study, and party all located inside the brick and ivy walls, there was little reason to venture off into an unfamiliar town. Still, opportunities in the form of service organizations, jobs, and churches, were readily available to all. Visiting and talking to people outside of the college was refreshing and even vital in the opinion of students with a broad scope of vision.

"A college can be an artificial environment because nearly everyone is the same age," said freshman Melinda Bond. "You worry about the same things — tests, papers, social life — and that can mean losing touch. When I go to the Pines Convalescent Center with the BSU on Saturdays, I'm reminded that there's a lot more to the world than college. The old people are glad when you come visiting but it's good for me too — it keeps me in touch with reality." Many other service-oriented organizations reached out to different needy groups, including underprivileged children, the mentally retarded, and the handicapped.

Colonial Williamsburg has a different kind of reality. The atmosphere of learning, of nuclear physics, computers, abstract art, and existentialist philosophy juxtaposed with quaint Colonial Williamsburg was a striking contrast. Working in the restored area, a modern college student could realize the fantasy of being part of another era . . . and get paid for it! As a waiter for the King's Arms, a student got to know non-collegiate co-workers as well as the myriad of tourists that frequented the establishment. As a host, standing on the porch in colonial attire from 12 til 5 p.m., Junior Alan Nabors got to meet numerous diversified people. "You know you're a part of the community when the CW tour guide points to you and says, "Over there is a student who works at the King's Arms." Back home, in the tourist family album, Alan was a permanent part of Williamsburg.

continued on p. 49

Breaking the environmental walls (cont'd.)

Another advantage that Fred and all others who were involved with the community gained was an easier transition into the world after college. Teaching reading and writing for the equivalent of a high school diploma in the Adult Services Program not only prepared students for later teaching positions — it made them aware of people in a totally different situation who nevertheless shared certain hopes and dreams. Though senior Brad Ford is finalizing plans for Medical School, he insists the two hours a week he spends tutoring are some of his most rewarding. "I can put classroom theory into practice with someone who really wants to learn. She heard about it as a maid at the college and came in on her own. I really admire that."

Once a student left the Sunken Gardens, the Wren Building, the friends, and all those books behind, it was a little easier to become a member of an adult community because as a part of Williamsburg he had been inside a unique community and with its people all along.

Despite the subtly cut-throat air of competition that grading on a curve fosters, there was a comraderie among students that was difficult, if not impossible, to extend to people outside the college. Fred Baerenz, a Junior who held the position of High School Youth Director at a local church was one exception. He found that the tendency for college students to think of those in high school as far younger than them in intellect as well as age was not completely accurate. "It wasn't that long ago that I was where they are now, yet I feel I have knowledge that can help them," Fred said. Did the job have benefits? "Definitely. They continually surprise me with their insight, their struggle to grow, and their capacity for caring. They teach me about myself."

— Monica Tetzlaff

Through volunteering their services in the community, students have the opportunity to learn from others. With "Pet Therapy," volunteers not only see a new perspective on life, but also make others happy. Bringing puppies from the S.P.C.A., student volunteers highlight senior citizens' lives.

Taking advantage of Swem's periodical section, students can avoid a long term study session in the stacks.

Forever Swemming

The library has many uses. There are the more obvious ones: "I go in there to read," claims freshman Russ Daniel. "It's the only place I can do it." But reading is not the only activity going on at the library.

There were the many extra services, besides books, that the library provided. Foreign and English films in the basement Bote-tourt theatre, speakers from Colonial Williamsburg, exhibits in its Zollinger Museum, not to mention regular features such as old records and dance video tapes in the Educational Media Services Department, and Special Collections, a separate library of rare books.

And then there are the less academic pursuits. Sophomore Becky Loker admitted to "coming in between classes to kill some time reading the paper." Joe Song observed that "there's a lot of gabbing in the lounge. People use the library as a rendezvous site for large groups." Some nights it seemed that everybody who was anybody was there. Commented Joe: "It seems to me a strange place to socialize." Even those attempting to act in a manner appropriate for a library (i.e. studying) failed miserably in their efforts. "I've seen many a head resting atop open books," said Hillary Michaels. "I guess the work must be stimulating."

Some students totally disregarded the academic tradition of the library by engaging in the social practice of scoping. Resident Assistant Daphne McMurrer explained. "A lot of guys will come in and move through the tables, speaking to everyone they know. They really are scanning for females they want to know. Once they sit down, they observe her books, scheming to initiate an after-class-meeting. Also, by memorizing her study break times, they arrange to meet her over the water fountain. I've even seen frat guys leave invitations to parties while their scopee steps out to the restroom."

And people think the library is a place to study?

— Brent Armistead

Too late to check out any books, Amy Griffin decides it's pointless to walk back to Pleasents.

EX PROM

U.

in ch

Wickre

Wobes

of Anglin

W. C.

W. C.

Orientation Day and a new crop of freshmen arrived as usual. They had left home, Mom, Dad, and security far behind.

To many, this was the first real chance to make it on their own. They longed for the independence that would once and forever make them adults. And yet, even as they looked eagerly to the future, they carried much of their past along.

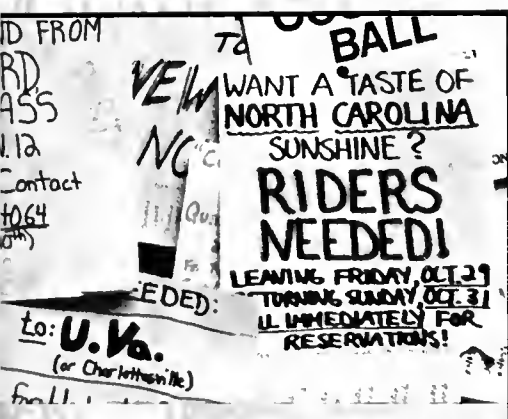

That first day on campus, snap shots and posters from home were immediately hung on the walls and propped on desk tops in Barret, Taliferro, and Jefferson. Last minute gifts from family and friends — a hotpot, a cornpopper, an alarm clock without a snooze button — were stuffed into cramped rooms in Hunt and Dupont. And most conspicuously, Mom and Dad hovered nervously nearby. All were reminders of a safe and comfortable past that freshmen seemed eager to leave behind.

But were they truly eager for independence? In many cases, independence seemed a precious prize that was hard fought and hard won. All those little, unimportant things that Mom used to do, even simple laundry tasks, took on epic proportions. “Do I wash this in hot water? Cold water? No water? How do you know what won't shrink? How do I get the lint out of the dryer?” Each trip to the laundry room meant another potential disaster. Shriveled raisin-like sweaters, puckered blouses, and entire loads of pink laundry were sure signs of laundry room ignorance. Janet Priceman recalled “a fuzzy, white sweater that shrank into a massive fuzzy ball” the first time she washed it. “That was the first and the last time I ever ruined anything in the laundry.” Other students concurred. “By the time 1st semester ended, even the guys seemed able to handle their washing,” was one freshman woman's generous assessment.

Independence was just as hard-won in other areas. One adjustment that required extraordinary effort was the struggle to adjust to dorm life. It was an uphill battle. Stereos blasting at 4 p.m. and 4 a.m. interrupted prime study and sleep time. But adjustments were made: “I learned how to sleep with the stereo on — something I could never do at home. I also learned to

(cont'd on p. 46)

FEATURE

Moving away

---

Moving away, (cont'd)

---

sleep anytime the opportunity presented itself," recalled Pat McParland. The never-ending stream of interruptions from dorm friends was perhaps the most serious deterrent of sleep and study. There was always someone around looking for a running or raquetball partner, a friend to have dinner with, or just someone to talk to. Interruptions were often irritating, but more often pleasant; lots of interruptions also meant lots of company.

Photos by Mark Beavers

With seven grocery stores in the greater Williamsburg area, Reid La Clair chooses Safeway for his shopping. No, maybe Mom didn't have a Greek accent, but many students depended on George's off-campus restaurant for a home cooked meal. If George's got boring, some students braved the dormitory kitchen facilities.

And it was just this company that made the freshman transition to college life possible. Friends were always around to help and harass, to console and cajole, and to soften the bumps that hit everyone during that first year away from home. "I wouldn't have made it through the first month without my roommate. She was as close and supportive as a sister," asserted freshman Allice McKrien. Upperclassmen also provided strong support. Many freshmen found adopted families in sororities, fraternities, and other campus groups. "In many ways, I feel I have a second home here," enthused Greg Danialier, "because the people

(cont'd. on p. 49)

---

Moving away (cont'd)

---

Photos by Mark Beavers

I've met have become like a family to me.”
So it seems that the prized independence from home and family was not really independence at all. Freshmen were thrown into a strange world, and established a new set of dependencies. Perhaps Lindsey Bertiam summed it up best: “I guess one thing I realized was that we all depend on each other. In the good times and the bad times we shared things. That’s one of the things I cherish most from my freshman year.”

— Exeter Stay

The Campus Post Office, open all night long, provides students with an excuse for a study break.
Taking advantage of spare time at the laundromat, Sharon Zagorski writes home.
Jeff Krugman keeps in touch with home town connections. Sending and receiving mail was a sacred ritual to many freshmen.

Becoming part of the woodwork

Being a sophomore is not all I had imagined it to be as a freshman. Oh sure, I know my way around; I can find the caf, and it doesn't take twenty minutes to find my history class in Morton. Still, there is something lacking. The starry-eyed wonder of the initial collegiate experience has long faded for us sophomores. The first couple of weeks of the freshman year flowed into a continuous party. The limited social life, once thought of as incredible, has ceased to fascinate us. Late night trips to Paul's are commonplace and bad for the newly trim waistlines (after losing the "freshman ten"). Spontaneous quarters games at the Wig are now all but nonexistent, and, of course, we no longer have those gratuitous meat markets, otherwise known as freshman women's receptions, at the frats. Staying out until 3 a.m. four times a week is no longer a viable alternative to fighting boredom; we are becoming scholarly hermits in a semi-hysterical attempt to elevate a dismal G.P.A. acquired during our freshman year.

Sophomore slump sets in quickly. I fell prey to this sense of apathy on August 29. Saying goodbye to the folks wasn't nearly as difficult as it had been on that drizzly day a year ago. I managed to persuade them to stay just long enough for father and brother, the football player, to bunk the beds. My domestic zeal, however, failed me, and I immediately headed to Ludwell to visit old friends. Two weeks later my equally apathetic roommate and I tacked up our posters and cleared the obstacle course of boxes from the floor. This was old hat now.

Living in an upperclass dorm, which is generally a good experience, can be a bit of a letdown after living on one of the rowdier halls in Jefferson, although I do appreciate the calmer atmosphere. Of course, coed dorms are harder to come by, and upperclass housing for sophomore males is reduced to the

(cont'd on p. 52)

After a year, the fascination with CW fades. A thoughtful student lapses into contemplation in the colonial town that has become home.

Photos by Kathy Rawson

Solitude and a front row seat to the peaceful beauty of the Wildflower Refuge are conducive to study

Becoming part of the woodwork (cont'd)

frats and JBT. But whatever happened to the water and fire extinguisher fights when we knew everyone on our floor? We knew their business, too. No one asks with a smirk, "So when did you come in this morning?" after a date. (I guess there is something to be said for the privacy of an upperclass dorm.) Late night study sessions and consequent hysteria in the lounge aren't quite so jovial; things have gotten so serious, and studying is intense. Maybe our grades and study skills sessions have taught us a lesson or two.

Nevertheless, we still haven't learned not to postpone beginning that five page English paper until 11 p.m. the night before it's due. Claiming that we work better under pressure, we hunch over our typewriters until dawn creeps through the study lounge window, and in one final superhuman, panicked burst of energy, we complete that last page of typographical errors and once again vow to never pull another all-nighter.

Although we have been on our own (well, sort of) for a year now, many of us have yet to budget our funds. Dozens of dinners at George's and dozens of six-packs later we realize in October that we have already gone through half our money for the semester. After a futile attempt to discover what we could possibly have done with three-hundred and fifty dollars in two months, we opt for a drastic spending cutback and possible an urgent call home in late November.

And who can forget the beginning of the semester resolution not to indulge on Saturday night so that Sunday can be reserved for studying? Sunday, however, rolled around, rendered unproductive by the inevitable hangover. Some things never change.

Sophomore slump can be intensified by the dilemmas of picking a major and attempts to fulfill area and lab requirements. (Why didn't I take Cultural Chemistry instead of Bio 101 for my lab requirement?) Still, all is not lost. Somewhere in this chaos, a voice of reason prevails: we still have two years to get our acts together.

— Kim Moosha

Photos by Travis Ebel

For years the sign read "Campus Restaurant." "George's" was a name known only to the initiated, the campus and townie elite. Now George's proudly displays its name, and even the tourists can find it.

What are Rich Coe and Liz Utz smiling about? Whatever they're up to, dorm life seems to have proven a lofty experience.

Registration at the Hall: one of the last chaotic rites of passage that stands between the prospective student and the official freshman.

Miss Be...

By the fall of 1983, Morton and Andrews will have a new neighbor, the Muscarelle Museum. An addition to the Fine Arts Department, the museum will offer students first hand examples of art to learn from and the community selections

(cont pg 56)

Mark Peters

Mel Schmitt

Life Drawing class, with the use of mannequins, Paul Hellrich gave each student a chance to get closer at themselves. Throughout the year, Art drew in with many sculpture students such as Kim Clarke. Elizabeth King's sculpture, of the head and parts, was only part of the Warren and Merrill Arts Exhibit.

A new building for an expanding department

A new building for an expanding department (cont.)

Jan Soudkova

The Beaux Arts Ball transforms Andrews into a totally different world of foil, white lights, and silhouettes.

The winning combination of colors for the night: black and white.

Few events on campus can boast of having pirates, harlots, and punks in the same room. Crane Robertson comes as a tree.

A cocktail party for the decadent, the Beaux Arts Ball offers a refreshing alternative to the Pub. The Muscarella Museum awaits its fall opening.

from the College's art collection.

In a broader sense, the art department offered students diversions from the typical campus scene. Andrew's two galleries gave people the chance to stroll in between classes and view works by students as well as contemporary artists. February 26 saw the most outlandish campus event of the season — the Beaux Arts Ball. Dancing to high tech tunes in the ballon and foil filled galleries, students and instructors thrived in the decadence of personality-revealing costumes

— Eric Hook

Seven grocery stories

but no

Bloomingdale's?

The plight of the carless: bogged down by a week's worth of groceries, a student boards the Green Machine for one of an interminable number of trips to and from Monticello.

Coping with the fast-paced academic life-style, one may wonder how to find time to go shopping. Spending money, however, was a major pastime for most people and coming to college did not alter this.

Williamsburg presented both unique problems and advantages to the serious shopper. Unusual gifts were found in Merchants' Square and the Colonial Williamsburg shops. Extended excursions to the Kingsmill stores, the Pottery, or even Hampton and Newport News were possible with a car. As Senior Irene Sisson remarked, "I never knew how limited I was as far as shopping goes, until I got a car. Now my schedule is a lot more flexible, and I can even plan trips to Norfolk or Hampton if I need to buy something I can't find in Williamsburg." The small size of the town certainly does not encourage many new marketing enterprises. The most common complaints about Williamsburg shopping are the high (tourist) prices and the lack of selection. There are only so many colonial artifacts one can buy for the family.

Finding clothes for a special occasion can be especially challenging. The few apparel shops are scattered around town, making them difficult to get to, especially in a limited amount of time. Again, a road trip might be the answer, but an unsuccessful outing becomes even more frustrating if the whole afternoon is wasted.

Photos by Mary Iida

The easiest commodity to find (and to many students the most important) is food. For speed and convenience, especially in the middle of the night, the Tinee Giant is unsurpassed. During the day, a short walk to the A&P is also manageable, or even a bus ride to Safeway or Pantry Pride for the more energetic. For freshmen, the twenty meal plan makes grocery shopping a recreational activity. Many upperclassmen, however, have reduced plans or none at all. Connie Anderson, a senior who does not have a meal plan, had this comment: "I definitely like shopping for my own food. And Farm Fresh is great — if you can get to Farm Fresh."

Living supplies are purchased in the most haphazard manner. Would-be interior decorators set out at the beginning of the year specifically looking for room decorations. But after that initial attempt, few make special efforts. Items are then often after-thoughts, picked up here and there. The room takes on the appearance of something between neo-colonial and early men's room.

Transportation is a constant obstacle. Many car-less students shop on vacations if possible, rather than walk, ride the bus, or bum a ride from a car-owning friend. But even people with cars do not have it made. The high cost of gasoline along with maintenance and parking prevent many from making unlimited trips. Students from metropolitan areas are appalled at the limited choices, but those from more rural sections are used to making do with what is there. A freshman from New Jersey commented, "Unless I really need something, I'll wait until I go home and buy my clothes in New York." Many said they also preferred to shop at home because Mom and Dad were more likely to foot the bill. Other students, however, appreciated the unique items available in Williamsburg. Laurie Caswell, a native Pittsburgher enjoyed, "the great selection of unique gifts in C.W. I've done a lot of my Christmas shopping in the colonial shops."

The ice cream cone was one commodity available in endless variety. Whether from Baskin Robbins, High's, or A Good Place to Eat, this remained Williamsburg's most popular confection.

Their shopping done, these freshmen couldn't wait to dig into the goodies.

Shopping conditions in Williamsburg, most students agree, could be better, but they are not unbearable. As Caroline, a senior, said, "Going shopping is always a good excuse not to study."

— Lucinda Synder

There's a lake in the bathroom. Looks like the shower's clogged again. Wade into the shower stall and try not to think about the murky water lapping at your ankles. Quickly step aside when someone yells "Flushing!" The hall always seemed full of strangers, mostly the opposite sex of course, just when you had to walk by them in nothing but a towel and wet hair.

Someone is making popcorn — again. No one ever gets any calls because so-and-so is always on the phone. Will someone PLEASE turn down that stereo? Is anybody going to dinner? Let's go to the deli. Forget your paper and go to the Pub; there's a great band there tonight.

It's 3 a.m. In the lounge a typewriter taps on. A drunken, rowdy mob staggers in, laughing and shouting raucously. You bury your head under the pillow, groaning for some peace and quiet. Wouldn't it have been better to get an apartment after all?

To dorm or not to dorm; many students pondered the question as seriously as any Hamlet. As international crises came and went, and threats of nuclear war and the economy worried the world, students weighed the merits of college housing and its many forms, especially around lottery time. Co-ed or Single-Sex? Old or New Campus? Single, double, triple, quad? On or Off Campus? The possibilities seemed endless.

Campus housing was certainly the most convenient. The Caf, Wig and Pub were all within walking distance. Classes and Swem were also nearby, allowing no excuse for late buses or troublesome cars. Most of all, there was a comraderie about dorm life. There was always someone around at all hours to provide company for late night deli runs, hall parties, bull sessions, all nighters or just wasting time. As junior Susan Conn, a resident of Landrum, observed, "There is definitely a sense of community which lends support in times of need."

Once on campus, there was quite a variety of dorms to choose from. Some preferred co-ed living. Bryan Complex resident Brent Thomas said, "Co-ed dorms are more natural, more like the real world."

F E A T U R E

Dorm life

Dorm Life (cont'd)

Single sex housing such as Brown, Landrum, and Old Dominion had other pluses, such as good location, better facilities or air conditioning. And what New Campus lacks in colonial charm it makes up for in modern conveniences.

Still there are many who, either by choice or the luck of the lottery, opt to live off campus. JBT and Ludwell had their good qualities. JBT, though often shunned for being "out in the boonies" and uncomfortably close to Eastern State, offered large single rooms. A former resident of Ludwell said of its living facilities, "It was a pain taking the bus all the time, but it was great to have an apart-

(cont'd on p. 65)

To ease parents' minds, such intimidating signs act as watch dogs against enemies of the College. A great escape, study lounges can provide privacy for late studying.

NO TRESPASSING
RESIDENTS - GUESTS
AND AUTHORIZED PERSONS ONLY
SEC. 18.2-119 CODE OF VIRGINIA

Photos by TRAVIS EBEL

Although lofts conserve space better than bunk beds, many students have missed early morning classes due to fear of heights

---

Dorm Life (cont'd)

---

Crashing out. If anything is learned in a freshmen dorm, it's how to sleep through other people's noise.

Southern Comfort. A varnished loft, fancy pillows and creative ingenuity turn cinder blocks into a comfortable niche.

A bastion of femininity. Barrett Hall is the last of the all female freshman dorms

Photo by [unreadable]

Rob Smith

ment." Apartment dwellers were more than willing to give up the fine cuisine of the Caf to test their own culinary skills in their own kitchens. Budding gourmets were able to experiment with anything ranging from an ascetic bowl of soup to more ambitious Flaming Steak Dijon. Most often cited as reasons for living off campus were, however, privacy and quiet. Although the responsibility of paying rent and getting transportation to campus intimidated some, others feel, as junior David Christensen does, "the many benefits of off campus living are well worth the relatively few costs."

Jay Alford

Like a role call of doom or

Like a roll call of doom, certain courses echo darkly in the student body's collective consciousness: P-Chem, History 205-206, Bio 101-102, Money and Banking, Playwriting, Accounting, Stats, Industrial Organization. These are some of the classes fearful students whisper about. "Stay away from Fehrenbach. He's tough." "Johnson will crush you with History 421-422." The word is passed but some cannot or do not heed. The result: broken egos, punneled GPA's and a dose of learning some feel is too heavy.

Professor Canning, whose Asian History intro classes are legend even in the normally challenging History department, declares, "I don't consider the workload to be terribly difficult. I think it's more a case of initial unfamiliarity with the material. However, I expect the students to learn it and only outstanding work is given an A."

In other classes, particularly those with a reputation for weeding out the unfit, like Bio 101-102 or Business 201-202, the goal is not an A, but survival. According to one battle-scarred senior, "If the entire accounting staff is out to get you, all you can hope for is a fair break."

Another senior claimed, "Developmental Bio with Wiseman was murder. I got three sheets of notes and a sore hand each period trying to catch all the material." Another Bio major who recently graduated disagreed. "It's just his style. The class wasn't that bad if you could figure out what he wanted." Clearly the difficulty of a class is both relative and subjective. Some instructors try to be unambiguous, however. As Professor Savage hands back papers in English

421-Shakespeare he sets the tone by drily remarking, "I like to be true to my name." Another student, given to reflection after withdrawing from P-Chem noted, "Sometimes it's the material that's tough, sometimes the professor, but when it's both, look out!"

The idea that William and Mary offers easy courses may seem alien to most students accustomed to the usual grind. However, upon reflection most can recall at least one class that, if not a total breeze, was relatively undemanding.

Students noted the Psych intros, PE 204, ED 302, Band, Music Theory 101 as well as several Anthro and Sociology classes all were less difficult generally than the average course. Some students shun such courses because, as one junior said, "A lot of easy classes are also a totally boring waste of time." Others may eagerly seek these classes either to pad a sagging GPA or to simply insert a breather into an otherwise demanding schedule. "I always try to balance my tough classes with a few easy ones each semester so I can stay ahead of the work and still have some fun," admitted a senior who also added, "Anyway, a few Anthro courses couldn't hurt my GPA, you know?"

The implication in this last comment is rejected by an Anthro major who graduated PBK last year. "Certain departments may have a few teachers who don't offer challenging work loads, but this doesn't mean the entire department is easy. You can't make broad generalizations about any department whether it be Anthro, Sociology or Physics."

(cont'd on p. 69)

Emanating Oriental composure, the inscrutable Craig Canning maintained that: "I don't consider the work load in my courses to be terribly difficult. I think it's more a case of initial unfamiliarity with the material. However, I expect the students to learn it and only outstanding work is given an A."

a shot in the GPA

Where a difficult point is concerned, Ben Wood and friend find that two heads are better than one.

a shot in the G.P.A. (cont'd)

Whether the class is seen as the safest way past Area-Sequence requirements, a necessary step toward a major, an easy three credits, or an enjoyable alternative to the pressure of other courses, it should be remembered that even those courses may challenge the unwary or completely lazy. A student enrolled in Human Growth and Development, one of the most popular classes offered, questioned a basic assumption about so-called "crib" courses. "A class is not necessarily bad because the workload is light. The value is not in how difficult a teacher can make things, but rather in what you learn."

—Mark Cleveland

Mark Beavers

Rob Smith

Equilibrium. Interest. Income. The myriad considerations encompassed by business problems necessitate endless hours at the calculator.

Was it hard or easy? European History drew varied responses to this question. Either way, a diligent Beth Monin prepares for the worst.

Getting the proper perspective from two points of view: studio art professor Henry Coleman absorbs the scene while his student focuses on the work at hand.

R. J. SHERMAN

An important part of being a T.A. is explaining answers that sometimes the professor doesn't have time to point out. Terry Zitzschberger, chemistry T.A., helps freshmen learn the basics of chemistry. Physics Intro Lab is made easier when a T.A. is able to explain the basic problems.

Photos by Warren Koontz

Helping both sides

“Having a T.A. was like having a buddy help you with work,” remarked junior Henry Jameson. “Professors could be intimidating, and some could really step on you if you asked a stupid question. But the T.A.’s helped with any problem, no matter how idiotic.” In many academic departments, teaching assistants helped fill the gaps between profs and students. “They picked up where the profs left off,” explained freshman Robin Crop.

At most colleges and universities, teaching assistants are responsible for teaching entire courses. But T.A.’s here had a different sort of responsibility. Freshman Becky Livinson elaborated: “Our chem professor taught the material the first time around. Then our T.A. helped us through the tough spots.” T.A.’s were never asked to replace professors; instead, T.A.’s helped clarify difficult portions of a lecture or presentation. In this way, everyone benefited. Students received information first-hand from the experts, and extra help from a more sympathetic source. Profs were spared the misery of answering ignorant questions. And T.A.’s acquired valuable teaching experience.

“I probably wouldn’t have made it through my first Bio lab course without my T.A.’s constant coaching,” confessed one thankful student. T.A.’s responded with similar enthusiasm. One remarked that “it made me feel good to know I was helping people. I saw a little bit of myself in each of those flailing freshmen.” Tom Cuff observed that “the job gave me a great chance to brush up on my chemistry.” And in the ongoing struggle to build a resume, Tom found that “T.A.-ing was a real asset. Employers recognized the effort I’d put into it, and the benefits I’d derived from it.”

—John McGee

Photos by Mark Beavers

Pleasants RA Denise Savino answers law student Tom Harley's questions about an upcoming assignment.

Resident Assistant Mike Mutti distributes RA evaluations. The evaluations provide Residence Hall Life with valuable feedback concerning R.A.'s.

The life of a R.A.

Resident Assistants (better known as R.A.'s) expect to be interrupted by knocks on their doors from people needing anything from toilet paper to lightbulbs to advice on their problems. But I'll never forget the knock on my door in Ludwell 404 from three frantic girls whose bathtub was clogged. Frustrated because they had class in 45 minutes and because they couldn't get in touch with a plumber, they did the next best thing: they poured in a whole bottle of Drano and dumped their problem on me. It was soon solved, however, by a flick of the drain lever.

Fortunately, the college's 100 R.A.'s, 14 Head Residents and 10 Area Coordinators are well trained in handling problems. Besides the regular duties of nightly lock-up, weekly duty nights, when they must stay in their rooms from 7 p.m. to 8 a.m., routine paperwork, such as filling out work orders, and letting locked-out students into their rooms, R.A.'s are taught how to handle roommate problems (get them to communicate), a suicide attempt (follow a strict guideline set by Dean Sadler's office), or a hall that throws Pepsi machines off the third floor balcony (write up an incident report for Dean Jarmon, and help them pack their bags). They even learn how to throw a good party (downplay alcohol, use small cups), and how to tap a keg (never roll them down the stairs — they explode!).

Competition for an R.A. or Head Resident position is tough. Only one out of every three applicants is hired. After several group and individual interviews, students are notified of their acceptance before Spring Break. They then undergo several intense training sessions, one at the Jamestown 4-H Center in late Spring, and one in Botetourt Complex the week before school begins in the Fall. Residence Hall Life experienced an unprecedented staff turnover, including six Area Coordinators and a new Director, Chuck Lombardo, from Syracuse University.

With the new administration came an increased emphasis on self-determination. Residence Hall Life required all R.A.'s to hold 30 minute hall meetings at the beginning of the year to discuss the purpose and effects of self-determination. R.A.'s reacted with mixed feelings. Sandy Crill, an R.A. in Ludwell, explained that "It has helped me come to grips with self-determination and I've seen that it can work. As officials of the college, we aren't policemen, but people who help implement policies. The more responsibility students take for their own lives, the less I have to do." Brad Holsinger, an R.A. for the lodges, "disagreed with some of the regulations I have to enforce, but I understand them nonetheless." Although some students resented their governing influence, Brad said in defense of R.A.'s: "We're just doing our job."

And most R.A.'s liked their jobs. Mike Holleran, a Camm R.A., admitted that "It's not always an easy position, but the benefits outweigh the difficulties. Plus, where else would a washed-up lefthander get to quarterback a hall team into the playoffs?" Head Resident Anne Massaro added her comments: "I wouldn't trade it for the world. You can't sum it up in just a couple of words, but it's a very challenging and rewarding experience. I've become a counselor, plumber, electrician and locksmith all at once. And I get to live with eighty guys that I otherwise never would have met!"

— Gary McDonald

Hunt RA Mark Osler, Jefferson RA Mary Dram, and Cindy Goff console each other in Chandler Lobby after evacuating Jefferson Hall.

Rob Guillen

INTERVIEW

● “If you were to come back to William and Mary in twenty years, where would you go?”

●

“I can say with reasonable certainty, I will not go to the library or the Caf. I will probably go to the Muscarelle Museum.”

— Anne Folan

“I’d show my kids the Wren Building.”

— Porter Raper

“The Green Leafe holds a lot of memories; I would probably go there for Fosters and fries.”

— Jacqueline Thomas

“No particular place, I just want to see the people I knew. Also, Colonial Williamsburg, to see what changes have been made.”

— Emil Davis

“A walk down DOG Street, particularly the Gardens of the Governor’s Palace.”

— Nancy Feldner

“After Jefferson Dorm, probably the Sunken Gardens, since its the center of Old Campus and I spent a lot of time there with band practice.”

— Martha Droge

“Old Dominion Dorm because it was a common gathering place for my friends. Our early morning pool games in the attic hold a lot of memories for me”

— Joe Hughes

“Dupont Hall. It was my freshmen dorm, and now my best friend and girlfriend live there.”

— Ramely Kramer

“Kappa Alpha Theta house. Being a Theta, I’m sure in twenty years times if I were to see anyone I knew, it would be there. And then to Paul’s to see how its changed.”

— Liz Larie

Liquor store in James York Plaza and then to Loco Toro’s for Happy Hour.”

— Mike Fay

“If Jefferson had been completed by that time, I would probably go there.”

— Steve Smith

“Where ever the Homecoming parties were.”

— Mark Reagan

“The German House to see if the painting of Germany was finished. Right now East Germany is still uncompleted.”

— Margret Garland

“Phi Beta Kappa Theater to see how it has changed. I would want to see how the old students have changed, and what the new ones are doing.”

— Doug Walter

“If it was in the afternoon, I’d go to the Leafe and sit at the Bar in front of the green window. If it were lunch time, I would go to the Chickahomony House. Any other time, straight to a hotel, the Hospitality House.”

— Lee Phillips

Rob Gumm

For years past, the Homecoming parade has represented a tradition: Sororities (represented by Kim Moosha for Alpha Chi) and other organizations participate in the activity. In twenty years, will DOG Street and Richmond Road still house the gala event.

On Homecoming Day, hundreds of cars can be seen sporting their owner's alumni status.

Mark Beaver

"Back to our apartment on Lafayette Street to see if it has been torn down yet."

— Courtney Carpenter

"The Zoo Room (reference room) of Swem."

— David Kiracofe

"The Pub where I spent many days dancing to the Good Guys and the X-Raves."

— Jane Chase

"The first thing that came to mind was the bench in front of Tucker. I stopped there a lot. I have no rational for this act, but I always seem to do it."

— Emily Prince

"Gamma Phi Beta to see the people I knew in the past."

— Cindy Barker

"The College Drugstore for coffee."

— John Dedrick

"Back to the Business School and see what is going on, although the people won't be the same."

— Andy Suraski

"The Green Leaf: there would be no reason to come back. I would have a full shot Long Island Iced Tea and then probably catch a movie. Hopefully I will be able to afford dinner at the Inn by this time."

— Tony Klingmeyer

"The Crim Dell area; hopefully by that time I will have someone I could share it with. Then just walk around campus to see how it has changed. Maybe I'll even get to go to the Homecoming Dance."

— Dawn Zimmerman

"Memories can't wait. I would go to the Campus Police Station."

— Dave Sheppard

"Walk around stopping all the males and ask, 'Phi Tau, Phi Tau?'"

— Eric Roorda

CULTURAL ARTS

An Evening of dance with Rodney Williams, Henry McCoy, John Taylor, Keith Ferrone, Carol Smith, Laz Smith, Tronita Hamby and Nancy Beaton perform at PBBK.

In the Change of Pace setting, Cultural Arts House members entertain for each other.

Laz Davis

T

hey have worked for two months for this night. The audience, creasing programs and folding legs, quietly sits in rows. Three weeks ago one guy didn't know his lines and the leading lady had the flu. The audience's attention rushes to the opening curtain. Last week the actor's face broke out because of make-up. The spot light carries his character and the show begins. Cultural Arts: an alternative to keg parties and a relatively cheap source of entertainment.

“The script gives no easy answers; ideally the questions of right and wrong should stay with you long after the curtain goes down — if not, you end up with melodrama as opposed to good theater,”

*Richard Palmer,
A Streetcar Named Desire*

CONCERTS

he Hall. Between sports events, SA movies, and informal athletics, this all-purpose arena was rarely left idle. Any day of the week, nearly any hour of the day, students streamed in and out. But no events packed the Hall quite like the concerts. Contemporary rockers paid and stood in line to hear such popular groups as the rockabilly Stray Cats and the reggae-rocking Clash. Classic rockers remained loyal to Tom Petty, southern rockers turned out in forces for Alabama, and for those with electric interests, Nancy Wilson sang jazz, soul, pop, and blues. And catering to more mature audiences, Bette Midler appeared in concert.

A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE

ne of the most intense, emotional productions of the season — Tennessee Williams' Streetcar Named Desire opened for Parents Weekend in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, and provided an evening of fine theater for many expectant show-goers. Many were moved by the performance, while others were disillusioned; but few left untouched. Williams' script did not permit it. Jameson Price, as crude and selfish Stanley Kowalski, infused the show with his vocal and physical energy. He was balanced subtly and skillfully by the loving innocence of Judy Clarke's Stella. But such balance was ephemeral at best, as the entrance of Stephanie Wright's Blanche DuBois demonstrated. Under the skillful and experienced guidance of director Richard Palmer, these three talents tread the narrow line dividing tension and explosion with considerable and noteworthy ease.

B TOURING COMPANIES

Besides the numerous concert series and strings of plays, a number of cultural events occurred throughout the year for one performance only. The touring company of the Broadway play "Home", presented by Daedalus Productions of New York, stopped in Williamsburg to give a performance on Sept. 15. On Sept. 22, Quiet Riot, a mime troupe, presented "Made In America", a comedy about growing up in the U.S.A. It was a return performance for the national touring comedy team, and the program included illusion, special effects, mime, improvisation, dance, and audience participation. The International Circle, in conjunction with the Asia and Africa Society sponsored a performance by the Kalipayan Dance Company, internationally known folkloric dancers from the Phillipines. In October, a presentation of the play "Give 'Em Hell Harry", Written and directed by Samuel Gallu, Starred Kevin McCarthy in the one-man one-night show. In March, the original New York company of "Children Of A Lesser God" came to PBK to give a performance of the Tony Award-winning play.

T TRIAL BY JURY

It was Gilbert and Sullivan as usual: predictably light, witty, and purely entertaining. The dramatic and musical talents of the Sinfonicron Opera Company joined forces once again to produce this year's sparkling operatta, "Trial by Jury." But Sinfonicron tradition wasn't strictly observed. Director Julianne Fanning and producer Bradley Staubes also took an innovative turn, staging the show in Tucker's Moot Court Room. It offered a more dramatic, intimate setting for the production than the traditional PBK stage. It also led to longer ticket lines, more sellouts, and more performances than most other Sinfonicron productions. And with the personal touches of veteran cast members Bruce McConachie, Beth Miller, and David Eye, "Trial by Jury" was an optimistic opening for the 1982-83 theatre season.

Stephen Burns, member of the Young Concerts Artists which entertained the Williamsburg Community.

T

SYMPHONY SAMPLER

The Symphony Sampler concert series began its season with the Richmond Sinfonia in September. These Thursday evening programs were made possible by grants from the Virginia Commission for the Arts and the National Endowment for the Arts. The Sinfonia, conducted by Jacques Houtmann, featured harpsichordist Tom Pixton. In December, the Richmond Sinfonia returned to present an all — Stravinsky Centennial Celebration program featuring a staged version of "L'Historie du Soldat", a collaboration between Stravinsky and his close friend, writer C.F. Ramor. Solisti New York Chamber Orchestra featured flutist and conductor Ranson Wilson on March 1. The orchestra was composed of New York's finest young musicians. Later in the season, Jacques Houtmann again led the Richmond Symphony in a return performance. On April 19 the Virginia Philharmonic wrapped up with Symphony Sampler series with Richard Williams conducting.

February saw a rash of concerts at the Hall. The most popular of the series, the Stray Cats give a show of punk and rockabilly. Tartuffe, the French comedy, entertains the audience at PBK. The Solisti New York symphony was one of many symphonies offered by the Symphony Sampler Series.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis, the entirely student run modern troupe dance, emphasized dance as an art form. After being chosen by veteran members based on staff presence as well as technical ability, new members rehearsed three or more hours a week. But as President Fiona Harnby commented, "Orchesis demands a huge time commitment, but it was all worthwhile in the end." The end was Orchesis' spring show "An Evening of Dance," for which performers had practiced all year. Each dance developed a particular idea, allowing for the maximum creativity. In addition, the Orchesis Apprentices offered potential members a chance to study dance beyond technique class.

THE MERRY WIDOW

Starting from their usual Gilbert and Sullivan fare, Sinfonicon entertained theatre-goers in January with a lively production of Franz Leher's "The Merry Widow." The musical featured the admirable performances of Janice Taylor in the title role, Chris Quartana as the dashing Count Danilo Danilovitch, and Andrew Dolson and Beth Miller as the comedic couple, Baron and Baroness Zeta. The cast's sparkling interpretation, was the result of the efforts of director Julianne Fanning and producer Brad Staubes, who had also been responsible for Sinfonicon's successful fall production, "Trial by Jury." Embellishing the talents of the cast, a skilled orchestra, conducted by Susan Powell, choreography by Alison Emory and innovative set design made this entirely student-run production one of the best of the year.

SUNDAY SERIES

In an occasional Sunday afternoon, for no admission charge, the college community were able to enjoy quality performances by talented musicians in the Sunday Series. Presented informally in either Ewell or the Campus Center Ballroom. The series began with a memorial performance honoring the series' benefactor, Warren Green, former director of the Campus Center. Dora Short on the violin and Cary McMurran on the piano performed three violin-piano sonatas by Johannes Brahms. The Performers' Committee for Twentieth Century Music, now known as Continuum, was the second attraction. First established in 1967, the group has now become a nationally acclaimed, 20th century music ensemble. The performers included Victoria Villamil soprano; Jayn Rosenfeld flutist; Cheryl Seltzer and Joel Seachs, pianists and directors of the ensemble. On October 24, Whetstone Run brought bluegrass to the Campus Center. Adhering to traditional bluegrass style, the group also incorporated it into other music forms, such as folk and country. The final performance in the series was given by trumpeteer Stephen Burns, accompanied by pianist Gary Kudo.

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF

Called the best theatrical production of the year, the William and Mary Theatre's performance of Fiddler on the Roof received one standing ovation after another and, in an unprecedented response to the high demand for tickets, added another night to the run. The talented cast was headed by George Jack as Teyve, and featured Niki Ryan as Golde, Judy Clarke as Tzeitel and a long list of other gifted performers who made the show a joyous success. Audiences were mesmerized by the many excellent scenes in the show, from the reverent "Sabbath Prayer" scene, to the impressive acrobatics of the men in "To Life," to the comical "Dream" scene. With direction by Louis Catron, musical direction by Paul Ranzini, and choreography by Denise Damon, the show could not lose.

TARTUFFE

It was a seventeenth century comedy cast with twentieth century actors, staged in an eighteenth century town. William and Mary Theatre's November production of Moliere's renowned Tartuffe succeeded in spite of the anachronisms. Jerry Bledsoe's veteran coaching — this was his third production of Tartuffe — inspired his cast and crew to a particularly sensitive interpretation of this difficult work. Of course there was no shortage of dramatic talent behind this success. The complex role of Cleante was memorably played by Don Reilly, one of the college's most noteworthy talents. Alicia Wollerton, in her first role since her success as St. Joan three years ago, played Elmire, and Bernard Kearney, an exchange student from Saint Andrews University, took the lead role of Tartuffe. Other major characters included Dorine, who was handled capably by Janet Rollins, Orgon, who became appropriately remote in the hands of Alex Iden, and Mm. Pernelle whose comic villainy was aptly portrayed by Cara Newman. With such efforts, the show's excellence was guaranteed. In fact, three members of the cast — Don Reilly, Alex Iden and Janet Rollins — were selected to compete in the American Collegiate Theatre Festival. Don Reilly was a first place regional winner and next on to perform at the Kennedy Center against eight other regions in the final round of competitions for the Irene Ryan Scholarship Award.

Poised in midair. Fronia Hamby emulates energy strength and grace. Janice Taylor, the merry widow, is hardly grief stricken by the death of her husband, as she sings her way through Fang Lehar's musical comedy.

CONCERT SERIES

The forty-seventh season of the William and Mary Concert Series began with the Eliot Feld Ballet Company which gave performances in Williamsburg after the close of its New York season. All of the pieces, which included, "The Consort," "Circa," "Play Bach," were choreographed by Eliot Feld. The ballet was unique, even in the performer's attire. In "Play Bach" the dancers wore white unitards with elbow and knee pads in day-glo colors. On November 3 the Gewandhaus Orchestra of Leipzig performed Beethoven's Violin Concerto in D Major and Mahler's Symphony 1 in D Major under the direction of Kurt Masur. The oldest concert orchestra on German soil was well received in the Williamsburg area. Internationally-acclaimed concert pianist Murray Perahia was the third performer in the Concert Series. Mr. Perahia performed a repertoire from the work of the great Romantic composers. The concert was well attended, and the audience rewarded this "master of expression" with standing ovation. The Aulos Ensemble from New York performed music from the baroque era on originals or copies of the baroque instruments, a special addition to their program. The musicians, all graduates of Julliard, performed Bach, Mozart, and Haydn at PBK. Finally, the W&M Concert Series ended with Smithsonian Jazz Repertory Ensemble of the Smithsonian Jazz Program performing a range of jazz styles on February 28.

COVENANT PLAYERS

The Covenant Players, a group formed from the Catholic Student Association and the Canterbury Association, performed productions that presented a moral message through drama. Following such successful past performances as "Saint Joan," "God's Favorite," and "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," this year's production of "Old Man Joseph and his Family" was no disappointment. The show played at both Roger's Auditorium and St. Martin's Episcopal Church, continuing the tradition of unusual sites for the Covenant Player performances. Although several members played multiple roles, the cast was particularly highlighted by Howard Brooks' interpretation of the title role. Gerry Kissell's role as the brat Jesus, and Elizabeth Armistead's inspired portrayal of Mary.

The Smithsonian Jazz Repertory Ensemble brought a new professional sound to Williamsburg.

TALENTED AMERICANS

A new series of lectures and workshops sponsored by the Student Association brought "Talented Americans" to William and Mary. Season pass holders were allowed to attend workshops given by the artist. The first speaker was poet W.D. Snodgrass, Pulitzer-prize winner for his book Heart's Needle. The Gus Giordano Jazz Dance of Chicago was the second in the series. Giordano, one of the most successful dance teachers in the field, won three Emmy awards and the Dance Masters of America Award in 1978. Poet playwright Sonia Sanchez, a successful force in promoting Black Literature courses at many of American's colleges, presented a lecture and reading on February 15. Nancy Camden Witt, an acclaimed artist and native Virginian, appeared in March.

Being of sound body

The scene: a warm summer afternoon by a crowded swimming pool. Our attention is drawn to a tall, bronzed beauty lounging lazily in her optic white bikini. Perfection emanates from the Amazon as our view scans the panorama: from an evenly toasted foot and ankle, up a long, sensuous calf and thigh to hips and abdomen, worthy of Jane Fonda's envy. The rest is much the same — ad nauseum infinitum.

A slight ripple in her skin initiates a slow, graduate movement as our blonde samba lightly reaches for her drink. A moment of suspense. A sprightly tune springs from an anonymous voice, and our epiphany occurs to the lyrics of "Now you see it, now you don't. Here you have it, here you won't . . ." Diet Pepsi thus accrues a slew of victims.

Rising use of Weight Watchers programs, Aerobics with Jacki Sorenson or Jane Fonda, Scarsdale diets, "reduced calorie" edibles in anything from full course meals to candy and chewing gum all attest that America was obsessed with losing weight, and would spare no monetary or physical expense in doing so. Sales in sugar-free soft drinks have never been higher, despite the Surgeon General's warning posted on the front of every can concerning the unfortunate fate of our little furry friends in laboratories. What possible physiological imbalances are Americans inflicting upon themselves?

William and Mary has not escaped the passion for getting and staying in shape. Over the year, through stifling heat, biting cold, torrential downpours, and every other conceivable climatic catastrophe, students could be seen subjecting themselves to all forms of physical abuse. Blow Gym buzzed with activity on the squash and basketball courts. Adair hosted swimmers and weight lifters. The Hall

(cont'd on p. 87)

...in shape by teach-
...Guzzo, a junior from Wood-
... Linda Falk
...the mascot.
...the large
...Bookstore's
...fixes the
...a fresh salad

Sound body (cont'd)

reverberated with the pounding of multitudes of sneakered feet to music in the Aerobic Exercise program. And anyone who has ever tried to get a tennis court in good weather will attest that the students at William and Mary were an intensely active group of people.

One amazing facet of the entire ordeal was not the actual activity, but incomprehensible fact that people enjoyed it. Students more than endured their pain, they relished it. Some had contorted their supple minds (and bodies) into believing that exhaustion and perspiration were prerequisites for some form of utopian bliss. When posed with the question "Why?!" one running buff replied, "It gives me a better sense of myself and my well being. It's good to clean out your mind." An obvious Wheaties lover.

The scene shifts to the Commons and/or Wig where diet enthusiasts (a blatant contradiction of terms) could be seen flocking around the salad bar. A typical "dieter" would casually fill a bowl with lettuce, croutons, bacon bits, an occasional garbanzo bean or onion, and some grated cheese, and then the clincher — eight gallons of creamy salad dressing. Yet the illusion was still maintained; a salad would always be diet food no matter what it contained. More often than not, however, the ascetic would break down on the way out of the Caf when the lure of the ice cream machines would entice him or her into its clutches.

Where does all this leave us? Are we becoming no more than children of society, functioning under the illusion that a sound body is worth its weight in gold? Is it really not worth the extra 4.6 calories to have a Life Saver over a Tic Tac? Is the risk of cancer from saccharin overdose worth the one size decrease in the pants waistband? The questions abound. The real test of the soundness of the fitness craze rests in whether or not it persists. After all, health has its merits, but laziness is much more enticing.

—Robin Freedman

SPORTS

---

Training
108

Intramurals
124

Independent Athlete
134

The Fans
144

With two minutes left in the game, the fans and players knew William and Mary had not only beaten, but trounced nationally ranked Wake Forest. The adrenalin charged emotions would last far into the night for those involved.

Early Friday morning, John's stomach muscles tighten as he crams for an exam. If he gets an A, he succeeds. Anything less and he fails.

Winning and losing. To say competition is an American concept may be slightly presumptuous, but the American Dream of success has been tightly woven into our lives. Benjamin Franklin wrote in favor of pursuing unlimited success. Norman Mailer pointed out the negative effects of such pursuance. Vincent Lombardi's words, "winning isn't everything, it's the only thing" defined the American attitude. We are taught to accept winning as a normal occurrence and losing as an inadequacy.

Sports offer the obvious focal point of this attitude. The Tribe had a losing football record — fans went to Cary Stadium for the social event, not the game. Jokes were made about the team, and no one could understand why the stadium should be expanded. The basketball team had a successful season. Fans flocked to see highly competitive games with VCU and ODU. The difference was simple: a winning team offers an exciting night of entertainment. Winning is what counts.

On an individual basis, the presence of competition also makes itself known. Any senior would testify to the worries involved with being dumped into the economic market, due either to their own fear of not being placed in a job, of the pressure coming from peers.

Ideally, the threshold of life is approached with eager anticipation. Secondary educational literature labels the prospect of financial success and two-car families as given fruits of life. But 1983 headlines of depression, unemployment, and inflation combined to deliver disillusionment. Reaganites claimed that the country would get better. Others hoped for a solution in the 1984 elections. In either case, students learned that the American Dream doesn't necessarily deliver its

F E A T U R E

Winning and Losing

Mark Bennett

---

Winning and Losing (con't)

---

Even before the question of "meaningful" employment surfaces, academics provided anxieties. William and Mary is nationally recognized for excellence in the scholastic field, and her students feel the price paid for the acclaim. William and Mary may very well be able to attract top athletes, yet there are few who are capable of handling the tough academic standards of the college. Even if a student decided that he would ignore the extensive attention given to grades, he found it difficult to escape the pervasiveness of grade tension. At any time, someone somewhere could be found racking their brains over a drooping G.P.A. or an overdue paper.

Rob Gaulten

Another William and Mary football game. Fans found many moments as sadness in Cary Stadium. After they go ahead goal against Ohio State, the fieldhockey players enjoy the prospects of victory.

---

Winning and Losing (con't)

---

Even in enemy territory, the Tribe was victorious. After the win over ODU at Norfolk Scope, Mike Bracken gives the Tribe's victory salute.

Talking to the sportscaster of WAVY-TV, Tribe coach Jimmie Laycock reflects on his thoughts after the loss to ECU.

After having beaten ODU earlier in the season, the Tribe's loss at W&M Hall was a shock for Asst. coach Barry Parkhill.

Photos by Mark Beavers

Sports obviously illustrates the American philosophy of success. To win brings the acceptance of fans and the pleasure of personal victory. But this attitude has crept into other areas of life as well. In the immediacy of academics, or the pressure of securing some preconceived notion of a successful life, students began to test the realistic implications of an idealized American Dream.

— Eric Hook

B A S E B A L L

W&M	Opponent
5	American	15
3	Georgia Southern	9
4	American	7
12	American	10
5	James Madison	16
9	James Madison	12
0	Georgia Southern	7
5	Eastern Tenn	9
2	UNC-Wilmington	5
13	West Liberty State	12
5	Christopher Newport	12
2	Richmond	11
4	Lock Haven	3
2	Bradets	1
2	George Mason	4
2	James Madison	3
1	James Madison	12
4	Virginia	12
2	East Carolina	8
6	East Carolina	4
4	Virginia Wesleyan	10
7	Niagara	8
6	Fredonia State	5
4	Liberty Baptist	12

8-16

Coach Ed Jones takes a breather during Spring practice.
 Warming up for the game, the baseball team gets psyched for Richmond
 Co-Captain Dave Blows swings at a Christopher Newport pitch.

The return of coach Ed Jones brought new enthusiasm to the William & Mary baseball team. However, youth and inexperience had the Tribe struggling once again. 8 victories were recorded through the first 24 games as the hitters tried to make up for a weak pitching staff. Outfielder Bob Goebelbecker (.396) and Catcher Dave Blows (.304, 13 RBI) led the way at the plate, while Soph. Mark Wysong (2.43 ERA) was the silver lining of an otherwise dismal pitching staff. There is good reason to believe, though, that the Tribe's youth and talent, combined with hard work, should soon bring winning ways back to W&M Baseball.

The men's basketball team made college history last season. The tribe finished the season with a 19-7 record, the most wins by William and Mary since the 1950-51 season. In the ECAC South Conference the Indians finished with a spotless 9-0 record, making them top seed for the ECAC South Tournament. Keith Cieplicki, the 6'4" sophomore guard, led the team with an average 16.3 points per game. He was selected ECAC South Player of the Week for two weeks in a row. Brant Weidner, a 6'9" senior, was the team's top rebounder. Tony Traver, Kevin Richardson, and Mike Strayhorn also had very good seasons. "It has been a great year for us. I couldn't be prouder of our players or happier for them," said Coach Parkhill.

Mark Beavers

Tony Traver has a shot blocked in the Navy game at William and Mary Hall. Leading scorer Keith Cieplicki sets the offense against University of Richmond. Michael Strayhorn brings the ball across half-court in the Tribe's first win at Old Dominion since 1976.

Mark Beavers

Jan Singletary

Photos by Mark Weaver

Leading rebounder for the Tribe Brian Weidner takes time out to shoot a short jump-shot in the twenty-point win over Navy.

Keith Cieplicki looks for a teammate under the basket against Navy.

The Tribe is all smiles after its last home game, a seven-point victory over George Mason to wrap up an undefeated conference record.

BASKETBALL

W&M (Men)	Opponent
84	CNC	51
72	Norfolk State	56
89	Lock Haven	52
51	W. VA.	65
61	Temple	62
60	Notre Dame	83
51	Maryland	56
47	GMU	46
72	ECU	51
69	Lafayette	61
80	Wake Forest	63
90	N.C. Wes.	55
56	ODU	50
76	Richmond	68
72	JMU	65
49	VCU	50
71	Duke	73
79	Lovola	53
70	ECU	54
42	ODU	43
77	VMU	65
60	JMU	55
75	Navy	55
49	Richmond	47
79	GMU	72
70	Delaware	58

19-7

Photos by Jan Singletary

BASKETBALL

W&M (Women)	Opponent
51	Richmond	62
75	Maryland	48
95	Virginia Wesleyan	55
83	Bucknell	43
54	Harvard	56
55	Richmond	59
94	Randolph-Macon	57
78	VCU	65
68	Radford	85
60	UNC	89
81	Wake Forest	89
54	Richmond	72
51	Navy	71
71	Longwood	70
69	Francis Marion	99
98	Fort Bragg	72
52	CW Post	68
75	George Mason	83
55	Christopher Newport	60
59	Hampton Institute	62
65	Longwood	62
73	Liberty Baptist	60
64	VCU	49
47	James Madison	40
62	Radford	78
62	Liberty Baptist	59

12-14

Taking a time-out against VCU, team members receive instructions from the coach.
Going for a jumper from the outside, Sue Wise sinks two points against George Mason.
William & Mary brings the ball up as George Mason goes for steal.

The women's basketball team finished the season with a 12-14 overall record. The team's top scorer was Karen Thorne, 5-7, who averaged 12.7 points per game. She was first in free throw percentage among NCAA Division II leaders, shooting 39 of 43. Top rebounders were junior Betsy Becker and senior Loree Connolly. Karen Thorne's 89.1% (54 of 62) tied Debbie Taylor through games of Jan. 17, 1983 for second place. Although the games were publicised with flyers and such, attendance was low, but the team maintained high spirits.

According to Coach Roy Chernock, the 1982-3 Men's Cross-Country team "was one of the stronger teams I've had in several years." The highlight of the season was the ICAAAA meet in Boston, Massachusetts, where the Tribe won the university division. Top runner Andy Whitney won the meet in his individual event. At a conference meet held at Dunbar Farms, the team's home track, they placed third in a field of nine teams. Coach Chernock characterized the year as one in which "no one individual runner asserted himself as the number one runner. We had several good runners — Tom Cuff, Andy Whitney and Fraser Hudgins — who all competed for the number one position."

Taking a breather after a meet, Cross Country members wait for the late runners to come in. With their meet against George Mason and Richmond, the lady Cross Country runner attempts to catch her opponents in the run's last leg.

Cross Country

W&M (Men's)	Opponent
24	Tidewater Striders	32
19	VMI	44
44	Nav	17
20	Richmond	39
19	Inside Track Club	44
32	Georgetown	24
21	ODU	38
21	Mary Washington	34

6-2-0

After her run against Richmond, Alison Hinnebusch shows exhaustion as Maureen Hinnebusch congratulates her. Approaching the finish line, Kathy Born stives for any last minute energy. Concentrating on pacing himself, Todd Lindsley starts in the meet against Richmond.

Photos Courtesy of William and Mary Athletics

Todd Lindsley

Cross Country
W&M (Womens)	Opponent
22	LaSall	35
21	St. Joseph	38
18	Townsend	37
32	Delaware	23
36	Navy	23
29	St. Mary's	26
36	Georgetown	21
40	Madison	19

3-5-0

The women's Varsity Fencing Team coached by Shirley Robinson had a rigorous season but emerged victorious while only two fencers returned to the team, the other two starters, freshmen Jennifer Borum and Cathy Schultz were both experienced fencers. The team suffered some losses but performed beautifully on the whole, defeating St. John's and F.D.U. Teamick. In the State Championships at UVA, the team went undefeated to capture first place. Schmidt, Borum, Schultz, and Moore placed 1st, 3rd, 4th, and 5th respectively in the State individuals.

F E N C I N G F E N C I N G

W&M (Men)	Opponent	Score
27	VPI	0
27	UVA	0
9	MIH	18
9	NC State	18
6	UNC	21
15	Temple	12
12	NC State	15
5	Duke	22

3-5

W&M (Women)	Opponent	Score
12	NYU	4
14	Caldwell	2
6	Temple	10
10	FDU Teamick	6
2	U. Penn	14
9	St. John's	7
2	San Jose	11
6	Penn State	10
16	VPI	0
11	RAWC	5
10	MIT	6
7	UNC	9
9	JMU	7
15	UVA	1
6	Duke	10
7	NCS	9
11	Lynchburg	5
11	Lynchburg	5
13	Mary Baldwin	3
13	Hollins	3

13-7

As anticipated, this past season was a time of rebuilding for the men's fencing team. Basically a very young squad, the team had only three returning fencers from last year. The other six starting positions were filled by underclassmen with only one or two years of fencing experience. The men put up a strong fight in their meets, coming close to tying N.C. State and beating Temple University. But the most important gain this season was in valuable experience.

Cathy Schwartz pays for a mistake against Virginia Tech opponent. Men's fencing team member Dan Han goes after his opponent in Adair Co.

Scott Hooper retreats from a determination to keep going to recover and make a score.

Linda Neil tries to score against Virginia Tech while avoiding being touched herself.

Scott Hooper takes a break from competition to check his equipment.

Field Hockey Coach Jean Stettler gives her team some pointers in mid-game.

The Women's Field Hockey was proud of their season. The team had decided to come back to school a week early in order to get more practice playing together. The extra week paid off. Their season was highlighted by a win against defending national champions of Canada, the University of Toronto. They also narrowly lost against the University of Connecticut, who were second in the country and finalists for the national championship. At the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Stadium, a crowd of over two thousand cheered on the tribe to a 4-2 victory.

FIELD HOCKEY

W&M	Opponent
2	Ohio State	1
5	Longwood	0
1	Old Dominion	5
1	Ursinus	2
5	West Chester	2
1	James Madison	2
2	Toronto	0
4	VCU	2
1	Maryland	2
4	Pennsylvania	2
1	Old Dominion	4
0	Connecticut	2
1	Virginia	2
2	Purdue	1
2	Richmond	0
1	Virginia Tech	0
1	James Madison	2
1	North Carolina	5

9-9

Junior Basia Deren prepares to smash one away from her oncoming opponent. Noted for her speed, agility, and high scoring record, Basia was one of the star players of the team.

The team gathers for a half-time pep talk. Coach Grant towels off.

Representatives from both teams consult with the referees.

Photos by Rob Guillen

What the fans never see

For any athlete, training is an ongoing process. The endless hours of practice, the rigorous workouts, the free time committed to games matches, and meets. These are constant demands for an athlete's time and energy. But the college athlete faces even more. He must not only train to excel in his sport, but must also balance athletics with his academic and personal life. It was always a challenge, but one that was faced successfully.

Ritchie Cooper observed that "it was difficult to combine athletics with a decent social life and solid academics. But I wanted to take advantage of everything the College had to offer. I believe that the benefits made my effort worthwhile. And the challenge was not insurmountable."

Most athletes shared Ritchie's perspective, and viewed sports as part of a well-rounded education. Women's field hockey coach Jean Settler refined this conception of the college athlete: "Ideally, I see the college athlete as a good academic student pursuing learning, while making a sport another major part of college life." Gina Carillo added that "through sports, many athletes develop a special personal pride in their school. They are proud to represent the College through athletics."

Through all the pressures and all the demands, these students maintained a positive outlook because they enjoyed what they're doing. Incredibly, most serious athletes even enjoy their training programs. For Karen Jones, "training and athletics have simply become a part of my lifestyle." Like many swimmers, Karen began swimming at an early age. Since then, training "has always been an important and enjoyable part of my life. Planning a schedule automatically includes time for sports."

Such a schedule often doesn't include much else. For swimmers, prac-

(cont. on p. 111)

A few minutes of practice before dinner, a Lacrosse player works on her hand-eye coordination in the Sunken Gardens.

Gloria Mariotote, gymnast, trains for her floor routine against James Madison.

What the fans never see (cont'd)

tice time averages 10-15 hours a week, and includes both swimming and weight workouts. Baseball training is year-round. Basketball team members are committed to three hour practices, six days a week. And unlike training schedules for most sports, basketball practices continue through Christmas vacation.

The emphasis in most sports training programs is on consistent workouts. As Mark Kennedy explained: "Workouts have to be regular and sustained. Otherwise, you lose the refinement in skills that you've trained hard to get." But even regular practices vary in difficulty and emphasis. Chris Paradis observed that the women's field hockey practices "revolve around the next games we are scheduled to play. We concentrate on different skills each day, and tailor each practice to the team's changing strengths and weaknesses."

The physical side of athletics is a substantial part of the training program. But just as important is the mental and emotional side. Coaches play an especially important role in this area of training, as

(cont. on p. 113)

Without the fans, the basketball team uses the Hall to run practice patterns. An important part of training takes place in the weight room. From bench presses to rowing machines, weight lifters work on specialized machines for specific muscles.

What the fans never see (cont'd)

they push each athlete toward his or her greatest potential. Andy Knapp maintains that a coach's awareness of academic demands is important. "Our coach stressed academics first and sports second because he wanted to maintain a strong team. He demanded individual growth in both athletics and academics, and tried to integrate the two." Rit-

c h i e
C o o p e r adds that
"it is understood that the coaches want to maximize every positive aspect of the athlete's personality." And perhaps, both in and out of the game, on and off the field, this is the greatest benefit of college athletics.

— Becky Russel

Drilling as a team aids in making the team a cohesive unit. The girls' basketball team works on fingertip control in the Hall.

As opposed to the day of the event, a winning season for a runner comes from days of training in solitary.

Sophomore Stan Yagiello broke the school passing record with 414 yards in his first William and Mary start against Miami of Ohio. Sophomore Jeff Sanders also set school records for most yards received (232) and most receptions (12) in the same game. Senior Kurt Wrigley surpassed David Knight's record for season reception yardage with his total of 911 yards. With such stellar performances, what went wrong? (cont. on p. 116)

Sophomore quarterback Stan Yagiello surveys the Brown defense as he prepares to pass. The Tribe lost the Homecoming game, 23-22.

Senior Kurt Wrigley demonstrates how he led the Tribe in total yardage gained in any one season.

Intensity marks the play of Greg Gates as he battles a Dartmouth opponent

FOOTBALL

W&M	Opponent
17	Miami	35
24	VMH	12
3	VPI	17
17	Rutgers	27
24	Dartmouth	16
3	Navy	39
18	JMU	24
21	Delaware	62
22	Brown	23
27	ECU	31
28	U. Richmond	17

3-8-0

Photos by Mark Beavers

Many possible explanations for the Tribe's disappointing season. With a predominantly underclass roster, the players lacked experience in college play. The team had the home advantage for only four of their eleven games. In the drop from Division I to I-AA, the Tribe lost scholarship money, which affected their ability to attract needed talent. But perhaps the main reason the Indians finished at 3-8 was also the simplest: they made too many costly mistakes.

Watching the flight of the ball, the offensive line hopes for a successive extra point. Getting his kicks, tight end John Usella doubled as punter. Specializing in big play, Jeff Sanders maneuvers through the intimidating East Carolina defense.

Joe Lucas records a sack against Dartmouth as Lonnie Moore moves in to assist Steve Zeuli. Joe Lucas, and Guy Crittendon cut off the escape for East Carolina's Quarterback.

Photos by Mark Beavers

Winning its first state championship, the Men's Golf team surprised its traditional rival, UVA. Adding to the success, they finished first out of thirty-two at the Yale Classic, and second of eleven at Kingsmill. On the other hand, the women's team was plagued by inconsistency. Coming out with average scores in tournaments, Coach Lambert pointed to the fact that six members of the team were new this year.

Practicing her putts, Anne Biermen readies for a tournament at Kings Mill
Taking a mighty swing Joseph Springer tees off

G O L F
Events (men)	Results
Yale Classic	1st
Alumni-Varsity	12th
East Tenn. State	11th
Campbell University	7th
W&M Kings Mill	2nd

G O L F
Events (women)	Results
Longwood	4th
Appalachian St.	5th
JMU Invitational	2nd
Duke Invitational	8th
VAIAW DIV. 2
St. Champs	1st
NC Invitational	11th
ALAW Reg 2 Div. 2	1st

Mary Ellen Fedor lines her shot at the Regional Championship Tournament. Practicing at the Kings Mill Golf Course, players have a chance to work on their weak spots before matches.
Claire Fortier chips one out of the trap.

This Year the women's gymnastics team entered the NAIA Championships ranked third. Instrumental in the success of the team this year was Lori Pepple, a freshman who led the Indians in individual competition and attained W&M record marks of 9.3 and 36.0 on the floor and the all-around respectively.

(Cont. on p. 122)

Turning into a flip on the balance beam, Lynn Rosenberg exhibits her sharp concentration on the balance beam.

On the still rings, Eric Jaffe tenses his muscles to hold his position.

GYMNASTICS

W & M (Women)	Opponent
131.65	Maryland-	110.4
	Baltimore
128.6	Navy	95.95
129.15	UNC	132.50
129.15	Princeton	119.95
161.65	East Tenn.	156.30
	State
161.65	James	156.10
	Madison
135.2	NC State	134.70
129.85	Longwood	123.40
168.75	Duke	171.05

7-2

Photos by Mary Jada

On the horse, Bob Creagh prepares to dismount while the judge tallies his score. Jim Daugherty shows the hours of practice he has put in on the parallel bars

GYMNASICS

Another standout was Mary Ellen Williford, who performed well on the beam against Duke. Coach Sylvia Shirley was confident of her team's chances in the championships. "We're going to do really well."

The men's gymnastics team gained momentum and strength as the season progressed, as three of the four losses were early in the season. The bar men have an unbeaten record within the state, and they have proved themselves against other schools with strong athletic programs.

W&M (Men)	Opponent	Score
253.95	VPI	62.25
231.85	Navy	254.15
237.90	Univ. of Pittsburg	261.35
237.9	NC State	248.90
237.90	UVA	51.45
237.90	JMU	185.40
247.25	Princeton	197.40
247.25	JMU	190.05
206.80	Clemson	121.50
206.80	VPI	101.20
239.45	N.C. State	256.75
239.45	Jacksonville St.	212.65

8-4

Team captain Nanae Fujita concentrates on her balance, beam performance, even if only to a small crowd.

Eric Jaffe is all concentration as he prepares for his next move on the still rings. After the routine, Jaffe receives congratulations.

Photos by Mary Lida

Escape from Academics

Papers, finance projects, lab write-ups, accounting problems, assigned reading, reserved reading, class — the list goes on, the pressure builds. Envision yourself as Jack Nicholson demonically pounding at the typewriter: "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Will you ax through the door, yelling "Honey, I'm home!" to your roommate? Sometimes it seems that even if you combined the aid of your hallmates and labored furiously for six weeks, you'd still have to ask for extensions. You've got to get out, find an escape.

It happens to all of us, in one form or another. For this reason, intramurals thrive providing a needed escape from the rigors of academia. There was something for everyone in intramurals, from extensive systems of football and basketball, involving a great number of teams, to the smaller pool, ping-pong and racquetball followings. Vince Sutlive, director of men's intramurals, said that intramurals were a vital function of the college; both Ken Smith and Dean Sadler are very supportive of the program. "This support also came in the form of a $50,000 budget, allocated from the student activity fee. All of the recreational facilities were funded from this budget, also with men's and women's intramurals. Of this budget, 60 to 65 percent goes to men's intramurals alone. "I don't think 75% would be too far off the mark as a percentage of participation in men's intramurals. When you stop to consider the variety of sports we offer, there is a very good possibility that 75% of William and Mary's men will participate in at least one sport," commented Sutlive.

Women's intramurals, despite lack of coverage, also gave ample opportunity for release. "I don't think girls take intramurals as seriously as guys," said Jan Singletary, a member of Alpha Chi Omega's basketball and volleyball teams, "but, we are still competitive and, most of all, we have a great time. If you take the game too seriously, you take the fun out of it."

The overriding reason for participation in intramurals was that it forced you to exercise. "If it weren't for intramurals, I'd never exercise during the week," admitted John Fithian, a junior Government major. "I need a structured exercise program — an obligatory excuse to be active." Mike Kummer, a junior Art concentrator, saw intramurals differently, "I would exercise anyway. I just like the chance to compete; you know, the thrill of victory, the agony of defeat. Although I usually come out with more agonies than thrills, I still enjoy the opportunity to play." Intramurals successfully gave students the chance to divert their attention away from the books, if only for a brief hour. As Miss Singletary more aptly stated, "It just feels good to be doing something besides studying or worrying about studying."

— Mark Beavers

Mark Brown

Intramurals help build confidence and self-esteem, and teach leadership and teamwork.

The Lacrosse team should rebound from a disappointing 1982 season. Injuries plagued the team last year, and coach Clarke Franke is optimistic about this year's team, providing they stay healthy. Marc Shalek and Mike Wright will be sorely missed, but sophomore Scott Driscoll should help fill the void after having a dazzling freshman year. The return of senior goalie Randy Duke will spearhead the defense, and having gained valuable experience from last year, improvement on the team's 2-12 record will surely be seen.

Bringing expertise and experienced coaching to the 1982 Women's Lacrosse team, the new head coach, Feffie Barnhill, guided the team to an overall record of 11-2. The women's team, comprised of mostly veterans, were national contenders. They captured first place in the VAAW State Championship with decisive wins over James Madison, 11-6, and Virginia, 14-6 and despite a disappointing first round loss to Maryland, whom they had beaten in regular season play, they proceeded to take fifth place in the AIAW Division I Nationals. The defense set a new record for fewest goals allowed in a season (80 in 13 games) and senior Vikki Bovoso, whose outstanding goal-keeping the team, upped her career saves to 448 (61.9%). Junior Dana Hooper led the offense with 35 goals to move into seventh goals. Sophomore Whitney Thayer set a new record for assists in a game (5) and assist coverage in a season (1.6). Hopper and Thayer were named to the Coaches' All-American team. Lisa Fuccella, Dana Hooper, and Whitney Thayer were also named to the Coach's All-Regional team. Basia Deren was chosen for the 1982 U.S. Reserve team, and Lisa Fucella and Julie Duff were picked for the 1982 U.S. Squad.

Julie Duff beats two Penn State players to the ball, and takes off to attack.
 Whitney Thayer prepares to shoot in narrow loss to Penn State, one of only three regular season Tribe losses.
 With other players watching, Whitney Thayer fires a penalty shot at the Penn State goalie.

L A C R O S S E

W&M (men)	Opponent	Opponent
12	NC State	19
21	Gulford	11
10	Franklin & Marshall	11
6	Maryland	17
11	Demson	9
20	Union	9
11	Salisbury State	28
22	St. Mary's	14
18	Morgan State	12
8	University of Baltimore	9
7	Washington & Lee	17
12	Hampton-Sydney	8
6	Lovola	10
4	Virginia	19

6-8

L A C R O S S E

W&M (women)	Opponent	Opponent
11	Harvard	7
11	ODU	4
19	Richmond	6
11	JMU	8
8	ODU	3
9	Penn State	11
13	UV A	8
8	Maryland	4
11	JMU	6
14	UV A	6
3	Maryland	7
13	West Chester	5
6	Harvard	6

11-2

As a vaguely known sport, riding competitions were foreign to most students. In short, riders competed throughout the year for grand point total. The higher the total, the better chance the rider had of advancing to regional and national tournaments. At the Mary Washington Intercollegiate Horse Show, riders won the title of Reserve High Point College, accumulating the most points of competitors. In a later tournament at McDonough School, Jodi Minnish placed fourth out of twenty four entries.

Photos courtesy of Women's Athletics

Concentration and perfect timing are essential as the judges watch. Jodi Minnish guides Best Intention of a jumping post. Even if Hiden's hoofbrazes the post, Susy Kimball can lose points at a tournament.

At the McDonough School Horse Trials in Baltimore, Alyse Ravinsky rides Sunday Cruiser. A few members of the 1982-83 riding team: Denise Mav, Elsie Ravinsky, Jodi Ciatko, and Jodi Minnick.

Photos by Mark Beavers

The American aerobics craze is evident at William and Mary as over a hundred students enrolled in the Thursday night class. Toning the body and getting rid of those unwanted inches are two reasons why students took aerobics. This student concentrates on the instructor's motions.

Why lumber down DOG street?

Jogging is boring. Lifting weights is too hard. Swimming takes too much time. Racquetball is impossible to play without a racquet. But you still want to stay in shape or work off that deli sandwich. Many have taken up Aerobic Dance as the solution to this problem. The P.E. department classes, newly added in the spring, were quickly closed out. And still a sizeable group flocked to the Collegiate Aerobics program, and shelled out $25 to huff, puff, bend, and stretch together. Even the football team got into the act as a way of keeping in shape during the off-season.

Interest in Aerobics has virtually exploded. What makes it so appealing? First, anyone can do it, from the most athletic jock to the flabbiest klutz. Second, it's a group activity; it's always nice not to have to go through the pain and sweat by yourself. Given the choice between lumbering up and down DOG street, thighs flapping violently, and exercising in the safe anonymity of a group, the decision was obvious. Third, quite simply, it's fun, and music is an important part of it. Popular tunes such as "Africa" and "We Got the Beat" accompany movements that make Aerobics more like dancing than exercising. Aerobics provided fun, yet structured, exercise for anyone and everyone who wanted to do more than develop premature middleage spread. Just ask the football team.

—Jay Alfred

The group of over a hundred physical enthusiasts range from Sorority girls to jocks.

Sharpshooter Jim Hevener was the newest member of the Riflery Team. Taking aim, Riflery Team members Jim Hevener, David Turner, Kerke Johnson demonstrate their marksmanship. The William & Mary Riflery Team: Eric Morrison, James Hevener, Kerke Johnson, David Turner (not shown: Bob Foth)

The goal of the Riflery team this year was not necessarily to have a winning season, but to increase their competition level. Unlike the first half of the season, when they won all their matches, the second half was marred by defeat, but head coach Roy Belfield found the more difficult teams more satisfying, since "the more you shoot against better teams the better you become." The season saw the steady improvement of key members of the team, including star shooters Eric Morrison and Kerke Johnson, and especially Jim Hevener, who only just started shooting this year. At the West Point match, Eric broke the school record for half course with a record of 578 out of 600 shots. Eric was also selected to compete in the NCAA championships in Cincinnati, Ohio, a competition among the top 40 collegiate shooters.

Photos by Bob Foth

After a day of classes, a game of football in the Sunken Gardens relieves the pressures of academic life. Practically twenty-four hours a day, joggers can be found on campus or DOG street.

Photos by Rob Smith.

Sports without the green and gold

With twenty-nine organized intercollegiate sports and over twenty-five intramural sports available, William and Mary students should have no trouble finding one that interests them. Yet a majority of the students are not to be found in either of these programs. These are William and Mary's hidden athletes.

Just drop by Blow Gym one day around 3:00pm. Every racquetball and basketball court, every lap lane and weight machine is occupied. Take a number and stand in line; the fitness boom has hit William and Mary. Better yet, walk over to the Commons one morning. To avoid being trampled by the herd of runners is a major accomplishment.

In the fall, with the beautiful paths of Matoaka, the restricted streets of CW, and the millions of tourists to admire, Williamsburg is heaven for runners. "There's nothing better for getting in shape," says senior Joe Claytor, "and it's a great feeling when you finish." Claytor's sentiments are echoed by runners across campus. And the age of the Walkman has removed one of the two major complaints of runners — boredom. But, sooner or later (generally later, in Williamsburg), winter

(cont'd on p. 137)

With two auxiliary gyms available for student use, students can always pick up a game or simply work out alone.

Photos by Warren Koonitz

A few hours in the Hall's weight room is enough to not only keep the body in shape, but to also build on existing muscles.
A game of football in the Sunken Gardens can provide as much excitement, if not more, than a game on Cary Field.

Without the green and gold (cont'd)

arrives, and students turn to indoor sports.

Basketball is another favorite on campus. Pick-up games abound in Blow Gym. Chuch Gamble, like many William and Mary students, competed in high school sports. "I need some relaxation after classes," Gamble says, "and I love basketball, so, with no afternoon classes, I just come over here and play for awhile." Whether honing their skills for intramurals or just out to get some exercise, William and Mary students take advantage of the Blow Gym facilities.

But these are the more mundane sports. A number of adventuresome students took for something different. Wind-surfing is one of the newest American sports. Wendy Bernath is probably William and Mary's only wind-surfer. "At least I think so," says Bernath. "It's really big up north. They have competitions and everything." According to Bernath, "Wind-surfing on the York River is exhilarating." Another plus: "You can get a really great tan!"

Meanwhile, with 14 tennis courts, 5 racquetball courts, Kingsmill golf course, and bowling lanes nearby, the William and Mary student has no excuse for being out of shape.

— Dennis Shea

From the day school starts in August till the coldest day in January, pick-up ultimate frisbee provides pre-dinner recreation for students.

The men's soccer season was a success. Despite a tough schedule and a young team. The rigorous schedule was probably the team's greatest challenge. Among their opponents were 5 teams who received NCAA post season Division I bids. Their wins included an overtime clincher at Howard and a home victory over O.D.U. which contributed to the strong 11-5-5 record and a third place regional ranking for most of the season. Players remarked that "We didn't achieve a lot of our goals." But the record said otherwise.

The Women's soccer team felt they had achieved as well as surpassed their goals. Their overtime victory over George Washington University was significant not only because George Washington was ranked among the top twenty in the nation but also because they had defeated us 6-1 last year. In the Invitational Washington Area Women's Soccer Tournament, the booters also tied Radford, who is second in the state. They finished the season ranked third in the state and eighth in the South/Mideast Regional Rankings.

Rob Guillen

Jan Singleton

The team huddles around Coach Albert to get psyched for the game.
 Captain Mary Swanson takes a shot on the goal during a Tribe victory over James Madison in the State Tournament.
 With fancy footwork, Scott Repkee dribbles by his opponent.

Rob Guillen

an Singletary

S O C C E R

W&M (Women)	Opponent
4	Richmond	0
2	Old Dominion	0
4	Randolph-Macon	1
1	George Mason	1
2	George Washington (OI)	1
0	Virginia Tech	3
1	Radford	2
0	James Madison	0
12	Virginia Wesleyan	0
3	Mary Washington	1
1	Radford	1*
1	George Washington	1*
0	North Carolina	0*
3	James Madison	2*
1	Radford	2*
3	Virginia Tech (OI)	2*

*Tournaments

8-5-3

Rob Guillen

an Singletary

S O C C E R

W&M (Men)	Opponent
0	U. Conn.	0
1	Fitchburg	0
2	UNC-Wilmington	2
4	ECU	2
2	Howard	1
3	American	1
2	VCU	1
0	Washington College	1
0	Duke	1
3	ODU	1
1	N. Wesleyan	0
7	Richmond	0
1	Lampa	1
1	West Florida	1
1	George Mason	2
1	George Wash	1
1	Towson	0
0	Randolph-Macon	0
4	James Madison	0
3	Tongwood	0
0	UVA	0

11-5-5

Leaping over the goalie, Mary Swanson follows up on her shot on goal.
Taking the ball downfield, Grace Boland assists in a goal against Radford.
Jon Leibowitz anxiously waits to challenge his Towson State opponent for a headball.

During a practice session for the regular season, Erin Fowl works on her speed and stamina.

S W I M M I N G

W&M (Women)	Opponent
77	James Madison	63
72	ODU	77
78	John Hopkins	52
67	Drexel	82
72	Maryland	77
94	Duke	46
92	VCU	57
83	George Washington	60
90	Navv	58

6-3

The women's team finished tenth in the EIAAW Championships February 24-26. Leading the swimmers, Erin Sheely competed in the fifty yard breaststroke at the NCAA Championships March 12-16. She had reset all William and Mary breaststroke records, as well as the EIAAW mark at 30.22. The men's team had a less successful season with a 6-5 record. Their major victories came against Richmond and VCU in the middle of the season, winning both meets by no more than three points. During the course of the season, the team broke eight William and Mary records.

The men's team splashed to a 5-6 record and the highest Eastern finish in William and Mary history. Coach Haven's second year as head coach saw 14 out of 19 school records broken. Standouts included transfer diver Shawn McLane, who gave the Indians their first ever Division I national qualifier in swimming. McLane also placed third, in both the 1-meter and 3-meter diving at the Eastern Championships and won both diving events at the SeaHawk Championship while setting new records and being named the meet's Outstanding Male Performer. Also responsible for much of the Tribe's success were sophomore Carl Browne and freshman Chris Hagin. Browne broke 9 school records, placed in 3 events in easterns, and won the 200IM with a record breaking performance at the Wilmington North Carolina SeaHawk Championships. Sprint freestyler Chris Hagin broke the long standing school record for the 50 yard freestyle.

S W I M M I N G

W&M (Men)	Opponent
44 James Madison	68
68 Virginia Military	45
49 ODU	63
65 Georgetown University	17
56 GW	51
41 UNC-Wilmington	72
69 College of Charleston	39
66 The Citadel	18
50 Duke	63
44 VCU	69
83 Washington and Lee	25
	Ford Union
	University of Richmond

6-5

Working on his breaststroke, Scott Gehsmann synchronizes his breathing and stroking for the last stretch.

Sophomore swimmers: Carl Browne, Doug Bergen, Shawn McLane, Greg Crump.

Freshmen: Mike Lewis, Kent Schawn, Phil Pommerening, Chris Hagin, Paul Babev, Pat McGrath, Bob Torney.

Seniors: Andy Robins, Mike Kontos, Scott Kren, Scott Stadler, Bob Lockett.

Photo by Rob Green

The Indians Number One doubles team of Forman and Miller finished in the finals of the ECAC tournament.

Sarah Dobbin connects on a forehand cross court against Richmond.

The Tribe's number one player rests after her match against Princeton.

Chris Wells warms up before the Indian's match against Princeton.

The women's tennis team experienced an unbeaten record in the Commonwealth. However, Ivy League Schools proved to be tougher competition, as the Tribe held their own in two of these matches. The ladies returned to a successful season when they finished fourth of eighteen. The men's team highlight came in the ECAC Tournament, where they finished fifth of sixteen. They finished fourth in the Virginia State Tournament, behind Virginia Tech, U.Va., and O.D.U.

Gordon Diamond exhibits his unique double-handed back hand.
Gina Cowger smacks a cross court shot in her match against Madison.

T E N N I S
W&M (women's)	Opponent
7	Georgetown	2
8	George Washington	1
8	UVA	1
7	Richmond	2
8	ODU	1
3	Yale	6
3	Harvard	6
1	Princeton	5
5-3-0

T E N N I S
Men's Spring
College of Charleston
Coastal Carolina
University of South Carolina
Furman University
Presbyterian College
George Washington University
Bloomshurg State College
Penn State
Navy
Harvard
George Mason University
Hamptden-Sydney
West Virginia
Atlantic Christian
ODU
Swarthmore
North Carolina
Virginia Tech
James Madison
Richmond
Virginia

Matt Claba

The passive athlete

The scene: William and Mary Hall. Tonight's game is against Wake Forest, and the Hall is packed with excited, screaming fans. The walls reverberate with thunderous clapping, cheering, stomping. All eyes intently watch the action.

The scene: Barksdale field. Our field hockey team is battling a fierce opponent. A smattering of spectators mill around the sidelines, mostly coaches and other team members. A student passes by on his way to Morton. Glancing over, he vaguely wonders "Is there a game going on?" and rushes by.

Which scene is more characteristic of William and Mary sports fans? The subject is controversial at the very least.

Few students want to criticize their fellow students, but it must be said — William and Mary scholar athletes deserve much better support from the rest of the students. The sparse crowds at many events can be disheartening to athletes. Yet, this criticism is tempered by certain notable exceptions to the rule and several recent improvements which raise hopes for the future.

The typical William and Mary fan can probably be described as a fair-weather fan, apathetic, even hostile, when the teams aren't playing well. They tend to remain detached from the game, disinterested in what is going on. An interesting explanation for this comes from Mike Tuohey, a member of the Kappa Sig "whites." The distance that separates the students from the court at the Hall seems to hurt fan involvement. "I wish," Tuohey says, "that a lot of those students were down by the us. The Hall would be an even worse place to play in." But at least these students are at the games. "Most students," said Tuohey, "don't make time to go to the games. They don't arrange their schedule" to get them to the Hall or Cary field. This in part explains the poor turnout. Steve Panoff identifies "the pressure to study" and "the lack of tradition" at William and Mary as other factors. None of these influences can be denied.

But if this is the average fan, there are quite a few exceptions. Tom Stallings and Mike Meagher would "skip classes"

(Cont. on p. 117)

During one of the more quiet moments of the game, an avid Tribe fan can't contain herself.

The less traditional fans came out of the woodwork at Homecoming. Kristine Johnson, from Creative House participates in the parade.

... Strick ... Fair Kennedy

After the win over Wake Forest, jubilant fans crowd Coach Parkhill as they try to get their faces on the air.

For the less visible sports, spectators were often only the team members.

During a break in the VCU basketball game, the two attention-loving mascots battle it on center court.

The passive athlete (cont.)

to get to a William and Mary soccer game. "We'd be there in snow or hail," declared Stallings. "Though that's never happened when we've been here." Meagher added that "The soccer team's tradition of success helps attract fans." Stallings, on the other hand, is attracted by "the beauty of the sport, the subtle art of the sly tackle." Jim Lonick, a William and Mary cheerleader, pointed out that these soccer fans were "the most dedicated William and Mary fans. They even go weekday afternoons when most people are studying."

And then there are the men in white. They are the ultimate William and Mary sports fans. On their feet throughout the game, they cheer the good plays, harass the opposition, celebrate the victories. In the Hall, they are the sixth man. The whites began in 1976 when five guys, patterning themselves after characters in the movie "Clockwork Orange," dressed up as stormtroopers. The significance of the stormtrooper faded and only the white outfit and the fanatic behavior remained. Then in 1980 the Towelman appeared, as Brian Dalton began leading the now familiar T-R-I-B-E cheer. The tradition has been handed down to Biff Whitcamp, Kiki Dalton, and Vic Clarke, this year's Towelman. They became famous on campus. Here were students who actually appreciated twelve other students who practiced 20 to 30 hours a week and juggled academic schedules to perfect a skill. The whites support the team in good years and bad, strong efforts and poor. If there were a couple thousand like them, Who would stand a chance against the Tribe at home?

In addition to these dedicated fans, a few recent developments bode some hope for the lonely Indian athletes. Tuohey, Lonick, and Panoff all say that things have been much better in the last two or three years. Fans seem to be getting involved in the game. Lonick says "There is much less drinking and more cheering. People are paying attention." And the results are positive. The effect of the fans on the game is tremendous. Lonick remembers the away and home series against Virginia Tech last year. "At Tech, our team seemed rattled by the fans, only shot 33% and got killed. Later, back at the

(cont. p. 119)

Whipping up W&M spirit with a flick of his wrist, Vick Clark does the T-R-I-B-E routine.

These Spotswood and Fauquier football fans are an energetic exception to the typically blasé attitudes of most W&M students towards athletics. Spurred on by hopes of winning the spirit keg provided by the Spirit Council, many freshmen came out to Cary Field to support the Tribe.

Anticipating another debacle at Cary Stadium, these embarrassed "fans" protect their anonymity by wearing bags over their heads à la the New Orleans Saints fan of a few years back. One student indicates what he would like the College to do to head coach Jummve Laycock.

Although bathrooms and buildings must have architectural aids for the handicapped, stadiums still lack these facilities. This fan receives special consideration.

The passive athlete (cont.)

Hall, the fans were excellent and we beat them." Meagher thinks that the strong support the ODU soccer team gets from the fans is significant to the team's success. Basketball had only one close loss at home but lost five on the road.

Another encouraging development is the formation of the Spirit Council. This group offered "Keg bribes" at the football games. Panoff, a member of the council, observed "William and Mary fans aren't all that different. At UNC they drive a Bud truck by where the game is." With the right incentives, anybody can get people to attend. Until the Council lost its Public Relations Director, they had planned some interesting events, such as a contest involving stacking cases of Bud to try to liven up William and Mary sports.

Though things are far from perfect at William and Mary, the news isn't all bad. But students should want to get involved in Tribe sports. "If the students get involved," Lonick says, "They'll have more fun even if we don't win. And then you might start enjoying college, instead of bitching and moaning about classes." Did you ever wonder why students seem to have more fun at UVA or why William and Mary has a reputation as a study nerd school? If you can't take a few hours out of the day to go see a game with friends now, while you're young, when else?

— Dennis Shea

Marrazzo's personal fan club show distress at a tribe game.

Mark Beven

Photos courtesy of William and Mary Athletic

A freshmen record setter, George Dippold prepares for the shotput.
Making his move on the leaders, Andy Whitney competes in the Richmond Invitational.
In a warm up sprint, Carla Tademy pushes her stamina to the limit.
The anchors of the men's team, co-captains Jim Satterley and Steve Boone.

The men's team boasted a fine record until the state meet where they placed fifth. Due to the flu and injuries this finish did not reflect the regular season. Led by record breakers Satterley, Boone, Beckles, Wiggins, Lindsley and Cuff, the team dominated the East Coast Invitational, their meet with Navy, and the Millrose Games. The women's team qualified for Division II Nationals at Austin Peay University and finished sixth in the State meet. The record breaker for the women was Sheily Arries. Dianne Hawley and Jerry Daniels placed in the All-State team; Daniels went to Nationals to place first in the shot put.

A Tribe high jumper competes in the East Coast Invitational in Richmond.
Nationally ranked Jeri Daniels practices the shot-put at Cary Field.
Jim Saterley sails over a hurdle during a practice at Cary Stadium.

At the net, a William and Mary netter gets her spike blocked by a George Mason opponent
Poised for her serve, this volleyball team member prepares to drill her ball against Liberty Baptist
Team work is an important facet to a successful match

Experiencing a fifty percent winning record, the volleyball team had a see-saw season. As the highlight for the team, the women placed third in the George Mason Invitational. Although starting off with a 0-7 record, the team made a strong finish by winning eight of their last nine, including a victory against their rivals VCU.

VOLLEYBALL

W&M	Opponent	Opponent
1	East Carolina	3
0	Holstra	2
0	George Washington	2
0	East Carolina	2
0	N.C. State	2
0	East Carolina	2
1	Virginia	3
2	Lovola	0
2	Liberty Baptist	1
0	Virginia Tech	2
2	Catholic University	0
2	VCU	1
0	Mansfield	2
2	Virginia Tech	1
3	Chowan	0
0	VCU	2
2	Longwood	0
2	Salisbury	0
0	Duke	2
0	East Carolina	2
0	UNC Charlotte	3
0	North Carolina A&T	2
2	North Carolina A&T	0
1	Duke	2
0	UNC Charlotte	3
0	VCU	2
2	Massachusetts	0
0	Delaware	2
0	Providence	2
2	Maryland-Baltimore Co	1
0	James Madison	2
3	VCU	2
2	George Mason	0
0	Galludet	2
2	Upsala	0
2	Christopher Newport	0
2	Lynchburg	0
2	Liberty Baptist	0
2	Wake Forest	1
2	James Madison	0
2	Virginia Tech	0
0	George Mason	3
1	VCU	2

21-22

Setting up for a spike, the volleyball back line coordinates their moves.

The William and Mary wrestling team suffered a disappointing season this year, finishing with a nine win — eight loss record. The tribe showed a lot of promise, yet remains plagued by inexperience and inconsistency. The youth of the squad, starting four freshmen and three sophomores, continued to be a problem. Three wrestlers Doug Dix (19-2-1), Sean Kavanagh (9-3-1) and Ted Lewis (15-3-2) led the Tribe, and all had excellent shots at placing in the EIWA tournament.

Photos courtesy of William and Mary Athletics

Wrestler Kevin Looney prepares to take down his opponent. Fast maneuvering keeps wrestlers on their toes and off their tails.

W R E S T L I N G

W&M	Opponent
31	Hiram	9
22	Winston-Salem	16
21	Carson-Newman	16
15	Liberty Baptist	22
11	JMU	37
17	Cornell	23
29	Coast Guard	14
23	Bucknell	16
11	Army	25
40	Longwood	9
15	Franklin & Marshall	27
14	VA Tech	26
17	Virginia	26
10	VMI	28
WBF		0
60	Furman	0

9-8

This is only a test.
In the next sixty minutes
you will identify twenty-five obscure South East Asian terms, elaborate on ancient customs of various tribes, and write four essays on the cultural aspects of vague religious practices.
If this was an emergency you would be instructed to . . .

Looking at the twenty-five identifications I felt the warning signs of mid-semester panic. The letters blurred on the page; my logic went to lunch. Everyone in the room wrote dissertations while I tried desperately to remember the course number for the cover of the blue book.
Why does this happen? Or even yet, why doesn't someone tell me how to handle it?
Damn it! It is an emergency. A cigarette in the hallway will help.

Warning: the Surgeon General has determined any number of things are dangerous to your health. The smoke formed a grey cloud under the ceiling of Washington and I dare the Surgeon General to say anything to me. He probably smokes three packs a day anyway. I wonder what he has to say about exams? Panic returns; what will I have to say about this exam? I throw the cigarette on the elementary-school-looking floor and my stomach flips. Maybe the Surgeon General is right.

Just as I suspected, the twenty-five foreign identifications haven't disappeared. The other students have already mailed their tests to Encyclopedia Britanica in hopes of making the fall deadline for submissions. I scribble down all that I know and hedge my bets on the ones I don't know. There is no hope for the essays. Next time I'll look at the syllabus and make sure I know the required reading list. Oh well, there is always the exam to pull the grade up.

I turn the paper in and pretend to cough to avoid looking at the professor. Perhaps it would be better if I hadn't gotten the English 331 midterm back an hour ago, or if I didn't forget to turn the clock back and avoid going to my nine o'clock class at eight. A cigarette will help. Maybe a coke and a blue plate special from the Wig. Nicotine, caffeine, protein. Consumption to fill the academic void. But wait, I have

(cont'd on p. 158)

F E A T U R E

Escape

---

Escape (cont'd)

---

another class to sleep in. From South East Asian language to Chaucer's middle English — the contrast of it all. No wonder when my parents ask how things are going I mildly smile and reply "fine." How can you explain it? My ego has been put through the washer: I have failed two midterms, my laundry is stiffening into pieces of furniture, the master cylinder on the car has died, the lady next door is moving because Spring Roads is depressing, and I have to go listen to middle English (go ahead, ask me what "quinta" means)! I'm tired. Just a vacation would help, or at least some sort of justification. I have to work tonight. And type a paper after work, and read a reserved reading paper (don't tell Professor Macubbin I took it out of Tucker), and clean my room, or at least clean the dishes in the sink, and what about the oral report in the morning, or the lab preparation for the afternoon? Did I stretch a canvas for painting class? And what about sex? Wait I take it back, a yearbook is no place for discussion on sex. But after all, we do need it, don't we. I mean, it's important to a certain extent.

The path behind Randolph Complex — a unique trait for William and Mary, the woods between Old and New Campus provides a momentary retreat from the academic atmosphere.

Kathy Rawson

And we are adults, right? That's what all the pamphlets from James Blair tell us. My hands are shaking. No, no, I'm fine. Just tension: academics' pension.

My best friend grabs my arm. "What are you doing in the middle of the Sunken Gardens with five lit cigarettes? You look like you're lost in a Human League video."

"I can't do it anymore." A frisbee hits me in the head. "But you have to go to Chaucer's class. We can laugh at the other students." Passing people in the lobby of Tucker, eye contact hits like arrows. Do they notice my eyes are slightly bloodshot? Do they know I wore the same pants yesterday? Do I care? No, not really. I regain a sense of composure and enter class five minutes late. Sitting on a window sill instead of a chair, I invite day dreams to take over. Escape — phase one. The cars drive by like politicians walking on imported air. They have no idea what I am going through and I find it so relieving. Soon I start floating at thirty-five miles an hour. People and signs and trees and buildings fly past in two dimensional forms. Motion soothes the soul. "I live in America, relax on the streets." Its true. Kids ride bikes, adolescents drive the strip, and I'm traveling so far away from this classroom that . . . it's too late, I knew I shouldn't have fixed the master

(cont'd on p. 161)

Rob Smith

---

Escape (cont'd)

---

Sometimes academics just don't wash. A common sight in the Sunken Garden is a student sleeping or daydreaming.

cylinder on the brakes . . .

"Mr. Hook, what can you tell me about the Pardoner's Tale?"

"Ah, he was homosexual wasn't he?"

Did I say the wrong thing? Half the students stare at me while the other half obviously looked away. Panic returns. What do I say? It was the only fact I remembered from the Cliff Notes. People are still staring at me. The Professor sucks on his coffee and says, "Yes, go ahead."

"He hated the Summoner."

I know I am saying the wrong things. Someone laughs. The last straw breaks. Grabbing my books I dart out of the door. My steps echo off the walls and vibrate my nerves. I run into a Lacoste pumping the coke machine.

"Sorry."

"No problem." Faster and faster, got to get out now. I crash through the double doors and trip over a professor's dog that is chasing leaves. He licks my face and I desperately chase xerox copies of notes in the wind. The dog bites me and I lunge for a colonial bench and melt into the slats. I concentrate on the cars on Richmond Road again. It doesn't work. A vacation is in order.

I call in sick to work and leave the phone off the hook. Wash enough dishes for a meal of hot dogs and beans and milk and a cigarette (only one, though). Escape — phase two.

Flipping through glossies of world affairs, I take my mind further away from school and responsibilities (did I pay the rent?). I call a romantic acquaintance and no one answers. I unplug the phone (did I pay C&P?). Something is wrong but I can't put my finger on it. Even if I knew what it was, I wouldn't want to put my finger on it. Time for head phones. When all else fails, music can help. Five hours later I wake up with sweaty ears and cotton mouth. The stereo is cold. I suddenly remember the paper I have to type. At least for five hours I retreated. It's not so bad. Maybe I'll go dancing this weekend. Occasionally, the time spent away from school is the most important time spent while in school.

— Eric Hook

ORGANIZATIONS

---

Greeks
164

Media
224

Government
232

Associations
244

Religion
260

40%
30%
20%
% of students
Years

% of Greek Students

1980 ———— Fraternity

Alpha Chi Omega

Front Row: Val Pandak, Ginny Kost, Suzanne Patter, Connie Bane, Betty Moore, Jo Anne Barakos, Beth Frye, Paula Warwick, Dare Lulloch, Debbie Sleeper, Missy Chai, Cindy Ginnose, Anna Grimsley, Second Row: Vickie Caldwell, Lanya Brown, Julie Goldstein, Mary St. George, Caroline Blaha, Mary Carson, Diane Little, Third Row: Julie Jones, Michelle Anne Eyr, Jenni Kehres, Chris Hardygeorge, Lyne McCoy, Silvia Otto, Lindsey Harrison, Helen Cox, Priscilla Buttz, Colleen Cooke, Pam Johnson, Fourth Row: Lisa Heach, Suzanne Shannon, Pamela George, Jean Lata, Diane Linne Von Berg, Nancy Wetmore, Cynthia Van Landingham, Julie Bubon, Karen Adams, Ann Wood, Lisa Burmeister, Sandre Muller, Kim Wilson, Fifth Row: Martha Newsom, Allison Stringer, Sixth Row: M. J. G. S. M. W. L. Back Row: M. J. G. S. M. W. L.

1981

1982 (Fall Semester)

Greek Vs. Non-Greek

Alpha Chi sisters plus thirty-one pledges were busy throughout the year. At the fall pledge dance, with a theme of "New York, New York," sisters and pledges danced underneath the lights of Time Square. The next day, Derby Day, had everyone competing amidst the mud and beer for Sigma Chi's Wallace Village. Homecoming provided sisters the chance to catch up with old friends and participate in the parade. Alpha Chi's entry, "Pooh on the Bear," took second place in the sorority competition. Philanthropy was a major focus in the fall as well. Alpha Chis sold donuts for Derby Day and raised over $700 for Cystic Fibrosis in the annual Bowl-a-thon. Alpha Chis also aided the Jefferson fire victims and entertained underprivileged children. Sisters said farewell to Seniors at the Spring dance and Senior Banquet. A trip to Nags Head finished off the semester on a happy note.

It's a touchy subject; an issue that everyone has a definite opinion about, and one that seems to demand that opinions be expressed. Vehemently. At this college, more than most, virtually every student must face the issue of Greek life one time or another. Some become a part of it, shouting in praise, "Brotherhood! Unity!", while others stand apart from it beating their chests and screaming, "Independent! Individual!" In a community that depends almost exclusively on the Greek system to provide constant social activity, the issue of Greek life versus Non-Greek life is an important one that must be addressed.

Colonial Williamsburg
Think about that for a moment. Let the name echo through your head, and evaluate any excitement

Greek Vs. Non-Greek (cont.)

ment ensuing from the thought. None, right? Face it. There exists in all students a united tolerance of three-pointed hats, knickers, and white panty hose. As the only place outside of the college campus where students can seek respite from the daily hassles and headaches of an academic career, Williamsburg offers a limited social life. Hence, many have turned to the Greek system for a release.

Rob Kraus, a freshman at Kappa Alpha, when asked "Why go Greek?" responded quite matter of factly, "What else was I going to do in Williamsburg?" Case in point. Comments from other Greeks around campus varied from simply, "The social life" and "It's a great way to meet people" to one comment from Kappa Sigma pledge, Scott Repke. "It's better than going to the Wig and getting two pitchers of beer every Friday night." And it probably is.

However, the system would certainly be a shallow one if the sole reason for membership was to save people from the perils of the Wig. There would seem to be little value in the system if partying was the all-encompassing reason that so many chose that route. But sororities and fraternities unquestionably provide more than that.

Members maintain that the extra something provided by Greek life goes back to the definition of "fraternity." Mike Tuohey, President of Kappa Sigma defined "fraternity life" as an environment where the "guys enjoy living and being together . . . and will do anything for each other." It sounds almost utopian. Can this situation possibly exist? Brigid Dorsey, a senior at Chi Omega, asserted that she takes this sisterhood ad infinitum "with a grain of salt." But she nevertheless felt some form of a common bond with the sisters of Chi O: "There's a real life to it . . . I feel part of that life." Mike Arnold, of Sigma Chi, described the unity of the group as a "core" of guys — "Guys I know I can rely on." There seems to be something of a true bond here: the Greek system truly fulfills the need for companionship among its members. Fraternities and sororities have not deviated immensely from their original purposes: they are still the places of brothers and sisters.

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Front Row: Jackie Townes, Sharon Horner, Tracey Eddie, Marie Harmon, Deborah Vaughan, Back Row: Michele Morrow, Angela Taylor, Michelle Taylor, Monica Hopkins, Sharon Crumpton, Ingrid McDonald, Andrea Miles, Maureen Churchill, Sharon Chapman

Greek life provides an active family of friends during college years, and a place to return to after those years have passed. For these and many other reasons, Greeks feel that the system is important. A sorority or fraternity is a place of good memories, and one of the only remaining institutions that allows an undercurrent of delinquency during their college years. But members such as Mike Bracken continue to insist that, "It's just a good brotherhood . . . something to look back on."

Despite the attention given to the Greeks and their system, a large number of students remain unaffiliated. As a matter of fact, the majority of students are "independent" during their years at the college. These are the people running around without bold colored jerseys and baseball caps laden with unintelligible markings. They have not attached themselves to the established Greek way of life, and many of them are proud to have nothing to do with it.

Many criticize the facade surrounding Greek life. They view all the

(Cont. on p. 168)

The porch of Gamma Phi house is crowded with new pledges on Acceptance day.

Alpha Kappa Alpha, a community service organization, worked hard this year to support various organizations including the Cleveland Job Core for Women, NAACP, United Negro College Fund, and Head Start Program. Money raised through the sister's enthusiastic participation in Derby Day benefited Bacon St. One of the chapter's major activities was a daily exercise program for Senior Citizens for which they received regional recognition. A Homecoming raffle helped raise money for these service projects. The "Club AKA-Hearts Paradise," a Valentine's dance and fashion show was a great success. As was true of most chapter functions, campus and community participation were encouraged. Other second semester projects included a jazz-er-cize session, a Karate exhibition, and a taste-a-rama. While concentrating on serving the community, the sisters also held two rush parties and a tea for the other black sororities. The year was completed with an anniversary party in April.

Greek Vs. Non-Greek (cont.)

"gungho brotherhood" stuff as shallow and without substance. Perhaps the object of most ridicule, though, is rush. Fraternity rush is really no more than a mass of hot people drinking sixty-three times their water weight in beer, standing on a square millimeter of beer-coated floor . . . smiling. To the outsider, it is a comical scene.

Objections to the Greek system extend beyond rush, however. Often, pressures to become a member and participate in the group are unjustified. One such complaint issued from Ali Bokhari, a senior and non-affiliate, who was irritated by fliers about campus which asserted that "real men" join fraternities. He also added that most people seemed to join the system out of "fear of being alone or ostracized." As with many others, Greek life was not what he was looking for.

"The frat is a crutch," commented Marty Hogan, junior. As an independent, he affirmed that organizing a social life took a lot of effort. But he felt that as a result of this effort he was a more flexible person. Without the cushion of the fraternity to fall back on, students learn rather quickly to stand on their own two feet.

The final issue addressed by Greeks and non-Greeks alike concerns the stereotypes assumed by a sorority or fraternity. None deny the existence of these stereotypes. Non-Greeks view the labels as an obstacle which hinders their attempts at individuality. As a sister or a brother of a particular organization, "you automatically get a label" said one non-affiliate. Non-Greeks prefer to avoid the stereotype and maintain their own identity.

Part of Greek life: These Delta Sigma Epsilon members enjoy an evening in the front of their lobby's coziness.

Chi Omega

Front Row: Beth Sala, Laura Gaudian, Lora Fawley, Rainona Kledzik, Bee McLeod, Heidi Haight, Donna Hajost, Judy Norman, Karen Pollok, Elaine Barth, Carolyn Scott, Jenny Rogers, Alyssa Van Winkle, Mitch Baroody; Second Row: Diane Hoekstra, Katie Spradlin, Sharon Jones, Katie Callery, Jenny Lewis, Jenny Ledwith, Susie Sweetser, Lyle Lesesne, Hayley Mace, Nancy Obadal, Jane Ephrussi, Mollie Sue Greene; Third Row: Rosemary Evans, Virginia Prasch, Whitney Norwood, Kelly Lawler, Hunter Milligan, Lindsey Willis, Martha Feathers, Jenny Broad; Back Row: Amanda McCombs, Jill Gallagher, Amanda Wilson, Margaret Collins, Ginger Bakett, Ivinn Schoolev, Rhanna Kidwell, Terry Rosenbaum, Mary Louise Fulton, Susan Asplundh, Mary Ann Kondracki, Carolyn Henne

On the opposing side of the issue, the Greeks offer some interesting arguments. Gwynne Wells, a member of Chi Omega, holds that the labels are not acquired within the organization, but are manufactured without: "[The labels are] what other people have given us." Mike Arnold concluded that anyone who would pass judgement on him based on the stereotype of his fraternity was missing the point anyway.

The issue remains without conclusion. Like so many other college choices, the decision to go or not to go Greek, is left entirely up to the individual.

Perhaps someday Colonial Williamsburg will offer more night life than it has in the past.

But as long as three-cornered hats are a commodity, that hardly seems likely. And long as Greek enthusiasm remains at its present level, people will be attracted.

As Gwynne Wells concluded, "You just get caught up in it . . ."

—Robin Freedman

"I joined the Greek society because it offered a unity and a fellowship that I find comfortable,"

Susan Walker

"I chose to remain independent as I feel my college life is complemented by my individuality,"

Janet Graham

A strong rush complete with excerpts from Soul-train, prime time T.V. commercials and popular recordings headed off the year for Chi O. Sisters then turned their attention to Derby Day preparations. Things kept busy with intramural competition. Social activities included several parties: Punk vs. Prep, Heaven vs. Hell, and Love Stinks, plus a few happy hours. There were also two formal dances. They supported the chapters national philanthropy, Lupus, by selling sweet-heart calendars around campus.

Sorority Rush

o sooner had the hustle and bustle of the beginning of a new school year died down, than a new feeling of anticipation and excitement pervaded sorority court and most of the freshman women's dorms. It was mid-September and Rush had just begun. Nothing had been left to chance in planning for this annual event. For most freshman women the first inkling of what was to come appeared innocuously enough in a plain white envelope. In simple terms it contained the basic question, "Are you planning on rushing?" For some women the question posed no problem. They had always known that they would rush when the time came. For others it was a harder decision to make. Whatever the reasons, approximately four hundred girls went through Rush, an event that had been described by different people in conflicting terms.

For all the importance Rush was given in the social calendar, the actual time it occupied was a little over a week. Starting Saturday, September 18th, the activities officially began and lasted until the following Sunday. For most of this time Sorority Court was humming with people, as the Sisters and Rushees went through a series of parties, informal get-togethers and information sessions designed to acquaint them with each other. Beginning with ten twenty minute parties, the schedule of events progressed to seven forty minute parties on Sunday. The purpose of these parties was for everyone to meet everyone else and to begin narrowing down the group of possible candidates for each sorority. The cuts were not one-sided. Some women received invitations back to certain sororities and declined to attend, as they themselves began narrowing their own lists.

During the week there were only two nights of informal parties, Tuesday and Wednesday. Half of the sororities had theirs on the first night and the other half on the second night. These affairs provided a more relaxed atmosphere for people to talk and to find out more about each other than the earlier structured parties. By Friday night lists had been narrowed once more, and a

(cont. on page 172)

A new rush skit — Grease — began the semester for the Tri'Delts. A wine and cheese reception, roller-skating, and the annual Deserted Island party were among the first semester's activities. Founder's Day was celebrated with the Richmond Alumnae chapter. The spring semester brought initiation and a biannual state meet with University of Virginia, University of Maryland and Virginia Tech chapters. The Spring Formal "Champagne and Roses" and a Senior Banquet ended the year.

In their first year of formal rush, Delta Gamma presents their porch routine with professional ease.

Delta Delta Delta

Front Row: Michelle Butcher, Melanie Kuenmelle, Beth Foot, Nancy Packer, Sunshine Meredith, Monique Miller, Nancy Browning, Lauren DeAngelis, Cassandra Harrison. Second Row: Elizabeth Beal, Rita Ward, Betsy McCraw, Elaine Wauter. Third Row: Anne Ven, Susan French, Olette Ladoul, Lourdes Ramon, Zella Smith, Laura Zinn, Liz Kearney. Fourth Row: Nancy Levy, Sally Lewie, Jenny Nazak, Allison Horrocks, Ingrid Johns, Polly Roberts, Alicia Kiker, Susan Ball. Fifth Row: Donna Rames, Tracey Kluonheim, Anne Matley, Kimberly Albertson, Lucy Blevins, Kim Fiers, Leigh Crummer. Sixth Row: Terri Michie, Linda Sahn, Bonnie Neal, Nancy Taylor, Colleen McKee, Cynthia Smith, Nancy Brooks, Lina Lukens. Back Row: Arie...

Sorority Rush (cont.)

round of five forty minute parties took place. Finally it was Saturday and Preference Night. On this day, Sisters and Rushees made their final choices and decisions. Each Rushee turned in a list of her three top choices and each sorority compiled a list of possible pledges. Sunday was the climax of a long and tiring week. For most women it was a day of excitement and anticipation as they picked up their bids. However there were a few girls who received Panhel cuts instead. Panhel cuts were at their lowest this year, however, due in part to new Rush regulations emphasizing thorough counseling and education for Rushees as well as a minimum GPA, and also in part to the addition of Delta Gamma who were participating in their first formal Rush.

Apart from the realm of Panhel are several sororities that have their own rush procedures and timetables. These sororities, such as Zeta Phi Beta, Incorporated, generally have their own "Rush Party," where the sisters present lectures, answer questions and talk with interested women about their sorority and its history, objectives and services. Their Rush is therefore much more informal.

For the Rushee it was a time of excitement and anticipation, tempered with nervousness and a fear that she would not match up to what was expected. An equal number of upperclassmen and freshmen went through Rush this year. It was not much easier for the older women than the freshmen, but they did already have more acquaintances in the sororities and were more familiar with the whole routine. Even then there were some complaints common to most; there seemed to be a general consensus that the time period for Rush was too short to allow anyone to make a valid decision on another person. Brooke Kirk, a sophomore who pledged Delta Gamma, felt that Rush got "better the last couple of nights. You knew more people and it was easier talking to them."

Some of the Sisters also felt that the system for Rush was not perfect, but that under the circumstances it was the best that could be done. They tried to be as fair as possible and most Sisters made a big effort to meet and talk with the Rushees. Melanie McVickar, a Pi Beta Phi, expressed her sentiments in this way, "I love meeting all the people, and I've made a lot of good friends, girls who've pledged this sorority or another or not pledged at all." Phi Mu, Cherie Reeves perhaps summed it up best. There are problems, but "you have to go into it with the right kind of attitude." Usually, everyone ends up where she should be, and many think that no matter which sorority is pledged, sororities are an integral part of college life. For the girls who chose to rush, it proved to be an experience they would never forget.

—Maria Stamoulus

For Delta Gamma, 1982-83 was a challenge to see if we would sink or swim. Working against all odds — parties held at The Great Hall and the Dee Gee Express shuttle to the Alumni House — Rush resulted in an impressive addition of 28 pledges. And with 5 more pledges during informal rush in January, the DGs proved that they would, indeed, be swimming for a long time to come. The Fall Pledge Dance was held on October 29th at the Williamsburg Hospitality House, followed the next day by Sigma Chi's Derby Day. Despite the lack of sleep and various other ailments, we made our mark on Derby Day by participating in every event. The Fall was rounded out with our float in the homecoming parade. In addition to campus activities, we served the community and our philanthropy by reading to the local blind citizens, and working on SCS (Special Communications Services) a local radio station for the handicapped. Parties with the fraternities, tasteful wine and cheese parties, and innumerable nights at Paul's kept DG socially active. Our most significant social event, Anchor Splash, serves the campus as well as our philanthropy, and proves that DG is here to stay!

Musical Ice Buckets pits a Delta Gamma and a Kappa Alpha against each other at Derby Day

Delta Sigma Theta

Front Row
Back Row

Derby Day

If there is one thing you count on to be bigger and better every year it was Derby Day. What used to be a one afternoon inter-sorority competition sponsored by Sigma Chi to raise money for their national philanthropy has developed into a weekend long competition sometimes requiring weeks of preparation on the part of the sororities. In the past, participants rarely bothered to practice for events in advance. In recent years, however, the sororities have begun to carefully select their teams and devote afternoons and sometimes evenings to prepare for each event.

Ten sororities which are members of the Panhellenic Council participated in Derby Day in addition to a joint team entered by Zeta Phi Beta and Alpha Kappa Alpha. It was the first year that these two sororities had participated. For most sororities Derby Day was the next major event following formal rush. In late September, ideas began to flow in search of an original fund raiser. This past year, fund raising was separated from the other events. Money raised by each sorority was equally divided between the sorority's philanthropy and Sigma Chi. Tri Delt was awarded a trophy for raising the most money.

(Cont. on p. 176)

Ringleader Sigma Chi Scott Hahn, armed with a bullhorn and an Army helmet, attempts to get Derby Day activities under way.

A cookout for returning students started off the year for Delta Sigma Theta. Plans were begun soon after for the annual Parent's Weekend carnation sale. Later in October, the chapter sponsored a concert by vocalist Nancy Wilson with the Williamsburg Area Graduate chapter. A fall rush party followed. In November the sisters sponsored a SAVA workshop on Assault prevention and a lecture by the Executive Director of NAACP. A program entitled "Career Options and Alternatives to College" was presented to several classes at Lafayette High School by a few sisters. As one of their many service projects, Delta Sigma Theta donated love seats to the Williamsburg Community Hospital. The chapter also hosted the Delta Sigma Theta Internal Development Workshop. "Happy Birthday Mu Upsilon" served as theme for the second semester rush party. Other successful service projects included supporting the Williamsburg Housing Project, sponsoring a blood pressure check at the Williamsburg shopping center and working with the American Cancer Society.

While Sigma Chi's served as coaches for the sororities, such as this coach for Alpha Chi, community figures such as Ronnie, who works at Paul's, served as judges for the Derby Day events.

Derby Day (cont.)

On Saturday October 30th, a perfect Indian summer day, the main competition took place between the sororities on the intramural field. A massive balloon ascension by Kappa Kappa Gamma served as the opening ceremony. The events included zip strip, balloon bust, 3-legged race, sorority revenge and the famous chugging pyramid. Each entering sorority was coached by two Sigma Chi brothers. Serving as judges were faculty, staff, and alumni. Points were distributed to the first, second, and third place winners in each event. The sorority accumulating the most points received a plaque — this year's winner was Pi Beta Phi. Alpha Kappa Alpha was second and Kappa Kappa Gamma was third.

Throughout the day, Derby Day t-shirts were sold, Miller hats given away and thirty-six kegs of beer consumed. As is the tradition, almost everyone was dragged through the mud or drenched with beer before leaving.

The money raised by Sigma Chi in addition to fifty percent of the money raised by the sororities supported Wallace Village, a home for emotionally disturbed children.

(cont. on p. 178)

Gamma Phi Beta

Front Row: Allison Irvin, Cathy Ondis, Alison Kuczo, Cindy Barker, Peggy Moore, Elizabeth Fairweather, Margaret Hoen, Ellen Wente, Debbie Slaughter, Sandy Craig, Donna R. Fischer, Carla A. Linville; Second Row: Barbara Davis, Mia Lewis, Amy Piper, Renee Lamphere, Anne Leigh Henley, Kay-Margaret Crouk, Allison Smith, Kathy Jenkins, Melissa Goutos, Anne Wexbright, Karen Cotta, Chris Gingery, Wendy McKee, Margi Gula, Jan Pickrel, Christine Paradis; Third Row: Linda Symons, Jackie Crimi, Christine Marie Villa, Vicki Martinez, Laura Burrus; Fourth Row: Jennifer Bond, Dana Hooper, Katherine Evans, Ellen Jeffery, Diane Hawley, Sharon Haegle, Wendy Bernath; Back Row: Kathy Powell, Therese Breidenbach, Sally Franklin, Terri Watson, Dorothy Spears, Allison Hawley, Elizabeth Christopher, Monica Finarson, Vicki Edwards, Lee Katman, Carrie Allison

Photos by Rob Smith

Is this an event? One Derby Day participant escapes reality by trying to hide in a trash can.

Gamma Phi got started with 21 pledges. A work day in November, raking leaves and washing windows for the women's athletic department helped us earn money for our national philanthropy, a camp for underprivileged girls in Canada. A PACE (Personal and Chapter Enrichment) program doing facials with a Mary Kaye Cosmetics representative proved to be a fun evening. Other events such as Derby Day, ice cream study breaks, Happy Hours, pledge dance, pledge/active slumber party, Thanksgiving dinner and a Christmas party kept us busy first semester. Initiation and our Chapter's 50th anniversary celebration were the highlights of second semester. Many alumnae, including some of our charter members, attended the reception luncheon held in January. Our chapter was very proud to receive International Gamma Phi Beta Honor Scholarship status for having a chapter GPA of 3.0 last semester. Beach Week at Nags Head capped the year.

A Derby Day spectator patiently watches the activities incognito.

Derby Day (cont.)

The remainder of the money raised by the sororities benefitted the following: The Sunshine Foundation which grants wishes to children who are terminally ill, Project Hope, Adult Skills Program, Bacon Street, Lupus disease sufferers, Shelter programs for battered wives, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and special communications services for the homebound, blind, and deaf. Although requiring much preparation by the sororities and Sigma Chi brothers, especially Chairman Scott Hahn, it was a competition which everyone thoroughly enjoyed.

—Judy Cain

Kappa Alpha

Front Row: Floyd Williams, Jay Squires, Mike Easter, Mike Barnsback, Dirt Davis, Ron Harlow, Matt Gro, Second Row: Kevin Phillips Willie Braodnax, Tim Hamilton, Rob Stravitz, Shaun Prosser, Brad Kemp, Doug Smith, Shack Sepple, Dave Warren, Carlos Ortiz, Third Row: Bob Nichol, Bill Drake, Brett Bricklev, Gary Rudd, Scott Brazil, Oppie Cunningham, Alan Nabors, Fred Baerenz, Phil Bohler, Mark Burman; Fourth Row: Jim Brady, Jeff Kane, Mike Schneider, Adam Frankel, George Scaff, Brett Barrack, Dennis Thacker, David Reynolds, Dan Timberlake, C.M. Green; Back Row: Paul Bushman, Bruce Grant, Todd Canterbury, Basil Belsches, Bobby Hines, Paul Dommel, John Camberlayne, Sam White, Jim Daniels, Felix Fahn, Brian Kretchman, Mike Gattman, Scott Fabre, Melvin Stone, Barry Ota

Rob Guillen

Participating in Sorority Revenge a Phi Delta gets a chance to throw an egg at her coach

The fall semester for KA was characterized by many innovative theme parties and smokers as well as old favorites such as the annual "Peanuts and Ale" smoker. A special attraction at these events this year was Dweazle, a pig from Louisa, Virginia. Following her discovery by Residence Hall Life, the order held a "Last Tango with Dweazle" prior to her disappearance from campus. Rush and the annual pledge-brother beer bash began the second semester activities. Weekly parties included a post-Stray Cats party, "Summer in February" and the annual "Winter Invitational" all in anticipation of the famous Old South Week. The brothers continued to support their philanthropy, muscular dystrophy. In addition to taking MD-stricken kids to Tribe sporting events, the first annual "Ultimate Frisbee Tournament" was held as a fund raiser.

In preparation for the day's events, Derby Day contestants prepare themselves with war paint. Overwhelmed by the excitement of cheering on her team Ginny Cox is supported by her sisters.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Front Row: Michelle Martin, Sharon Burks, Tanya Hyranosky, Heather McDonald, A. Leigh Ashley, Lauralyn Sessoms, Sherrin Schmulling; Second Row: Tracy Glassburn, Karen Lucbs, Betsy Tinsley, Tomi Chaos, Terri Cartwright, Julie Rosche, Melissa Justice, Sally Lewis; Third Row: Liz Larie, Betsey Danbury, Karen Sullivan, Kendra Morgan, Simone Valenti, Beth George, Beth Dodge, Linda Falk; Fourth Row: Mary Anne Wood, Barbara Carpenter, Cindy Edwards, Lauren Cunningham, Kari Roushaw, Beth McGaffey; Fifth Row: Monica McManus, Rhonda Winstead, Kate Luttedi, Sharon Middleton, Mia Amaya, Leanne Pierce; Sixth Row: Joanna Ashworth, Cathy Charney, Krisanti Caruso, Diane McGimpsey, Kathy Hecker, Tina Rasco, Tracy Brownlee, Susan Cain, Mary Ellen Woglom, Helen Chabroni; Back Row: Lisa Kizian, Kathy Finn, Theresa Hon, Tom Pate, Ellen Lewis

Rob Guillen

Kappa Alpha Theta began the year with the news of their third place national award for Outstanding Pledge Programming — a reward for two years of hard work. Thetas also celebrated Acceptance Day with an Oyster Roast with Lambda Chi. The highlights of the fall social season were the pledge dance with “The States,” and the “Fire” band party featuring “The Nerve.” Scholarship was emphasized by scholarship desserts, pledge study sessions, and awards for sisters achieving high grades. Several service projects supported local charities. The popular spaghetti dinners held each semester raised money for Logopedics, Theta’s national philanthropy. Karen Weiler summed up the feeling of many Thetas; “Sisterhood means always having someone there when you need them.”

Pledges

Dear Mom:

I guess you're wondering how I'm getting along in my new sorority. Things are going great. Everyone has told me that being a pledge is one of the best parts of sorority life — and I agree! We do all the fun things, like parties and dances, without the responsibilities of a full-fledged member.

When I joined, I was a little nervous because I didn't know very many girls. But everyone was so friendly and helpful that I started to feel right at home. One night we all went to the Pub together; last week there was an ice cream social after one of our weekly pledge meetings. We've also had special activities with individual sisters to get to know them better.

The sister I feel closest to is my Big Sister, Mary. I didn't get to meet her until the end of clue week, but during that week she certainly kept me busy with all sorts of "fun" activities. I'm glad I didn't have much school work! First, I had to stand in the middle of the Deli and sing all by myself until someone gave me my next clue. Next I went to a fraternity smoker (that's an informal rush party, mom) and kissed all the boys. That was fun! Besides, I met Richard, who escorted me to my pledge dance in November. At the dance, all the pledges wore white and were presented to the Sisters during a band break. Sometime during the night I lost my shoes, but otherwise I miraculously made it home in one piece.

This morning we were "kidnapped" by our Big Sisters at 6:00 am for breakfast. I was so tired because Mary had kept me out until 2:00 am the night before. Apparently that's a tradition, so I didn't mind too much. It was hysterical to see everyone all bleary-eyed and hungover (just some of the people, mom) trying to eat pancakes that early in the morning!

Now we are getting ready for initiation. The sisters are trying to scare us by telling us stories. I don't know whether to believe them or not, but I guess I'll find out soon enough.

One advantage the guys have over us is that they don't have to go through all of this until the spring. Formal rush, pledging and initiation doesn't begin until second semester.

But even though they have an extra semester to get adjusted the guys still have to suffer through a lot of the same stuff as sorority pledges. Richard told me some unbelievable stories about "hell week," when fraternity pledges go through before initiation. Most of the "fun" involves drinking. It's an interesting week!

But you don't need to worry, Mom; everybody manages to make it through this craziness in one piece. As you can see, I love being in a sorority! It's made my freshman year very special and I'm glad I pledged.

By the way, I'm still seeing Richard!

Love,
Elizabeth

Kappa Delta began the year planning rush parties, a retreat at Pocahontas State Park in Richmond and philanthropy projects such as selling bagel breakfasts. Socially Kappa Delta held several theme parties, secret Admirer's parties and Friday afternoon happy hours. Christmas meant cross-stitching other sororities' flowers as gifts to them, an annual Christmas party and caroling get together. Second semester saw initiation and more rush activities and the continuance of traditional projects. These included baking each fraternity a Valentine's Day cake, and selling kandi-grams for St. Patrick's Day to raise money for Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond (KD's national philanthropy) where they also held their annual Easter party. Also, they sponsored a guest speaker for campus and community and attended combined spring retreat and officer training program. A formal dance highlighted each semester. An elaborate Senior banquet brought the year to a close.

In an attempt to reach their new sisters, pledges met with a formidable wall of fraternity men in the traditional run across Richmond Road. Lambda Chi brothers offer a bid to a rushee.

Kappa Delta

Front Row: Suzanne Brown, Jane Evans, Caroline Watkins, Imelda Serrano, Sally L. Cantore, Alisha Mullins, Karen Wilson, Aly Francis, Deb Bucklin. Second Row: Karen Butler, Emily Clark, Leslie Less, Sarah Corneilus. Third Row: Anne Blessing, Sarah Grady, Liz Platt. Fourth Row: Susan Kirby, Mary Kay Gorman, Donna Becker, Susan Haddley, Candace Carlisle, Debbi Nelson. Fifth Row: Vanessa Griffith, Tracy Wolfe. Sixth Row: Kit Watkins, Sheila Merrey, Laura Francis, Jill Acree, Helen Palmer, Kattie Hess, Vanessa Lynch, Liz Ute, Jobi Cam, Jane Anderson, Mary Akort, Susa O'Grady, Nancy Nuckley, Patti Sanders, Eileen Schmitt, Amy Williams, Lisa A. Miller, Jennifer L. Williams, Lisa Grady.

Smokers

rat parties. Rush parties. Smokers. Organized mania. Call it what you will, the common elements are always there. Lots of rowdy brothers, hopeful freshman men, hopeful freshman women, loud music, and lots of beer combined to produce that unmistakable result found only on college campuses. But due to the actions of our conservative state legislature, one of these ingredients may be missing next year. Somehow things just wouldn't be the same. And perhaps it's worth a moment of consideration. Just what would happen to smokers in the first year of the draught?

A tour of the frat houses should give a good idea of what's happening. Enter fraternity A, and things are really jumping. Skip Castro's "Boogie at Midnight" is blasting away while men and women energetically twist and thrust their way through line dances. No problem with partying here — it seems that everyone is holding up well, in spite of the prohibition measures. When asked if the beer was sorely missed, one of the less sedate dancers responded, "No! I never drink at smokers. You can't do these cool hand movements when you're holding a beer."

Heading toward fraternity B, music of a different sort, but of equal volume, some dancing to Rondstad's "Mad Love," and others refilling their cups with . . . wait. Could it be beer? A closer inspection of the much sought beverage reveals the surprise truth: couples are crowding the table to fill up the cups with punch! "Would you care for some?" inquires a youthful-looking brother. The disappointment is almost too much to handle. "This new drinking law is really harsh," I managed to reply. "Well," confided the brother, "I'm kind of glad they raised the drinking age. Beer used to make me really giddy."

Anxious to move on, I run in near desperation toward fraternity C. The lack of light and the abundance of sound inside forces newcomers to adjust slowly before entering. Eyes and ears soon adjust, and take in three guys slumped against the wall, a girl laughing uncon-

(cont. on p. 186)

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Front Row: Anne Kampstra, Patricia Trimler, Anne Golsen, Catherine Dehoney; Second Row: Becky Rogers, Linda Cottle, Diane Williams, Anne Quynn, Barbara Buzzell, Cindy Radcliffe, Meg Hunter, Desiree Dimauo; Third Row: Karen Kolecki, Alison Dwier, Mary Lou Hundley, Karen Simmons, Donna Dixon, Michelle Albert; Fourth Row: Debbie Fetterman, Susan Frier, Mar-gee Mulliall, Susan Peterson; Fifth Row: Jenny Holt, Betsy Pendleton, Tracy Wright, Mendy Riggie; Sixth Row: Tracey Marblestone, Hope Solomon, Dena Barnes, Sue Valinski; Seventh Row: Sheila McDonnell, Cheryl Long, Pam Pearsall, Jody Norris, Kay Gross, Lee Ann Robinson, Amy Marcos; Eighth Row: Lily Armstead, Mary Kach, Lydia Pulley, Laura Groom, Kris Wagner, Leslie Lautenslager, Debbie Zanfagna; Back Row: Melame Petpet, Debbie Garrett, Heidi Rheinsperger, Lisa Hylton, Anne St. Clair, Cathy Walsh, Suzanne Sweetey

Kappas started the year by welcoming thirty pledges and quickly introducing them to sorority life on Derby Day. After a fun-filled "Peanuts Week" the Fall Pledge Dance was held at the Lodge. At Homecoming, Kappa captured 4th place in the sorority float division. They also sponsored the "Best of Rush" as a panhellenic gesture and to show pledges and alums the favorite skits of each sorority. At Halloween, the pledges went "pumpkin caroling" and delivered a pumpkin carved with the letters of each house. Kappa's goal this year was CARE (Community Action and Responsibility). At Derby Day, Kappa sent 2000 blue and white balloons skyward, in an effort to raise money not only for the Sigma Chis, but also for the Adult Skills Program. Kappa also held its traditional workday with Lambda Chi to raise money for the Williamsburg Women's Center. At the 1982 National Convention, the W&M Chapter received an Honorable Mention for their Cultural Activities. In February of 1982, Kappa hosted several national officers, including the national president, Sally Nitschke, at their annual Celebration of Sisterhood Banquet. When the newly-renovated house was rededicated a tree planting marked the occasion. As the year came to a close, the sisters saluted the seniors with a banquet, skits and reading of senior wills at the Hospitality House. After finals, Kappa headed for the beach.

At Pi Lam's invitational smoker in January, traditionally more tense than the fall smokers, two brothers attempt small talk with rushees.

"Hello, My name is . . ." Following the procedures of the smokers, two rushees sign in.

Smokers (cont)

trollably, and various other bodies strewn about the furniture. Could this be? It looks like a regulation smoker, complete with kegs and normal smoker behavior. In disbelief, I turn to the girl writing nametags. But she had nothing but a helpless shrug in answer to my questions. Finally she ventured more of a comment. "Well," she said quietly, "we decided to continue with Rush as its always been. Kegs are on the third floor. To the Right." Apparently where there's a will . . .

Surprisingly, the new law has proved less of a hindrance than anticipated. Each frat has pulled through the time of change in

(cont. on p. 187)

Kappa Sigma

Front Row: Jeff Sanders, Graeme Miller, Stuart Deaton, Marc Taylor, Al Lucas, Eddy Robinson, Mark Linaugh; Second Row: Tudd Suttlemeyer, Mitch Slowdowicz, Deno Campbell, Reggie Hodges, Doug Massev; Third Row: John Nettles, Scott Capon, Marle Krauthelm, Peter Thighes, Jeffrey Metleff, Ronnie Moore, Chris Attcamp, John Griggs, Andrew, Rick Jones; Fourth Row: Robert Munden, John Fleming, Lee Glenn, Chris Hugel, John Metrovic, Dave Murphy; Fifth Row: Ray Bisczat, Jimmys Connors, Mike Tonhey, Sam Murgan, Steve Zeah, Kurt Wrigley, Jeff Wolf, Mike Murph, Tim Moell, Doug DeGarde, John Lisella; Back Row: Jerome Waters, Lee Qualls, Steve Schaffter, Doug Dix, Tommie Moore, VJ. Classis

Theta Delta Chi President Tyler Leinbach (left) makes it a point to get to know as many rushees as possible.

---

its own unique style. But perhaps I speak too soon. On the way to frat D, something seems strange. Getting closer, the problem is more obvious. The place is deadly quiet. Peering inside reveals a floor covered with pale young men — all withdrawal victims, suffering from the recent Beer Coup. Sweat pours from their foreheads, onto shaking limbs. Frat D has chosen the hard way: cold turkey.

But whatever the method of coping with new laws, be it acceptance or daring resistance, each of the frats had come to the end of an era.

— Gail Bechly

Tradition once again played a significant role in the life of Kappa Sigs. They continued their well-known appearances at Tribe basketball; dressed in white and leading the familiar cheer. The annual homecoming party, the Barnyard smoker and, of course, Casino Night were among main social events of their social calendar. Another tradition, the John Kratzer Memorial Raffle, was held in conjunction with the American Cancer Society. Many brothers participated in the Big Brother program while others helped out at the Superdance for Muscular Dystrophy. The fraternity was also a competitive participant in intramural sports.

her Saturday

all dressed up w

to go. Most people at Williamsburg is strictly daytime, town that rolls up its sidewalks, bricks and all, at 11 p.m. But look carefully, there is indeed evening entertainment to be had in Williamsburg. Although rather limited and often accessible only by car, it's

Where to go to take a much needed break from the mental calisthenics of academia and the monotony of the all-too-familiar campus surroundings? There was always the bars or the delis, but one had to search for something less mundane.

Gambols at Chownings was always a good place to rub elbows with the tourists (literally). Strategically placed in the middle of Colonial Williamsburg, the tavern provided peanuts, ale, bawdy songs and a pleasant, though subdued, atmosphere. But after several pitchers of ale and perhaps a peanut shell war, on a round of The Royal Game of the Goose, things dis-

Adams at the Ramada Inn East is another popular nightspot. Its clientele were of all ages, from middle-aged tourists

(and over only, please) and the Ramada Inn East is an easy walk from campus were... its rather tranquil... specialties as "Friday Night Essay," "Rodeo Night," and "Ladies Night" were added attractions. As head cocktail waitress Nancy Hawthorne remarked, "It's like everyone is having his own party." To those who surmounted the problems, however, Adams was a place to dance, play backgammon or video games, and chat.

Second Street was one of the newer additions to 'burg nightlife. Tiffany lamps and a raised, intimate bar area, peanuts and a relatively younger crowd made Second Street a more casual, almost rustic p.m. retreat. It instantly became a popular hang-out at happy hour, as many college students were eager to try out a new place. With menus for breakfast, lunch and dinner, as well as the late evening fare, Second Street was

FEATURE

Entertainment

Bob Laverty enjoys an evening with friends at Adams on a Friday. Peter Turner, Lisa Haverty, and Film Series Director Steve Gerard prepare for a Friday night showing at W&M Hall.

Entertainment (cont'd)

certainly what waiter Phil McMillian termed as "versatile."

Even newer than Second Street was the Beekeeper Restaurant. In an English pub setting were pool tournaments, dart matches and plenty of ale. Live music ranged from jazz to country western to rock, offering a good variety for dancers.

And among the new arrivals, old favorites such as the Greenleaf and, continued on p. 19c

Rick Coleman, senior from Camp Springs, Maryland, performs at Jazz Night at the S.A.-sponsored Change of Pace Coffee House.

---

Entertainment (cont'd)

---

Stacey Bice, a senior Phi Mu, really likes to show her mother the town on Parent's Weekend. Here they enjoy a drink at Adam's. Ronnie of Paul's Deli, takes an order from Mitch Martin and John Morton. Popular in the Campus Center TV lounge is MTV, the music video channel (what ever happened to Blondie videos, anyway?).

as always the delies had their devotees. The dim, smoky "Leafe," with stained glass and hanging plants, was an artsy, slightly Bohemian place to shoot the breeze and people watch. And the delies remained crowded, noisy and strictly collegiate. It was nice to know that, no matter what the latest academic headache, these favorite night spots and their diversions were always waiting.

—Jay Alfred

ROSE

Greek Interrelations

Coming in on the heels of last year's fraternity difficulties which ended in the dissolution of several frats, this year's IFC/Panhel staffs have pushed extra hard to establish unity among all Greeks. Building on the long-standing friendly relations between Greeks, each sorority and fraternity, shared all sorts of activities from philanthropies to philandering, from the serious to the utterly silly.

Theta Delt and Pi Phi joined forces for a water slide party, and an even larger group gathered when Theta Delt, Kappa Alpha, Phi Mu and Tri-Delt planned a roller skating party. Certain traditional fall events also continued. Prominent among these were the Theta oyster roast with Lambda Chi, Kappa's pumpkin exchange with the other soror-

(cont. on p. 197)

Lambda Chi increased inter-greek communications and, at the same time, raised money for their national philanthropy by organizing a workday with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Social events of the year included a Christmas smoker and a pig roast. A fall and spring formal and a crab feast/saga, during which 15 kegs were consumed, highlighted the year.

At a Pika-Chi O "Punk vs. Prep" party there seem to be more punks than preps. Chuck Murray and friends punk out.

Photos by Rodney Willett

Lambda Chi Alpha

Front Row: Dave Nelms, Chris Robertson, Bill Campbell, Butch Huber, Joe Lucas, Rob Mills, Steve Keeler. Second Row: Ted Kelliher, Pete Neves, Bill Grossman, Greg Adams, John Cannon, Hanit Moledna, Greg Miller, Jim Roberts, Bill Scott, Joe Matteo. Third Row: Joe Lenczewicz, Tom Miles, Jeff Bishop, Milt Johnston, John Farrell, Randy King, Noah Levine, Janne Williams, Jeff Fischer, Greg LoCasale, Dave McDowell, D.C. Aiken, Rolf Williams, Matt Ryan. Fourth Row: Keith DeLong, John Bessler, Josh Slocum, Bob Goebelbecker, Kevin Bevers, Scott McCrae, Dan Zebrowski, Paul Kuhnelt, Anthony Jones, Todd Almeida. Back Row: Dave Ramey, Martine McClanen, Mike McManus, Ed Oakes, Steve K... (text is partially obscured and difficult to read in some places).

Members from Alpha Kappa Alpha Michelle Morrow and Zeta Phi Beta Leslie Whitemon combined their efforts during Derby Day.

The concept of diversity made Phi Mu difficult to stereotype. Phi Mu's could be found enjoying an aerobic workout with adolescents from Eastern State, trick-or-treating for Project Hope, sponsoring a child living in South America, running for the Women's Athletic Association, tutoring in the Adult Skills Service, and numerous other activities. Parties, pledge dances and retreats, as well as participation in campus-wide events filled calendars already booked with individual commitments. It was the unity of purpose of its members that bound particular women together under the name of Phi Mu.

Greek Interrelations (cont.)

ities, and the traditional Halloween blow-out at the fraternities. This last event was particularly successful, drawing large numbers of Greeks and non-Greeks. Greek inter-relations were obviously good as KA's dressed up as Kappa Sigs, and other frat men wandered freely from house to house.

Two beer-centered social events attempted to bring more Greeks together in a relaxed social setting. IFC sponsored several pre-pub parties, but as Dabney Carr noted "few people ever came . . . there was always plenty of beer."

Sororities also got into the act, sponsoring two immensely successful keg parties in Sorority Court. Judy Cain remarked that "these parties were a good opportunity to get to know your Greek sisters in a relaxed atmosphere. Everyone enjoyed it."

Partying was not the only aim of Greeks' combined efforts. A wide selection of philanthropies were sponsored jointly by fraternities and sororities. The Women of Panhel poured time and energy into campus blood drives and the Jefferson fire recovery. Alpha
(cont. on p. 198)

Phi Mu

Front Row: Marsha Youngblood, Kerrie Thomas, Kathy Fowler, Judy Cortello, Debbie Taylor, Cherie Reeves. Second Row: Emily Early, Gigi Echalar, Mary Boxes, Marie Montalto, Joanne Atlee. Third Row: Laura Walker, Tricia Champagne, Julie Kirkendall, Elizabeth Cabell, Laurie Thornton. Fourth Row: Mary Willis Jones, Vicki Caudev, Jennifer Sills, Johanna Richards, Meg Hammes, Christy Hagar, Katie Hoffman, Terry Hall, Mary Parke Spallus, Paula Lavesque, Gretchen Hines, Lynn Fitzgerald, Donna Duke, Vicki Quick, Diane Wallace, Allison Vanhook, Stephanie Krause. Fifth Row: Christie Belt, Cindy Duck, Anne Lum, Tracy Kerr, Jill Sanner, Maria Brophy, Katla Bever, Anita Cross, Janet Gamson, Debbie Norris, Loren Brown, Dana Enslow, Laura Hopkins, Fran Weaver, Liz Hutcheson, Loui Pickinpaugh, Kim Haynes, Marie Zwisch, Joy Davis, Amy Wendt, Mary Helen Johnson, Wendy Thomas. Sixth Row: Nada Maalouf, Pam Hudson, Trish West, Steffie Morean, Jennifer Lewis, Joy Hague, Margaret McCovern, Susan Benefield, Cynthia Perkins, Joan Folzenlogen. Back Row: Ann Bullock, Caroline Muller, Kathy Bruce, Debbie Frey, Donna Porter, Julie Irvine.

Greek Interrelations (cont.)

---

Chi Omega and Sig Ep combined efforts in an Easter egg hunt to benefit the charity of their choice. These philanthropic and social events were publicized and circulated by way of a Panhel/IFC newsletter. The letter was yet another indication of the varied interests that Greeks held in common, and the strong common ties which bound them together.

Perhaps one of the best known and most cherished ties between fraternity and sorority life were those made by little sisters and little brothers. Sororities enlisted the help of their chosen "little brothers" whenever men were needed around the house. The most important function of little brothers was often that of remaining available to escort sorority sisters to dances and other functions. The "little sister" of fraternities performed similar duties, helping with smokers and rush parties, and being available when female opinions or attendance was needed.

Clearly, fraternities and sororities formed a cohesive working and playing body at the college. Having pledged allegiance to the Greek system they strove to be true brothers and sisters.

— Exeter Stay

Pi Phi sisters feel that this was a productive and successful year. After a fantastic rush, the sorority began working towards its goals of strengthening alumni relations and reaffirming friendships and sisterhood within the chapter through social and philanthropic activities. Pi Phi received the Panhel scholarship award for the highest overall GPA of all sororities on campus. For the second year in a row, a Pi Phi, Mary Lloyd Sinnott, reigned as homecoming queen. Another sister, Kathy Filipone was among her court attendants. Pi Phis also claimed the Derby Day championship and were honored nationally for their Heritage Program. Social activities included the annual pledge dance, a pre-New Year's Eve party, a Pow Wow at Matoaka and Halloween party.

Free beer at one of the many frat-sponsored parties attracts fellow Greeks as well as many non-Greeks.

Front Row: Jeanne Corbett, Stephanie Benson, Mary Evans, Sherri Sell, Beth Mettler; Second Row: Dru Mears, Kim Crave, Lisa Iannucci, Donna Desmarais, Carol Doub, Leslie Striegl, Mary Lloyd Simot, Third Row: Annie Kirk, Julie O'Neill, Julie Beringer, Becky Russell, Val Anderson, Laura Gilbert, Fourth Row: Demetra Yeapanis, Renee Ward, Mitzi Smith, Nancy Cote, Susan Davis, Alison Sellin, Priscilla Hancock, Back Row: Suzie Musitano, Kim Eckert, Mary Kosko, Julie Wallace, Debbie Packman, Mason Slaughter, Mikki Hubbard, Diane Lum, Paige Edeburn, Shannon Berry, Heather Grant, Margaret Farmer, Kelly Hoffman, Kathy Woodcock, Margie Krebs, Joy McGrath, Sandy Pastrik, Beth Meinick, Judy Keenan, Janice Harrup, Peggy Corallo, Shelley Raby, Holly Brown, Betsy Powell, Carol Pomponio, Nancy Kraft, Eric, Ericson, Chandri Navarro, Betsy Bingham.

Life in the house

Living in the house, whether fraternity or sorority, was often an escape from dorm life. The domestic, homey feeling in the sorority houses contrasted dramatically with the "zoo" image of a frat house. Perhaps this was because the sorority houses were actual houses with wooden floors and solid walls; the fraternity houses were modern, prefabricated, and rather dingy. But in spite of these differences, Greeks chose house life for many reasons: to get to know other sisters or brothers, to be closer to sorority or fraternity activities, to get the feeling of living in a real home, or to be immersed in Greek activities.

Living in the hub of activity had both its good and bad points. While sororities provided a "nice surrounding with a small group of people," As Vickie Caldwell noted, one was constantly in the midst of sorority functions and was never able to sneak out of them. Not only intrasorority but intersorority life had two sides to consider. While being able to see friends more often, especially those who lived in nearby houses, was a good point, sisters also had to contend with wild sorority court parties that blared on into the wee hours, or with porch routines which were rehearsed at ridiculously early hours. Over at the fraternity houses, this was an even more serious problem. With the frat houses located so close together, noise from different smokers, parties, and dances went in all directions and affected every-

(Cont. on p. 203)

Pi Kappa Alpha

Front Row: Mike Clauser, Rodney Willett, Alan Doggett, Rob Guillen, Dave Redmond, Rob Haislip, Tom Simpson, Bill Hayes, Steve Hall, Pete Gordon; Second Row: Scott Ukrop, John Boyd, Rob Weissman, Steve Dennis, Scott Slatterev, Bob Haas, Mark Gariepy, Bruce Phillips, George Foreman, Kerke Johnson, Tome Meyers, Brad Angevine, Dan Head, John Monson, Pete Tanullo, Kirk Payne; Third Row: Ron Hawke, Dave Brand, J. D. Neary, Serge Kowaleski, Ron Clarke, John Golwen, Dave Bass, John Donnelly, Sterling Ransome, Dan Jordanger, Mike Gur, Ted Fauls, Bill Garvey, Mark Clauser; Fourth Row: Matt Liles, Greg Gallaway, Henry Plaster, Bart Edmonds, Mark Goodson, Ian Williams, Skie Rowland, Rich Holme, John Harman, Ray Hogge, Doug Neill, Bob Geitens, Kevin McGettigan, Chris Craig, Mike Dingman, Robbey Laney; Back Row: David Stone, Chris Sell, Chuck Murray, Greg Crump, John Bridgforth, Pat Ryan, Mike Henderson

An advantage to living in the house is the convenience of treats such as spiked watermelon. Pika's Bob Gerenser, Skip Rowland, Chuck Murray, and Rob Haislip partake.

Smokers complete with gatoring began the semester for Pika brothers. Although the meal club turned into the Garnet and Gold Dinner Club, it still continued to chuck out the eats. The Brothers-Pledge Beer Bash was another chance to celebrate and lose a few clothes in the process. Several Midnight Madness parties, Homecoming Dance and the Sweetheart Dance were more additions to the social calendar. The annual Pike Bike Marathon for Muscular Dystrophy gave the Pikas a chance to show their philanthropic side and the Sweetheart Dance finished the spring semester.

In a spontaneous show of brotherhood, Kappa Alpha's Scott Brazil, Matt Cro, Scott Labri, Carlos Ortiz, Robert Stravitz, and Dwight Davis synchronize their steps in the house lobby.

Pi Lambda Phi

Front Row: Winston Hurst, David Kynhart, Mark Tucker, Steve Clinton, Phil Wiggins, Danny Usher, Robert Bradshaw, Bruce Masterson.
Second Row: Tommy Barham, Chuck Roland, Kevin Doyle, Greg Hillbary, Tom Jensen, Alex Murlford, Trey Resoline.
Third Row: David Dowler, Kevin Coughlin.
Fourth Row: Randy Perkins, Mark Williams, David Rowley, Mike Gregor, Bill Salas, Tom Tierney, Al Hamman, Rod McKinn, Andy Feldman, Jim Back Row: [unreadable]

Life in the house (cont'd)

one. According to Mike wood, "the library was often a welcome refuge from the Frat Complex chaos." Temptations to avoid studying were much more immediate and almost impossible to resist.

The good points somehow must have outweighed the bad, for living in the house was still considered somewhat of a luxury. Many houses continued to run lotteries for desired rooms, because applicants were so numerous. Perhaps it was the constant T.V. viewing or the ever-present popcorn or the perpetual keg. Whatever the reason, the house was an option that remained a popular alternative to the dormitory.

— Dabney Carr

After celebrating homecoming with the annual band party, Pi Lambda Phi held other traditional events such as the Blow-Out on the last day of classes each semester. After concluding rush with a gain of twenty-five new members, the chapter held a wine and cheese party. In addition the chapter held a regional conclave in Williamsburg, a convention of all the chapters on the East Coast. Throughout the year, the chapter was once again strong contenders for the intramurals All Points Trophy. The Sweetheart Dance in April wrapped up the year with a bang.

Sigma Nu brothers Gary Beeley and Sean Kavanaugh share the chore of cleaning up after the fraternity's spaghetti dinner.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded on March 9, 1956 at the University of Alabama. Since that time, it has grown to be the nation's largest fraternity with over 187,000 initiates. As well as being the first fraternity to have a national headquarters, they also established various other services, such as the National Leadership School, the Summer Intern Program, and the Annual National Amateur Golf Championship. Alumni include President McKinley, author William Faulkner, actor Robert Young, and Virginia Kappa's own Governor John Dalton and Lt. Governor Dick Davis. The Virginia Kappa chapter was founded at the College on December 12, 1857, thus making it the sixth oldest chapter. The chapter's charter was withdrawn in 1977, but it has been reinstated thanks to the efforts of local alumni. With eight "reconstruction brothers leading the way, Sigma Alpha Epsilon once again began to establish itself on the college campus. Its social schedule was filled with various parties with sororities, a Founders' Day celebration, alumni receptions, a successful spring rush, and a formal held with the Sigma Alpha Epsilons at George Washington University. The foundations for numerous service projects were laid, including the annual Tug-of-War for Easter Seals. Though small in comparison to the other fraternities, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon brothers are an enthusiastic, active, and ambitious group.

The Changing of the Greeks

Fraternities and sororities have been on campus for years, ever since Theta Delta Chi came to William and Mary in 1853. And for years, they have performed basically the same function: providing a social outlet for students and serving philanthropies. So what's new in the Greek system?

For the sororities, a major modification came last year with the addition of Delta Gamma. After Panhel cuts reached an all-time high in 1980, Dean Ken Smith and the Panhellenic Council interviewed national sororities interested in establishing a William and Mary chapter. Delta Gamma was selected in the spring of 1981. Following formal rush the next fall, DG representatives and alumni from other schools held an informal rush. Interested girls went through numerous interviews to make certain they could handle the complicated job of beginning a new sisterhood. After a successful formal rush, DG was well under way. The sorority was now officially recognized by the College and will be living in the Bozarth House on Richmond Road beginning Fall 1983. The number of Panhel cuts was drastically reduced this year, largely due to the addition of Delta Gamma.

Changes in the Greek system also included improved rush procedures. For the first time, women had to apply to be rush counselors, then were encouraged to take a more active role in counseling rushees. Rushees were required to have a minimum 2.0 GPA and were generally encouraged to be more well informed, less mystified by the pledging process. There was also an attempt to increase unity with the IFC.

(cont. on p. 207)

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Front Row: Allen Taylor, Bill Clinton, Second Row: Todd Norris, Todd Armstrong, Third Row: Steve Simoneaux, Greg Paddock, George Cruser, Back Row: Bob Dutton, Dan Barnett

Founded only last year Delta Gamma established themselves firmly among the older sororities. However, without a house as a formal meeting place, DG's often resort to impromptu meetings around campus.

The traditional freshman reception kicked off the year for Sigma Chi. The Boat Party, a moonlight cruise down the James River, followed in October. Other social events of the year included the Heaven and Hell party, the traditional Kamakaze party and the Insane Asylum party. The fraternity house also set the scene for a new wave dance club (a' la New York City), early in the second semester. The SweetHeart dance held at the Williamsburg Lodge wrapped up the year. Derby Day activities, supported by Greeks across campus, for Sigma Chi's national philanthropy, the Wallace Village Home for emotionally disturbed children. Chapter members were also active in many community service projects. They worked with the S.P.C.A., visited Pines Nursing Home, volunteered in the Jefferson Fire Salvage efforts, sponsored a child in the Christian Relief Fund, and organized a Christmas party for underprivileged kids in the Williamsburg area. In one of their strongest fund raising efforts of the year, Sigma Chi participation in the Superdance raised the most money from any single group or organization. And as final proof of a successful year, the fraternity gained twenty-three pledges during rush.

Changes (cont.)

For the fraternities, improved relations among themselves were a principal goal. The dismissal of Sigma Pi and Phi Tau culminated the fraternities' problems last year. Antagonism between frats and mistrust of the administration contributed to the discord. The introduction of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Psi Upsilon were part of an attempt to overcome some of the problems of the past. Inter-Fraternity Council President, Tom Trott, commented that there were enough interested men who did not join one of the established fraternities to justify beginning two more. Furthermore, because Tau Kappa Epsilon achieved only limited growth and was never able to obtain a charter, it will no longer be recognized by the College. Sigma Nu, in a rebuilding stage, will be located in Moncure House as of Fall, 1983.

Both Panhel and the IFC took stronger governmental roles. The IFC sponsored several special events including a Senior Dance, Clean-Up Day, a Halloween Party, and Pre-Pub Happy Hours, which promoted mixing among the frats. Both groups planned many mutual social functions and worked to enhance Greek life and make it a benefit to the college.

—Lucinda Snyder

Sigma Chi

Front Row: Phil Davis, Alex Cochran, Dave Varner, Rob Cobal, John Fitzpatrick, John Byram, Dwayne Jackson, Terix Blackwood, Second Row: Ted Decker, Per Pflughrath, Vince Sigmorelli, Jeff Campbell, Ed Grissom, Third Row: Don Robbins, Mike Arnold, Jay S., Tim E. White, Don Owen, Dave Webster, Tom Lee, Matt Clark, Jeff Nelson, Back Row: John Orasco, Gary Fungoli, Liz Goode, Steve Stender, Debbie Norton, Eric West, Terry Kowitz, Bill Shank, Steve Bese, Bill Durdridge, Scott Gilbert, Scott Hall, Dick Ness, Chris Poms

Pledge dances: one woman's perspective

At the thought of pledge dances you envision coeds in long gowns, sparkling at their debut, and frat men looking sharp in their suits and ties as they dance together to soft music until the wee hours of a moonlit autumn night, then you are most definitely living in the wrong era. Haven't you heard of hotel room raffles? You should return to the 1950's and stay there. For those of us who live in the 1980's know better. Dances are just an excuse to have at least one date per semester, even if you have to do the asking. And if you're lucky perhaps you can con your date into splurging on dinner or maybe drinks before the dance.

Listening for four hours to plastic music by polyester musicians is enough to send anyone to Eastern State. Dancing and drinking are the only recourse. In fact it's better to go ahead and have a few Bloodies while preparing for the dance, just to relax. To avoid the strained scene when your date arrives with flowers and brown bag in hand, tell him ahead of time you are allergic to flowers but could use more booze. To avoid the roving photographer who always seems to appear at the wrong time yell something rather terrible at your date when he comes into your vicinity; the photographer won't dare stop. If your date is the quiet type who won't speak until he's soused, sit next to the speakers; you couldn't hear him if he had a fog horn, and once he's drunk you won't want to hear him anyway.

Under the leadership of seniors Scott Durkin, Duk Han Kim, Dan McCoy, Ray Sierralta and Commander Tom Murphy, Sigma Nu took major steps in rebuilding the chapter. A major accomplishment was approval of college housing for the fraternity; Sigma Nu will be housed in the Moncure House next fall. The new house represents a significant break from traditional fraternity housing and should prove to be worthwhile to Sigma Nu and the entire fraternity system. On the social front, Sigma Nu offered several unique theme smokers as an alternative to more commonplace events; the most notable are the Blues Smoker and the Adam and Eve smoker. Another addition this year was our first group of little sisters, who helped plan several events, high-lighted by a pre-Christmas spaghetti dinner. Activities in the spring and planned for 1983 included our annual trip to national headquarters in Lexington, a White Rose formal with the Sigma Nu chapter of ODU and an "open house" party.

The dances, however, could be loads of fun. For example, it's two weeks before the big night, a respectable time to start looking for a date. An alert signal has already gone out to all eligible males in the area and they have mysteriously gone to Swem for the next two weeks to study for an anthro exam. Don't fret. Next consult your handy Campus Directory, Green and Gold or Colonial Echo (they are good for something after all!). Pick a face, any face, then go for it. All the young man can do is humiliate you by saying "No."

But, don't worry yet. Time to make good use of your campus telephone; dial a number. If you like the voice that answers ask him; if you don't, ask for his roommate. Don't concern yourself, the dance will be fun, if disco and polyester is your idea of a good time. By the end of the dance you will have lost your shoes, your date will have lost his jacket and probably his cookies too. It's only then that you realize that the theme for this dance is "Boogie 'til you Puke" and, after hearing "Celebration" for the seventh time, you will.

— D.K. Shoes

Sigmua Nu

Front Row: Jeff Hatter, Tom Murphy. Second Row: Janie Kater, Joyce Terhune, Joey DeLosAngeles, Amy Stronger. Third Row: Sean Kavanaugh, Al Davis, Benji Churn, Bill Han Kim, Gary Beelen, Dan McCoy, Greg Faragasso, Fran Bennett, Al Simeone. Back Row: Sandy DeSilvia, Eric Van derwalde, Ann Berta, Sven Schloesse, Chris S. Lewis, Steve Durkin, Trey Harris, Trip Davis, Bob Larden, Ted Lew, Leigh Crummer, Debbie Perry, Dave Oble, Art V. Yac...

Philanthropies

Philanthropy. Sounds Greek. What is it? Webster contends that philanthropy is "love of mankind shown by practical kindness and helpfulness to humanity." So you still don't know what it is. Well, to put it simply, philanthropies are the various service projects that sororities and fraternities support.

Philanthropies ranged from local projects such as the Williamsburg Tutorial Service (WATS) to national organizations such as the National Cancer Society. Each fraternal chapter on campus supported a philanthropy established by its national organization. In addition, each sorority and fraternity actively supported a service within the community. The emphasis placed on philanthropies varied from chapter to chapter. Involvement ranged from fraternities who sponsor one annual fund-raiser to groups that provided continual financial support and publicity throughout the year.

All of this lead to an interesting question? Why did philanthropies exist? The Phi Mu creed offered a partial explanation. In this pledge, sisters promised: "To lend to those less fortunate a helping hand." Philanthropies added the much needed dimension of social service to the otherwise largely social function of the Greek system. And in addition to helping others, service projects tended to strengthen the brother and sisterhoods by encouraging group participation.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

First Row: Dave Grolman, Frank Maver, Rich Walker, Andy Mangels, Dana Gibboney, Jeff Bridges, Conrad Clemson, Bud Erickson, Ed Scherer, Tom Weidner, Andy Lake, Kevin Lake; Back Row: Julie Scott, Ginnie Fitzgerald, Mary Bateman, Julie Bubon, Melanie Williams, Al Ruenes, Cave Schon, Brian Sciroer, Mark Butler, Tom Trutt, Mike Callerky, Jim Morrison, Vince Gabson, Scott Andregg, R.P. Woodward, Jeff Hatrell, Jeff Sablo, Tracy Melton, John Ard, Steve Flynn, Mike McConaugh, Duck Gibson

At one of Zeta Phi Beta's dances, Monica Perry helps raise money for their philanthropy and has a good time besides.

One of the most well publicized and widely recognized service projects on campus was Sigma Chi's Derby Day. It was also the most popular college fundraiser for national philanthropies, drawing Greek supporters from across campus. The substantial profits from Derby Day supported Wallace Village, a home for emotionally disturbed children. But Wallace Village was not the only philanthropy supported by Sigma

Chi. In addition, the brothers of Sigma Chi volunteered for the local S.P.C.A. Service projects of other campus fraternities included contributing to the American Heart Association and supporting the Jerry Lewis telethon for Muscular Dystrophy. Sigma Phi Epsilon supported both of these with profits earned from sweetheart calendar sales and regular happy hours. Theta Delta Chi supported numerous projects and organizations including UNICEF, the United Way and the Children's ward at Eastern State Mental Hospital. Sigma Nu was involved with fund raisers for Eastern State. Kappa Sigma held an annual raffle in memory of John

(Cont. on p. 212)

Once again Sig Ep was the sight of many parties. The year's highlights included the freshman reception, the annual Viking Party and several live band parties. Aside from social events, the chapter was an active participant in intramural sports. Fundraising events including the production and sale of William and Mary Sweetheart/Sports calendar and occasional happy hours raised money for their national philanthropy, the American Heart Association.

Philanthropies (cont'd)

Kratzen, and sent proceeds to the American Cancer Society. David Bisese, a Sigma Chi, summed up the situation of philanthropies with his statement that, "Social service can only be as good as the individual brother's interest in it."

As for the sororities, there were as many varied activities and philanthropies as there were types of sorority women. Zeta Phi Beta supported the Stork Nest, an organization for improved birth and child care, and the American Council on Human Rights and Adult Education in the U.S. Zeta Phi Beta was representative of black sororities on campus which emphasize service projects. Chi Omega sisters were service oriented as well, helping out at many big brother and big sister functions. Delta Gammas read to local blind citizens, and worked with the physically handicapped. Pi Beta Phi trick-or-treated at Halloween for Unicef and held an "Angel Auction" to raise funds for Appalachian Mt. people. The Sunshine Foundation was strongly supported by the sisters of Tri Delt. Kappa Delta maintained a traditional philanthropy in their support of the Childrens Hospital in Richmond. Last year child abuse was also adopted as a national philanthropy according to President Sally Locantore, "Philanthropies tended to encourage unity within the chapter. It is a common goal among girls with varied interest."

Theta Delta Chi

Front Row: Jay Mummick, Travis Gray, Paul Libassi, Val Stiffler, Mike Powell, Mike Shuler, Joe Clavtor, Roger Morse, Chris Meagle, Norm Hackett, Bill Joyner, Second Row: Jeff Fish, Jeremy Worst, Mark Forde, Jeff Mosher, Tom Brooks, Pete Feire, Jeff McQuilken, Andy Seward, Howie Horowitz, Greg Wagner, Third Row: Charley Terry, Matt Dowdy, Greg Park, Mike Zwickbauer, Jim Chappell, Steve Silverberg, Chris Jones, Mike Lorch, Tom Erdman, Back Row: Jim Louick, John Schisa, George Kurisky, Tyler Feinbach, Terry Martin, Alan Ashworth, Mike Fetters, Mark Romness, Dave Zuber, Ned Montoe, Jim Lovgren, Art Thordike, Howie McCallies

---

Usually the sororities and fraternities manage to squeeze some fun into their service and fund raising projects. Generally, the more creativity that was involved, in these projects, the better. Alpha Chi was a good example. Sisters sponsored a unique annual Bowl-a-thon to raise money for Cystic Fibrosis. A pre-bowl keg at the house helped get everyone psyched. Rivaling the bowl-a-thon in creativity was the Pike-Bike for Muscular Dystrophy.

But no matter what the philanthropy, there was a general consensus that services play a vital role in Greek Life. As Pi Phi Rene Ward observed, "Philanthropies are a good opportunity for the sisters to be together and also get something useful done."

—Judy Cain

Theta Delta Chi's informal smokers included the traditional Pearl Harbor and Gangster themes, and our first annual Wizard of Oz smoker. A water slide party with Pi Phi and roller skating with Phi Mu and Tri-Delt highlighted our relations with the sororities and the ever-popular Polynesian party and Christmas dance rounded out the social activities. Philanthropy was also prevalent as brothers participated in a Halloween party for the WATTS children and held the annual Record Breaking Weekend, setting the new world record at Fussball (table soccer) with proceeds going to the Jefferson Fund. During the Spring Semester we literally threw the annual-but-reformed Harry Buffalo party and sponsored the Softball Extravaganza with Chi O.

Panhel and Interfraternity Council

The Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council continued their successful efforts to stimulate good relations and coordinate events for the many Greek organizations on campus. Jointly, Panhel and IFC hosted a wine and cheese reception for the faculty and administration of the college. A Red Cross Bloodmobile was also co-sponsored, and proved to be highly successful with 207 donors. On the lighter side, efforts and funds of Panhel and IFC were coordinated on the annual Halloween Party held at the fraternity complex, which was a campus-wide highlight.

Kurt Knaebel

For the Panhellenic Council, plans and events during rush kept members busy from the start, and sparked what proved to be a busy year. Kappa Kappa Gamma's "Best of Rush," which was sponsored by Panhel, created interfraternity enthusiasm after a productive rush with 400 registrees. Panhel also continued its traditional Fashion Shows, held in the spring and fall, with the aid of Athletic Attic, Binn's, Papagallos, and Unicorn. The raffle for the adolescent ward of Eastern State showed the philanthropic work of the Panhel.

At the weekly meetings, the IFC discusses many fraternal matters.

Zeta Phi Beta

Freida Thompson, Leshe Whiteman, Maureen Grey, Monica Petts

and sent many needy kids to summer camp. Socially, Panhel was equally active; the court parties were attended with enthusiasm, as well as the spring ice cream social and senior Panhel dance, which was the culmination of a prosperous year for the council. Furthermore, Panhel granted four one-hundred dollar scholarships to outstanding sisters to help them meet sorority expenses. The scholarship was based on academic achievement and sorority participation.

As with Panhel, rush was a primary concern of the Interfraternity Council, as well as the continuation of efforts towards increasing the purpose and goals of the organization. Working closely with the Panhel, the IFC sponsored receptions, parties, and philanthropic functions that were integral parts of the works of IFC. On the more social side of things, a very successful event for IFC was the annual Halloween Party, which they hosted at the fraternity complex. The IFC also hosted many Pre-Pub parties open to Greeks. A productive year for the members of the organization ended appropriately with the first annual Senior IFC dance.

—Julia Garrett

Panel president Jean Latu coordinates upcoming sorority activities with the help of representatives from each sorority.

Barely a year old, the Xi Lambda Chapter of service-oriented Zeta Phi Beta contributed to national projects such as Stork Nest, an organization responsible for improving child birth and child care. Xi Lambda's community projects include working at the Williamsburg Health Center by presenting informative films on child care, and volunteering at Easter State Mental Hospital in their friendship program. In order to provide the needed money for national, community, and campus projects, the Xi Lambda Chapter held fund-raisers such as a Thanksgiving dance and cookie sales. Zetas also participated in the Panhel-sponsored blood drives and fashion shows, Derby Day, and the Homecoming Parade, and sponsored such events as the Hampton Institute Concert Choir and the Virginia State University Dance Company.

Artwork by Eric Hook

It is almost 1984, and as Orwell prophesied, we are in the midst of a world-wide revolution —
the computer revolution. In (cont. on p. 219)

---

10:08:17 PM MON JAN 31 '83
GOOD EVENING,
HAROLD E HOOK 111
PLEASE ENTER YOUR PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION NUMBER
IF YOU MADE A MISTAKE, PRESS *99*

10:08:29 PM MON JAN 31 '83
PRESS THE NUMBER KEY TO SELECT
HOW YOU WANT TO RECEIVE CASH
1. FROM SAVINGS ACCOUNT
2. FROM CHECKING ACCOUNT
3. FROM CREDIT CARD
(625 MINIMUM)
IF YOU MADE A MISTAKE, PRESS *99*

10:08:38 PM MON JAN 31 '83
YOU HAVE ELECTED TO RECEIVE
CASH FROM YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT
ENTER A WHOLE DOLLAR AMOUNT
NOT MORE THAN $100.00
THAT IS A MULTIPLE OF $ 5.00
$ 00.00
IF CORRECT, PRESS *YES*
IF YOU MADE A MISTAKE, PRESS *99*

10:09:02 PM MON JAN 31 '83
PLEASE TAKE YOUR CASH

10:09:34 PM MON JAN 31 '83
PLEASE TAKE YOUR CARD AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT
THANK YOU,
HAROLD E HOOK 111
CENTRAL FIDELITY PUTS ITS RATES
ON THE LINE. CALL TOLL FREE TO GET THE LATEST INTEREST RATES
1-800-552-7189 MEMBER FDIC

Photos by Talbot Kennedy

Still, not everyone likes computers. Arnd Wussing despairs of finishing his project on time. At Central Fidelity and United Virginia Banks, dealing with a teller is no longer needed for simple transactions

---

Computers (cont.)

---

TRON

In efforts to speed up checkout lines, many grocery chains install computer check out systems. The first movie sporting computer graphics, Walt Disney's Tron opens the door for a new era of cinema artistry.

scarcely two decades, computers have made radical changes in American business. Modern offices are equipped with the latest computer hardware and software which draft letters and calculate statistics. Tetail stores use computerized registers to simultaneously check out customers and control inventories. Computers have invaded the home in the form of anything from microwave ovens to T.V. video games to personal computers capable of balancing the family budget, teaching foreign languages and playing chess. Magazines, television and newspapers recognized the significance of the computer with feature articles. The computer industry is the fastest growing industry in the world, and is expected to become the largest by 1990.

Although the computer revolution will eventually affect most aspects of our lives, perhaps the most profound changes will occur in education. Many elementary and secondary schools have already acquired a computer or two. Congress is currently considering a bill that would provide every public school with at least one computer for educational purposes. Several universities are planning to provide each student with his or her own personal computer by 1984. At the forefront of this trend, Carnegie-Melon has already revised its entrance requirements: each prospective student must own his own computer, or buy one prior to the start of classes.

(cont. p. 220)

Photos by Lally Kennedy

KRAFTWERK TRANS-EUROPE EXPRESS

Computer art — the German group Kraftwerk uses synthesized noise reproduction for music production. The human triumph over technology: it took days to complete the wiring of the Computer Center's central system.

---

Computers (cont.)

---

The prevalence of the computer in almost every facet of American life prompts Time to name the computer as Man of the Year: no human caused so much change in 1982 as did the computer. The terminal connections to the Computer Center's central system.

The revolution has even spread to William and Mary. This spring, over 300 students enrolled in computer science 141, the entrance level computer science course. The department, however, was only able to accommodate about 180 of these students; it does not have enough faculty members to offer additional sections. This year, almost every course in the department was filled, and many of them had to turn students away. To deal with the ever-increasing load, the department is seeking three more computer scientists. Meanwhile, inside the department, math professors Bynum, Miller, Prosl, and Stockmeyer have moved into the computer science field, sitting in on courses with students and later teaching these courses.

The Computer Center now offers a computer account to every student, and even non-computer science majors have taken advantage of the facilities for typing and revising papers. In addition, new short courses are being offered to teach students and faculty members how to use their accounts. Several departments, such as psychology and business, offer their own courses in computer use.

(cont. p. 222)

Computers (cont.)

As George Orwell predicted in 1984, computer terminals have entered the student dorm. David Price, a senior and author of his own computer text book, programs his terminal.
Computers have recreational uses as well as professional implications. Star Trek is one such diversion.

Photos by Lallie Kennedy

NORMAL HOUR OF OPERATION
MON-FRI 9 AM - 2:30 PM
SAT 9 AM - 12:00 PM
SUN 2:15 PM - 5:00 PM
(IF CLOSED - 20)

TERMINAL WOOKROOM

Anyone playing a recreational
GAME like STARTRON must give up the terminal for 15 minutes.

The number of computer science majors has grown drastically in the past five years, from less than forty to well over a hundred. And with good reason; even while still in college majors find many opportunities for summer jobs, in addition to parttime work as a consultant at the Computer Center during the academic year. And after college C.S. majors possess a marketable job skill, and can expect to make from $18,000 to $24,000 or more the first year after graduation. Recent articles in the Wall Street Journal and Newsweek indicate that, even by 1990, there will not be enough C.S. graduates to fill the available positions in industry.

But like any other field, computer science has its disadvantages — just ask any C.S. major. First students sweat through C.S. 141 and 242, both tough, fast-moving courses, especially for those who have no prior experience with computers. Often forced to stay up all night to finish projects, C.S. students learn the hard way to start projects early. Crowded terminals and a temperamental computer system often made matters worse. "The computer's down" were the words nobody wanted to hear.

In spite of the heavy workload, more and more students are turning to computer science, not only because of the salaries, but because it offers an open exciting field, full of challenge and opportunities. Computer scientists will have a chance to work with and create new technologies, advance the coming computer age.

They will be the new revolutionaries.

—Jim McCrory

The increasing popularity of computerized video games brings such games as MS Pac Man into local super markets.
Computer Technology — a futuristic science at the nation's second oldest educational institution

Liz Davis

Proofing a fiction submission, Sarah Williamson and Eric Roorda undergo the long process of article selection for the William and Mary Review.
Paste-up work sits at the heart of newspaper production. Sports Editors Tim Wilson and Tom Corsi align copy during a Thursday deadline of The Flat Hat.
Catering to the campus population, WCWM Business Manager Steve Gerard broadcasts public service announcements.

Liz Davis

Rob Guillen

On location for WMIV, Brad Gebhart and Dave Sexton work to produce a thirty second commercial on dorm life.

MEDIA

The publicizing of a university: Amateurs striving for professionalism

In bold defiance of the worst job market since the depression, the media volunteers of 1983 attempted to employ their liberal arts experience by investing heavily in the fourth estate. Harsh economic realities failed to hinder a growing sense of professionalism among campus journalists seeking practical involvement.

In every journalistic organization, students undertook a commitment to standards of excellence. Of course, standards of excellence are sometimes difficult to explain to irate campus groups seeking yearbook coverage or to recalcitrant transmitter suppliers.

Despite seemingly insurmountable technical setbacks, the college radio station, WCWM-FM, promoted a new attitude towards announcing. "We've tried to instill our disc-jockeys with a new sense of responsibility and professionalism without compromising our tendencies towards altered states of consciousness," said Station Manager Matt Danilowicz. Under the strict and rigorous auspices of Training Director Alex Zavistovich, aspiring disc-jockeys worked through a series of classroom-like training sessions designed to teach proper on-air technique and use of equipment.

Continued on p. 27

Following last year's term as co-editor, Flat Hat Editor-in-Chief Ford Cochran opted for a year at the top. Said Ford, "It's impossible not to take the job seriously. In my editorials, choosing just one word incorrectly often draws criticism."

Ford tried to live up to the standards of professionalism established by a tradition of hard-working editors like predecessor, John Bloom.

Despite a mid-year change in editorship, the William & Mary Review continued its longstanding commitment to literary integrity. Co-editors Eric Roorda and Bob Fanuzzi replaced David Sweet who resigned for personal reasons. The efforts of the new editors were focused on improving the quality and punctuality of the literary magazine's submissions.

To promote a higher standard of literature, the Review offered fifty dollar cash prizes for the best contribution in each of its three categories: art, fiction, and poetry. "The major aim of all the editors over the past year," said Eric, "was to upgrade the Review's reputation, and I think the quality of work has already been steadily improved."

Colonial Echo Editor Shari Jee felt that the 1983 yearbook "looks a lot more professional and far more interesting." Shari attempted to give the yearbook more of a magazine layout, streamlining its format into a less traditional approach.

Nineteen eighty-three was a big year for the Society for Collegiate Journalists as well. Under the supervision of former President Liz Hammer and current President Lisa Heath, the SCJ sponsored its national convention in Williamsburg over the second weekend in March. The convention included seminars and guest speakers in various aspects of printed and electronic journalism.

Student television workshops enjoyed continued popularity this year. WMTV manager Lynette Ashby attempted to bring a more active role to the organization through a number of video projects. The imminent introduction of cable TV service to the college gave new incentive to volunteers who foresaw a major expansion of their capabilities in the near future.

"Nobody likes change," observed Shari Jee whose reduction in the Echo's number of separate sections caused furor among organizations accustomed to specialized attention. Shari wanted to encourage readers to pursue articles about groups other than those to which they belonged. For this reason the Echo focused coverage on more theme centered articles rather than Checking last minute details, Flat Hat design staff prepare layouts for Friday morning printing.

Readings and re-readings take up the bulk of Review staff's time. Don Paul Haspel forms his opinion on a submitted piece.

Advertising as an alternative radio station, Mark Osler plays a request for his audience.

Photos by Liz Davis

MEDIA (cont.)

"It's impossible not to take the job seriously," Ford Cochran, Flat Hat activity centered recaps.

The William and Mary media audience saw plenty of change in 1983. Changes in personnel; changes in equipment; changes in style. Perhaps the biggest innovations in the media arose in the technical operations of WCWM. Ever since students took control of the college radio station, it has suffered from unceasing technical problems. For the past twenty-five years, the station had operated with the same erratic RCA transmitter. Matt Danilowicz referred to its continuous breakdown as "the ultimate step in alternative broadcasting: dead air, twenty-four hours a day."

"At one point," said Matt, "Ken Smith suggested I put a loudspeaker outside my car window and drive around campus — it probably would have been just as effective as anything else we did that semester."

The lack of on-air activity did allow time for the station to sponsor a series of "Video Nights" in conjunction with the Student Association. The events packed the Campus Center ballroom with students watching the latest new mu-out top 20

MEDIA (cont.)

Liz Davis

"Nobody likes change," Shari Jee, Colonial Echo

A major factor in meeting deadlines, journalists must work under organized conditions. Tanva Brown and Ford Cochran spend another long night in the Flat Hat office.

Echo Design Director Eric Hook experiences one of the most tedious jobs in publications — telephone communications.

Plagued by transmitter breakdowns, WCWM manager Matt Danilowicz playfully illustrates his situation.

music videos consuming beer and dancing. It amounted to an MTV addicts vision of Nirvana.

Second semester saw a new WCWM. A new transmitter — finally — new antenna, and a state-of-the-art Optimod sound processing system have given the station an incredible potential for increasing listenership and broadening its impact within Williamsburg.

"Throughout a rough and tumble year," commented Pro-

Earl Davis

Mark Beavers

gram Director Mark Wildman, "WCWM retained its steadfast commitment to providing the community its only alternative to the monotonous programming of Tidewater's commercial stations . . . We are determined to give exposure to as many types of music as possible, since the current music industry structure prevents most contemporary music from reaching a mass audience — WCWM faces a bright future as the catalyst of interest in alternative programming."

A major concern of all the directors at WCWM was whether future staff members will be adequately prepared. Despite their many workshops, graduating seniors have had difficulty conveying all the necessary technical ritual rituals to their electronically unenlightened heirs.

The problem of staff continuity is by no means symptomatic of the radio station alone.

Shari Jee complains that she as well as the rest of her staff suffered from the inexperience in many aspects of their production. She also worried that the creative innovations of this year's staff might well disappear with the graduation of the editors. "I have a feeling the book is going to go back to the way its been previously," she said. "This year's has been a complex process."

Despite Ford Cochran's fear that the paper had to rely on underclassmen for its section editors, the more inexperienced staffers, particularly freshmen, have contributed most significantly to the paper's success.

"Although the Arts and Features has been through some convolutions," said Ford, "it's still the best I've seen since I've been here."

Flat Hat sports coverage under the direction of Tim Wilson and Tom Corsi excelled in quality, and machine-like efficiency.

As usual, the content of the paper remained largely at the mercy of circumstances. But the influence of the paper was felt when editorial stances significantly impacted several major campus issues. In a coordinated effort between the Student Association and the Flat Hat, the over-extended Christmas exam schedule became a major controversy. The successful coverage of the issue, in the words of Ford Cochran, "demonstrated that the students could make themselves heard."

Of all the student publications the Review had long been regarded as the least influenced and the least open to innovation. Co-editors Bob Fanuzzi and Eric Roorda made significant strides toward changing this image of the magazine. The staff hoped to gain budgetary support for maintaining their cash prize in future editions. An earlier publication date helped prevent the Review from being lost in the end-of-the-semester confusion. Most important, however, is that Eric and Bob believe that the Review has continually "loosened up" over the past several volumes. Eric believed that increasing the number of humorous contributions made the magazine "a little more bizarre" — and alot more readable.

The toughest problem for many media groups to face was actually a lack of change in one very important area: the budget. Inadequate funds dampened many of the lofty aims of publication leaders.

The Board of Student Affairs significantly cut the Colonial Echo's budget

(cont top 231)

MEDIA (cont.)

"Any institution not investing in communications is lacking,"
Wayne Taylor, WMTV

Mark Be...

On a cold February afternoon, Copy Editor Ellen Slotnick takes advantage of the sun in front of the Echo window.
Making the best of a poor Fall turn out for fiction, Bob Fanuzzi, Bill Parks, and Chris Cullus find humor in a submission for the Review.
Revising an editorial, Flat Hat's Ford Cochran takes a typically bold stance on a Greek issue.

from the previous year, leaving only enough money to produce what Shari called "a bare bones yearbook." Although the Echo's award-winning format has generally attracted publishers, insufficient funds left Shari in a weak position for contract negotiations.

At WCWM the $3,000 expenditure on new broadcast equipment came from surplus funds outside the allotted budget. Nevertheless, WCWM managed to go into the red in early February, largely as a result of rising engineering costs.

WCWM's remote disc-jockey services did provide a crucial source of extra revenue during the year. Business Manager Bill Henkel organized the tunes for dozens of private parties and helped make Friday afternoon Happy Hours at the Pub a regular event for scores of stu-

taught by William and Mary Services Director, Wayne Taylor. The course received an enthusiastic response from most students. Wayne explained, "a broadcast communications course is very much in line with a liberal arts curriculum. Certainly, any institution not investing in communications is lacking — after all, broadcasting is an important component of modern society."

The expanding role of student media organizations was grounds for complaints among its leaders, however.

The college reluctance to provide its editors with any form of financial compensation or to offer academic credit for their work remained a sore point among media leaders. Shari Jee, Ford Cochran, and Matt Danilowicz took on what amounted to a forty-hour a week workload and often had to be on call twenty-four hours a day.

All this was in addition to their full-time academic commitments. Many of their staff members worked just as hard. "To do the job well requires that sort of workload," explains Ford. "Competence and responsible editor can easily make a publication go down the tubes." Colonial Echo Design Editor Eric Hook commented, "Part of the problem with continuity — and production in general — is that we operate on a strictly voluntary basis. We don't have a journalism department; we aren't getting credit; we aren't getting paid. This makes standards difficult to maintain."

With all the ups and downs, however, all the directors agreed that their responsibilities provided the most dynamic and interesting aspect of their college experience. And if the influence of campus media continues as it did this year, their commitment to dynamic professionalism should continue.

— Matt Danilowicz

Rob Gullen

dents of students. Matt Danilowicz observed, "We run a better operation with less funds than almost any other student station of our size and format on the east coast."

The College administration seemed to take a greater interest in student journalism. The Theatre and Speech Department approved a course entitled "Foundations of Broadcasting,"

GOVERNMENT

Williamsburg: birthplace of a revolution. Now, the graveyard for political resume-builders. There were two kinds of political activity on campus — none at all, of the kind pursued by hard-core, gung-ho types who get involved in everything. For a university the size of William and Mary there were more than enough activist and interest groups as well as those with political party affiliation. From the SA to VA-PIRG, from the College Republicans to the Young Democrats the groups did exist. Participation did not.

Politics at a College known for apathy

One of the most politically active times of the year for both the real world and the W&M world was election time. For each type of world there was a certain type of election. The SA elections were a scaled-down version of the real world elections with a bit of zaniness thrown in. The Glenn Gormley campaign centered on making the students aware that there was an election and that the best candidate was Glenn Gormley. Selected cars were spraypainted with his name and later col-

(Cont. on p. 234)

Photos by Rob Guillen

In an attempt to promote relations between students and the Board of Visitors, the S.A. sponsored receptions where people such as Meg Hunter could question members of the Board.

Joining student government is a positive way to contribute to campus life. Jeff Carr, SA Liason and David White, SA President begin their political career, much in the same fashion as Congressman Larry Stokes (D-Ohio).

GOVERNMENT (cont.)

laborated with bullhorns to become an audio-visual campaign device, cruising the street, yelling at innocent pedestrians. According to Linda Ritter, "I never care about SA elections, but it is fun to see what will happen next. I really loved Gormley's campaign, he seemed to be enjoy himself, not a resume-builder."

Out in the real world, W&M professor John McGlennon ran for a Democrat seat in the House of Representatives election, picking up a sizeable group of student supporters. Alumnus Dick Davis ran for Senate against Paul Tribble. The Young Democrats handed out pamphlets at football games and conducted a phone survey to poll voters. The College Republicans did the same — canvassing in the Berkeley precinct, manning phone banks, and working at the polls — to get Herb Bateman and Paul Tribble into office. Although McGlennon lost the election, the effects of the Young Democrat's campaign was evident in the Williamsburg where McGlennon won 54% of the votes. Many of his relatively young staff included law students and recent graduates, including press secretary John Bloom. Once the elections were over, however, the activities of the Young Democrats and College Republicans slowed to a crawl. As Jeff Connor of the College Republicans said, "Our main purpose is to get people elected; we aren't concerned with issues."

The groups that did concern themselves with issues were of a different sort. Although it was often difficult to draw the line between liberal or conservative, on the whole there were more liberally oriented groups than conservative ones. But as each group had its own concerns its membership was limited to those who subscribed to that group's opinion. Consequently, the groups membership was quite small. On the ultra-conservative side Young Americans for Freedom, run solely Phil Guyer, supported the Kennedy-Hatfield bill against a unilateral nuclear freeze. On the more liberal side groups such as Amnesty-International and Draft-War Resistance existed. But the groups were populated only by a limited bunch of diehards. It wasn't that the rest of the student body was ignorant. As Mike Sturm aptly

Photos by Rob Guillen

Discussing Va PIRG's future plans, Steve Salter and Kathee Myers relax in their Tyler office.

Keeping the largest campus budget isn't easy, as SA Treasurer John Funk finds out.

SAC chairman Peter Gordon runs over some items on the meeting's agenda with SAC representative John Hansen.

stated, "People are knowledgeable about government; people just aren't involved."

Political interest groups ranged from those concerned with international and national issues to those involved with community and campus concerns. Amnesty-International was concerned with human rights and especially with the release of political prisoners. Their main activity consisted of writing letters to the governments that still had prisoners. Bread for the World sought to raise funds for starving people in Third World countries. Under the direction of Eugene Wallo, Bread for the World hosted bake sales of international pastries to raise funds. In the face of rising concern over the deteriorating political scene in Central America, the Central American Action Group broadcast their views on events in Nicaragua, Guatemala, Honduras, and El Salvador. The group newsletter the Central American Counterpoint dealt with recent Central American developments.

Voicing more immediate concerns, The Nuclear Disarmament Study Group held a teach-in on the nuclear arms race in November. The seminars were a significant departure from the non-participatory norm. The eleven workshops were attended by over 300 students and faculty. The movement protesting nuclear arms gained momentum throughout the year, and programs by the NDSG were supported by the college community. Smaller groups such as Handgun Control and Women's Forum issued petitions to increase awareness of their views.

Matoaka Alliance for Clean Energy and the now defunct Amos Alonzo Slagg coalition voiced more local concerns. At the Law School, the Environmental Law Society, Black American Law Student Association, and the Mary and Willim Law Society, made their opinions known.

One of the most controversial groups was VAPIRG, the Virginia Public Interest Research Group, an organization begun by students to help them get involved in local and state issues. The VAPIRG at William and Mary was the only PIRG organization at a college or university in the state. Projects were the heart of student involvement. A rapidly expanding recycling project, energy use research, reliable grocery price surveys that challenge the claims of local supermarkets, information on resolving consumer complaints, education of the public on fluoride, and representation for the Tidewater area on the C&P Consumer Council were just a few of the projects that VAPIRG took on. One of their purposes was to have students become more aware of the issues. Not only did VAPIRG try to get students involved in local and state concerns but tried to increase awareness of college issues such as budget cuts, student financial aid cuts and their effect on the quality of education. "VAPIRG has helped to form the means to work toward meaningful social progress," stated Kathee Myers. Often termed too liberal, VAPIRG

(Cont. on p. 236)

SA Vice President for Student Services runs an SAC election at school. Photo of her meeting with Deb Weston and Mark Ragland.

Election time brought out bumper stickers all over campus. Cars, such as this one, became vehicles for pre-election communication.

Virginia Senator Paul Trible is sworn in by Vice President Bush January 3. Despite activity by both Young Democrats and Young Republicans, stickers are very little for the political scene.

Photos by Rada Fauden

was criticized by groups such as Students for a Democratic PIRG who objected to PIRG's closing of Board elections.

The Student Association under President David White tried to make the transition from a student governing body to being a union of the students that spoke for the students on all issues concerning the students. Christmas caroling in front of President Graves' house to protest the exam schedule was instigated by the SA. The SA was thus successful in getting the fall exam schedule amended, allowing students to finish on December 21, instead of December 23. The SA also supported the fight against raising the drinking age to 21 in the state legislature. Joined by other interest groups in the state, the SA was able to hold the raise in drinking age to 19 years of age. However, a student concerns night sponsored by the SA was a flop — none showed, even though the event had been well publicized. The SA still continued its history of social and service functions with the film series, theme parties in the Hall, and the refrigerator rentals to name a few. The SA also sponsored a new program, The Talented Americans series, which brought artists from around the nation to William and Mary.

The Board of Student Affairs or BSA, was mainly in charge of the allocation of funds. The Board was comprised of students, faculty, and administrators. They supported the calendar rescheduling, and opposed the new writing requirement. The BSA was also concerned with evaluating itself and how the students can have more representation through the BSA.

Politics did exist at the College, but the large number of groups did not reflect the few number of people actually involved. Most students, faced with more pressing academic, career, and economic worries, found it difficult to find time for political issues.

— Dabney Carr

-user

As the alarm thunders its warning of the approaching noon, I slowly open my eyes and realize that I had been drinking last night. Hopping out of bed — well, maybe crawling is a better word — I silence the intruding buzzer and grope my way towards the Extra-Strength Excedrin. Knocking back two capsules, I turn to see my roommate's bright red eyes desperately trying to focus on me. As I slide back into my bed, we collectively try to recall the places we visited and the innocent people we offended, as we reeled across the sprawling metropolis that is Williamsburg, Virginia. Another wasted evening.

With the incredible academic tension and the other pressures that hammer us students, we will always look for a release. Some find it in athletics, others in music, and others, like me, in beer. After studying for a few hours, I naturally start looking for someone who's willing to cruise to the Wig, Pub, Leafe, Paul's, Loco Toro, Beefeater's, Second Street, etc. A pitcher or two before I collapse for the night helps me relax and loosens my tongue. When else can my roommate and I decide how to change the world by synthesizing Locke, Rousseau,

Marx and Keynes. A few beers, in perfect combination with loud music, dancing people and a fair amount of animal lust has been responsible for some of my greatest collegiate memories. Unfortunately, a few beers sometimes turns into twenty. Even I, responsible drinker that I am, have abused alcohol. Under the influence I have broken a window pane, asked a girl, "I know you're not Homecoming Queen, but who is?" and committed various indecent acts. You would think that, being leader of the local Union of Porcelain Bud Drivers, I would learn. But I still drink. And my friends ask me if I ever worry about my drinking.

Well, prompted by my friends' concerns and needing more material, I sought out a good friend, Heidi Haight. Heidi directed the Alcohol Awareness program. In setting up the program, she hoped to show students that alcohol can be used to complement a social setting. The program started with freshmen, and educated new students each year concerning the uses and abuses of alcohol. "But Heidi," I cried, "That doesn't help me. I'm a junior. Do I drink too much? Do I abuse alcohol? Am I beyond Hope? I'm not alone, am I?" Heidi assured me that I was safe and that alcohol abuse is not common at William & Mary. The school, however, would like to reduce the alcohol-related injuries and vandalism that do occur on campus.

---

Drinking (cont'd)

---

Reassured by Heidi's kind words, I headed out for the Wig — Monday night happy hour with MTV. No one was there, of course. No one goes to the Wig on Monday (or Tuesday or Wednesday or Thursday, according to the workers).

(cont'd on p. 242)

A sunny, summer afternoon, some hot dogs and a keg: perfect ingredients for a barbecue. Landrum and Chandler residents Catherine Wood and Kendall Kerby sample the beverage while Head Resident Dave Rupert supervises at an early September picnic.

---

Drinking (cont'd)

---

Jan Singletary

Steve Odum

Fewer students seem to be drinking this year. Hurt by the students' insensitivity to my need of a social scene, I climbed on a table without too much difficulty. "Fellow students," I screamed, "Where are you? Don't you know alcohol can be used to complement a social setting? Come on, let's complement. I want a social setting." As they dragged me off, I was trying to get everyone in the Wig to dance to "Rock the Casbah." Well, yet another wasted evening. Here's to more of them.

—Dennis Shea

The familiar "golden beverage" has become a prerequisite for a successful party. Whether it be JBT's campus-wide event, Casino Night, or a dorm barbeque, alcoholic refreshment is usually available. But with new laws barring alcohol from those under 21, and under the strict vigilance of the ABC, keg parties and drinking games such as "caps" may soon be things of the past. The party's over.

SUPER DANCE

Jan Singletary

They gathered for one purpose: to dance. And dance and dance and dance. 144 people converged on the Campus Center on behalf of Muscular Dystrophy to cripple themselves for the benefit of a crippling disease. Each participant had already collected the required 25 pledges of 10¢ an hour and they were ready. Ready to face 25 hours of continuous movement broken only by brief 10 minute respites and occasional diversions. In between bopping to tunes of records and 3 bands — Karmel, Exposure, and The Nerve — dancers were treated to pie-throwing auction, a shag dance contest, a limbo contest, a game of musical laps, and a male beauty contest.

(Cont. on p. 246)

After 12 hours of dancing, Michele and Donald Ebr find continuation almost impossible.

Clayton-Grimes Biology Club

From camping trips to their annual plant sale, the Bio Club offered something for everyone this year. For the naturalists, a new environmental committee was formed. For the zoologists, there were trips to the National Zoo. Research grants were given to the hard core scientists. Athletes in the club played volleyball and softball, pre-meds watched the autopsy film, and anyone who attended seminars could enjoy coffee and doughnuts. To tie all these diverse members together, the club also sponsored several parties "just for fun."

Front Row: Marcia O'Connell, John Ricci, Laura Montalconc, Karen Schweitzer, Laura Hopkins, Anna Grimslev, Laurie Thornton. Back Row: Al Ruens, Mark Ferris, Steve Brown, Dennis Walling, Kenneth Manning, John Dennis.

Choir

Front Row: Laura Tanner, Bill Williams, Donna Dixon, Craig Smith, Cynthia Wallace, Bob Pontz, Denise Yillery, Dan Michael, Angie Huffman, Michelle Jacobs, Matthew Blum, Emily Clark, Jim Hewitt, Margi Gula, John Dennis, Karla Anderson, Edwin Holt, Julie Breidegam. Second Row: Dave Montourn, Rick Hoffman, Margie Phipps, Woody Waters, Sarah Williams, Silas McCullough, Jennifer Jones, Henry McCoy, Suzy Tierney, Donna Pierce, Mary Kaye Benton, Martha Feathers, Rob Anderson, Laura Ingram, Jim Hill, Carla Ambrose, Dirk Brown, Gretchen Hines, David Kelsey. Third Row: Allison Stringer, Pat Wagner, Zoe Trollope, Dave

Pruitt, Jessica Pollard, Dennis Ramsey, Lisa Ingrassia, Jim Moran, Dawn Zimmerman, Jeremy Worst, Mark Brickhouse, Marty Keck, Susan Hatton, Fred Baerenz, Lori Anderson, Clary Cronley, Mitzu Lewellen, Ed Koch, Margie Lackman, Kira Basnight. Back Row: Beth Miller, Brad Staubes, Diane Little, Doug Walter, Courtney Reid, Andrew Walpole, Ann Little, Bob Seal, Tricia Steenhuisen, John Kilgore, Lisa Bartlett, Jim Hall, Laura Anderson, Kendall Kerby, Catherine Dehoney, Terry Bockhorn, Elizabeth Beal, Bill Joyner, Frank T. Lendrim, Anne Foster Bugg, Alan Gilhe

Through a variety of performance opportunities, the William and Mary Choir, Chorus and Botetourt Chamber Singers continued their musical traditions. In the fall, under the direction of Dr. Frank Lendrim, the Choir sang at the Occasion for the Arts, Parent's Weekend, the Sunset Ceremony at Homecoming and the Yule Log Ceremony. Following a joint concert in Charlottesville last spring, the Choir hosted the University Singers here. The Botetourt Chamber Singers, composed of 15 members of the Choir, performed at several different functions. Christmas concerts at Ashlawn Plantation and the Governor's Palace highlighted their season. The Chorus, a 100 voice women's group, gave candle-light concerts at Bruton Parish and joined the Choir and Botetourt Chamber Singers for the annual Christmas Concert. In the spring, Mrs. Carol Longworth, visiting director from Oberlin College, who led the performing groups while Dr. Lendrim was on leave, exposed the choral groups to new techniques and types of music. In addition to singing at the Charter Day ceremony, Olde Guard Day, and Commencement, the choir ventured south to Atlanta for its six-day Spring Tour. All of these groups were again featured in April's Spring Concert.

Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Phi Omega, a co-ed service fraternity with over 60 members, lived up to three cardinal principles: leadership, friendship and service — the main emphasis, however, was service. Alpha Phi Omega ran the campus escort service, worked in coordination with the Admissions office at the Freshman Open House in the spring, sponsored Bloodmobiles and did yardwork for the elderly in the Williamsburg community. Since Alpha Phi Omega is closely related to the Boy Scouts of America, many of its members were Eagle Scouts who provided Merit Badge counseling. In addition, the entire chapter helped judge scout fairs and renovate a scout camp in Lightfoot. In the area of service and friendship, many brothers attended conferences to strengthen leadership skills and meet brothers from other chapters. There were also many social outings to Adams, Surrey House, Chownings, and an awards banquet at the end of the spring semester.

SUPER DANCE

As the night wore on, dancers bopped less, conserving energy. Meal breaks came and went. The two hours allowed for sleep passed all too quickly, and some marathoners commented that the time between getting up and having to dance and breakfast two hours later was the most hellish. The last hours were enlivened with some square dancing — music provided by the Friends of Appalachian Music. As the end approached dancers got their second wind. As Bill Mitchell commented, "It was easier to keep going when you could see the light at the end of the tunnel." His partner, Lisa Green agreed, adding that the marathon as a whole seemed "easier than I had envisioned it would be. I never thought of quitting."

Still as fresh as when this started, Mary Pastore and John Fithian keep rockin' at the Super Dance. The couple raised the most money for the MD foundation.

Band

The William and Mary Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Varner, appeared in many different forms. In the fall, they were the Marching Indians. In the spring, they were the Concert Band. And mid-season, they were the Indian Pep Band. As the Marching Indians, they practiced long hours in the Sunken Gardens to prepare for the pre-game, post-game, and their unique halftime shows under the baton of Drum Major Steven E. Panoff. When they weren't marching, they led cheers and played the "Fight Song" after touchdowns. The Band was augmented by the Majorettes and Flag Corps. The all-volunteer played at all home basketball games. The Pep Band was especially known for their different costume nights, when members came dressed in bathing suits for "Beach Nite," and tuxedos for "Formal Nite." The Concert Band performed serious music for the Spring Concert including Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," with guest piano soloist, Dr. Truedell. The weekend following the concert, the Band took their annual New York tour.

Pausing in a routine, band members start to feel the heat of a Williamsburg fall afternoon.

Jan Singletary

Bill Ingeman enjoys the first hours of super dance.

According to Superdance chairman Theresa Thon, the dance raised over $12,000, $4,000 more than last year. The Spanish House won the award for most money raised by an organization. Top individual fundraisers were John Fithian, Ken Bradley, and Mary Pastore, who raised over $1,000 and won a t.v. for her efforts.

(Cont. on p. 248)

Cheerleaders

Mark Beavers

Kari Guillen receives support from one of her male companions during a late afternoon football game.

Fundraising projects, daily practices, public relations assignments, make-up sessions, and tv appearances were all part of the cheerleader's preparation for football season. Highest on their list of priorities was recruiting spirited males. In light of limited funding, the cheerleaders' next concern was money. Cleaning the stadium, organizing a clinic for youths from eight to eighteen, and serving cokes during halftime were only three of their revenue-increasing projects. However, the majority of each member's time was spent in practices, which were held twice a week during football season and as many as four times a week during basketball season.

SUPER DANCE

By the end of the 25 hours few were tired. A playing of "Rock Around the Clock," the Superdance theme, revived many with renewed energy. Many regained strength when even President Graves got into the act and joined them on the dance floor for the last hour. With encouragement for the D.J., some even kept on dancing past the allotted time. Such enthusiasm was a reflection of another reason; explained one participant, "I just want to dance."

—Jay Alfred

After a long night of continued dancing, dancers find great satisfaction in hearing no music.

Delta Omicron

The focus was on musicianship and fellowship for the sisters of Delta Omicron. "We stress the importance of excellence in our performances, supporting each other and enjoying ourselves at the same time," said Donna Dixon, chapter president. In addition to performing for each other at regular meetings, the sisters held joint monthly musicales with Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, including a Halloween Party/Musical, a Broadway-themed program at the Creative Arts House, a Love Song Musical for Valentine's Day, and a recital of music by American Women composers. In order to encourage musicianship among other students, Delta Omicron sponsored a Greek Song Competition for sorority and fraternity music groups and a Music Competition for the general college community. Sisters also offered tutoring services to music theory students. Social activities included a Sunday brunch, rush parties, and the second annual Cabaret, where the audience members were also performers in a series of nightclub-style acts, and a square dance, featuring the Friends of Appalachian Music.

Front Row: Joanne Coppola, Laura Ingram, Kathy Dodge, Mary Thomasson, Angie Huffman, Denise Fillery, Julia Sheu, Donna Dixon; Second Row: Laura Lanner, Lisa Harper, Hilarie Hicks, Joy Dibble, Norma Sedrow, Cindy Fisher, Angela Castle, Jennifer Jones; Third Row: Zoe Frollope, Karen Hunt, Tammy Hatwood, Suzanne Richardson, Carol Smith, Gretchen Hines, Pam Peisgehl; Back Row: Dawn Zimmerman, Jan Lammell, Diane Wallace, Marge Lackman, Catherine Dehoney, Susan Powell, Kathy Woodall, Linda Wood

Phi Mu Alpha

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a national professional fraternity for men in music, promoted the highest standards of creativity, performance, education and research in music. Among their many activities were an annual American Composers Recital, provision of music scholarships and gifts to the music department, a Viennese Waltz Ball, participation with Delta Omicron in the Sinfonicon Light Opera Company, and numerous recitals, parties and meetings throughout the year. Nu Sigma chapter enjoyed the respect of the National Office of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, receiving the coveted triennial Charles F. Tutton Province Merit Award twice consecutively, designating it the best chapter in its province for six years. This fall, the chapter was awarded seven out of seven possible citations at the Province Workshop held at VCU.

S E R V I C E

Organizations helping the school and community

Whether you find yourself in need of a particular service, or would rather offer your help, you need not look far. At the college there are a number of service organizations that fulfill student's needs. These programs provide services ranging from supportive counseling to community service. Established by and for the college community, they are readily accessible and free of charge. Student Legal Service, the Center for Psychological Services, Bacon Street Hotline, the Women's Center, and Circle K are a few of the organizations that provide useful services for the student body.

The Student Legal Service assists and advises students, faculty, and staff about situations pertaining to legal matters. Organized and run by student volunteers from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, the Service offers help for those who are uncertain of their legal rights, or are going through standard legal procedures. The organization does not handle criminal cases, nor does it represent individuals in court. The Service can, however, examine a situation, supply background research, and advise the student of available options. Questions and problems that the Service does not handle are referred to Steve Harris, an attorney-at-law who works in cooperations with the Service. Director Tim Sammers states that the "most important function" of the organization is the representation of students in honor and discipline council cases. Many students have a better chance of receiving a lighter penalty if their case is presented by the Student Legal Service. For those students requiring legal counseling, the Student Legal Service is a welcome interpreter of the law and its ramifications.

The Center for Psychological Services, initially a career counseling service, developed its present function in response to the changing needs of students. Faculty member Stanley Williams established a Psychological Counseling Center in the 1960's, staffing the Center with fellow psychology department faculty. Increased student demand for these services, however, soon indicated the need for a full-time staff, and the Center of Psychological Services was instituted to serve students on a more permanent basis.

The number of individuals seeking counseling increases each year. Dr. Jay Chambers, the director of the Center, attributes these rising numbers to a national increase in "serious emotional and psychological problems in college and young people." Yet William and Mary's drop-out rate due to psychological problems is extremely low, especially when compared to that of other schools of comparable academic standards. Dr. Chambers has found that most of the counseling sought by students is preventative in nature. Students come to find out more about themselves. In this way the Center is as much a learning place as the college.

Queen's Guard

More than just another college organization, the Queen's Guard represented William and Mary's present as well as its link with the past. Even the uniform is reminiscent of the college's history. The bearskin busbies and the miter worn by Colonial American troops, while the copy Stewart tartan is worn in honor of Queen Mary II and Queen Anne of England. The Queen's Guard, an entirely volunteer organization, continued to delight its audiences with demonstrations of American and British exhibition drill in events such as the Williamsburg Christmas Parade, the William and Mary Homecoming Parade, and the Norfolk Azalea Festival. In addition to these full Guard exhibitions, it provided color guards for home football games, ROTC functions, and community groups such as Frontiers International.

The Queen's Guard Commander Bill Fecteau leads the Homecoming parade.

In addition to providing both individual and group counseling, the Center also handles the testing materials necessary for LSATs, MSATs, and GREs. Dr. Chambers feels that, overall, the Center is doing a "good job." Both college statistics and student sanity support his intuition: the Center has succeeded in supplying effective assistance and counseling for the changing needs of the student body.

The Bacon Street Hotline is a volunteer service offering assistance to the College and the community. It was founded when the Drug Action Center identified a need for a hotline. The Bacon Street Center offers a virtually twenty-four hour service seven days a week, providing someone to talk to in time of need. The Hotline has volunteer workers who are qualified to deal effectively with nearly any crisis, including substance abuse, child abuse, poisoning, suicide, and sex. Some individuals call just to talk, others for information and counseling about their problems. Still others call in times of crisis when there is simply nowhere else to turn. Whatever the need, the Hotline operators are willing to help.

All individuals working with the Hotline are volunteers. A large percentage of these originate with the College. They receive extensive training to enable them to meet the needs of callers effectively. Not only those calling benefit: through their experiences the volunteers derive a sense of accomplishment and achievement. Ben Montgomery, Hotline Coordinator, believes that the Center "offers a chance for one to grow personally."

(Cont. on p. 252)

Liz Davis

As a counseling service, anonymous Bacon Street members help students as well as community members solve emotional problems.

Black Student Organization

Janice Allen, Zandra Thompson, Lisa Wells, Monica Perry.

A primary goal of the BSO was to become more visible on campus. The Cultural Series brought poets Nikki Giovanni, and Gwendolyn Brooks to campus. During February — Black History Month — General Julius W. Becton, Jr. of Fort Monroe, Va., Dr. Alvin Pouissant, Associate Professor at Harvard University, and Ohio Congressman Louis Stokes visited the college. BSO's homecoming dance attracted more than just the school's black population. The Halloween Trick-or-Treat Sale, a BSO fundraiser, was also successful. The BSO's admissions committee worked closely with the campus Admissions Office in sponsoring recruitment events such as "Operation Bus," which brings high school students to William and Mary for the day to meet administrators, attend classes, take a campus tour, and have lunch. The BSO sponsored several other events, including a Parent's Weekend Reception, a Block Show co-sponsored with the black Greek organizations on campus, a talent show, an Easter Egg Hunt with Headstart, an end-of-the-year potluck dinner, and a Senior Reception.

SERVICE (con't)

Liz Davis

When appropriate, the Hotline recommends the aid of more specialized agencies such as Sexual Assault Victims Assistance, Battered Women Task Force, and Parents Anonymous. The Hotline also provides three information referral-line numbers for individuals seeking information from specific sources. Montgomery feels that the Hotline is "consistently successful" and fulfills an important function in the community. For the College the Hotline offers not only counseling, but also the opportunity to work with others in a worthwhile effort.

Established in 1978, the Women's Center was founded as a referral agency, providing information and access to organizations helpful to women. The Center does not provide actual counseling, but rather refers individuals to services designed to deal with the specific situation. The Center also runs discussion and peer support groups that focus on such areas as divorce, separation, and mid-life problems. It also provides a mothers' resource group for working women with small children. In addition, new-comers' meetings are held to give women a chance to meet others.

The Center is operated solely by volunteers, with a small staff and limited hours of operation. The volunteers include women from the community, the College, and groups such Ted Shin plays with children as part of Circle K's service to the community.

Day Student Council

The Day Student Council, chartered under the Student Association, plans and coordinates activities for Day Students. We also serve as the voice for Day Students, expressing their opinions and concerns. Activities for the year included the House Improvement Project featuring the "Rug-Pulling Get-together," a Post-Homecoming Game Party, Pizza Party, Thanksgiving Dinner, End of Classes Party, MASH Party, Easter Dinner, and Crab Feast. The Day Student House, located next to the Bookstore on Jamestown Road, is open 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. daily, providing a refuge for all day students.

Martin Cox

Gathering for the last showing of MASH, Day students take advantage of their T.V. lounge.

as SAVA (Sexual Assault Victims Assistance). Available to everyone, the Center is not a highly active organization, but rather one there to lend support to those who need it.

Circle K offers a large variety of activities to meet community needs and student interests. The organization sponsors seven specific community-oriented programs. Members are now working with the SPCA, the elderly in the Senior Opportunity Program, primary school teachers in the Norge program, and underprivileged children in WATS (Williamsburg Area Tutorial Service). In addition, individual tutoring programs are set up with area intermediate schools. Those interested in working with children between the ages of five and twelve participate in the Saturday Morning Activities and Saturday Recreational Activities. On campus, Circle K members organize and staff preregistration, registration, validation, arena scheduling for freshmen, and ushering at basketball games and concerts.

Each semester the proceeds of Circle K's fund-raising project are donated to a philanthropic cause. In the fall of 1982 the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was the recipient; in the spring the money will go to projects for the handicapped.

Circle K President Maggie De-gnan states the "the community backing for Circle K is 100%." She feels that Circle K serves not only as a "distraction from studies," but as a source of accomplishment and satisfaction as well. Circle K provides community services, an opportunity to help others, and a place to meet and make new friends.

— Monica Tetzlaff

Drumming up business for creditors, Circle K members wait for victims in front of the wig.

Koch/Carlton

Demonstrating Circle K's commitment to the Williamsburg area, Dianna Spence entertains two children from Norge.

Circle K

Ushering for home basketball games and concerts showed only one side of the Circle K endeavors. Many of the activities were in conjunction with the Williamsburg Kiwanis Club and included the Williamsburg Kiwanis shrimp feast, the Kiwanis Soap and Candle sale, and volleyball and square dancing with the Kiwanis and area Key Club members. The International Convention in Fort Worth, Texas, the Southern Region (Y'ALL) Conference in South Carolina and a Leadership Training Conference gave the members a chance to see how other chapters operated. Community service was Circle K's major objective. A spaghetti-eating contest raised money for Cystic Fibrosis at Busch Gardens, and a workathon to clean and repair houses and a Thanksgiving Dinner benefitted the elderly. For the college community, Circle K offered juniors, seniors, and grad students the chance to apply for a credit card and aided in clothes distribution after Jefferson fire.

Marion Coan

P R O F E S S I O N A L

Organizations training students for the future

Ever wanted to be a doctor, lawyer, businessman, or driver's education teacher? Even if you didn't, various clubs provided information for people who were interested enough to come to the meetings. Most of us weren't.

But the few who bothered to come to the Pre-Med Club meetings heard local doctors lecture on various areas of medicine. Tina Raseo, a freshman interested in pediatrics, claims, "I went to the meetings when I first came here and I got a lot out of the programs that were presented."

The Business Club periodically provided speakers and worked to develop a feeling of community among its members. An enthusiastic Jose de la Macorra bubbled, "We had some good activities, like ice cream parties in front of Chancellor's. It was fun and we got to know each other." The Business Club also participated in President's Day in February. Discussions were held on current issues of interest in the world of business. The interaction between club members, corporation heads, and other area businesses made the day worthwhile.

Other campus groups grouped together to form cohesive pre-job groups. Various clubs within specific majors provided a social outlet and pertinent career information. Such clubs as the Chemistry Club, the Management Majors Club, and the Physical Education Majors Club met to discuss relevant topics.

In August of 1777, a company of militia soldiers made up entirely of students and faculty from the College of William and Mary took an oath of loyalty to defend their state and nation from invasion and to fight for national independence. Over 205 years later, the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) at William and Mary is still training men and women for positions of leadership and responsibility in today's Army. At William and Mary the intellectual, professional and technical training of the ROTC program complement the College's strong academic curriculum and qualified graduates for Army officer commissions at the same time they are earning their undergraduate degree. ROTC developed self-discipline, physical stamina and poise at the same time that it provided practical management skills and leadership experience. Entry-level Military Science courses are normally taken during the freshman and sophomore years, and allow students to explore Army officers opportunities without obligation. Only when students are accepted for the final two years of Military Science instruction do they make a formal commitment to the program and agree to accept a commission as an Army Second Lieutenant upon graduation.

ROTC

ROTC Members hold regular dinners as part of the military training of novice soldiers.

As part of professional training, ROTC undergraduates learn military manners

Health Careers Club

Front Row: Thomas Wong, Wendy Rundolph, K.C. Harris, Mar Galumbeck, William Caplan; Second Row: Diane Leite, Apollo Leong, Dan Best, Fern Awotesu, Paul Duggan; Back Row: Jan Dierflinger, Karen Close, Marsha Monhollon, Maurice Baker, Lisa Wright, Mike Nibset

Entering its fifth year as a college organization, the Health Careers Club expanded not only its membership, but also its range of programs. Originating as a small group of panicking pre-meds, the Health Careers Club boasted a cast of more than 80. Once a month, the club explored the operations of the medical profession. To satisfy innate philanthropic tendencies, the club initiated a volunteer program with the Williamsburg Community Hospital, which exposed students to daily hospital care. As usual, the club sponsored several guest speakers, who spoke on topics including optometry, dentistry, forensic gynecology and public medicine. Finally, the First Annual Raffle promoted financial success. Due in the Fall: the "Pre-Med Handbook."

Forensics Society

It was an active year for intercollegiate speech competition. The program featured participation in both debate and individual events activities. Teams debated the resolution that the United States should not intervene militarily in the internal affairs of any nation or nations of the Western Hemisphere in National Debate Topic contests. Others debated resolutions involving reduction of nuclear weapons and individual rights as the most important of the rights guaranteed by the Constitution in Cross Examination Debate Association contests. The individual events contestants competed in prose, poetry, dramatic interpretation, impromptu speaking, dramatic duo, improvisational pairs, impromptu interpretation, persuasive speaking, informative speaking, and extemporaneous speaking.

Front Row: Mike Meinhardt, Kevin Gough, Elizabeth Brown, Harry Austin. Second Row: Dawn Zimmerman, Jacob Wilson, Jill Prvor, Rob Johnson. Third Row: Ruth Katz, June Harmon, Monica Hopkins. Back Row: Prof. Joni Lee Jones, Zandra Thompson, David Harris, Howard Brooks, Jeff McDaniel, Prof. Paul Oehlke.

P.E. Majors Club

The Physical Education Majors Club tried to promote increased awareness of health and physical education in the community. First semester activities included participation in the Homecoming parade with the slogan "Brown will need more than the BEAR necessities," and a trip to the annual Physical Education Convention in Fredericksburg. Highlights of the second semester included a Jog-for-Jefferson jogathon in February. Proceeds went to the American Red Cross in relief of the Jefferson fire. The club also sponsored the Bloodmobile in April. The school year was capped off with the annual picnic at Professor Linkenauer's home on the Chickahomony River, which provided staff and club members with the lun and much needed break during final exam periods.

Organizations hiding from the mass

Everyone has heard of the S.A. The Flat Hat is also well-known. Other groups such as APO, Circle K, and the religious clubs had fairly large followings. And then there were those small, obscure clubs that occasionally surfaced under "Campus Briefs". Who ever heard of the Historical Simulation Society? Where did the Orienteering Club meet? Do you know anyone who is actually in the Irish Cultural Society? What did the Science Fiction Club do? Contrary to what the average student may have thought, however these special interest groups did have their own enthusiastic, albeit small, circle of members.

Much of the mystery surrounding the Historical Simulation Society lay only in its name. Wargames were the unifying factor; "Diplomacy" and "Empires Of The Middle Ages" used historically accurate settings, rules, and strategies, to allow players to reenact some particular period in history. Hence the club name. Members were avid to say the least. Some games lasted a night; others ran from 4 to 6 years. Perhaps the most realistic aspects of some of the games was their complexity. Some games could be "So hard, you needed to borrow a rulebook for a week or two to understand them", according to Society member Fred Rauscher.

The Science Fiction and

Fantasy also had its avid followers. Members gathered to discuss books, movies, and other sci-fi media. An extensive science fiction library was available to club members, and President Linda Mayo organized a "videofest" and trips to nearby science fiction conventions. A popular pastime among this group was the fantasy game "Dungeons and Dragons".

Many other small clubs also provided an outlet for those with a special interest. The Orienteering Club took to the wilderness for several outings. The Irish Cultural Society sponsored such events as speakers from Ireland and jig lessons. The Friends Of Appalachian Music (FOAM) performed English and Irish "mountain music" on anything from the banjo, fiddle, and guitar to the hammer dulcimer, madolin, and penny whistle. In fact, "just about anything will fit in — except maybe a French Horn", claimed President Barry Trött. Even devotees of "Go", a 4,000 year old Chinese board game which is easy to learn but takes years to master, could join the Go club, which averaged about 6 members. It was clubs such as these that proved that whatever you enjoy doing, somewhere someone on campus enjoyed doing it too.

— Shana Aborn

Martial Arts

The Martial Arts Club was founded in 1969 by So-Shihan H. Hamada, 8th-dan, Hanshi, Karate-doh. Though no longer affiliated with the College's physical education classes, the club continues to support a strong and enthusiastic membership. Led by head instructor Shihan Hamada and associate head instructor John Posenau, the dojo strove to attain "peace, strength, and harmony," the club motto. Through a combination of classical form and traditional discipline, the members learned the intricacies of the art of karate-doh. Students of the martial arts often found that the physical discipline and mental concentration required for the study of karate-doh strengthened self-confidence, self-discipline and concentration, which aided them in other areas within their lives. The highlight of the year, fall camp, was held in November at Nags Head, North Carolina. This weekend gave members the opportunity to intensely study, not only the martial arts, but also their inner selves. The organization also sponsored spring minicamp at Virginia Beach and several one-day clinics designed to acquaint students with other forms of the martial arts. The club also sponsored a few social activities throughout the year, featuring some food, much drink, and many "comps."

Martial Arts Club

Front Row: Mary Pipan, David Woodward, John Posenau, Jonathan Scholnick, Sabato Sagaria, Jesse Jackson, Steve Zeleznikar. Second Row: Buck Newton, Sharon Crumpton, Julian Gorelli, Gary Halstead, Phil McWilliams, Dinah Henderson, Dan Simon, Alex Blake, more, K.C. Harris. Third Row: Josh Scholnick, Dean Cook, Susan Bergman, Charles Terry, Anna Carew, Ali Ammuddin, Howie Weir. Back Row: Robin Gnatovsk, Ariel Kupperman, Michael Bachman, Jim Marousei, Norman Farrar, Martin Boelens, Tim Coffey, Pam Donegan, Kit Watson, David Stephens, Dan Corry, Tatsuya Ushida, Shihan Hamada.

The year was 1954: the Master of the University College, Oxford was visiting Williamsburg and had accepted an invitation to dine at the home of Alvin Duke Chandler, President of the College of William and Mary. Following dinner, the two men discussed the possibility of establishing an educational exchange program between the two universities. At the same time, the Drapers' Company in London was expressing an interest in setting up just such an exchange in line with those of the numerous other Livery Guilds of England.

The relationship between the Drapers' Company and Virginia dates back to the seventeenth century when fifty-six Livery Guilds in London became shareholders in the "Company of Adventurers and Planters of the City of London for the Colony of Virginia." The Drapers' were especially involved in this activity.

In 1955, President Chandler travelled to London in connection with the presentation of Colonial Williamsburg's Freedom Award to Winston Churchill. During the various formal ceremonies of the occasion, President Chandler again expressed his ideas for an exchange, this time to the Clerk of the Drapers' Company. Both men agreed on its potential and, after approval by the Company Court, the College of William and Mary/Drapers' Company exchange program came into being.

There were many details to be worked out but in principle the exchange would work as follows: the College would select and send one student a year to either Oxford or Cambridge while the Company would choose one student from a preparatory school in Britain and send him or her to William and Mary for two years of undergraduate study. The scholarship would cover tuition, room and board fees, with an additional allowance for books and travel expenses.

After a year or so of further discussion and finalizing plans, the first British exchange student, Malcolm Robinson, arrived at William and Mary in the fall of 1958 to study history.

In a Flat Hat interview that same semester, President Chandler stated that the scholarship was "a practical step toward extending the traditionally close relationship between the College of William and Mary and higher education in Great Britain." In his concluding remarks, the President stressed the "importance of intercultural understanding."

The following year, Richard Prosl, a mathematics major at William and Mary was enrolled in University College, Oxford and the exchange program was fully underway. With minor changes throughout the years, the scholarship continued to strengthen ties between the College and British universities, providing many students with a unique opportunity to study and live abroad.

In August 1980, three students arrived from Britain to begin their part in the Drapers' program. I was lucky enough to be one of them.

I travelled to Williamsburg on a hot and humid day. The campus seemed huge and somewhat foreboding. All summer long, countless letters of information had been arriving at my house and at last the once alien names of buildings, faculty and administration staff became real. Orientation remains something of a blur as I struggled to be in ten places at one time inbetween settling into my new home.

I turned the key of Old Dominion, 128 and opened the door. Bare walls, two beds and two desks — it was anything but inviting. The stifling heat made it even more unbearable and at that point I would have happily flown straight back home. When I had walked through

David Sexton is a senior Anthropology major from Kent, England. His activities are diverse: disc jockey for WCWM's Friday night "Groove Control" show, Vice President of International Circle, Secretary of the F.H.C. Society, Dorm Council Vice President and member of the Academic Calendar Advisory Committee. His interests include ornithology, hiking and camping.

The Drapers Scholarship last showing

I N T E R V I E W

the departure gate of Gatwick Airport, London, I had felt as if I was leaving my home and family forever. An absurd thought, of course, but it seemed real enough and I knew for sure that I would not be anywhere near home for several months to come. I would not be able to go home for the weekend or pick up the phone to call home whenever I felt like it. It was all very unsettling.

My roommate and his family soon arrived and took charge. I immediately felt happier and was treated to dinner at The Kings Arms. Classes soon began; I got to know my way from one end of the campus to the other, discovered Williamsburg and joined as many clubs and societies as I could.

If I was going to settle, I knew I'd have to totally immerse myself in everything around me. I am now a senior in my final semester and all the uncertainties of the early days seem a long way off. Time, however, has gone by extraordinarily fast. Feelings of home sickness soon began to lessen except for occasional bouts of it around birthdays and Parent's Weekend when it seemed as if everyone else was surrounded by family and going to dinner at the Trellis and brunch at the Lodge.

Most of my memories, however, are exciting ones. For spring breaks I have managed to escape to the Everglades, the beaches of Fort Lauderdale and the magic of Disney World. Last year I slept out in a snow cave while winter camping in the Adirondak Mountains of New York State — an exhilarating and unforgettable experience. Fall breaks and weekends have given me the chance to visit Washington, D.C., to tramp through the fall foliage of the Blue Ridge Mountains and to take chopper rides in the skies over Manhattan, looking down on the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building. Another memorable time was an aerial survey of bald eagle nests with Dr. Mitchell Byrd. To be soaring with the huge birds or to fly in low over a nest to count eggs or chicks was an amazing experience. In the summer of 1981, I spent six weeks on a deserted barrier island off the Eastern shore looking after young peregrine falcons as part of the Cornell University reintroduction program.

All these times are personal memories, but I feel I have also been able to share important episodes in American history, with the entire nation. I saw how the country handled the hostage crisis in Iran, the election of a new President and the simultaneous release of the hostages. Later, I was to watch the attempted assassination of President Reagan and experience the feelings of disbelief and sadness of the students — Republican and Democrat alike — as they packed the television lounge to discover how it had happened and to consider the consequences as yet another of their leaders had been the target of an assassination attempt. That same T.V. lounge was packed to watch the first successful launch and landing of the space shuttle. I felt the disbelief and helplessness at being away from home when my own country went to war with Argentina. The College, too, has had a number of important episodes in its history with the visit of Prince Charles and the Jefferson Hall fire standing out most strongly in one's memory.

Economic pressures in Britain forced the Draper's Company to end the exchange program the year after the three of us arrived at William and Mary. We were to be the last Drapers' Scholars for the foreseeable future. A unique and outstanding program had finished and I felt incredibly lucky to have been selected so close to its end. My only regret was that the chance to be part of the William and Mary/Drapers' exchange for other students was gone, at least for the time being. Both parties, however, expressed a strong desire to renew the program as soon as the economy allows.

I have learned so much from the "intercultural understanding" spoken of thirty years ago by President Chandler. In return, I hope I have contributed something to the college community and that I fulfilled my role, as assigned by the Drapers' Company, to be "something of an ambassador" for Great Britain. I will take with me in May the countless memories of life at William and Mary and the secure knowledge of having made some lifelong friends.

RELIGION

Mark Beavers

"A religious group is a lot different from any social or pre-professional organization," explained senior Tim Howe. "At its best, it involves a two-way street, that of interacting with each other and of the Lord coming to be with us. People are drawn to that because it fulfills a need."

There is a large and electric collection of churches and religious groups in Williamsburg. Over fifteen churches, from the Jewish Temple Beth El to Williamsburg Presbyterian to the non-denominational Community Chapel, served as gathering places for student worshippers, and the seventeen religious groups on campus.

Although of different denominational ties, all of the groups shared social interests and a commitment to religious lifestyle that attracted many students. Sophomore Jeanne Lindner, a member of the Navigators, an especially fervent branch of Young Life, "joined as a way of meeting people and making friends. Of course, these friends are important in helping me know God better, and

After beating Old Dominion University at Scope, Tribe member Scott Govall takes a quiet moment to reflect on their victory.

PHOTO BY JEFFREY

Fellowship of Christian Athletes

Held informally, Fellowship of Christian Athletes meetings were not only for athletes, but for anyone looking for Christian fellowship. Meetings began with an attempt at singing followed by prayer and announcements. The lessons were always open discussions based on the Bible, covering some of the more basic principles of the Christian faith. An occasional guest speaker shared his faith with the group. Some of the activities included sportsathons, ushering at football games for fund raising, and a trip to Norfolk to help in the Special Olympics.

Front Row: Bob Crane, Todd Dennis, Ronnie Fossum, Jeff Deal, Mike Cousins, Dave McDowell. Back Row: Matt Pavlides, Sheila Aming, Betsy Bingham, Andrea Lettich, Chris Gleason, Alice Bingham, Ingrid Johns, Mark Sweeney.

Canterbury Association

The use of historic Bruton Parish Church in Colonial Williamsburg definitely set the Canterbury Association apart from the other campus ministries. An Evensong weekly service on Sunday nights gave the students the chance to lead the service and sing in the Canterbury choir under the direction of Dr. Frank T. Lendrim. Fellowship followed at the Parish house. The Canterbury Association the annual interfaith Thanksgiving service for all denominations. The Canterbury Association had Covenant with the Catholic Student Association on All Hallows' Eve, The Feast of St. Francis, and Lenten activities. The Canterburians joined Episcopalians from other Virginia schools, such as JMU, UVA, and Tech in a weekend of spiritual renewal through the Encounter with Christ program.

Putting in some last minute practice before Evensong, a Canterburian warms up her vocal chords before the candlelit service.

Mark Beavers

Hillel-Jewish Union

Hillel's activities included a High Holiday service at the Temple Beth El and regular events such as the popular bagel brunches, Saturday afternoon study groups, and the Sabbath Dinner and Creative Service. Hillel also participated in an ecumenical service at Thanksgiving, where Professor Scholnick spoke on the topic "Man's Humanity to Man," making her the first woman and the first Jew to speak to that service. They also sponsored a number of joint events: a discussion and dinner with the Baptist Student Union and a showing of the film "O, Comfort Ye My People" with the New Testament Student Association.

Marae Harrison, Doug Klein, Scott Hunter, Sandy Cimerman, David Bacherman, Paul Braet, Jonathon Scholnick.

RELIGION (cont'd)

Mary Iida

vice-versa." Freshman Mark Davis added, "I joined the CSA (Catholic Student Association) for two reasons; I wanted to meet other Catholic people and to volunteer for something worthwhile."

All groups emphasized fellowship and commitment to God, but the relative importance of these two aspects of religious life varied from group to group. "There are a lot of deeply religious people in CSA," commented Jim Seeley, "but when we get together, there isn't much discussion of God. We mostly joke about school." Ken Murphy of New Testament Student Association indicated his group's more outspoken approach to Christian life. "We really seek the life of Jesus to be reproduced in our lives and in the lives of others. Everything we do is tied into these things." Time Howe of Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship tied together the varying opinions. "Ideally," he voiced, "we desire commitment to the Christian life. This commitment should be shown through involvement and the sharing of faith. In reality, however, to this aim is added that of spending time with other similar people, of

(cont. on p. 265)

"I to the Lord, I will sing, I will sing praise to the Lord, the God of Israel" (Judges 5:3). Members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes participate in the program.

Christian Science Organization

The weekly testimony meeting, with readings from the Bible and Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, the Christian Science textbook, was the main and most important activity of the Christian Science Organization. In the fall the CSO hosted Ms. Toshi Morikawa, a renowned Japanese newswoman and pioneer of the Christian Science movement in Japan, at a special CSO dinner. The CSO also sponsored a Christian Science lecture by John Tyler, CSB, entitled "Spiritual Man Discovered." In the spring, a week-long, college-wide promotion of the Christian Science Monitor helped to increase the student's and faculty's awareness of the newspaper.

Front row: Amy Heath, Pat Gibbs, Amy Reagle; Back row: Julie Littlefield, Jeff Jords, Polly Roberts

Lutheran Student Association

Starting off the year with the traditional student congregation picnic with volleyball, good food, and fun, the Lutheran Student Association met Sunday afternoons for games, Bible studies, a kite-flying contest or a sailing outing. Building on their theme of "Maturing in the Faith" the students sought to increase their social awareness through guest speakers. They supported a child in Thailand and raised money for World Hunger through work projects for the congregation. A square dance was hosted for the entire church, and the congregation, in turn, welcomed students into their homes for dinner.

A couch chorus line, members of the Lutheran Student Association warm up their vocal chords prior to the pre-meeting singalong.

Kurt Knachel

Greek life

Greek Life was a fraternity/sorority Christian group which also welcomed non-Greeks. Only in its second year Greek Life met Sunday evenings in Tasewell to discuss the concerns of Christian college students. With the leadership of Campus Crusade staff members, social activities included a semester-end picnic at Waller Mill, a Halloween hayride, and a Christmas party. Conferences to Knoxville, Tennessee and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania gave several W&M students a chance to see other Christian Greeks from all over the nation. The organization also conducted a dating survey in the Caf and Wig to which 1200 students responded.

Front row: Don Kearby, Greg Kontapanos, Karen Nuckols, Michele Jerome, Andy Knapp, Becks Ward, Lauten Volgenau, Abigail Duff, Donna Solberg, Karen Thorne, Mary Helen Johnson. Second row: Karsten Leatstrand, Sara Hughes, Shannon Berry, Mary Willis Jones, Heather Brown, Val Anderson, Lindy Warrick, Steve Shafter, Bill Warrick, Kelly Stone, Scott Craig. Back row: Chip Chuckney, Kate Chuckney, Traces Turner, Dave Nygaard, Brad Holsinger, Linda Reynard, Beth Meitler, Brigid Dorsey

RELIGION (cont'd)

withdrawing from the world."

Whatever the stated purpose of the religious groups, the types of programs sponsored by each were basically the same. Sometime during the weekend, each organization conducted a large meeting for the entire chapter. Throughout the week, the chapter broke into small groups, usually of five to ten people. Time Howe explained, "The small groups help people get to know one another and to explore Christian life. The large groups help us maintain our identity as a campus-wide fellowship and allow use of special resources like speakers or presentations.

(cont. on p. 267)

Traveling from college to college, Tim Gillis preaches on the evils of sin. His sidewalk evangelism visit at William and Mary was met by critics on all sides, as he claims he was saved at a Van Halen concert.

Rob Guillen

Baptist Student Union

The greatest change for the Baptist Student Union was in directors: Pete Parks and his wife replaced Jean Haywood. Meetings on Sunday nights began with a meal prepared by local congregations followed either by a speaker or a sing-a-long. The group also attended various retreats. One favorite retreat was held at Eagle Evrie, at the Baptist Convention Center near Lynchburg. Ecumenical projects, raising money for and participating in mission work, and two choirs, one handbell and the other vocal, helped to keep the members unified in direction and purpose.

At one of their regular Sunday evening dinners, BSU members enjoy a hearty meal

Amy Peters

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation, the campus ministry program for the United Methodist Church, provided a means for students from the College to participate in a varied program of fellowship suppers, group discussions, service projects and recreation. The suppers were among the tastiest on campus. Group discussions ranged over topics as varied as "Faith Development" and "A Sense of Place." Service projects included helping Wellspring United Methodist Church paint their new building. Recreation also took many forms: skiing, volleyball, sailing. In these and many other ways the members of the Wesley Foundation celebrated the fullness and diversity of creation as they plan, work and play within an open and supportive fellowship.

Fellowship and food. Members of the Wesley Foundation enjoy an informal dinner of lasagne and trench bread.

Amy Peters

Catholic Student Association

The motto, "Explore, Celebrate, and Proclaim," carried the Catholic Student Association through the year. Weekly masses on Sundays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays provided the services for the over 600 Catholic students on campus. To prepare for entrance into the church or for confirmation the group provided Christian education. The CSA was also strong in its social ministry program. Outreach volunteer programs went to the Pines Nursing Home, Eastern State Mental Hospital, and the Newport News Juvenile Detention Home. The group was also involved with Change of Pace, the Student Ecumenical Council, and the Nuclear Disarmament Study Group. A unique fund raiser for a home-building project in Appalachia was a successful "Damn Yankees Night" at the Pub in honor of Northern students. Their intramural women's flag football team won their second straight college championship and the coed volleyball took their first championship.

Mark Berman

The Wren Chapel is the perfect place for a Tuesday afternoon mass. Father Ron Seguin conducts service for the small gathering.

RELIGION (cont'd)

In addition to these basic structures, religious groups offered other services. CSA members visited nursing homes and prisons. The Baptist Student Union, through Walnut Hills Baptist Church, offered an "adoption" of students into church families. Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship operated a book table, distributing books and pamphlets free of charge to the college community. Finally, several groups held collective prayer services in the Campus Center. Sophomore Jeanne Lindner summarized, "It's unreal that there are so many groups here. If anybody is seeking God, there's bound to be a group for them."

—Brent Armistead

Discussion groups are a major part of many religious organizations on campus. Important moral, political, ethical, as well as religious issues are common topics.

Some people never grow up. One look at supposedly intelligent students going trick-or-treating, or gleefully sneaking around being “secret santas” is proof enough. The holidays have always had special significance in college. They are sometimes celebrated for sentimental reasons: homesick students continue the traditions reminiscent of their childhoods. But, more often than not, they are just an excuse for a party.

F E A T U R E

Holidays

Although Labor Day is neglected by the college, many students honor the holiday anyway with a trip to the beach. In fact, Labor Day is frequently celebrated almost every weekend in late August and September. Williamsburg’s celebrants were intent on maintaining this holiday’s rituals of swimming, picnicing and maintaining the summer’s tan. The motivation behind the observance was escape. Dan Kerson remembered being “happy to get out of Williamsburg for the weekend. It was nice to get away from the college before classes really started for the semester.” Kathee Marcus recalled what Labor Day meant to her. “It marked the end of summer, and the start of something more serious. It was a clear turning point in my mind.”

Halloween does strange things to William and Mary. Giggling, excited students go trick-or-treating “for the first time since I was a kid,” claimed Kristin Kauffman. “It was terrific!” Carved pumpkins grinned from many dorm windows, and pregnant nuns, gaudy prostitutes, toothpaste tubes and typewriter erasers roam the dark streets, party-bound.

Thanksgiving was duly observed by many dorms with a bigger feast than any pilgrim ever imagined. But the most notable thing about Thanksgiving was the break, four “busy, frantic, and all too short” days, according to Dan Caron that ushered in the longest month of the semester.

Christmas was probably the biggest holiday of the year — for students as well as tourists. Despite end-of-the-semester academic pressures, the Christmas Spirit was infectious. Caroling outings, Christmas shopping and parties lured students away from their books.

---

Holidays (cont'd)

---

Everyone looked forward to the traditional Yule Log Ceremony, where study-weary students could symbolically toss their troubles away, sing carols and listen to Santa Graves. Amy Cartfield spoke for many when she remarked that, "the Grinch story is such a tradition here, I look forward to it so much that it helps pull me through exams." In light of the Fall semester protest against the exam schedule, the story of the Grinch who stole Christmas took on an added significance. However, President Graves treated it with a sense of humor. "I considered reading a different story this year," joked Graves, and added "finals on December 23rd" to the Grinch's list of atrocities. Grand Illumination attracted hundreds of visitors to CW with fife & drum corps, handbell choirs and spectacular fireworks.

The Spring holidays were not often honored with such splashy celebrations, but they were significant nonetheless. For Val-

(cont. on p. 273)

Jan Singletary

Eddie Reichberg

Jan Singletary

For the Thanksgiving Feast in Tazewell, the dorms provided the turkey and Randolph residents were asked to bring the rest. Cranberry sauce was a favorite contribution.

Halloween brings out the beauties and the beasts. Jim Daniels, Basil Belsches, and Brett Barrick celebrate in a slightly perverse way.

Growing up is never a linear phenomenon, and regressing is a common occurrence. Debbie Perry, at a Christmas Coloring Party, delights in being able to stay in the lines of the teddy bear.

Preparing for a Thanksgiving extravaganza, Claire Brooks and guest carefully set their places in Tazewell while Jim Powell digs into his meal.

---

Holidays (cont.)

---

High upon Dad's shoulders, a little caroler holds tightly to her sprig of holly before throwing it on the Yule Log.

Bundled up against the weather, Don Lucidi mumbles some carols at the ODK-Mortar Board Yule Log Ceremony.

At the BSU Christmas Party, Revonda Bowers and Santa's helper Karen Beale discuss their Christmas wishes.

Postcard perfect and dressed for the holiday season, the President's House is dusted with a light layer of snow.

Photos by Jan Singletary

entine's Day, several sweetheart dances and the annual Yates carnation sale marked the occasion. Ben Waller observed that "even the guys got into the romantic spirit of the things when the flowers started arriving. Our floor made out pretty well, too — we averaged 1.5 carnations per person." And of course, St. Patrick's Day remained a favorite, since the main ingredient of celebrations was green beer. Any occasion, whether an important religious holiday, a birthday, a celebration of a win, or a Tuesday, students found reasons to celebrate.

—Jay Alfred

FACES

---

Administration

276

Freshmen

280

Sophomores

294

Juniors

312

Seniors

328

How the Grinch Almost Stole Christmas

Richard Cumbee, Dir. Campus Police

Duane Dittman, VP for University Advcmnt.

Zeddie Bowen, Dean of Faculty

Stuart Wagner

“December twenty-third? What do you mean I won’t finish exams until the twenty-third? Now there’s no way I’ll make it home for Christmas.” The protests to the Fall exam schedule were loud. The issue touched almost everyone. And for once, students cared enough about an administrative decision to take a stand.

Bulletins announcing the exam schedule circulated on campus. A petition followed requesting a schedule change, and was signed eagerly by students. But the administration remained undaunted. President Graves and the Deans of the college had made their decision: the exam schedule would remain unchanged. Then the protest began in earnest. Organized in the S.A.,

A D M I N I S

Stanley Brown, Dir. Job Placement

James Copeland, Dir. Men's Athletics

a peaceful sing-in was held on the lawn of the President’s house. Chiding Graves as “The Grinch Who Stole Christmas,” hundreds gathered on the warm October afternoon to sing Christmas carols. It was an occasion of unprecedented student involvement, so amazing that it was covered by several local newspapers and television stations.

What caused such a heated reaction? Rick Markam spoke for many students when he explained that “the late exams were a big problem for me and for a lot of my friends. But we were mainly angry at the administration’s initial lack of interest in our requests for a schedule change.” After the student demonstration, the decision was reversed. Exams ended on December 21 by taking away one day of reading period and having exams on a Sunday.

Lester Hooker, Dir. W&M Hall

Although students were pacified by the reversal, on this issue and others, students felt that the administration had revealed just how insensitive and out of touch with student concerns they really were. However, most of the administrators have made a concerted effort to build trust and to establish a working relationship with students.

made an effort not to be dogmatic. ("I tried to explain the reasons for things, and to diffuse the student's anger. I also tried to be as honest as I could.) If I couldn't answer a question, I said so." Unexpected benefits were also a part of the job. Dean Smith enjoyed meeting with students in his leisure time, and often developed close friendships outside the office.

As the administrator in charge of discipline and academics, Associate
(cont'd on p. 278).

As the link between administrators and students, Mr. Sam Sadler was in a key position to bridge the gap between the two sides as Dean of Students. He felt he did his job best by "showing a caring attitude toward students, and by being sympathetic and understanding." Dean Sadler emphasized that he "also tried to advise students on college procedures and help them take advantage of educational opportunities."

Mr. Ken Smith, Associate Dean of Student Activities, also described his job as a helping position. "People in charge of organizations need help in leading others and in controlling finances; they often come to me." Dealing with sensitive matters, such as the regulation of alcohol on campus, sometimes made his job difficult, but he

Amy Jarmon, Associate Dean of Students

Terry Meyers, Associate Dean of Faculty

T R A T I O N

Thomas Graves, President of the College

Charles Quittmeyer, Dean of Business Ken Smith, Assoc. Dean of Student Act

Photos by Warren Kowitz

Mary Beaver

Grinch (cont'd)

G. Gary Ripple, Dean of Admissions Sam Sadler, Dean of Students

Dean of Students Amy Jarmon was not always popular among students. She felt that this was unwarranted, because she made every effort to deal fairly with students. Dean Jarmon emphasized especially that she "tried to deal with each area of a student's life separately. I did not hold one thing against a student while trying to deal with a separate problem." She enjoyed establishing and building rapport with students so that she could stay in contact with them. "I like to work with students for a number of years," she remarked. "It helps me get acquainted with the student's background more thoroughly, and to counsel them more effectively."

The job of an administrator does have its rewards. According to Dean Jarmon, "the fact that I can benefit even a few people now and then keeps me active in Student Affairs." Dean Sadler concurred: "I get some neat payoff from my job. Seeing a struggle

Mildred West, Dir. of Women's Athletics

"I tried to explain the reasons for things, and to diffuse the student's anger. I also tried to be as honest as I could."

—Ken Smith, Assoc. Dean of Student Activities

William Spong, Dean of Law Faculty Charles Toomajan, Registrar

Larry Broomall, VP of Business Affairs

On October 27th, students showed their concern over late exam schedules by singing Christmas carols on the President's Lawn

"I like to work with students for a number of years. It helps me counsel them more effectively."

—Amy Jarmon, Associate Dean of Students

George Healy, VP of Academic Affairs

finally resolved, or having someone come back and say thank you a few years later gives me a special feeling." All the administrators tried to help students discover more about themselves. Dean Smith "enjoyed helping students see unseen talents, and steering them in a good direction."

Was there a gap between students and administration? Of course, there were inevitable differences between them. But in spite of the issues that divided them, students and administrators willingly worked together to solve problems. Still, it helped to remember, as Dean Smith observed, "that we are all human beings . . . we are normal people."

James Yankovich, Dean of Education

Abbey-Brown, J.

Robin Abbey Richmond
 Andrea Adkins Gate City
 Eric Ajami Alexandria
 Dan Aldridge Sunland, MD
 Steven Richard Alexander Rockville, MD
 Elizabeth Allee Ithaca, NY
 Todd S. Almeida Little Compton, RI

Mia Amaya Durham, NC
 Cindy Ameen Hopewell
 Penney Anderson Virginia Beach
 Brent Armistead Mechanicsville
 Cathi Arsenault Central Islip, NY
 A. Leigh Ashley Virginia Beach
 Susan Leslie Asplundh Bryn Athyn, PA

Julie K. Atkinson Portsmouth
 Adam B. Auel Purcellville
 Theresa Ayotte Sharon, MA
 Jeanette Baer Newport News
 Maureen E. Baker McLean
 Patricia M.D. Baker Franklin
 Ramona Leigh Baliles Stuart

Connie Bane Christiansburg
 Karen E. Barclay/Huntsville, AL
 Susan Barco Virginia Beach
 Rebecca L. Barnes Franklin
 Robert A. Barnes Roanoke
 Michelle Baron Salem
 David Bass Richmond

F R E S

Kristen Battablia Virginia Beach
 John Baule Portsmouth
 Anne Theresa Beck Rockville, MD
 Elizabeth Bell Windsor
 Allison P. Belsches Mechanicsville
 Pamela Beltran Lynchburg
 Alice M. Bengtson Wyomissing, PA

Leah Elizabeth Bennett Auburn, AL
 Pamela Ann S. Bitto White Post
 Debbie Blackstone Fairfax
 Terence G. Blackwood Richmond
 Carey Stuart Body Wilmington, DE
 Jennifer J. Bond Winter Park, FL
 Melinda Bond Richmond

Sarah Frances Bottoms New York, NY
 Revonda Bowers Daleville
 Mary Lynn Bowles Rocky Mount
 Mary Ruth Bowman Vienna
 Mary Christine Boyes Bedford
 Terry Boyle Milton, DE
 Marie Bradsher Williamsburg

Richard B. Bridges Marietta, GA
 Douglas Wright Brinkley Lowson, MD
 Sabrina E. Brinkley Chesapeake
 Glenn Robert Brooks West Chester, PA
 Ann Maria Brosnahan Falls Church
 Ann Caroline Brown Homestead, FL
 Janice Brown Louis River, NJ

Tanya Yolanda Brown Culpeper
 Rebecca L. Browning Olney, MD
 James Brubaker Wayne, NJ
 Cindy G. Budinger Grosse Pointe, MI
 Beth Burger Camden, SC
 Bonnie A. Burnette Newburgh, NY
 Elizabeth A. Burr Amhurst, NY

Laura Burrus Oak Ridge, TN
 Debbie Bush Alexandria
 Jane Elizabeth Bush Camillus, NY
 Sherry Lynn Bushong Timbersville
 Jane Butler Ridgefield, CT
 Priscilla M. Butler New Orleans, LA
 Terry Buyer Orange

David Howard Cahn Needham, MA
 Ansley Carol Calhoun Atlanta, GA
 Sharon M. Callahan Cinnaminson, NJ
 Kathleen Calpin Middletown
 Angela Campbell Reston
 Amy E. Campbell Alexandria
 William M. Caplan Newport News

Cathleen Ann Caputo Belmont, MA
 Anna H. Carew Washington Depot, CT
 Terri Carneal Edina, MN
 Ruben A. Caropresso Haymarket
 Heidi Marie-Beatrice Carr Manassas
 Richard Carter Forest
 Bill Carver Virginia Beach

H M E N

Kathy Rawson

The next best thing

Freshman year will always mean the first fling at true freedom; the first experiment at building your own world. Yet, the ties to home run deep. C&P's commercials coax until fierce independence collapses under collegiate worries. The need to hear a familiar voice impels many to seek long distance comfort.

Carwile-Fredrickson

Tommy Carwile Petersburg
Nadine M. Casavecchia Bay Shore, NY
Susan Cass Lynchburg
Angela Castle Hempstead, NY
Charlisa Christian Falls Church
Michelle G. Christie Williamsburg
Elizabeth Hope Clancy Reston

Anita G. Clark Newport News
Kevin Patrick Clark Arlington
William J. Clinton Vienna
David S. Cloud Alexandria
Elizabeth Colavito Virginia Beach
Joel Wesley Collier Roanoke
Margaret A. Collins Jenkintown, PA

Chris Comey Allendale, NJ
Monica Cord Amundale
Christopher Cornell Vahalla, NY
Susan Renee Coumes Newport News
Ruth L. Cove Lawtonville
Craig Cox Hightstown, NJ
Christopher M. Craig Falls Church

Kim Cronin Stony Brook, NY
Kay Margaret Cronk West Sand Lake, NY
Anita Marie Cross Alexandria
Catherine L. Crosswhite Hampton
Kathleen Curtis Falls Church
Mona Belle Czuch River Edge, NJ
Stephen Wayne Dennis Virginia Beach

Anne Marie Detterer Wyomissing, PA
William A. Devan Charlottesville, VA
Kristie Anne Deyerle Hockessin, DE
Joy Dibble Sarasota, FL
Darby Dickerson Wyomissing, PA
Joan Doerflinger McLean
Marsha Domzalski Fairfax

Gretchen Kunzler Doner New Providence, PA
Geri Lea Douglas Midlothian
Kelly Doyle Richmond
Susan Doyle Falls Church
Ann Drake Burke
L. Darby Drew Hampden-Sydney
Martha J. Droe Alexandria

Maureen H. Dubus Chester
Bele I. Eckert Essen West Germany
Cindy Edwards Williamsburg
Margaret Eklind Longwood, FL
Vicki Ellis Columbia, MD
Elizabeth F. Erte Williamsburg
Laura L. Evans Alexandria

Rosemary Evans Gloucester Point
Elizabeth Fairweather Enterprise, AL
Anne L. Fallon East Setauket, NY
Mary Louise Falvo New Hartford, NY
Jane E. Fanestil La Jolla, CA
David Field Springfield
Kevin Alan Fink Virginia Beach

Nancy P. Foschetti Sterling
Kathleen Fitzgerald Cresskill, NJ
R. Peter Fitzgerald Manassas
Elizabeth Flamm Norwalk, CT
Howard Fleece Fairfax
Donna P. Flinn Chesapeake
Tora Fredrickson Alexandria

Kristine L. Fryer Sudburg, M.A.
 Marylouise Fuhon Martinsville
 Elizabeth H. Fulghum Williamsburg
 Tamara Funk Warren, N.J.
 Stephen B. Furman Wilmington, DE
 Mary Catherine Gair Annandale

Kathy R...

Lounging around

Providing a refuge from the academic buildings and a place to gather, eat, socialize and relax, the Day Student House promotes unity among day students. Of course, it is also a great place to relax with a magazine before heading off to class.

W

Making the rounds

Williamsburg gets more than its share of visitors. But in addition to the usual tourists, the city is often host to celebrities and political figures. Julie Zydron and Fred Rauscher of the Young Democrats greet their Senate incumbent candidate Dick Davis, who stopped by during his re-election campaign early this fall.

Mark Beavers

David R. Gallagher, Jr. Warsaw
 Christine Galloway Warefield
 Karen V. Garr Culpeper
 Rebecca Gendron Virginia Beach
 Kevin L. Gentry Mechanicsville
 Lila Rani Ghatak Richmond
 Mary J. Gibson Arlington

Lynne Ellen Giermak Erie, PA
 Sarah Louise Giffen Sturbridge, MA
 Celeste M. Gilbertie Easton, CT
 Polly L. Gladding Onancock
 John S. Golwen Memphis, TN
 Mary Graham Virginia Beach
 Campbell Watkin Gray, III Alexandria

Grimsley-Katz

Anna N. Grimsley Richmond
 Edward P. Grissom, Jr. Chesapeake
 Virginia L. Groseclose Front Royal
 Ann E. Gulesian Williamsburg
 Chad Gunnoe Forest
 Michael Gur Winchester
 Christina Lee Hager Gaithersburg, MD

Donna E. Hagstrand Richmond
 Stephen Hall Abingdon
 Ken Halla Vienna
 Kristin Hallenberg Fairfax
 Alison Haller Richmond
 Margaret Halsey San Francisco, CA
 Margaret Hallstead Fairfax

Sherelyn Hammett Richmond
 David Kyu Han Springfield
 Maria Hanahoe Burke
 Dana Hancock Roanoke
 Phillip Hardin Chesapeake
 Margret Harned Alexandria
 Lisa Dawn Harper Clifton

Molly Harris Waynesboro
 Douglas Scott Hawkins Wilmington, DE
 Jan Hearth Newport News
 Bill Hefele Mechanicsville
 Laurel Heneghan Annandale
 Annie Leigh Henley Manakin-Sabot
 Anne M. Herbst Temple Hills, MD

Amy J. Heth Lynbrook, NY
 Andrea M. Hill Ft. Belvoir
 Mark Hissong Vienna
 Colleen Hogan Virginia Beach
 Carol S. Holmes Annandale
 Edwin W. Holt Virginia Beach
 Jill-Taylor Hubbard Randolph, NJ

C. Harris Huckahee Lanchburg
 Yolanda Huey Norfolk
 Kim Hugney Alexandria
 Richard Hulme Herndon
 Dixie L. Jack Portsmouth
 Bradley Jacobs Oakton
 Laurence Jaffe Bloomfield, NJ

Patti James Richmond
 Julia Jane Jans Virginia Beach
 Peter M. Jans Stafford
 Christy Jarvis Virginia Beach
 Rhonda Jett Lancaster
 Andrew V. Jewell Silver Springs, MD
 Michael W. Johnson Richmond

Michele Johnson Alexandria
 Norman Johnson Grotto, VA
 Pamela S. Johnson Lynchburg
 Susan M. Johnson Fairfax
 David Holland Johnston Richmond
 Jennifer Jones Larchmont, NY
 John Bennett Jones, Junior Hampton

Karen Dawn Jones Suffolk
 Tammy L. Jones Williamsburg
 James A. Judy Richmond
 Andrew H. Kahl Vienna
 Brian Kane Sudbury, MA
 Eileen Lee Katman Cinnaminson, NJ
 Ruth Katz Gamesville, IL

Keenan-Mears

Jody Keenan Manassas
 Irene Elizabeth Kelly Vienna
 Christine Marie Kelton Marlton, NJ
 Lora I. Keshishian Potomac, MD
 Eleanor A. Ketchum Bethesda, MD
 Anoush Keyorkian Richmond
 Elizabeth Marie Keyes Virginia Beach

Rhanna Kidwell Richmond
 Jennifer Ann King Hendersonville, NC
 Magon Kinzie Virginia Beach
 Elizabeth B. Kling Alexandria
 John F. Knowles Alexandria
 John J. Koegl, II Stephens City, VA
 Mary Kosko Pittsburgh, PA

Denise Kruelle Alexandria
 Jeffrey Krugman McLean
 Pam Krulitz Columbus, IN
 Mary Pat Kurtz Stamford, CT
 Peter Lang Vero Beach, FL
 Rick Larriek Arlington
 Elizabeth Law Manassas

Janet Lawson Dumfries
 Andrea J. Leftwich Chesapeake
 Lynn Ann Leonard Fairfax
 Katherine Leupold Arlington
 Heidi Lewis Alexandria
 James E. Lewis Great Falls
 Marion M. Li Fairfax

Christine M. Lindsey Middlethian
 Lesin Deming Liskey Harrisonburg
 Beth Loudy Kilmarnock
 Janine M. Lowery Virginia Beach
 Helina W. Lukens Wynnewood, PA
 Lisa Lutz Edinburg
 Sara Mabry Rural Retreat, VA

Debbie Maccoll Wellesley, MA
 Katherine Macgregor Virginia Beach
 Donald Mackey Sudbury, MA
 Andrea Mardones Santiago, Chile
 Laura Martin Covington
 Amy L. Martsolf Charlottesville
 Patricia Anne Massard Menlo Park, CA

Jane-Marie Masters West Palm Beach, FL
 Cynthia R. Matera Woodbridge
 Lisa Michelle Matick Peekskill
 David Michael Maxwell Chesapeake
 Melinda May Alexandria
 Laurie Elizabeth Mays Hiland Springs
 Liz McCloskey McLean

Ann Meredith McCord Virginia Beach
 James F. McDaniel Buckingham
 Deborah McDaniels Glen Burnie, MD
 Gabrielle B. McDonald Scituate, MA
 Susan McDonald Burke
 S. Blair McGeorge Richmond
 Ellen McGhee Knoxville, TN

Patrick McGrath Gaithersburg, MD
 Manus Kevin McHugh Devon, PA
 Paula Sue McMillen Chesapeake
 Janet M. McMinn Nashville, TN
 Martha Louise Meade Staunton
 Mary Ruth Meade Staunton
 Diahann Mears Belle Haven

What's news?

In preparation for a quiz in her government class, Amy Welty reads the Washington Post for the morning's news. But opting for the Style section instead of the front page may not be exactly what her professor had in mind. There is always a chance that he will ask a question about Mister Rogers.

Mary Jula

Christine Meily Lebanon
 Gari A. Melchers Virginia Beach
 James Merskine Springfield
 Susan Meyers Vienna
 Hillary Ruth Michaels Norfolk
 Julie Miller Homewood, IL
 Lisette Misage Alexandria

Diane Mitchell Richmond
 Willie H. Mitchell III Annapolis, MD
 Elizabeth Anne Moliter Springfield
 Suzanne Mongrain Bayport, NY
 Beth Monin Stillwater, OK
 Marie Montalto Chesapeake
 Catherine Moon Flemington, NJ

Moore-Pope

Vicki Moore Richmond
 Mary Katherine Morgan Roanoke
 Robin Rae Morris Poquoson
 Katherine Moser Falls Church
 Kim Moses Park Forest, II
 J. Alec Murphy Falls Church
 Thomas Myers Wyltherville

Chandri Navarro Chapel Hill, NC
 Norma J. Nedrow Vienna
 Douglass Neil Sykesville, MD
 Jeff Nelms Smithfield
 Debbie Nelson Richmond
 Helene Nelson Manassas
 Jane Neste Virginia Beach

Lynn Newbury Lincoln Park, NJ
 Will S. Nicklin Warrenton
 John Alexis Nimo Annapolis
 Lisa O'Brien Hauppauge, NY
 William Ross O'Brien Richmond
 Sue O'Brien Springfield
 Matt Obuchowski Hunt

Timothy Michael O'Conner Coumington
 Lisa Allison Ohler Swannanoa, NC
 Kristine M. O'Keefe Rockville, MD
 Karen I. Olsen Fredrick, MD
 N. Sedef Onder Fairfax
 Joanne Orr Chester
 Beth Anne Overstreet Norfolk

Cheryl L. Owen Norfolk
 Sandra Ellen Parham Fairfax
 Amy Parker Dover, MA
 Jeanette Parker Windsor
 Larry Patish Norfolk
 Kathleen Alva Patten Springfield
 Catherine Patterson Wausau, WI

Bryan Peery Richmond
 Lori Pepple Reston
 Debbie Perry Virginia Beach
 Frances A. Petres Richmond
 Mary Catherine Phelps Erie, PA
 Dan Phillips Bowie, MD
 Glenna Phillips Fairfax

Jennifer M. Phillips Annapolis
 Noah Pierson McLean
 Pamela J. Piscatelli Holmdel, NJ
 Cary Polk Verona
 John M. Poma
 Phil Pommerening McLean
 Emma June Pope/Petersburg

W Study Hall

What could be more annoying than coming home from a night of studying to finish that paper in the privacy of your own room, only to find that your roommate, for whatever reason, has locked you out? Avoiding the social scene in your friendly hall study lounge is a must. Besides, it's Thursday night and everyone will be watching Hill Street Blues. So, you settle down in the hall and prepare for a long night.

Pratt-Roberts

James B. Pratt Foxboro, MA
 Sandra K. Press Richmond
 Lynn C. Putnam Durham, NC
 Pete Quagliano Richmond
 Shelly Ann Raby Springfield
 Lianne Radell Richmond
 Jo Raffaele Dayton, OH

Mark Bryan Ragland Richmond
 Sterling Ransone Jr. Mathews
 Anne-Jarrell Raper Richmond
 Christina Rasco Alexandria
 Heidi Reihansperger McHenry, II
 Susan Anne Reilly Little Silver, NJ
 Kari L. Renshaw Columbia, SC

Lesa Mary Rice Mechanicsville
 Steve Richard Sterling
 Kathy Richardson Annandale
 Doug Riggan Chesapeake
 Diane Leigh Roberson Springfield
 Amy Renee Roberts Lynchburg
 Kim Roberts Hampton

Warren County

Mark Beavers

Like father . . .

Not even his position as college Athletic Director keeps Jim Copeland from his paternal duties. On hand for a Saturday of football at Cary Field, Copeland keeps a steady eye on the action and a steadier hand on his sideline companion.

Lisa Robertson Brightwood
 Suzanne Robinson Brighton, MI
 Kenneth Rogich Alexandria
 Heddy Lina Sahakian State College, PA
 Christopher D. Sailer Williamsburg
 Karen G. Salmon Sandy Hook
 Rebecca Samuel Vienna

Ann M. Santilli Winchester
 Roy Sauberman Fairfax
 Eileen Schechter Burke
 Linda Schooley Virginia Beach
 Denise Joy Schulke Hamilton
 Matt Seu Williamsburg
 Alison M. Seyler West Allenhurst, NJ

Heather L. Shaw Tully, NY
 Jennifer I. Shingleton Sterling
 Ann Shufflebarger Radford
 Brian Shull Winchester
 David Silber Narberth, PA
 Andria Rose Silver Matawan, NJ
 Lisa Marie Simeone Richard

David Siren Springfield
 Charles Sisson Vienna
 William Slattery Millford, DE
 Lucinda Snyder Wytheville
 William Sodeman Tampa Florida
 Elizabeth Sowers Vienna
 Artemis Maria Spanoulis Virginia Beach

Stevens-Zieske

Marla Kaye Stevens Roanoke
 Michael C. Stinson Forest
 Cynthia Storer Hampton
 Kathy Suchenski Stamford, CT
 Cornelia Sullivan Alexandria
 Richard Sullivan Glen Head, NY
 Lyn Elizabeth Taber Chester

Jonathan Tarrant Falls Church
 Monica Tetzlaff Vero Beach, FL
 Karen Thierfelder New Milford, CT
 Mary Elizabeth Thomason Arlington
 Kristel Thombs Fredericksburg
 Jeanette Thompson VA Beach
 Pam Tiffany Naples, FL

Elizabeth Ann Tinsley Springfield
 Philip D. Tremo Lebanon, NJ
 Lisa Ellen Trimboli East Northport, NY
 David A. Verner Richmond
 Ken Vikery Decatur, AL
 Lisa Anne Voneschen Stonybrook, NY
 Renee D. Wade Richmond

Dan M. Walker, Jr. Vienna
 Chuch Wall Richmond
 Julie Wallace VA Beach
 Julia V. Waller Richmond
 E. Venson Wallin, Jr. Richmond
 Barbara J. Walters Richmond
 Denise Walton Mattaponi

Henry Clay Ward, IV Metuchen, NJ
 Renee L. Ward Ledyard, CT
 Puala Warwick Lynchburg
 Ben Weaver Blueball, PA
 Julie Weaver Richmond
 Kathryn M. Webb Williamsburg
 Daniel M. Weber Aihburn

Linda L. Weber Virginia Beach
 Susan Weeks Williamsburg
 Karen Sue Weiler N. Massapequa, NY
 Robert T. Weissman Chappaqua, NY
 Kathleen Welch Woodbury, NJ
 Meredith Whearthy Valhalla, NY
 Laura E. Wheeler Fairfax

Carolyn White Spring House, Pa
 Laurie L. White Matthews
 Margie White Gloucester Point
 Samuel Wiley White Norfolk
 Susan White Towson, MD
 Anne Brooks Whitworth Charlottesville
 Daryl Kevin Wiggins Poquoson

Meredith Wilcox Putney
 Pamela Wilgenbusch New York, NY
 Liz Williams Middletown, NJ
 Michael F. Willis Lynchburg
 Laurie Ann Winner Lonaconing, MD
 Pam Witherspoon Fairfax
 Elizabeth D. Wlodarczak Anville

Lisa Marie Wright New Market
 Mark Brian Wychulis Silver Spring, MD
 Nancy N. Young Kansas City, MO
 Sharon R. Young Alexandria
 Susan L. Zanetti Virginia Beach
 Debbie Zanfagna Falls Church
 Kimberly Zieske Mechanicsville

Mark Beavers

Academia lost

The guy down the hall says he has three midterms due Tuesday. His girlfriend needs an extension on a paper because she has two meetings tonight. Her best friend has to work four nights this week or she would help her roommate who can't type a paper that was due yesterday because she has field hockey practice every afternoon. For students who have forty-eight hour days, academics almost becomes a hinderance. Virginia Ellzey, senior, takes an afternoon and a quiet spot on campus to indulge in what can easily be lost in the William and Mary tension game — studying.

Acree-Brownlee

Jill Ogden Acree McLean
Jennifer Leslie Adams Alexandria
Aileen H. Aderton Lynchburg
Janice M. Allen Augusta, GA
Carrie M. Allison Nokesville
Heather R. Ames Herndon
Jane R. Anderson Williamsburg

Karen Anderson Springfield
Lori L. Anderson Manassas
Patricia M. Anderson Springfield
Virginia A. Arata Charleston, WV
Sharon Archer Amherst, MA
Arlene Marie Armilla Vienna
Todd Robert G. Armstrong Newport, RI

Martha Leigh Arnold Springfield
Sheila Arries Herndon
Margaret Ashburn Indianapolis, IN Alan Ashworth Ashland
William P. Atchison Falls Church
Victoria Avery Alexandria
Laura J. Avis Arlington

Benton Bailey Salem
D. Scott Bailey Nokesville
John Ball Annandale
Andrea Lynne Balliette Cape Amy Court,
NJ
Kimberly Kea Barlow Vinton
Monica J. Baroody Annandale
Virginia G. Baskett Virginia Beach

S O P H O

Kord Hall Basnight Chesapeake
Donna Becker Madison, WI
Karen A. Beckwith Newport News
Amy Victoria Bell Mechanicsville
Susan West Benefield Roanoke
William J. Bennett Springfield
Karen E. Berg Arlington

Shannon Berry Richmond
Margaret Bickley Arlington
Anne Bierman Chargin Falls, OH
David Bisese Virginia Beach
Jenny Blackwell Roanoke
Susan G. Blake Boca
Jill Bobbin Convent Station, NJ

Kathryn A. Born Blacksburg
Susan Bowe Williamsburg
Melissa Bowling Hopewell
Ken Bradley Hampton
Andrew Brandt Richmond
Therese Breidenhach Springfield
Walter Vance Briceland Richmond

Jennifer L. Brock Wilmington, DE
Jeffrey Clarke Brockman Lynchburg
Howard D. Books Richmond
Nancy Brooks Richmond, IN
Gigi Brown Lynchburg
Heather Brown Greenville, SC
Tracy Brownlee Fairfax

Sandra Brubaker Philadelphia, PA
 Gary Bryant North Grafton, MA
 William M. Budd Alexandria
 Laura Buechner Manassas
 Lavonne Burger Hampton
 Jan Burgess Capron
 Colleen P. Burke Scituate, MA

Sharon Burks Richmond
 Thornton G. Burnette Lynchburg
 Cara Jane Burton Nassawadox
 Anne Bynum Fairfax
 Jennifer Beth Campbell Berwyn, PA
 James Cason Malverne, NY
 Toni Suzane Chaos Lynchburg

Auson L. Chapple Lake Placid, NY
 Paul H. Chopman Virginia Beach
 Elizabeth Christopher Pembroke East,
 Bermuda
 David A. Clark Princeton Jct., NJ
 Emily A. Clark Richmond
 Amanda Clements Livermore, CA
 Karen Ann Close Vienna

Rebecca Cobert Falls Church
 Rob Coble Virginia Beach
 Laurie Ann Cogswell Arlington
 W. Christopher Cole Richmond
 Scott C. Commander Virginia Beach
 Scott Compton Alexandria
 Melissa D. Conner Alexandria

M O R E S

Rob Gaulten

Colonial escape

Communing with the tourists in Colonial Williamsburg can provide a nice escape from academic pressures. As November and December had unseasonably warm temperatures and a reduction of the number of tourists, Jenny Lewis takes an afternoon ride in the uncrowded restored area.

Warren Koontz

Old Campus dorms

Walking over to Landrum to share his package with a friend, Chandler's resident Dan Lane uses the convenient walkway between the two dorms. Unlike any other dorms on campus, Jefferson, Barrett, Chandler's, and Landrum are all connected by covered sidewalks — an attribute much appreciated during the rainy days of winter.

Copeland-Gavaler

Nancy Copeland Suffolk
Margaret R. Corcillo Norwalk, CT
Diana Lynn Cordovana Chesapeake
Joseph B. Cornett Danville
Susan L. Cousins Williamsburg
Mary Coutes Richmond
Katharine Covert Centerville, MD

Jen Cox Richmond
J. Scott Craig Cincinnati, OH
Tom P. Crapps Gamesville, FL
Julia L. Critchfield Vienna
Colleen Marie Crowley Vienna
Gregg A. Crump Blue Bell, PA
Kevin K. Cullather Williamsburg

Lauren Cunningham Richmond
Betsy Danbury McLean
Mary J. Daniel Suffolk
Lisa Lee Daniels Arlington
Philip A. Davis Massapequa, NY
Susan Davis Richmond
Kathryn Dacker Vienna

Richard Decker Roanoke
Jamie E. Demaio Virginia Beach
John Dennis Nortolk
R. Scott Devers Williamsburg
Sheila Diggs Lawrenceville
Annemarie Dinardo Haymarket
Martha Ann Dixon Lynchburg

Laurie Dobbins Virginia Beach
Kathleen Doherty Massapequa Park, NY
Sharon Linda Doherty Hopewell
John S. Donohue Fairfax
Adam C. Dooley Newport News
Thomas Douglas Cotlett
Megan P. Dowd Severna Park, MD

Ron Downing Middlebun
Ellen Duffy Annapolis, MD
Marie Dullaghan Chesapeake
Karen Dunkle Hummelstown, PA
Karen Dziejdz Woodbridge
Gisele Echalar Arlington
J. Kimberly Eckert Virginia Beach

Bart Edmunds Roanoke
Carol Epling Salem
Linda A. Falk Virginia Beach
Maryellen Farmer Danvers, MA
Terry Farris Saltville
Allison Farwell Alexandria
Martha L. Feathers Hampton

Kimberly Ann Fiers Arlington
Kathy Fillippone Houston, TX
Jeff Fish Williamsburg
Jeff Fisher Clarks Summit, PA
Jeannie Flaherty Severna Park, MD
Joan Carol Folzenlogen Springfield
Ronnie Fossum Colonial Heights

Alexandra Frances Riverside, CT
Mark Minobu Fukuda Springfield
Laura Beth Fuqua Virginia Beach
James Gardiner Yonkers, NY
David A. Gardner Springfield
Julia Tisdale Garrett Alexandria
Joan Gavaler Pittsburgh, PA

Warren Kowitz

Julie Gedro Newport News
 Lisa George New Castle, PA
 Christine E. Gergely Newport News
 Deirdre Gerken Reston
 Ranu Ghatak Richmond
 Lyons Arthur Gilbert Atsugi, Japan
 Sherry Leigh Gill Hopewell

Alan Stephen Gillie Richmond
 Susan Lynn Ginger Virginia Beach
 Karen Jessne Gladola Richmond
 Debra Glasgow Richmond
 Harold M. Goldston Richmond
 Michele R. Golembiewski Norfolk
 Phyllis Ellen Goodwin Sterling

Peter Jegi Gordon Virginia Beach
 Susan Gordon Bristol
 Mary Kay Gorman Richmond
 Laura Gould Sterling
 Lillian A. Graves Williamsburg
 Julie Geer Salem
 Kimberly Rene Gregg Rockville, MD

Michelle Y. Grigg Virginia Beach
 Jennifer Jeanne Gross Vienna
 Karen Lee Gross Bel Air, MD
 Lorraine A. Groves Concord, NH
 Virginia Groves Los Alamos, NM
 Janet Grubber Great Mills, MD
 Nancy Lew Guarnier Virginia Beach

Growing class sizes

Back in high school prospective students were attracted to William and Mary by James Blair pamphlets advertising the College as having a small student/professor ratio. Although this is still predominately the case, as each freshmen class grows in number, large lecture halls are becoming increasingly full (the average class size was 1,150 for the freshmen, and the upperclasses following behind in the 1050 range)

Kari Guillen Woodbridge
Jennie Gundersen Point Pleasant, N.J.
Kim Haines Winchester
Breck Hall Lynchburg
Stephen M. Hall Danville
Terry Hall Indian Head, MD
Steven M. Hancock Piney River

John W. Harman Blacksburg
Elizabeth Harris Waynesboro
Marcie B. Harrison Plainsboro, N.J.
Janice Marie Harrup Courtland
Mark Elnathan Haskell Springfield
Catherine A. Hauer Frederick, MD
Daniel Head Potomac, MD

Beth Henry Chantilly
Diana Hewlett Waynesboro
S. Jeanette Hilbish Reston
Craig Hillegas Williamsburg
Karin Hillenbrand Virginia Beach
Bobby Hines, Jr. Stonev Creek
Lorac Hinetz Stanford, CA

Bradford D. Hirschy Alexandria
Bonnie F. Hobson Richmond
Horace Pope Holden, Jr. Roswell, GA
Jennifer Holt Laurel, MD
William Honaker Corington
Grace M. Honich Newport News
Laura Hopkins Danville

Howard-Jackson

Pamela Howard Hampton
 Susan Gail Howe W. Lafayette, LA
 Tanya Hranowsky Richmond
 Wei-Ming Hsu Richmond
 Mikki Hubbard Winchester
 Susan Kent Hudgins Williamsburg
 Karen M. Hunt Virginia Beach

James D. Hunter Alexandria
 Scott J. Hunter Arlington
 Elizabeth Hutcheson Annandale
 Rebekah L. Hydon Pittsfield, MA
 Laura Ingram Nashville, TN
 Lisa C. Ingrassia Arlington
 Dwayne A. Jackson Purcellville

Robert Gullien

Academic butterflies

Few people understand the butterflies that float around in student stomachs. Hours of studying for an exam or writing a paper produces a nervous anxiety that never really goes away until the grade is known. Sophomore Diane Desmond decides looking over a returned paper is more important than going to her next class.

Jensen-Kater

Thomas F. Jensen Riverside, Ct
Dayna Kecla Johnson Saluda
Thomas P. Johnson, III Suffolk
Hiawatha Johnson, Jr. Waverly
Kerke A. Johnson Lynchburg
Kimberly Johnson Williamsburg
Majorie Johnson Chesterfield

Anthony F. Jones Fairfax Station
C. Kevin Jones Arlington
Julie Ann Jones Goode
Mary Willis Jones Cumberland MD
Sri Anggreni Kamayana Newport News
Anne Marie Karch Arlington
Jamie Kater Poquoson

Kaulfers-D. McGee

Joy Celina Kaulfers Midlothian
Annette Marie Kearns Williamsburg
John David Keating Falls Church
Catherine Kelly Somerset, NJ
Mark A. Kelso Pittsburgh, PA
Katherine G. Kennedy Dayton, OH
Laurie Kerns Blacksburg

Shelley Kindred Alexandria
D. Brooke Kirk Longmeadow, MA
Edward G. Koch, II Arlington
Mary K. Koch Duluth, MN
Susan Koenig Mount Prospect, IL
Maryanne Kondracki Great Falls
Terrence W. Koontz Virginia Beach

Mark S. Koschmeder Upper Marlboro, MD
Nancy Ellen Krafft Alexandria
Tracey Leigh Krauthelm Alexandria
Margee Kebs Ridgely, CT
Lisa M. Krizan Burke
Valerie Lynne Krowe Mount Kisco, NY
Bart M. Lacks Randolph

Karen Lacy McGuire AFB, NJ
Robert C.E. Laney Chesapeake
Benjamin H. Langmaid Falls Church
Leslie Lautenslager Alexandria
Kimberly Lebo Burke
Margarette V. Leite E. Providence, RI
Ellen Louise Lewis Hampton

Kathlene Lewis Vienna
Sandy K. Lewis Virginia Beach
Stephanie L. Leyland Washington Crossing, PA
Anne Lim Fairfax
Diane R. Limm Lancaster, PA
Jeanne Lindner Charlottesville
Todd T. Lindsley Penn Yan, NY

Carla Linville Williamsburg
Gregory T. Locastle Doylestown, PA
Rebekah Burch Loker Williamsburg
Thomas Payne Long Timberville
Jill Elizabeth Longmire Cherry Hill, NJ
Eva J. Lopdrup Florence, SC
Michael J. Lorch Clifton Park, NY

Al Lucas Yorktown
Kristin W. Ludington Stamford, CT
Heather A. MacDonald Melville, NY
Kathleen Mackin Sandwich, MA
Claudia Mader Mechanicsville
Martha Helena Madero New York, NY
Amy Hayes Mason Rumsin, NJ

Amy Lynn Marschean Svosset, NY
Gabriela Marin Williamsburg
Joe Matteo Audobon, PA
Perry Anne Matthews Chase City
Susan Maybury Tampa, FL
Jeffrey T. Mayer Wallingford, PA
Dianne L. McCall Havertown, PA

Cara S. McCarthy Rockville, MD
Martin McClanan Virginia Beach
Beverly McCollum Charles City
Scott Stanaway McCrae Redbank, NJ
Leigh McDaniel Arden, NC
Brian Joseph McGahran Yonkers, NY
Douglas P. McGee Alexandria

---

Sweating in the stands

Band members know a differently feeling concerning football games than the fans or even the players — heat. Dressed in close collars and heavy material, members sit in the sun feeling glad that they used Dial. Bass drummer Mark Therianos guards against the sun with a pair of mirrored shades during a formation.

Mark Therianos

J. McGee-Milkey

John Divine McGee, III Lookout Mtn., TN
 Margaret A. McGovern Bronx, NY
 Sarah P. McGregor Columbia, SC
 Colleen A. McKee Lunenburg, PA
 Kevin John McLaughlin Newtown, PA
 Michael McManus Alexandria
 David McMenamin Hartwood

Anthony McNeal Hampton
 Janet E. McNulty Chalfont, PA
 Christopher Megale Freeport, NY
 Douglass E. Mercado Springfield
 Thomas E. Meyers Norfolk
 Daniel Lawrence Michael Arlington
 Steven W. Milkey Kensington, C. I.

Miller-Murdock

Belinda E. Miller Round Hill
 Hunter Milligan Charlestown, SC
 Thomas M. Mistele Hollins
 Patricia Ellen Mitchell Sparta, NJ
 Debra Lee Mohler Herndon
 David A. Montuori Allentown, PA
 Betty Moore Suffolk

Peggy Moore/Wiliamsburg
 Kimberly B. Moosha Virginia Beach
 James Michael Moreland Alexandria
 Kendra Morgan Wilmington, DE
 Eric Kenneth Morrison Potomac, MD
 John Flood Mortin Metairie, LA
 Alisa Mullens Herndon

Sandra L. Muller Thornton, PA
 Susan Ann Murdock Great Falls

Jan Singelary

Beyond text books

Going beyond text books, "active" academics constitutes a large part of a student's learning. Whether in a Chem lab, an art studio, or an archaeology dig, students had an opportunity to experience education outside of Swem Library.

Murphy-Roy

Douglas Murphy Hillsborough, NC
 Melissa Muse Hampton
 Bonnie L. Neal Chesapeake
 Elizabeth Tankard Neal Franktown
 John D. Neary Stony Point, NY
 Karin Jean Neider Naples, Italy
 John G. Nettles Sterling

Anne Nevlund Fairfax
 Cara Allison Newman Fairfax
 Lynn Newton New Canton, VT
 Edwin Creighton Nichols Red Oak
 Jody Norris Virginia Beach
 Paula Nugent Falls Church
 Kevin C. O'Keefe Rockville, MD

Elizabeth O'Brien Fidgefield, CT
 Nancy Jean O'Brien St. Petersburg, FL
 Fred Oglie Havelock, NC
 Julie O'Neill New Canaan, CT
 Silvia Cristina Otto Port Washington, NY
 Brandon Gerald Owen Middleburg
 Robert G. Owens Hampton

Deborah Packman Rockville Center, NY
 Joan Palmer McLean
 Guy K. Palmes Arlington
 Elizabeth H. Parker Springfield
 Susan L. Pasteris Pittsburgh, PA
 Joe Pastore Reston
 Sandy Pastrick Lexington, KY

Suzanne Pattee Fairfax
 Kirk Payne Danville
 Pamela E. Pearsall Virginia Beach
 Mason A. Peay Virginia Beach
 Michael Arthur Pemberton Richmond
 Penny Pennington Waverly
 Melonie R. Perper McLean

Donna L. Perry Richmond
 Monica Leah Perry Pawling, NY
 James Howard Peterson Union Bridge, Md
 David L. Petree Columbus, OH
 Dwayne Petty Highland Springs
 Harris J. Pezzella Virginia Beach
 Sharon K. Philpott Salem

Lori Pickinpaugh Falls Church
 Betsy Powell Newport News
 Katherine E. Powell Vienna
 Michael K. Powell Fort Leavenworth, KS
 Tracie Prillaman Collinsville
 Melanie Pugh Washington, DC
 Lydia Rose Pulley Greenville, SC

Barbara Louise Quinn Old Brookeville, NY
 Colleen Marea Quinn Lorton
 Elizabeth Radday New York, NY
 Moria Rafferty Great Falls
 James Ramsay Alexandria
 Thomas Rapp Wevers Cave
 Kenneth Francesco Rapuano Lorton

Janet L. Reed Lynchburg
 Robin Renwick Burke
 Janice Samuelle Reuben Sumter, SC
 Karen Renee Richardson Richmond
 Colleen Roche Wooster, OH
 Valerie Roeder Campbell Hall, NY
 Roger C. Roy, Jr. Fairfax

Rudolph-Searle

Wendy Susan Rudolph Muncie, IN
 Teresa L. Russo Portsmouth
 Suzanne R. Schaeffer Cornwall, PA
 Susan J. Scharpf Chesapeake
 Valerie Schiefer Chesapeake
 Gretchen Schmidt Concord, MA
 Lisa Schmitt Virginia Beach

Gigi Schnepat, Jr. Tiffin, OH
 Monizue Schoonmaker Norfolk
 Lawrence W. Schott Woodbridge
 Herb A. Schreifer Virginia Beach
 Jo-Anne Schueller Gaithersburg, MD
 Julie Ann Scott Warsaw
 Ann B. Searle Bath, ME

Mark Beavers

Cultural events

Although the town of Williamsburg lacks entertainment outlets, the College offers a wide variety of cultural events. Sponsored by the International Circle and the Asia and Africa Society, the Kalipayan dancers and singers performed at the Campus Center during their eight month tour of the United States.

Sewell-Takemori

Janell A. Sewell Wilmette, IL
 Mehul Shah Hampton
 Nan Chanley Chesshore, CT
 Melinda Shelor Stuart
 Ted J. Shin Middlethian
 Tonya Shirey Bon Air
 Lola J. Singletary Washington, D.C.

Tracy Sinnott Richmond
 Katherine E. Slatten Lafayette, CA
 Darren Sledjeski Centerville
 Cynthia G. Smith Cary, NC
 Dwight E. Smith Leesburg
 Jenny C. Smith Rocky Mount
 Suzanne Snowden Virginia Beach

Kym Snyder Arlington
 Victoria Sorongon Ellicott City, MD
 Dianna J. Spence Norfolk
 Rebecca A. Spragens Lebanon, KY
 Maria A. Stamoulas Fairfax Station
 Kathleen Lewis Steele Wilmington, DE
 Angela Stephanos Norfolk

James K. Stewart Falls Church
 Jennifer Lynn Stewart Richmond
 Mary E. St. George Portsmouth
 Kevin D. Stocker Burke
 Melvin Stone Chesterfield
 Janet Lynn Stotts Richmond
 Diana L. Street College Park, MD

Cheryl Sutterfield Corning, NY
 Chrissy Takemori Alexandria

Jan Singletary

William and Mary's backyard

At the heart of Old Campus, the Sunken Gardens offers a large area for students to release academic tensions. A quiet place to study, a casual setting for a game of football or frisbee, or a place to talk with friends, the Gardens act as the backyard for William and Mary.

Tancredi-Verner

Karyn Tancredi Stroudsburg, PA
 Laura Elizabeth Tanner Bowie, MD
 James W. Taylor Richmond
 Nancy J. Taylor West Milford, NJ
 Joyce Terhune Sandston
 Dennis Thacker Madison Heights
 Lisa Thacker Richmond

Terry Thimsen Richmond
 Timothy A. Thomas Sterling
 Ward Thomas West Point, NY
 Margaret H. Thompson Richmond
 Pamela Thompson Fairfax
 Raiford Hall Thompson Quinton
 Zandra Thompson Williamsburg

Scott Ticknor Williamsburg
 Stephen James Toven Eastchester, NY
 Debra Turner Highland Springs
 Rayna Lee Turner Richmond
 Ann Leslie Tuttle Irvington
 Vida Ugincius Fredericksburg
 Mary Ruth Uhrig Chester

Scott Ukrop Richmond
 Doug Updegrove Richmond
 Simone Valenti Falls Church
 Diana K. Vandekamp Old Greenwich, CT
 Dave Vannort Columbia, SC
 Lisa R. Vaughan Pulaski
 Bruce David Verner Lutherville, MD

Villa-Whitworth

Christine Marie Villa Stony Point, NY
 Jody Lynn Vitale Lynchburg
 Amelie L. Von Ludwig Front Royal
 Howard Otto Wachsmann, Jr. Stony Creek
 Kristen Wagner Schweinfurt, West Germany
 Rachel S. Walker Staunton
 Stacey L. Walker Hanover

Colleen Walsh Audubon, PA
 Rebecca Jeanne Ward Federal, CT
 David L. Warren Richmond
 Fran Weaver Suffolk
 Cynthia A. Webb Sanger, TX
 Amy Welty St. Petersburg, FL
 Lisa Wennesheimer Woodbridge

Ellen M. Wente Bedford
 Lori Westbrook Richmond
 Anne C. Weybright Nokesville
 Janet P. Whaley Herndon
 Roy Whitehurst Vienna
 James M. Whitney, Jr. Arlington
 Sandy Whitworth Charlottesville

Willett-Zuber

Rodney T. Willett Virginia Beach
 Grace M. Williams Hampton
 James Williams Richmond
 Mary Ellen Williford Richmond
 Lindsey Willis Atlanta, GA
 Jeni Wilson Fairfax
 Karen Anne Wilson Clearwater, FL

Sharon Patricia Winn Vienna
 Rhonda C. Winstead Richmond
 Susan Winstead Springfield
 Elizabeth Wiseman Danville
 Tracy Wolf Tampa, FL
 Julie Woodring Granville, OH
 Gail Wright Endicott, NY

Kelly F. Wright Cincinnati, OH
 Rachel Wright Suffolk
 Tracey C. Wright Earlysville
 James Otis Young, Jr. Clarksville
 Marsha Youngblood Arden, NC
 Helen Zink King George
 David Zuber Cranston, RI

Robert Gullien

The burning of the Wig

All I wanted was a tuna sandwich. Approaching the counter I noticed flames jumping from the grill. This isn't an open pit barbecue, I thought. Ken Smith asked me how my trip to North Carolina was and I thought the Wig is burning down and the girl asked for my order and I thought maybe something should be done. I told her she had a fire in the kitchen. She said they were getting a fire extinguisher and I thought it might be too late and Ken Smith caught on to the emergency at hand and I thought it best to skip the tuna. The Wig remained closed for most of November.

Abbott-Batenhorst

Ginger Abbott Falls Church
 Carl E. Adkins, III Norfolk
 Steven M. Adkins Gate City
 Michelle Albert Virginia Beach
 Kimberly Albertson Annandale
 Alfred Albertson Altavista
 Susan Allan Falls Church

Billy Allen Williamsburg
 Brian John Alleva Fairfax
 Gregory P. Althaus Chagrin Falls, OH
 John-Mark Amber Amherst
 Rob Anderson Roanoke
 Brad Angevine Richmond
 Andrew Applewhite Jamaica, NY

Joanna Lee Ashworth Yorklev, PA
 Seden Atesoz Istanbul, Turkey
 Cindy Avolo Virginia Beach
 Susana Bacallao Arlington
 Sherry Baer Chesapeake
 John Baiocco Virginia Beach
 Susan Ball Tampa, FL

Karen Bamberger Oak Ridge, TN
 Jo-Anne Barakos West Hartford, CT
 Cindy Barker Alexandria
 Dena Barnes White Stone
 Jennifer Barr Strasburg
 Lisa Bartlett Newport News
 Kathy Batenhorst New York, NY

J U N

On the lookout

When studying, anything can be a distraction. Scoping is one favorite exercise in procrastination. Old Dominion residents Gary Bland and John Painter go to extremes to prolong their double-take.

Jan Singletary

B. Scott Baum Hopewell
 Dabney Beadless Richmond
 Mark B. Beasley Mechanicsville
 Robert L. Beckwith Newport News
 Elizabeth Bengston Wyomissing, PA
 John E. Berger Reston
 Steven Bishop Williamsburg

Linda Rose Black Manassas
 Lucy Blevins Hopewell
 Lewie Bones Richmond
 Eric M. Bowen Springfield
 Lori Jeanne Boyce Woodstock
 Amy Boyer Midlothian
 James P. Brady Arlington

Victor Kary Branch Dewitt
 David Brand Alexandria
 T. Scott Brazil Chesapeake
 George G. Bready, Jr. Williamsburg
 Greg Briscoe Corbin, KY
 Diane C. Broach Mechanicsville
 W.F. Brodnax, IV Frederiksted, Virgin Is

Clair Brooks Mechanicsville
 Brad Broughton Virginia Beach
 Laurel Anne Brown Weymouth, MA
 Laurie Brown Williamsburg
 Roxanne T. Brown Cromwell, CT
 Jeanie Gillett Browning Roswell, GA
 Jonathan Burchard McLean

I O R S

Pam Burkeholder Harrisonburg
 Lisa Burmeister Newark, DE
 Ellen K. Burton Richmond
 Alison Bynum Fairfax
 Theresa Cabano Lanolshurc, H
 Paul R. Cabe Waynesboro
 Patty Canonico Abington

Huyen V. Cao Alexandria
 John Carbone Arlington
 Rebecca Inez Carlin Houston, TX
 Michael Thomas Caughey Virginia Beach
 Melissa J. Chai Quakertown, PA
 Patricia Chamberlin Orange
 Susan Chamlee McLean

Christopher L. Chatten Arlington
 David L. Christensen Short Hill, NJ
 Jay Christie Williamsburg
 Lisa Marie Clark Richmond
 Judith L. Clarke Witz
 Patrick R. Cleary, III Alexandria
 David Coffman Virginia Beach

Jeffrey R. Cole Richmond
 Russell V. Coleman, III Madison Hts
 Susan Conn Salem, OH
 Nicholas Conte Virginia Beach
 Michael Cook Newport News
 Joann Theresa Coppola Danville
 Camille Cormier Springfield

Corsi-Ephrussi

Thomas Corsi Lancaster, PA
 Lourdes Cosio Miami, FL
 Kevin A. Coughlin Olney, MD
 Michael Cousins Silver Springs, MD
 Gary Cowling Williamsburg
 Elaine Craghead Springfield

Donald R. Crigger Virginia Beach
 Brian J. Cuthrell Danville
 Dabney Carr Suffolk
 Catherine A. Dalton Duxbury
 Jim Daniels Chester
 Cynthia Anne Dantescher Marietta, GA

Carolyn Daughters Bon Air
 Barbara L. Davis Frederick, MD
 Jeffrey Deal Luray
 Linda Delong Falls Church
 John E. Denson Alexandria
 Thomas A. Deornellas Fairfax

Sndra J. Desilvio W. Bloomfield, MI
 Terry Jo Devers Philomont
 Dina Dicenzo Coraopolis, PA
 Katherine Dodge Florence, SC
 Elizabeth R. Dolan Falls Church
 David W. Dowler Sabillasville

Mary Elizabeth Drain Falls Church
 Jean Drennan Falls Church
 Karen Dudley Holden, MA
 Pamella Dunn Fairfax
 Travis M. Ebel Reston
 Paige B. Edeburn Niceville, FL

Mary Edgette Hampton
 Victoria Lynn Edward Smithfield
 Gregory W. Edwards Alexandria
 Hillevi Einseln Annandale
 John Elser Vienna
 Jane F. Ephrussi Kinnelon, NJ

Like father, like son

aised as UVA clergy associates, Ben Lowe comments on the progression of Sister Joe Cornett's pregnancy. At the PiKA Halloween party, brothers were encouraged to wear outlandish costumes in celebration of the holiday.

Espejo-Gengler

Michelle C. Espejo Virginia Beach
Lori Etkin Middleham
Jane Evans Westfield, NJ
Katherine T. Evans Richmond
Odette Fadoul Euye Loubet, France
Kristin Erin Faria Hampton
Mark Thomas Ferris Sterling

Jan Findley Hampton
David Finnegan Wellesley
Cynthia R. Fisher Roanoke
John P. Fitzpatrick Alington
John Bradford Flecke Wyckoff, NJ
Lisa Lynn Foley Mt. Sidney
George W. Foreman Richmond

Bob Forgrave Great Falls
Susan R. French Mechanicsville
Debbie Frey Maxwell AFB, AL
Susan Frier Hendersonville, NC
Lisa A. Fuccella Labaska, PA
Deborah Fuess Quakersville, PA
Barbi Gallini Richmond

Charles T. Gamble, Jr. Delanco, NJ
David S. Garland Williamsburg
Rob Garnett Evansville, IN
Debbie Garrett Buena Vista
Tammy V. Garrett Newport News
Gail Gasparch Springfield
Marion C. Gengler Locust Valley, NY

Rob Smith

Under pressure

A whole semester's worth of reading to do in two days. Five papers due next week. A humongous research project due tomorrow. Harried and sleep-sacrificing students flock to the library, trying to cram in all the work that had been put off. Suddenly, it's the end of the semester, and the papers and problems can no longer be ignored.

Giles-Hanncock

Maureen Giles Danville
 William Gimple Atlantic Highland, NJ
 Christine Gingery Leesberg
 Paul Elliott Golder Chantilly
 Julie Anne Goldstein Richmond
 Stephen J. Gonzalez Sterling
 Rodolfo J. Grandos McLean

Jeanie Grant Falls Church
 Molley Sue Greene Martinsville
 Brent Greenwald Louisville, KY
 Gail Greer Charlotte
 Susan Boldin Greer Petersburg
 Kimberly Anne Grehl Chappaqua, NY
 Maureen A. Grey St. Albans, NY

Vanessa Wynne Griffith Newport News
 Jeffrey Scott Grist Lexington
 John Scott Groft Springfield
 Laura Elizabeth Groom Cherry Hill, NJ
 Margret J. Gula Alexandria
 Larry Martin Gunter Newport News
 Lynne Gur Winchester

Christine Hadjigeorge West Islip, NY
 Catherine E. Hainer Virginia Beach
 Robert Haislip Williamsburg
 Robin L. Haley Roanoke
 Mark J. Hall Smithfield
 Christopher A. Hamblen Springfield
 Priscilla Ann Hancock Virginia Beach

Hansen-Kirby

Diane Elizabeth Hansen Westbrook, CT
 Robert L. Harris Richmond
 Elizabeth Harrison Auburn, AL
 David Hart Falls Church
 Tammy Harwood Gloucester
 J. Michael Hawkins Newport News
 Alison Hawley Greenwich, CT

Edward J. Healey Springfield
 Randy Hefflin Centerville
 Ute Heidenreich Suenen, West Germany
 Lynne Helms Charlottesville
 Karen M. Hensler Manassas
 Robert P. Hesse Geneva, Switzerland
 Hilarie Hicks Gloucester

Gretchen C. Hines Sag Harbor, NY
 Michael Hobbs Suffolk
 Diane Marie Hoekstra Oakland, NJ
 Chelene E. Holmes Providence Forge
 Scott G. Holmes Niskayuna, NY
 Monica Vermetta Hopkins Kenbridge
 Sharon F. Horner Henderson, NC

Alison K. Horrocks Reston
 Teresa House Richmond
 Tyler M. Hudson Virginia
 Lance Lee Humphries Howell, MI
 John T. Humphries Annandale
 Mary I. Iida Sterling
 Heidi Marie Ingram Fairfax

Allison A. Irvin Alexandria
 Adam E. Ivey, III Williamsburg
 George F. Jack, Jr. Williamsburg
 Audrey Y. Jackson Arlington
 Julia S. Jackson Max Meadows
 M. Rodgers Jacobs Springfield
 Eric R. Jahn Pittsburgh, PA

Mark C. James Norfolk
 Gregory M. Jamison Wilmington, DE
 Tom Jarvie Springfield
 Ellen Jeffery Hyattsville, MD
 Denise Johnson Vienna
 Janet E. Johnson Nathalie
 Justina M. Johnson Arlington

Kristine Johnson Glen Ellyn, IL
 Monica Johnson Vienna
 Valerie Anne Johnson Fort Lee
 Deborah C. Jolly Doswell
 Dan J. Jordanger Ridgewood, NJ
 Jennifer Mary Joyce Harrisonburg
 William Henry Joyner Raleigh, NC

Bruce Kalk Williamsburg
 Khy Kaupelis Yorktown Heights, NY
 Judy L. Kavjian Haverford, PA
 Herbert Kaylororton
 Colleen P. Kearns Williamsburg
 Bernard D. Keavney Stretford, England
 Patricia Keen Hopewell

Kendall Scott Kerby Waynesboro
 Tracy L. Kerr Sterling
 Diane Elise Kindrick Lee Union
 Michael Dean King San Pedro, CA
 P. Ken Kipps Harrisonburg
 David James Kiracofe Norfolk
 Susan Frances Kirby Virginia Beach

Anne Kathryn Kirk Pittsburgh, PA
Doug Klein Chesapeake
Ann Cameron Kolmer Salem

Ginny Kost Camp Hill, PA
Karen L. Kramer Virginia Beach
Timothy A. Kruse Vienna

Ana John Arlington
Phil Landes Baltimore, MD
Rebecca Leigh Landes Churchville

James R. Langston, Jr. Newport News
John W. Lannen Vienna
Teresa Layne Exington

Anne Marie Leaf Washington, D.C.
Ung Lee Arlington
Diane Leite E. Providence, RI

Apollo Leong Fredericksburg
Charlotte Lerch McLean
Leslie Levy Blackstone

Jennifer Lewis Newport News
Nancy Lee Lex Norfolk
Paul Lightner Staunton

D.B. Linka Springfield
Jennifer A. Lissfelt Bonn, West Germany
George Logan Pulaski

Ken Lovko Portsmouth
Benjamin F. Lowe, Jr. Danville
Nancy All Lowery Lexington

Rob Smith

Booked up

It's back to school again. Time to move in, choose classes, spend money, wait in line. The beginning of the semester was always signalled by long lines at the bookstore: people with piles of books, sore arms and, once past the cash registers, barren bank accounts. Despite a continual escalation in book prices, necessity compelled students to pay the price.

Mark Beavers

A colonial perspective

Williamsburg exudes colonialism, in a kind of contrived way. Its costumed attendants smile and spew forth historic trivia (for the tourists), the streets are clean (there are a lot fewer horses these days), the houses are well-ordered (they are, after all, exhibits). They are modern things made to look old, a world several centuries old, but certainly bearing the imprint of the present.

Lucidi-Pickrel

Don Lucidi Pittsburgh, PA
 Karen Luebs Reston
 Victoria Ann Lutz Edinburg
 Christopher Lynch Grosse Pointe, MI
 Cynthia M. Lyons Alexandria
 Mada Maalouf Rome, Italy
 Gordon MacArthur Williamsburg

Hayley Mace Reston
 Tammy MacKinney Lynchburg
 Eric Maggio Holmdel, NJ
 Jean E. Male Reston
 Oya Maltepe McLean
 Tracy Marblestone Elgin, IL
 Amy Ann Marcos Wilton, CT

Stephen K. Matsumoto Arlington
 Linda Kay Mayo Hampton
 Scott McCleskey Ft. Lauderdale, FL
 Henry B. McCoy, III Overland Park, KS
 Kelly G. McDaniel Orange
 Amy Sue McDuffett Oxford, OH
 Sheila McDonnell McLean

SSuay McElligott Lantax
 Kevin McGettigan Chevy Chase, MD
 Wendy C. McKee Upper Marlboro, MD
 James R. McMillen Hopewell
 Robert C. McRae Wakefield, MA
 Sheila E. Mertes Springfield
 Debbie Moffett Wayne, PA

Dana Moody Bowling Green
 Nicolette S. Moon Parksley
 James E. Moran, Jr. Warm Springs, GA
 Matthew S. Morrison King George
 Margee Mulhall Virginia Beach
 Debra Munro Manassas
 Mark W. Murduck Matoaca

Suzanne M. Musciann Princeton Jct., NJ
 Sally Musick Springfield
 William Musto West Pittston, PA
 Michael Mutti Bedford, NY
 Debbie Niezgoda Alexandria
 Denise L. Nuffsinger Lynchburg
 Karen L. Nuckols Rockville

Jeanne M. O'Keefe Falls Church
 Miriam Oakley Newport News
 Mary Grace Obata Springfield
 Steve Odom San Antonio, TX
 Penny Oglesby Asheville, NC
 Matthew W. Olenich Wyckoff, NJ
 Debbie Ottinger Reston

Shari Ozmore Columbia Heights
 Kathryn Padgett Vienna
 Valerie Pandak Staunton
 Raymond J. Parisi Alexandria
 Billy Parker Williamsburg
 Corky Parks Bedford
 David Michael Pastore Sandston

Cynthia L. Pearson West Chester
 Barbara Anne Peterson Northbrook
 Tracey Pettit Yorktown
 Bruce A. Phillips Cross Station, RI
 Martha Ann Phollops Alexandria
 Scott L. Picken King George, VA
 Jan Marie Pickrel Alexandria

Mock Theatre

French Comedy

William and Mary Theatre consistently put on noteworthy productions. This year's "Tartuffe", staged in early Fall, was no exception. Bernard Keavney, in the leading role, gave a stellar performance as a true villain.

Chris Pierce Columbia, MD
R. Will Platt Arlington

Elizabeth Platt Simsbury, CT
Lisa Ann Pollard Vinton

Caitlin Porter San Jose, Costa Rica
Ina Susan Powell Larchburg

Julia C. Powell Newport News
Laurie A. Powell Falls Church

Alice Ann Previte Haddonfield, NJ
Stephen D. Prial Trenton, NJ

Paul E. Prince, Jr Richmond
John R. Quagliano Richmond

Anne Quinn Vienna
Kathleen Joslyn Quinn Vienna

Marjorie Ann Raley Vienna
Lourdes M. Ramon San Paulo, Brazil

Robert Dennis Ramsey Madisonville
Sherry Ramsey Richmond

Raper-Strenger

Porter G. Raper Richmond
Laurie C. Raymond McLean
Cherie Reeves Arlington
Sonny Reeves Woodbridge
Courtney Reid Richmond
Michael J. Rentz Culpeper
Linda E. Reynard Ft. Stewart, GA

David Reynolds Danville
Linda Ritter Fairfax
Paul D. Roberts McLean
Polly Elizabeth Roberts Blacksburg
Lee Ann Robinson Belle Haven
Mark Morgan Rogers Bryn Mawr, PA
Patricia Rose Richmond

Linda Romaine Ross McLean
Frederick J. Rauscher, Jr. Arlington
Philip Rowe Roanoke
Richard Row Hampton
Randy B. Rowlett Matoaca
Alynn Rucker Vienna
Albert Ruenes, Jr. Dix Hills, NY

Carolyn J. Ruffin Newport News
Sylvia Ruiz Blacksburg
Becky Russell Clarksville
Lorraine E. Saatman Ithaca, NY
Laura E. Sabatini Springfield
Gregory S. Sadosuk Waynesboro
David M. Safon Bay Shore, NY

Darlene Salo Virginia Beach
R. Scott Schroeder Buffalo Grove, IL
Brian Jerome Scott Hampton
Robert K. Seal Orange
Christopher E. Sell Amundale
Imelda Serrano Virginia Beach
Suzanne Shannon Silver Spring, MD

Dennis G. Shea Catonsville, MD
John D. Sheffler Roanoke
Julia Mae Shen Fairfax
Neil Sherman Potomac, MD
Susan Lee Sherwood Pentfield, NY
Alan Simeone Cherry Hill, NJ
Susan Simmons Yorktown

Daniel J. Simon Bonn, West Germany
Jan Singletary Blakely, GA
Elizabeth Singleton Yorktown
Debrah A. Sleeper Salem
Allison Smith Lexington Park, MD
Barbara A. Smith Simsbury, CT
Carol Ann Smith Lanville

Deborah Ann Smith Gaithersburg, MD
Mitzi M. Smith Winchester
Robert McCurdy Smith, III Columbia, SC
Nick Sojka Atton
Terri Soukup N. Haledon, NJ
Katie Spradlin Ivy
Anne Leath St. Clair Orchard, PA

Kimberly A. Staples Ashburn
Mallory Stark Norfolk
Martha Thomas Stetson Fairfax, VA
Valerie Stiffler Beltsville
Katherine Stoides Spring
Karen L. Stone Concord, NC
Amy F. Strenger Amherst, NY

Stringer-Walters

L. Allison Stringer Atlanta, GA
 Rita Stryker Williamsburg
 Michael Sturm Lindcott, NY
 Susan M. Summers Imponum, PA
 Susan Swain Newport News
 Suzanne Sweeney McMurray, PA
 Sharon Lynn Swink Salem

Allen J. Taylor Williamsburg
 Debbie L. Taylor Chesterfield
 Whitney L. Thayer S. Hamilton, MA
 Mark A. Therianos Hampton
 Andrew Keith Thomas Kilmarnock
 Thereasa Thon Matoaca
 Laurie A. Thornton Morrison, CO

Suzanne Tierney Dumfries
 Dan Timberlake Mechanicsville
 Jannice L. Trammell Towson, MD
 Dawn Traver Herndon
 Barbie J. Trybul Forton
 Laurie A. Tubbs Pittsburgh, PA
 Milan J. Turk, Jr. Fairfield, CT

Lynne Turnage Fairfax
 Christine Turner Hampton
 Kiban Turner Appleton, WI
 Peter M. Turner N. Mustegon, MI
 Kate Untiedt Vienna
 Lynne Marie Uzzo Sparta, NJ
 Scott Vachris Manhasset, NY

Terisa Van Cleave Gloucester
 Lori Ann Virga Baldwin, NY
 Lauren Volgenau Reston
 Catherine L. Wagner Shady Side, MD
 Greg Wagner Vinton
 Steve Walker Centreville
 Neal L. Walters Washington, DC

Warren Kowitz

Anne Marie Wampler Richmond
 G. Harris Warner, Jr. Roanoke
 Terri Watson Yorktown
 Amy Christine Wendt Wilmington, DE.

Jeff E. White/Windsor
 Bradley Scott Whitehurst Richmond
 Nancy Love Williams Bethesda, MD
 Sarah Williamson Charlottesville

Timothy B. Wilson Annandale
 Susan E. Wines Midland
 Susan Elizabeth Wise Chagrin Falls, OH
 Catherine Wood Springfield

Emily J. Wood Chevy Chase, MD
 Mary Ann Wood Rockville, MD
 Kathy Sue Woodall Huntington, NY
 Linda S. Wray McLean

Debra S. Young Uniondale, NY
 Steven L. Zeleznikar McLean
 Patty Zillian McLean
 Julie Anne Zydron Chesapeake

Tazewell temperence

After a harrowing week and an equally hectic weekend, quiet music and conversation provide a much needed break. Tazewell was often a gathering place for groups of all types and sizes. A feature of Greek Life, a Christian organization which met in Tazewell every Sunday night, was the mellow music of Andy Knapp and friends.

Talking irons

Doesn't anyone iron clothes anymore?"

"I know the washers were used; I heard them complain about cold showers."

"Isn't this the age of preppies, those natural fiber freaks?"

"There has got to be a Polo or an Izod I can work on!"

"We just can't become another unemployed victim of Carter's recession!"

"Oh, will we spend the rest of our lives staring out this window, without an outlet, forgotten . . .?"

Closet Scholar

In an attempt to find a quiet, peaceful place to study, many are driven to extremes. The more conventional frequent Swem, Tucker or Marshall-Wythe. Some are content to hunch over dorm room desks. A few take to the Palace or Sunken Gardens. And then there are those who go out of their way: on roofs, under stairs, in trees — and in closets.

S

E

N

Shoshana Aborn
English, Kensington, MD
Carolyn L. Adams
English, Newport News
Greg David Adams
Accounting, Setauket, NY
Karen Adams
Accounting, Woodbridge
Leslie T. Adams
Anthropology, Lexington

Cate Agnew
Geology, Manassas
Jane Allison Alcock
Economics, Dunwoody, GA
Mary De-Light Alcorn
Psychology, Lynchburg
Ellen Michelle Alden
Elementary Ed., Fairfax
Susan Kiley Aldworth
Economics, Stauket, NY

Leslie Allsopp
Government, Indiatlantic, FL
Julie Alton
Fine Arts, West Chester, PA
Suzanne C. Alvis
English, Quanton
Carla D. Ambrose
Elementary Ed., Newport News
Jane Denise Anderson
Sociology, Hot Springs

Anderson, K.-Beasley

Karen Lynn Anderson
Psychology, Hayes
Karla Kay Anderson
French, Manassas
Kristin M. Andreason
Religion, Warwick, RI
Susan E. Andrews
Anthropology, Alexandria
Pamila Rani Anne
Biology, Charlottesville

Pamela Sue Appleby
Business, Allison Park, PA
Sharon Appleton
Business Mgt., Great Falls
Alison P. Ashby
English, Newport News
Gayle Lynette Ashby
Theatre, South Hill
Susie Ashford
Government, Annandale

Peter W. Atwater
Economics, Cahlon, NJ
Denise M. Aulenti
Economics, Middletown, NJ
William M. Austin, III
Economics, Earlysville
Kimberly Sue Avans
Religion, Norfolk
Steven L. Avery
Business, McKenney

I O R S

Lori Kaye Bainum
Art History, San Antonio, TX
Todd W. Baldwin
English, Harleysville, PA
Thomas F. Ball, III
Chemistry, Burgess
Stephanie A. Baranowski
Business Mgt., Fairfax
Elizabeth Ann Barefoot
Business Mgt., Dunconsville, PA

Jeffrey R. Barna
English, Pompton Plains, NJ
Ann-Mitchell Baroods
Elementary Ed., Richmond
Elaine Pauline Barth
Business Mgt., Lovettsville
Brian Bates
Economics, Rutland, NJ
Christie A. Baty
English, Alexandria

Kurt J. Baumberger
Psychology, Johnson City, NY
Tracy M. Baynard
Government, Wilmington, DE
Karen L. Beale
Sociology, Roanoke
Mary H. Beale
Government, Hague
Elizabeth Lee Beasley
Geology, Virginia Beach

---

---

The first weeks

In those first weeks of the fall semester, college seems like a summer camp. Students are lured into visiting friends and partying. Warm days, sunshine, and a large courtyard make volleyball a Bryan Complex institution. Residents join in a pick-up game at a September party. But cold weather and mid-terms soon shatter the illusions.

Jan Singletary

Gail Bechly
Psychology, Cherry Hill, NJ
John P. Bedor
English, Monroe, NH
Christine Behl
Fine Arts, Westport, CT
Basil Belches, III
Biology, Mechanicsville
Christina Maria Belt
Business Mgt., Vienna

Edward Lawrence Bend
Religion History, Newport News
Stephanie Dale Benson
Business Mgt., Roanoke
Marykaye Benton
Psychology, Annandale
Russell E. Berry
Fine Arts, Roanoke
Lisa Ann Beyer
Biology, Huntington, NY

Stacey Bice
Human Relations, Kinston, NC
Jack A. Birnkammer
Computer Science, Ft. Walton Beach, FL
Stephen Bisese
Business Admin., Virginia Beach
Caroline H. Blaha
Business Admin., Williamsburg
Alex Blakemore
Computer Science, Virginia Beach

Kirk Blanford
Business Admin., Vienna
Jonathan A. Blanke
English, Richmond
Michael W. Blanks
Computer Science, Danville
Walter Henry Blotkamp
Sociology, Chester
Karen Mary Bogan
English, Convent Station, NJ

Edward Lawrence Bond
Religion, Newport News
Steven Riley Boone
Biology, Leesburg, VA
Suzanne H. Boone
Business Mgt., Roanoke
Ray M. Boswell, Jr.
Geology, Winchester
Elaine W. Bowden
Sociology, Hampton

Melinda L. Bowles
English, Rocky Mount
Robert Box
Economics, Rockville, MD
Caroline Jane Boyd
Psychology, The Hague, Netherlands
Paul Boykas
Government, Wood Ridge, NJ
Matthew Bradley
Government, Centereach, NJ

Contemporary meets classical

Art students find early in their training that even the most abstract pieces have to have a basis in classical studies. In the oil painting by Bill Fisher, a knowledge of the realistic figure justifies his simplification. His model surveys the work.

Mik S. / art

Robert Bradshaw
Accounting, Iver
Elizabeth L. Branch
English, Charlottesville
Patricia Anne Brandes
Math, Waynesboro
Mary Katherine Brandon
Biology, Williamsburg
Tracey Elizabeth Braun
Economics, Alexandria

Lesley D. Brent
Fine Arts, Kilmarnock
Stephen Norris Bretson
Government, Houston, TX
Mark David Brickhouse
Chemistry, Richmond
Theodore J. Broecker
Computer Science, Virginia Beach
Maria Brophy
Business Mgt., Sea Girt, NJ

Dirk Lamar Brown
Classical Studies, South Boston
Lyman Robert Brown
Economics, Cincinnati, OH
Suzanne Brown
Computer Science, Lake City, FL
Diana L. Browning
Computer Science, Palmyra
Nancy E. Browning
Business Admin., Springfield

Tab Broyles
Government, Roanoke
Marion W. Brunzie
English, Hanover Park, IL
Mills Robert Bryant, III
Economics, Courtland
Debra Leigh Bucklen
Linguistics, Richmond
Michelle P. Burchett
Economics, Virginia Beach

Karen Gail Butler
Government, Luray
Barbara Ann Bussell
English, Wilkes, MA
Leila Bryon
French, Arlington
Judith Lynn Cain
Psychology, Berryville
Terry A. Calantoni
Business Mgt., Buck, NJ

Victoria Burke Caldwell
History, Fairfax
Edward Kimball Call, Jr.
Geology, Potomac
Jeffrey D. Campbell
Anthropology, Fairfax
Melissa Marvyn Campbell
History, Tampa, FL
Rack Damon Campbell
Psychology, Georgia, Beaumont

Campbell, W.-Churchill

William Campbell
Government, San Diego, CA
Todd Canerbury
Accounting, Oakton
Mark G. Carey
Government, Reston
Gina Carillo
Fine Arts, Douglaston, NY
Candace C. Carlisle
Computer Science, Glens Falls, NY

Keith R. Carlson
Economics, Virginia Beach
Barbara E. Carpenter
Biology, Lexington
Julia M. Carpenter
History, Hendersonville, NC
Joy Carper
French, Alexandria
Dabney J. Carr, IV
Mathematics, Alexandria

Mary Reese Carson
History, Franklin
Elizabeth Bolling Carter
Business Mgt., Appomattox
Gerald W.S. Carter
Accounting, Westbury, NY
Terri Lynn Cartwright
Chemistry, Chesapeake
Krisann Caruso
Accounting, St. James, NY

Helen Elizabeth Casey
Religion, Arlington
Joanne M. Cassani
Biology, Alexandria
David M. Castellan
Biology, Cheverly, MD
Stephen K. Castro
Computer Science, Herndon
Laurie E. Caswell
English, Pittsburgh, PA

Karen Cedeno
Biology, Princeton, NJ
Laura Michelle Chambers
Psychology, Hampton
Tricia Champine
Business, Newport News
Kimberley L. Chandler
Elementary Ed., Stuarts Draft
L. Foston Chandler, III
Physical Ed., Onancock

Catherine Charney
Psychology, Alexandria
Henry Keith Chenault
Chemistry, Richmonte
Peter Noah Christian
Economics, Schenectady, NY
John Charles Chuday
Economics, Cannanmison, NJ
Maurene Leonne Churchill
Business Mgt., Old Bridge, NJ

Mark Beavers

Go bananas, go, go, bananas

In a dismal season, as the Tribe fell short of everyone's expectations, one bright spot persisted: the prospect of winning a keg, donated by the Tribe Cheerleaders. Many freshmen halls enthusiastically screamed that now famous cheer, "Drink cold beer . . ." in hopes the cheerleaders would give them the golden beverage. Recalling both the recent Cary Field controversy and recent Tribe football teams, upperclassmen replied with shouts of "Dare to be apathetic." In the midst of this, even during the Homecoming loss to Brown, Tribe cheerleaders Beth Foor and Alison Horrocks can still smile. That's spirit.

Sandra Cimerman
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach
Ralph Raymond Clark
Biology, Millboro
Kimberly Ann Clarke
Computer Science, Carney's Point, NJ
Victor Clarke
Industrial Relations, Alexandria
Helen E. Claybrook
History, Springfield

Joseph N. Claytor
Economics, Grottoes
Barbara J. Cline
History, Lynchburg
Elizabeth C. Cloud
Business Mgt., West Chester, PA
Frederick D. Coleman
Accounting, Camp Springs, MD
Thomas R. Colwell
Economics, Annapdale

Cesar Vincent Conda
Economics, Virginia Beach
Robin A. Conklin
Physical Ed., Chincoteague
Loree Connolly
Mathematics, Hartsville, SC
William Jeffrey Connor
History, Linwood, NJ
Melissa Jeanne Contos
Biology, Reston

Cooper, R.-Davis, M.

Richard A. Cooper
Biology, Reston
Sharon Rose Cooper
Business Mgt., Newport News
Jeanne S. Corbett
Business Mgt., Moorestown, NJ
Sarah Cornelius
Early Mod. Europe, Mechanicsville
Ava C. Cornwell
Business Admin., Great Falls

Karen S. Cotta
Business Mgt., Darien, CT
Linda Cottle
English, Amundale
Margaret Frances Couden
English, Grosse Point Shore, MI
Jennifer M. Cowan
Business Admin., Hampton
Ida A. Cowgill
History, Ogden, UT

Helen Hart Cox
Economics, Alexandria
Molly Coxson
Anthropology, Alexandria
Nora Ann Coyne
Biology, Vienna
Sandra Anne Craig
Chemistry, Norfolk
Kimberly Yvette Crase
Government, Somerset, KY

Jane A. Crick
Biology, Richmond
Sandra Lee Crill
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach
Linda Csellak
Government, West Palm Beach, FL
Thomas Jude Cuff
Chemistry, Gaithersburg, MD
Susan Culler
Computer Science, Frederick, MD

Christian G. Curless
History, Miami Beach, FL
David G. Curry, Jr.
Business Mgt., McLean
Nina Lynn Dagostino
Business Mgt., Marion
Denise Yvonne Damon
Theatre, Vienna
William R. Dandridge
History, Martinsville

Matthew Danilowicz
English, Gaithersburg, MD
James H. Daugherty
Economics, Williamsburg
Charlotte Scott Davis
Economics, Williamsburg
Joy A. Davis
English, Lunenburg
Michelle Renee Davis
Business Mgt., Potomac, MD

Nanette L. Davis
Economics, Wilmington, DE
William Spencer Davis, Jr.
Religion, Springfield
Philip Arthur J. Dawson
Biology, Newport News
Jose A. De La Marcorra
Business, Chapultepec, Mexico
Betty Dunston Deal
History, Naxera

Lauren Carlyle Deangelis
Business Mgt, Mountanside, NJ
Bryan K. Dearing
Economics, Salem
Paul T. Decker
Economics, Jacksonville, FL
Margaret Mary Denan
Economics, Chesapeake
Catherine Dehoney
Music, Huntington Station, NY

Laurie J. Delserone
Economics, Pittsburgh, PA
Barbara A. Deren
Economics, Moorestown, NJ
Donna S. Desmarais
Biology, Fairfax
Brian Scott Detrick
History, Round Rock, TX
Felicity Devlin
Classical Studies, Berryville

Jan Spulerian

High rollers

BF's annual casino night, featuring games of roulette, craps, blackjack, and poker, attracted crowds of would-be gamblers, playing for pseudo-money in the basement of "the Ranch." It was all just for fun, but the intense concentration of Jim Palumbo proved that it was more than just a game.

Mark Beavers

The two wheel life

They whizzed by on ten-speeds with bizarre gadgets or rattled by on the rickety yet dependable old two-wheeler. In a fall semester boasting December temperatures in the '70's, students and faculty on their bikes found ample opportunity to enjoy the outdoors. Dodging people and cars, bikers took to the roads to exercise, do errands, dash to class, or to have fun. English Professor North gears up for his ride.

Donna Tune Dixon
Music, South Boston
Mark Allen Dixon
Business Administration, Springfield
Elizabeth C. Dodge
Fine Arts, Piedmont, CA
David L. Dodson
Economics, Culpeper
Gary Wayne Dodson
History, Staunton

W. Allen Doggett III
Economics, Charlottesville
John M. Donnelly
Government, McLean
Juliet E. Doolittle
History, Gainesville, FL
Brigid Kathleen Dorsey
Government, Dewitt, NY
Carol Doub
Economics, Falls Church

Robin Dove
English, Danville
Cherie Dow
Business Mgt., Manchester, CT
Anne Elizabeth Doyle
Economics, Newport News
Robert D. Drach
Physics, Foothillville, MD
Jami Lyn Duane
Psychology, Vienna

Cynthia Ann Duck
Biology, Suffolk
Randal C. Duke
Economics, Timonium, MD
Bradford S. Dunkin
Urban Studies, West Chester, PA
Mikell Darby Dunn
French, Fredericksburg
Tim P. Dunn
International Relations, Alexandria

Ann Elizabeth Durant
Psychology, Annandale
Denise M. Durkin
Business Adm., Midlothian
Tracey Lucretia Eadie
Economics, Hollis, NY
Brenda Christine Earner
Biology, Alexandria
Andrea Elizabeth Eason
Accounting, Newport News

Jean-Paul Stanford Ebe
Government, Arlington
Nancy Eberhardt
History, Chester, NJ
David Edleson
Russian Studies, Williamsburg
Carrie Elizabeth Ehlers
Accounting, Plandome Manor, NY
Marian T. Eller
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach

Karen Elwell
Economics, Lovettsville
Alison R. Emory
Fine Arts, Williamsburg
Susan J. Englehart
Biology, Lantport, NY
Dana K. English
Economics, Gaithersburg
Kent Bradley Erdahl
Accounting, Midlothian

Maribeth Ernst
Mathematics, Annandale
Bruce Essen
Economics, Park Ridge, IL
Elizabeth Eubank
Fine Arts, Princeton, NJ
Catherine M. Evans
Economics, Vienna
Mary C. Evans
Business Mgt., Richmond

Karen Exell
Business Mgt., Gaithersburg, MD
Jeanne Face
Fine Arts, Williamsburg
Brian K. Failon
Chemistry, The Forest, IL
James R. Falls
Theatre, Fairfax Station
Julia Fan
Physics, Kowloon, Hong Kong

Robert A. Fanuzzi
English, Pompton Plains, NJ
Mark J. Fariella
Government, Mountainside, NJ
Thomas L. Fariss
Chemistry, Roanoke
Mark Farkas
Anthropology, Alexandria
Melissa K. Farris
Sociology, Louisville, KY

Thomas E.D. Fauls
Economics, Richmond
Lora Ann Fawley
Interdisciplinary, Covington
Andrew E. Feldman
Biology, Owings Mills, MD
Nancy L. Feldner
German, Alexandria
David M. Fergione
Business Mgt, Soubury, MA

Elizabeth Ann Ferguson
English, Roanoke
Mary Ferrari
History, Norfolk
David Ficenech
Physics, Blacksburg
Kriss L. Fillbach
Economics, Clearwater, FL
Katherine E. Finn
French, Annandale

Fire and brimstone

They appeared out of nowhere, like avenging angels, into the desert of William and Mary. Two Bible-thumping, John the Baptists arrived, claiming that the College was a hotbed of fornication. Listening to analogies made between oral sex and eating pizza and insinuations that the masturbators of today are the murders of tomorrow, students watched the sideshow with amused interest.

Jan Singletary

Carolyn J. Finocchio
Business Mgt, Wyomissing, PA
Donna Rose Fischer
Psychology, East Hampton, NY
Catherine A. Flanagan
Biology, Oak Ridge, TN
John J. Flanagan
Economics, Huntington, NY
Mark A. Flatin
Economics, Falls Church

David Fleming
Philosophy, Arlington
Elizabeth Amy Foor
English, Gloucester
Mark Whelan Forde
Accounting, Langhorne, PA
Anne Churchill Foster
Government, Waynesboro
Betsy L. Foster
Business Mgt, Virginia Beach

Susan Leith Foutz
Biology, Lynchburg
Douglas Scott Fraedrich
Physics, Williamsburg
Laura Lee Fraedrich
Economics, Williamsburg
Laura A. Francis
Computer Science, Roanoke
Sally Elizabeth Franklin
Government, Fanfield, CT

Paul T. Freiling
Classical Studies, Fredericksburg
David J. Friedman
Philosophy, Moorestown, NJ
Pamela Jo Frits
Business Mgt, Lake Bluff, IL
Joseph E. Fucella
Geology, Virginia Beach
John Funk
Business Admin., Elkton, MD

Ruth Ann Fuqua
Business Admin., Virginia Beach
Sarah L. Gall
Biology, Chester, NJ
Nahid, Ganjei
Biology, McLean
Mark S. Gariepy
Economics, Springfield
Kathryn Anne Garner
English, Poquoson

Janet Russell Garrison
Mathematics, Colonial Heights
Michael Duane Gartman
Accounting, Chesapeake
Alan Bigelow
History, Chappaqua
Bradley Gebhart
Fine Arts, Amundale
Elizabeth Anne George
Accounting, Richmond

George, P.-Gunn

Pamela G. George
Biology, Richmond
Scott D. Gerber
Government, Hampton
Stephen J. Gerek
Economics, West Islip, NY
Virginia L. Gerhart
Biology, Williamsburg
Brenda Lee Gerstl
Business Mgt., Faber

Ellen Gianukakis
Biology, Port Chester, NY
Vincent D. Gibson
Accounting, Salisbury, MD
David M. Gilbert
English, Martinsville
Laura Lynn Gilbert
History, Mathews
Kathryn D. Gillock
Mathematics, Roanoke

Mark G. Glaser
Economics, Pennington, NJ
Wendy D. Glasser
Psychology, Richmond
Cynthia Lee Goff
Geology, Lincroft, NJ
Anne Hilliard Golwen
Government, Memphis, TN
Elizabeth W. Goode
Biology, Troy, NY

Richard J. Gossman
English, Woodbridge
Janet Ruth Graham
History, Olney, MD
John Graham
Economics, East Amherst, NY
Bruce William Grant
Economics, Richmond
Chrissie Grasmeyer
Computer Science, Alexandria

Travis A. Gray
Economics, Portsmouth
Bridget R. Greaves
Biology, Newtown, CT
Elizabeth Ann Green
English, Richmond
Catherine A. Gregg
Business Mgt., Williamsburg
David M. Grimes
Economics, Williamsburg

Ronald R. Grimes
Biology, Annapolis, MD
Philip S. Gross
Accounting, Trenton, NJ
William H. Grossman
Economics, Arlington
Robert L. Guillen
English, Woodbridge
Ann Horner Gunn
Economics, St. Stephens

Thought for food

At the Greene Leafe last night. Bounced a check at George's last week. Tired of Paul's. The Caf? — get serious. Time to eat in. Salad? No, the lettuce is brown. Here's some potato salad; it's still pretty fresh. Burgers? No way. Had the last one the other day. Here's the lasagna we had last week. Still looks good. Stick it in the oven. Fellow day students chow down in the day student house kitchen.

Kathy Rawson

Cynthia Dee Gunnoe
Business Mgt., Forest
Susan Margaret Gunnee
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach
John W. Guthrie, III
Accounting, West Point
Robert G. Haas
History, Frederick, MD
Lori Jeanne Haber
Anthropology, Roslyn, NY

Kavin Douglas Hade
Economics, Richmond
Scott Robert Hahn
Business Admin., Lynchburg
Heidi A. Haight
Economics, Columbia, SC
Suzanne E. Halboth
Economics, Ramsey, NJ
Deborah L. Hall
Accounting, Bethesda, MD

Hall, J.-Hedges

James Everett Hall, Jr.
Business Admin., Stuart
Peter M. Halpern
Psychology, Shaker Heights, OH
Gary R. Halstead
Government, Fairfax
April Hamel
Anthropology, Richmond
Elizabeth M. Hammer
East Asian Studies, Colonia, NJ

Susan K. Handley
Accounting, Hampton
Eric Joseph Harder
Physics, Alexandria
Katherine M. Harding
Biology, Mechanicsville
Deborah A. Hare
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach
Charles L. Hargest
Geology, Falls Church

Marie C. Harmon
Economics, Parksley
Fiona Kathryn Harnby
English, W. Yorkshire, England
Jeffrey Gilliam Harrell
Business Mgt., Emporia
David Gordon Harris
Economics, Columbia, MD
Jimmy Harris
Geology, Newport News

Kenneth Connors Harris
Biology, Vienna
Kimberly Gayle Harris
Biology, Mechanicsville
Margaret C. Harris
Economics, Fredericksburg
Cassandra V. Harrison
Mathematics, Carmel, CA
James Gardner Harrison
Anthropology, Fredericksburg

Katharine L. Harrison
Business Admin., Newport News
Patricia H. Hart
Economics, Sudbury, MA
Karen M. Hashimoto
Accounting, Hebron, MD
Donald Paul Haspel, II
English, Rehoboth Beach, DE
Susan Elizabeth Hatton
Art History, Rochester, NY

Susan C. Hawkins
Computer Science, Middleham
Karin S. Hawley
Chemistry, Greenwich, CT
Andrew M. Heard
Mathematics, Remington
Lisa Heath
Government, Valencia, CA
John H. Hedges, III
History, Clifton

Jennifer D. Hegel
Economics, Cincinnati, OH
Holly K. Hemmer
English, Earlysville
Michael F. Henderson
Accounting, Strasburg
Mary K. Henning
Philosophy, Annandale
Vaughan Scott Henry
Economics, Freehold, NJ

Mary E. Henshaw
Business Admin., Chester
Karrie Hess
History, Alexandria
James Christian Hill
English, Chester
Jan Alane Hodges
Biology, Richmond
Jonathan H. Hoffman, Jr.
Physics, Springfield

Raymond Lee Hogge, Jr.
Economics, Hampton
Ursula I. Hohl
Computer Science, Newport News
Mary Elizabeth Holland
Business Admin., Martinsville
Michael Holleran
Economics, Arlington
Sharon E. Holloway
Biology, Vinton

John Simpson

Mail call

College Station Box 7360. That's me. All the way at the bottom. Down on my hands and knees to check it. Air mail. The basement of OD: source of job offers and rejections. Dear John's and rare notes from distant freinds, munchies from home, MasterCard and phone bills, notices from Amy, RHH, and the Registrar. Who can forget the squeaky doors, the muddy floors on rainy days, the month old flyers. The campus post office is the mecca of thousands who flock there daily to peer hopefully into its little windows.

Jan Singletary

Man's best friend

— though against College regulations, numerous dogs and cats manage to work their way into students dorms. Adding a familiar air to the campus, regular canines won the attention of students — such as Abby from the English department or Marlena Jack's twin airdales. Here a black lab hangs out by the water during a JBT soccer game.

Bruce Eric Holmes
Economics, Annandale
Bradley Holsinger
Business Admin., Norfolk
H.E. Eric Hook, III
Fine Arts English, Culpeper
Kathleen Renee Houser
Elementary Ed., Chesapeake
Susan Lynn Howard
Elementary Ed., Chincoteague

Timothy J. Howe
History, Annandale
Karen Lfaye Hoyle
Psychology, Savannah, GA
John O. Huber, Jr.
Biology, Latrobe, PA
Angela P. Huffman
Accounting, Hollins
Michael R. Hughey
Chemistry, King George

M. Joan Huiner
Fine Arts, Lynchburg
Mary Louise Hundley
English, Lexington
Cheryl Banks Hunnewell
Mathematics, Chesapeake
Courtney Helton Hunt
Accounting, Redford
Helen Ann Hurley
History, Fairfax

Linda Susana Ives
Elementary Ed., Fort Lee
Eillen Jackman
Chemistry, Oakton
Michelle Foushee Jacobs
Sociology, Wilmington, DE
Robert Vincent Jaeger
Mathematics, Martinsville, NJ
Eric Steven Jaffee
Economics, Flossmoor, IL

Lucia M. James
Economics, Washington, DC
Sharilyn Kim Jee
English, Gaithersburg, MD
Kathy L. Jenkins
Elementary Ed., Falls Church
Andrea Johnson
Economics, Blacksburg
Craig S. Johnson
Psychology, Lynchburg

David Edward Johnson
Government, Richmond
John F. Johnson
Business, Hampton Bays, NY
Joseph Hillard Johnson
Psychology, Richmond
Katherine Ann Johnson
Government, Fairfax
Liard L. Johnson
Economics, Rockbridge Baths

Stephen G. Johnson
Geology, Fort Lee
Susan E. Johnson
Economics, Darien, CT
Alan Leonard Jones
Economics, Brookneal
Jennifer Carr Jones
German, Springfield
Karen Alayne Jones
Physical Ed., Annandale

Laura Holt Jones
Government, Bent Mountain
Thomas Michael Jones
Economics Government, Keyesville
Jeffrey L. Jordy
Accounting, Millbrook, NY
Patricia Kay Jue
Chemistry, Alexandria
William L. Kamberger, Jr.
English, Baltimore, MD

Anne Patterson Kamstra
American Studies, Reston
Michael Edward Karl
Business Mgt., Fairfax
Keith Kay
English, Newton
Colleen T. Kearney
Business Mgt., McLean
Jim Kearns
Government, Williamsburg

Keeler-Kivalcik

Steven James Keeler
Business, Timberville
Maureen Sonia Kelly
Economics, Wellesley Hills, MA
Brent Joseph Kelly
Mathematics, Ramsey, NJ
Thomas Joseph Kelly
Business Mgt., Newport News
Michelle Kem
Business Mgt., Cincinnati, OH

Bradley S. Kemp
Economics, Shreveport, La
Chris Kennelly
English, Richmond
Monica E. Kennon
History, Arlington
David L. Kersey
Biology, Richmond
Lisa Louise Kessler
English, Arlington

Judith L. Kidd
Elementary Ed., Middlesex Co.
Sabrina Michelle Kidd
Music Ed., Topping
Nina Cecelina Killham
Government, Falls Church
Margaret M. Kineke
Economics, New City, NY
Anthony R. Kivalcik
Latin American Studies, Coral Springs, FL

Mary Jada

One night stands

Everybody does it all the time. Twenty-four hours a day, somewhere on campus, someone will be typing. Greg Heneklau, Senior art student, prepares an art history paper. Much to the chagrin of roommate, most papers are under production into the wee hours of the morning.

Ramona Jane Kledzik
Psychology, Virginia Beach
W.A. Klingmeyer, Jr.
Philosophy, Virginia Beach
Juergen Kloo
Business Mgt. Fairfax
Andrew L. Knapp
Biology, New Canaan, C.T.
Karen Marie Kolecki
Accounting, Cherry Hill, NJ

Michael C. Kontos
Biology, Richmond
Warren Sykes Koontz
Chemistry, Richmond
Mark H. Kowalski
Chemistry, Blytheville, AR
Brian Krachman
Biology, Wallingford, P.A.
Deborah F. Krasich
Business Mgt. Winchester

Matthew Kraus
Economics, Garden City, NY
James Scott Krein
Philosophy, Woodbridge
Melanie Kuenmerle
Economics, Cranford, NJ
Chris B. Kup
Geology, Poquoson
David Lee Kunhardt
Economics, Kilmarnock

Alice Kutteroff
Biology, Chester, NJ
Margery Ann Lackman
Biology, Cincinnati, OH
Teveasa F. Ladd
Business Admin., Richmond
David Thornton Lam
Biology, Oakton
Thomas J. Lamb
Government, Williamsburg

Raymond E. Landis
History, York, PA
Steven Richard Lantz
Physics, Catonsville, MD
Stephen J. Larson
Physics, Fairfax
Richard M. Lassitu
Biology, Danville
Jean M. Latu
Accounting, Stratford, PA

Alberto N. Laureano
Economics, Butler, PA
Robert Burnham Laverty
Economics, Lynchburg
Brad Lawler
Economics, Middleburg
Susan Marie Lawson
Business Mgt. Appomattox
D. Michael Lazo
Theatre, Williamsburg

Leafstrand-Loving

Kirsten R. Leafstrand
French, Wheaton, IL
Robert Withers Lee, III
Government, Lynch Station
Myunchi Lee
Chemistry, Metuchen, NJ
Felicia Leggett
Psychology, Newport News
Tyler Howard Leinbach
English, Wyomissing, PA

Angela Marie Lemmon
English, Manassas
Gregory P. Lesko
Fine Arts, Hampton
Vicki Sue Lester
Business Mgt., Collinsville
Paula Levesque
French, Springfield
Mitzi Jo Lewellen
English, Kingwood, WV

Sally Ann Lewis
Biology, Hampton
Colleen A. Lierz
Accounting, Sante Fe, NM
Susan R. Lightner
Economics, Sldell, LA
Sheri Renee Limberger
Anthropology, Alexandria
Diane Linnevonberg
Economics, Stafford

Sarah C. Lissfelt
French, Bonn, West Germany
Deidre Littauer
Government, Larchmont, NY
Ann L. Little
Religion, Dover, PA
Thomas H. Llanso, Jr.
Computer Science, Williamsburg
Sarah J. Locantore
Government, Lawrenceville, NJ

Mary Ann Locke
Economics, Alexandria
Robert Charles Lockerby
Physical Ed., Silver Spring, MD
Randall Nehrenz Lohr
Geology, Virginia Beach
Nathan S. Lokos
Accounting, Silver Spring, MD
Orville N. Longerbeam
Chemistry, Williamsburg

Patricia M. Longerbeam
Business Mgt., Williamsburg
Gayle Longest
Business Mgt., Richmond
Christine M. Lonick
Spanish, Falls Church
Brad Love
Business Mgt., Richmond
Treesa Loving
Education, Palmyra

Museum hopping

Taking a break from touring the National Gallery of Art, Kim Morrison and Peter Neal have lunch on the Mall in Washington, D.C. Members of the Renaissance Art History class, rather than settling for class slides, spent the day at the museum viewing the real thing.

Kathie Rawson

Joseph J. Lucas
Business Mgt., Livingston, NJ
Rosemarie Lytton
Comparative Lit., Vienna
Vanessa Lynch
English History, Ebony
Victor MacCagnan, Jr.
English, Hightstown, NJ
Marcia A. Mallet
Art History, Alexandria

Robin E. Manix
Economics, Stamford, CT
Kenneth R. Manning
Biology, Portsmouth
Gloria J. Maritote
Economics, Roselle, IL
Paul S. Markowski
Business Mgt., Arlington
Robin R. Marsh
Government, Lynchburg

Janet Marshall
Elementary Ed., Clarendville
Elizabeth T. Martell
French, Hampton
Bobbie Sue Martin
Accounting, Gretna
Michele Ashton Martin
Government, Altavista
Anne V. Massaro
Psychology, Pearl River, NY

May-Meredith

Denise J. May
Economics, Fairfax
Catherine Mayberry
French, Alexandria
Barbara Ann Maynor
Business Admin., Hopewell
George R. McBeath
Biology, Williamsburg
Elizabeth G. McClenney
Spanish, Lawrenceville

John Scott McClintock
Chemistry, Virginia Beach
Bradley T. McCord
Accounting, Arlington
B. Lynne McCoy
Business Mgt., Alexandria
Dan McCoy
Philosophy, Rye, NY
Teresa F. McCoy
Economics, Williamsburg

Cathy N. McCurdy
International Relations, Nashville, TN
Stuart McCutchan
English, Annandale
Gary L. McDonald
English, Newport News
Ingrid E. McDonald
Government, McLean
Karen Margaret McDowell
Psychology, Malvern, PA

Gwendolyn McElheny
Accounting, Springfield
Katharine L. McEnderfer
English, Harrisonburg
Kevin M. McGahren
Economics, Yonkers, NY
Carol McGuire
History, Floyd
Douglas K. McKay
Biology, Richmond

Kate McKenna
Government, New York, NY
James K. McKeon
Physical Ed., Ocean City, NJ
Christine L. McLaughlin
Business Admin., Manassas
Elizabeth H. McLeod
Business Mgt., Trenton, NJ
Monica M. McManus
Computer Science, Hidden Hills, CA

Melanie R. McVickar
Economics, Fountain Valley, CA
Druanne Mears
Economics, Modestown
Kimberly Mehuron
Psychology, Vienna
Moazzam Ahmad Mekan
Computer Science, Lahore, Pakistan
Sunshine Duke Meredith
Business Mgt., Norfolk

Beth Mettlers
Elementary Ed., Palm Beach, FL
Judy Meyer
Biology, Virginia Beach
Lawrence E. Michaels
Business, Norfolk
Sharon Middleton
Anthropology, Silver Spring, MD
Andrea Joy Miles
Psychology, Richmond

Ardianne L. Milkes
Economics, Springfield
Beth Lee Miller
Music, Phoenix, MD
Monique E. Miller
Psychology, Vienna
Lisa Ann Milligan
Business Mgt., Chesterfield, MD
Robert H. Mills
Government, Alexandria

Lucinda Gale Milne
Economics, Lynchburg
Jonathan Allen Minnick
Biology, Williamsburg
Leslie M. Minnix
Computer Science, Lexington
Eliza Mitchell
History, Ontario, Canada
Mary Mitchell
Religion, Williamsburg

Mark Beavers

Homecoming despair

ricilla Hancock and Tom Summerville lead an unusually animated Tribe crowd in a rousing cheer during the November 6 Homecoming game against Brown. Such enthusiasm did not seem to help, however, as the Indians succumbed to the Bears, 23-22. Seniors despaired of seeing a Tribe victory at Homecoming before they graduated, but the day's other festivals and tailgate parties more than made up for the disappointing season.

Mary Ida

Plastic money

The lure of plastic money is great. Flyers proclaiming the privileges of having credit beckoned students from the bulletin boards on the campus post office and cafe. Yet another student succumbs to the temptations of possessing her own Master Card and Sears Card. The application drive served a dual purpose: they benefited Circle K, and students established a credit rating.

William Patrick Mitchell
History, Sparta, NJ
John Andre Mitrovic
Physical Ed., Hammonton, NJ
Laura L. Monfalcone
Biology, Mechanicsville
Ned Monroe
Government, Newport News
Juan Miguel Montinola
Economics, Manila, Philippines

Margaret Ellis Moore
Business Admin., Richmond
Steven Alton Moore
Musical Arts, Hampton
Stefanie Moreau
Business Mgt., Falls Church
Vincent C. Morgan
Sociology, Virginia Beach
Kimberly A. Morrison
Government, Chesapeake

Michele Denise Morrow
Computer Science, Norfolk
Roger A. Morse
Economics, Amherst, NY
Brian J. Mount
Philosophy, State College, PA
Sheila Ellen Muir
English, Glen Ellyn, IL
Caroline Ann Muller
Economics, Franklin Lakes, NJ

Linda Yuri Murakami
Biology, Cherry Hill, NJ
Kenneth Shae Murphy
Computer Science, Arlington
Thomas Joseph Murphy
Physics, Forest
Matthew S. Murray, IV
Spanish, Falls Church
Ronald G. Myatich
Chemistry, Allison Park, PA

Lori L. Naatjes
Business Admin., Fairfax
Cynthia L. Nash
Psychology, Queenstown, MA
Peter J. Nebergall
Interdisciplinary, Toano
John David Nelms
Computer Science, Roanoke
Kathryn Carter Nettles
English, Wakefield

J. Robert Newman, Jr.
Economics, Norwalk, CT
Martha Elizabeth Newsom
Elementary Ed., Suffolk
Terry Keith Nicholson
Chemistry, Chesterfield
Robert James Nicol
History, Falls Church
Dennis Bryan Nordstrom
Business Mgt., Exmore

Judith Marie Norman
Government, Alexandria
Deborah A. Norris
Business Mgt., Telford, PA
Christine J. Notel
Government, Virginia Beach
Nancy E. Nuckles
Elementary Ed., Charleston, SC
Melody Carter Nuckols
Philosophy/English, Portsmouth

Joanne Margaret O'Brien
Economics, Bronxville, NY
Marcia L. O'Connell
Biology, Hyattsville, MD
Lori Okerstrom
Fine Arts, New Brighton, MN
Carlos F. Ortiz
Sociology, Mahwah, NJ
Sally Ann Osborne
Anthropology, Virginia Beach

Parva Oskoui
Computer Science, Federal Heights
Peyma Oskoui
Computer Science, Federal Heights
Nancy Elizabeth Packer
Fine Arts, Pittsburgh, PA
Gregory I. Paddock
Chemistry, Richmond
Nosuk Pak
Accounting, North

Palmer-Peterson

Helen T. Palmer
Psychology, Lancaster
Gregory K. Park
Economics, West Long Branch, NJ
William Parks, II
Economics, Norfolk
Emily Shawn Parr
Psychology, Richmond
Ann Pastore
Business Mgt, Reston

Mary Pastore
Spanish, Reston
Peggy Ellen Pate
Business Mgt, Matoaca
Susan Lori Pate
Biology, Dewitt
Mary Rebecca Paylor
Psychology, Richmond
Leann Pearce
Economics, Mechanicsville

Spring Pechan
Elementary Ed., Richmond
Paneka Habe Oersugegk
English, Annandale
Amy Eliza Peters
Psychology, Martinsville
Rise Jean Peters
Sociology, Roanoke
Barbara Anne Peterson
French, Norfolk

Jan Singletary

Outdoor cramming

Settled on the steps of Chancellors, Mike Sharmon, Betsy Beasley, David Reynolds, Cathy Charney, and Colleen Kearny hold a last minutes study session before an exam.

Janet M. Philips
French, Albany, NY
Scott Curtis Phillips
English, Fredericksburg
Margery S. Phipps
Physics, Charlottesville
Andrew Ricky Pines
Psychology, Greenwich, CT
Walter H. Placzek
Theatre Spanish, South Plainfield, NJ

Karen E. Pollok
Biology, Richmond
Craig A. Poms
Economics, Rockville, MD
Barbara Potter
Accounting Business, Richmond
David M. Poulsen
Business Admin., Chester
Katherine E. Powell
English, Oxford, NC

Patricia M. Powis
Government, Fairfax
Andrew Damian Pratt
Biology, Fairfax
David Price
Economics, Middleburg
Jamieson Kent Price
Theatre, Williamsburg
Emily Taliaferro Prince
Psychology, Williamsburg

Karen L. Priola
Business Mgt., Virginia Beach
Elizabeth S. Priskey
Interdisciplinary, Harpers Ferry, WV
David Lee Pruitt
Business Admin., Hampton
Tamara Prybyla
English, Reston
Lovelace Wayne Puglisi
Computer Science, Jetersville

E. Lee Qualls
Business Admin., Ramsey, NJ
Christopher J. Quartana
Theatre, Fairfax
Victoria Quick
French, Lynchburg
Barbara Ann Quigley
Business Mgt., Wheaton, IL
Robert L. Quinan, Jr.
Government, Wellesley, MA

Anne S. Quynn
English, Richmond
Cynthia L. Radcliffe
English, Richmond
Teresa Ragland
Psychology, Fredericksburg
Kathleen M. Raley
Biology, Vienna
Gwendolyn D. Ramey
English, Newport News

Ranzini-Ruffner

Paul L. Ranzini
Philosophy, Williamsburg
John P. Rasnic
Business Mgt., Fairfax
John S. Rebstock
History, Waldwick, NJ
Cathleen A. Reese
Elementary Ed., Grafton
Amy Carolyn Reich
English, Port Washington, NY

Frank Kevin Reynolds
Economics, Arlington
William J. Rich
Economics, Northern Virginia
Suzanne L. Richardson
Spanish, Alexandria
Anne Patrice Richter
History, Richmond Hill, NY
J. Mark Riddle
Philosophy, Rockville, MD

Wendy Leigh Rilling
Biology, Norcross
Adriana V. Rios
Latin Am. Studies, Rio De Janeiro, BR
Dawn Robbins
Government, Stafford
Ann Merrick Roberson
Music, Florissant, MO
David Michael Roberts
Business Mgt., Cranford, NJ

Pamela Lyn Roberts
Economics, Charleston, SC
J. Craig Robertson
English, Fairfield, CT
Kevin Patrick Robins
Economics, North Wales, PA
Lorleen Elana Robinson
Theatre, Springfield
Jennifer H. Rogers
Classical Civilization, Farmville

Rebecca Allen Rogers
Sociology, Fredericksburg
Stanley M. Rolan
Economics, Richmond
Mark Joseph Romness
Biology, Arlington
Eric Paul Roorda
History, Harrisville, MI
Lynn Marie Rosenberry
English, W. Simsbury, CT

Roney Rowland, III
Business Admin., I. Alaska, PA
Susan Rubin
Economics, River Forest, IL
Michaela Ruether
Business Admin., Kuala Belat, Brunei
Glenn I. Ruffner
Economics, Arlington
Karen M. Ruffner
Mathematics, Arlington

Jan Svingtvar

Campus center alternative

If one gets there before the late night Wig opens, the campus center lounge can be a viable alternative to the social hour at Swem. Here, an exhausted student kicks his shoes and crams for the exam, and for a study break, there is always MTV in the television lounge.

David A. Rupert
Sociology, Lynchburg
Alice Russ
Business Mgt., Lynchburg
Terrell Lynn Rutledge
Sociology, Virginia Beach
Beth Ann Sala
Business Admin., Manheim, PA
Patricia Ann Sanders
Government, Boonton, NJ

James R. Satterly
Economics, Darien, CT
Robert James Saunders
Economics, Manchester, CT
Denise Elaine Savino
Economics, Fairfax
Carolyn Dorothy Saylor
English, West Caldwell, NJ
Jodi G. Scarlata
Economics, Fairfax

Corinne Schmidt
English History, Middleham
Robert D. Schmidt
Biology, Arlington
Patricia Schmitz
Accounting, Cherry Hill, NJ
Sherry Eileen Schmuelling
Economics, St. Charles, IL
Michael Jay Schneider
Physical Ed., Ballwin, MO

Schneider, P.-Sherman

Paul Daniel Schneider
Computer Science, Carlisle Barracks, PA
Kathy Schwartz
Chemistry, Orchard Park, NY
Lisa K. Schwarz
History, Alexandria
Karen Ann Schweitzer
Biology, Babylon, NY
Carolyn Jean Scott
Economics, Arlington

Robert L. Scott
Spanish, Jamaica, NY
David Walter Seamon
Chemistry, Lynchburg
Ronald T. Seel
Government, East Brunswick, NJ
Carl Edward Sehen, Jr
Government, Richmond
Sherri Lynn Sell
Fine Arts, La Jolla, CA

Ellen Elizabeth Sellers
Economics, Norfolk
Kari Lauralyn Sessoms
French, Williamsburg
David B. Sexton
Anthropology, Kent, England
Stephen C. Shaifer
Business, Philadelphia, PA
Anne Hopkins Shanaman
Mathematics, Morris Plains, NJ

Kathryn Kimberly Shanks
Music, Warrenton
Michael Sharman
Business Admin., Richmond
Marvin Shaw
Government, W. Hempstead, NY
Julie A. Sheets
Psychology, Cape Elizabeth, ME
Robert Bruce Sherman
Theatre, Wheaton, MD

Mary Tula

Keeping Posted

Sometimes it is difficult to keep up with the rest of the world, when one is obsessed with the academic pressures at William and Mary. For those on Chandler 1st, who are compelled by government professors to read a newspaper, or those who manage the time to read on their own time, Bob Harrelson delivers the Washington Post.

Michael F. Shields
Government, Williamsburg
John F. Shine, Jr
Business, Portsmouth
Michael A. Shuler
Economics, Lynchburg
Michael L. Simpson
Economics, Newport News
Mark Andrew Singley
Economics, Lexington, MA

Mary Lloyd Sinnott
Government, Richmond
Irene V. Sisson
Biology, Iamtham
Robert C. Skelly
Economics, Falls Church
Debra Slaughter
Economics, White Plains, NY
Ellen Sandra Slotnik
English, Gaithersburg, MD

Carol Nance Smith
Music, Colonial Heights
Debora Lynn Smith
Business Mgt., Aberdeen, NJ
Jennie Ellen Smith
Physical Ed., Williamsburg
Margaret Walton Smith
Anthropology, Staunton
Paige P. Snarr
Business Admin., Woodstock

Angela C. Snead
Business Mgt., Ft. Washington, MD
Mark Thomas Sohers
Chemistry, Norfolk
Miki Sohma
Mathematics, Garden City, NY
Donna Eva K. Solberg
English, Annandale
Cynthia Dee Sparks
Elementary Ed., Springfield

Ellen Jo Spengler
Mathematics, Hampton
Andrea Spessard
Psychology, Richmond
Konrad H. Spicer
Geology, Richmond
Mariss Jiffy Sraders
Mathematics, Alexandria
David M. Stafford
Economics, Lunenburg, MA

Leslie J. Staiko
English, Warrenton
Jean-Paul Stanford
Government, Arlington
Claudia J. Stanton
English, Williamsburg
Susan A. Staller
Government, Fairbidge, OH
Scott Irvin Steele
Business Mgt., Albany, NY

A mild November

Emily Prince and friends enjoy the unusual experience of catching rays in the Sunken Gardens during November. The mild temperatures brought plenty of sun worshippers out of stuffy dorm rooms for a few hours of outdoor studying.

Patricia A. Steenhuisen
Business Mgt. Westfield, NJ
William A. Stein
Business Admin., Alexandria
David H. Stephens
Biology, Alexandria
Dean V. Stermer
Fine Arts, Williamsburg
Ellen Stofan
Geology, Bay Village, OH

Suzanne M. Straus
History, Alexandria
Michael Paul Strayhorn
Economics, Richmond
Jonathan Paul Streeter
Economics Spanish, West Hartford, CT
Leslie Striegl
Biology, Fairfax
Karen Leigh Sullivan
Mathematics, Fredericksburg

Kim Yong Sung
Economics, Williamsburg
Tracey Swain
Geology, Petersburg
Mary V. Swanson
Environmental Sci., Mechanicsburg
Dane J. Swenson
Accounting, Willmar, MN
Sandra D. Swift
Biology, Amherst

Linda Joan Symons
Biology, Houston, TX
John Raymond Tammi
Accounting, Maywood, NJ
Angela M. Taylor
Business Mgt. Petersburg
Gregory F. Taylor
English, Alexandria
Jeremy Young Taylor
English, Williamsburg

Martha Lewis Taylor
Sociology, Williamsburg
Michelle Zenobia Taylor
Mathematics, Hampton
Andrea J. Thiringer
Elementary Ed., Alexandria
Brent M. Thomas
English, Newport News
Kerrie Thomas
Chemistry, Pittsburgh, PA

David E. Thomason
Biology, Richmond
Freida A. Thompson
Economics, Winston-Salem, NC
Vicky C. Thompson
Elementary Ed., Ontario, Canada
Anne A. Thurston
Psychology, Colts Neck, NJ
Denise Kay Tillery
English, Roanoke

Connie Jo Tracy
Mathematics, Piquoson
Patricia D.C. Trinler
Business Adm., San Jose, Costa Rica
Thomas H. Trott
Business, West Hartford, CT
Jane M. Trotter
French, Norfolk
Edith Ann Tucker
English, Lovingson

Mark Kingsbury Tucker
Psychology, Cambridge, MA
David Hunter Turner
Biology, Accorn
Elizabeth Adeline Turner
Sociology, Stuart
Kathy Uhrig
History, Chester
David Henry Uttal
Psychology, Blacksburg

Ruth E. Uvenges
Biology, Berea, Oh
Pamela G. Van Der Leeden
Government, Westbury, NY
Pamela C. Varner
Business Mgt, Pound
Deborah Diane Vaughn
Psychology, Petersburg
Bonnie H. Vehrs
Accounting, Manassas

Robert H. Veshancey
Economics, Greensburg, PA
Mark W. Voight
History, Government, Shillington, PA
George A. Volkert, Jr.
English, Atlanta, GA
Sheron Renae Wade
Business Administration, Sedley
Richard Ogden Wagner
Government, Beach Haven Grande, NJ

Catherine Marie Walker
English, Galax
Dennis M. Walling
Biology, Rockville, MD
Eugene Craig Wallo
Computer Science, Richmond
Mary S. Waltney
History, Smithfield
John Ward
Biology, Newport News

Rita M. Ward
Elementary Ed., Ledyard, CT
Carla A. Washinko
Accounting, Fairfax
Cheryl A. Watanabe
English, Herndon
Caroline B. Watkins
Classical Studies, Decatur, GA
Christopher P. Watkins
French, Richmond

Kathleen Watson
Fine Arts, Norwalk, CT

Injuries ruin season

The Tribe was plagued by injuries this season. Here, sophomore full back Jim McHefley grimaces as one of the team's trainers examines his knees.

Jerome Watters
Economics, Bel Air, MD
Laura Lynn Weaver
French, Roanoke
Brant C. Wiedner
Government, Allentown, PA
Christina Mary Wells
English, Miami, FL
Edward G. Wells
Government, Arlington

Gwynne Wells
Religion, Virginia Beach
Lisa Kay Wells
Economics, Richmond
Lisa Lynn Welsh
Elementary Ed., Chesapeake
Patricia L. West
Economics, Virginia Beach
Rebecca Bruce Westbrook
English, Jacksonville, FL

Nancy Grace Wetmore
Economics, Darton, GA
Ed Wheelless
Biology, Highland Springs
Robert J. Whitaker
English, South Hill
Julian Levi White
Accounting, Highland Springs
Mary Kathryn White
Business Adm., Virginia Beach

Susan E. White
Business Adm., Fairfax
Karen Lynn Whitely
Business Mgt., Altavista
Leslie Yolanda Whiteman
Mathematics, Fritock
Patricia L. Whitmer
Government, Clifton Forge
Elizabeth Wiedenmuller
Death and Dying, Springfield

Diane Lawrence Williams
Biology, Poughkeepsie, NY
Ellen Kay Williams
Psychology, Richmond
Sarah Alleta Williams
Chemistry, Arlington
William L. Williams
Philosophy, Blacksburg
Amy Lewis Williamson
English, Chesapeake

Catherine Thersa Wilson
English, Portsmouth
Jacob M. Wilson, III
Biology, Hampton
Sarah Jane Wilson
Fine Arts, Blacksburg, VA
Timothy W. Wilson
Fine Arts, Virginia Beach
Elaine Patricia Winder
Psychology, Blacksburg, VA

Scott D. Wolf
Economics, Williamsburg
Carolyn Wolsiefer
Business Mgt., Williamsburg
Thomas Shevng-Pok Wong
Chemistry, Hong Kong
Alison Marion Wood
Western European Stud., Alexandria
Christine Wood
Anthropology, Wartagh, NY

Leanne R. Wood
English, Fairfax
Kimberly Jan Woodie
Government Philosophy, Kingsville, MD
Marc Allan Wright
History, Bullalo Grove, IL
Kurt Wrigley
Business Mgt., Pottsham, PA
Joseph Michael Yackow
Economics Government, Falls Church

Cheryl Yarbrough
Economics, Fairfax
Terri Yarbrough
Mathematics, Comp. Sci., Manassas
Kim Young Sung
Economics, Williamsburg
Amy Lee Marie Young
English, Virginia Beach
Elizabeth Cornelia Young Government, Ashland

Yuval Joseph Zacks
Psychology, Endwell, NY
Mark A. Zarrel
Accounting, Falls Church
Daniel S. Zaruba
Geology, Williamsburg
Alexander Zavistovich
Philosophy, Ft. Washington, MD
Dawn M. Zimmerman
Human Relations, Athens, Greece

S E N I O R S T A T S

SHOSHANAH ABORN — W&M Theatre, Directors Wkshp. Premiere Theatre, Backdrop Club, Flat Hat Society for Collegiate Journalists, Spanish House, Hillel, Tau Epsilon Alpha, Theatre Students Assoc., Alliance of the Link
GREG DAVID ADAMS — Baseball (Cpt. 3-yr letterman), Acog Club, V.P. Lambda Chi Alpha, Head Ref. for Intramurals
KAREN ADAMS — Alpha Chi Omega Treas., Acog Club, Dorm Cnl
JANE ALLISON ALCOCK — Band, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Econ. Club, Pre-Law Club, I.A.D.C. comm., Wesley
MARY DE-LIGHT ALCOCK — Kappa Delta BNL Choir, Eastern State Hosp. volun- teer, Psi Chi, Psi Chi Club, ELLEN MICHELLE ALDEN — Kappa Delta Student Chorus, Student Ed. Assoc., Kappa Delta Phi, Intervarsity, SUSAN KILFEY AIDWORTH — Field Hockey (Cpt.), Lacrosse, Econ. Club, Secy. of Intervarsity Athletes, Advisory Cnl Pres. Judo Club
TESLIE ALLSOPP — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Omega Chi Theta
JULIE ALTON — W&M Review, Chorus
ZANNE C. ALVIS — Phi Mu
CARLAD AMBROSE — Chorus 2 yrs, Choir 1-yr
KAREN LYNN ANDERSON — Kappa Delta, Catholic Student Assoc., St. Bede's Music Ministry, Psi Chi Club
KARLA KAY ANDERSON — Kappa Delta, Econ. Club, Tau Epsilon Alpha, Omega Chi Theta, Intervarsity, Orig.
KRISTIN M. ANDREASON — W&M Treas., Acog Club, Psi Chi, St. I. SUSAN E. ANDREWS — Kappa Alpha Phi, Psi Chi, Psi Chi Club, USA, Airline Pilot, Psi Chi, Psi Chi Club, Psi Chi Club, Psi Chi Club, Psi Chi Club
RANI ANNE — Kappa Kappa Gamma

Bio Club, Col. Repub. Sr. Class Social Chairperson
PAMELA SUE APPLEBY — Big Brothers Sisters, Mgt. Majors Club, Circle K, Flat Hat
SHARON APPELTON — Shared Experience Circle K, CSA
ALISON P. ASHBY — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Dorm Council
GAYLE LYNETTE ASHBY — W&M Theatre, Directors Wkshp. ISA, W&M, Business Manager
SUSIE ASHFORD — CSA, Dorm Cnl, W&M Theatre, Directors Wkshp, Intervarsity, Shared Exper., Intramural Softball
PETER W. ATWATER — VP for Student Concerns, President's Aide, R. ODK, Mortar Board, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Theta Delta Upsilon
DENISE M. AUENTI — Pi Beta Phi, Intramural Volleyball
WILLIAM M. AUSTIN, III — Intl. Rel. Club, Covenant Players, Canterbury, Omicron Delta Epsilon
STEVEN L. AVERY — Wayne F. Gibbs Accounting Society
TODD W. BALDWIN — Flat Hat, W&M
THOMAS F. BALL — Pi Kappa Alpha
STEPHANIE A. BARANOWSKI — Baptist Stu. Union, Mgt. Majors Club, Emory Bus. Team, Circle K
ELIZABETH ANN BAREFOOT — Mgt. Majors Club, Women's Basketball Stars, Women's Rugby Club
JEFFREY R. BARNA — Kappa Sigma Baseball, Gay Club
ANN-MITCHELL BAROODY — Chi Omega Secy, Summer School Honor Cnl., Lambda Chi Alpha, Sweetheart Ed. Club
ELAINE PAULINE BARTH — Pi Kappa Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sister Club, Omega Chi Theta, R.V. Lady Lane

Rep.
BRIAN BATES — Officers Club
CHRISTIE A. BATEY — W&M KURI
J. BAUMBERGER — Honors Research, Psi Chi, Psych Club, W&M, Intramurals Soccer, Ftbl, Bskbl, MVBL, Sttbl, Cinema Classics
TRACY M. BAYNARD — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dorm Cnl, Treas., W&M Theatre, Sr. Class Soc. Comm.
KAREN L. BEALE — Debate, Circle K, CSA, Young Dem, ROTC, Intramurals
ELIZABETH LEE BEASLEY — Geo. Club, Pres. VP, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Hockey, Lacrosse
GAIL BECHLY — Band, Psi Chi, Kappa Delta, Float Chairman, Soc. Asst.
JOHN P. BEDOR — Canterbury Vestry, Evensong Choir, Phi Mu, Alpha Sigma V, P.T.O., W&M, Ecumenical Cnl. Coord., Covenant Players Board, Band
CHRISTINE BEHL — Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Intramurals, Aid to the Handicapped
BASIL BELCHES, III — Dorm Cnl, R.V., Intramurals, Kappa Alpha Pres.
CHRISTINA MARIE BEIT — Phi Mu, Pi Delta Phi, Catholic Stu. Assoc., Lambda Chi Alpha, Sweetheart
STEPHANIE DALE BENSON — Pi Beta Phi, Corp. Council
MARYKAYE BENTON — Chorus, Choir, Psi Chi, Intervarsity Fellowship
LISA ANN BEYER — Phi Mu, Meritmetres, Dorm Council
STACEY BICE — Tennis Captain, Phi Mu, Reg. Ritual Chairman, Alpha Phi Omega Secy., Dorm Rep.
JACK A. BIRNKAMMER — Pi Lambda Phi, Fine Arts Soc., M. STEPHEN B. BISHOP — Honor Cnl., Vice Chmn., Head Resident, R.V., O.A., Presidents' Aide
CAROLINE L. BLAHA — Alpha Chi

Omega, Soc. Functions Chmn., Mgt. Majors Club, Communications Comm., Pub. Comm. Co-Chmn.
ALEX BLAKE-MORE — Sigma Phi Epsilon, S.C.M., Mutual Arts Club
KIRK BLANDFORD — Mgt. Majors Club, Intramurals, CSA, Dorm Council
JONATHAN A. BLANKE — Flat Hat, Order of the White Jacket, Canoe Club, Outdoor Club, ISA
MICHAEL W. BLANKS — Assoc. of Computing Machines, Chmn. WALTER HENRY BLOTKAMP — CSA, Covenant Players, Premiere Theatre, Dorm Council, SAC
KAREN MARY BOGAN — R.V., O.A., Spanish Honor Soc., CSA, Dorm Cnl., Intl. Circle, Intramurals
EDWARD LAWRENCE BOND — Intramurals, Canterbury
STEVEN RILEY BOONE — BNL, Track Captain
SUZANNE H. BOONE — Dorm Cnl., Intramurals, Bus. Mgt. Majors Club, Phi Mu, Float Chmn., Pi Panel Officer, Float Chmn.
ELAINE BOWDEN — Volleyball, Intramurals Soc. Club
MELINDA L. BOWLES — Student Ed. Assoc., Leads, Career Exploration Day Comm., O.A., Campus Tour Guide
CAROLINE J. BOYD — Psych Club, BNL, Choir, Italian House
PAUL BOYKAS — O.A., Intl. Rel. Club, Sr. Class Gift Comm., Phi Alpha Theta
MATTHEW BRADLEY — WMBC, Soccer Coach, W&M, Dorm Council
ROBERT BRADSHAW — Pi Lambda Phi, Acog Club, Intramurals, Dorm Council
PATRICIA ANNE BRANDES — Circle K, Outdoors Club, Intramurals
MARY KATHERINE BRANDON — Intramurals, W&M, TRACEY ELIZA-

BETH BRAUN — Econ. Club, Chmn. Career Speakers Prog., SAC Rep., Dorm Cnl., Omicron Delta Epsilon, Econ. Honor Soc., Steering Comm.
LESLEY D. BRENT — Fine Arts Soc.
STEPHEN NORRIS BRETSEN — Pi Kappa Alpha, Wesley, Co-leader, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Pre-Law Club
MARK DAVID BRICKHOUSE — Choir Pres., Kappa Alpha Order, Chem. Club, Project Plus Treas.
THEODORE J. BROECKER — CSY MARIA BROPHY — Phi Mu
DIRK LAMAR BROWN — Phi Mu Alpha Alum. Secy. Choir, Botevort Chamber Singers, BNL, Involve Chmn., Col. Repub., ACM, Sinfonietta
LYMAN ROBERT BROWN — Omicron Delta Epsilon, Tennis, Badminton
SUZANNE BROWN — Kappa Delta, Wesley Band, ACM
DIANA L. BROWNING — Kappa Alpha Theta, ACM, Dorm Cnl., Sr. Class Gift Comm., Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, PBK, NANCY E. BROWNING — Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Dorm Cnl., Delta Delta Delta, Service Project Chmn., TAB BOYLES — Pi Beta Phi, R.V., Spanish House, Swim Team
MARION W. BRUNZIE — VaPIRG, Tau Epsilon Alpha, Eastern State Volunteer
MILLS ROBERT BRYANT III — Econ. Club, Col. Repub., Dorm Cnl.
DEBRA LEIGH BUCKLEN — Kapp Delta Band, Chorus, Director Wkshp., Wesley Foundation, SEA
MICHELLE R. BURCHETT — Delta Delta Delta, Chorus, Band, O.A., Florence Program
KAREN GAIL BUTLER — Kappa Delta, VP, Cinema Classics Soc., Young

Phi Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma Sigma Delta Pi, Mortar Board, Alpha Phi Omega SUSAN LORI PATE — Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Theta Kappa PATRICIA ANNE BRANDES — Circle K, Outdoors Club, Intram's MARY REBECCA PAYLOR — Adult Skills Program, Chorus LEANN PEARCE — Kappa Alpha Theta, Commissary Chmn., Majorettes SPRING PECHAN — Student Ed. Assoc., Chi Omega, Personnel Officer, Jr. Pers. Honor Cncl., Sec., O.A. Dorm Cncl., Student Advisory Council PAMELA JANE PERSIGHEI — Wesley Foundation, VP, Sec., New Test Student Assoc., N.T.S.A., Inter-University, W.M.C., Delta Omicron, Chorus AMY ELIZA PETERS — Kappa Delta, Circle K, Psych. Club RISE JEAN PETERS — Honorary Soc., W&M Theatre, Soc. Club BARBARA ANNE PETERSON — Pi Delta Phi, Int'l Circle JANET M. PHILLIPS — Pi Delta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Hillel SCOTT CURTIS PHILLIPS — Karate Club, Eastern State Volunteer MARGERY S. PHIPPS — Chorus, Choir, Circle K, Physics Club, Sigma Pi Sigma ANDREW RICKY PINES — Psych. Club, Eastern State Volunteer WALTER H. PLACZEK — Intram's, W&M Theatre, Premiere Theatre, Project Plus, Sigma Delta KAREN E. POLLOCK — Chi Omega, Pledge Class VP, VP Honor Cncl. Dorm Cncl., Help Unlimited CRAIG A. POMIS — Flat Hat, Soph. Steering Comm., NCAA Volunteers for Youth Director, Sigma Chi VP Chapter Editor, Intram's, Muscular Dystrophy Dance Marathon Comm. BARBARA POTTER — Band, Kappa Delta, Asst. Membership Chmn., Sinfonicon Opera Company DAVID M. POULSEN — Dorm Cncl., Circle K, SL Club, Mgt. Majors Club KATHERINE E. POWELL — Gamma Phi Beta, Fencing, Lacrosse, WRA, Co-Pres., Student Athletic Trainer, Queens Guard PATRICIA M. POWIS — Swim Team, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Membership Chmn., Pi Sigma Alpha ANDREW DAMIAN PRATT — Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Pi Delta Phi, For Study Comm., Jr. Year in France, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta DAVID PRICE — Debate Council, VP Chmn., Omicron Delta Kappa, Yell Leader, Asst. for Computer Mach., Project Plus JAMIESON KENT PRICE — Mainstage Theatre, Premiere Theatre, Var. Cheerleaders, Director's Wkshp ELIZABETH S. PRISLEY — O.A., Inter-University Christian Fellowship, Int'l Circle DAVID LEE PRUITT — Choir, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Sinfonicon Opera Co., Premiere Theatre, Fellowship of Christian Athl. TAMARA PRYBYLA — Drama, Folk Group, Project Plus LOVELACE WAYNE PUGLISI — Intramural Bskbl., CSA Sports Dir., Freshman O.A., A.C.M.E. LEE QUALLS — Var. Football, Kappa Sigma Pres. CHRISTOPHER J. QUARTANA — W&M Theatre, Sinfonicon, Backdrop, Dir. Wkshp., Premiere Theatre VICTORIA QUICK — Phi Mu, Jr. Year in Montpelier France BARBARA ANN QUIGLEY — Var. Volleyball, Intram'l Vblbl., Dorm Rep. ROBERT L. QUINAN JR. — Debate Team, Intnl Circle, Flat Hat, Spanish House, Carpe Diem, Jr. Year Montpelier ANNE S. QUINN — Kappa Kappa Gamma, VP, Pi Kappa Alpha Little Sister, VP Sr. Class Publicity Comm. CYNTHIA L. RADCLIFFE — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Field Hockey, Lacrosse TERESA RAGLAND — Baptist Student Union, Choir, Family Group Council, Treas., Summer Mission Chmn. KATHLEEN M. RALEY — WCWM CSA, Yearbook Section Editor, Chorus, Bio Club GWENDOLYN D. RAMEY — Karate Club, Educ. Club, Adult Skills Prog. Tutor JOHN P. RASNIC — Var. Soccer, Pi Lambda Phi, Pledge Class Pres. JOHN S. REBSTOCK — Canterbury Vestry, Evensong Choir, Jr. Year in St. Andrews, Phi Eta Sigma, Project Plus, AML. MAY CAROLYN REICH — Sr. Class Sec., Chorus, Admissions Office Tour Guide FRANK KEVIN RYANOLDS — Econ. Club, D.O.G. Skaters, Tennis, Intram's, Amnesty Int'l, VA Action SUZANNE L. RICHARDSON — Spanish House, Russian House, Dorm Council, Delta Omicron, Orchestra, W&M Theatre, Tau Epsilon Alpha ANNE-PATRICIA RICHTER — Field Hockey, RA, Dorm Cncl., L.A.D.S., Va-PiRG, Athletic Policy Adv. Comm., Alpha Chi Omega cultur. actv. Chmn., Pika Little Sis J. MARK RIDDLE — Project Plus, French House, Intram's WENDY LEIGH RILLING — Golf Team, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Bio. Club, Intramurals, Alpha Chi

Omega, VP ADRIANA V. RIOS — Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Adult Skills Pi Beta Phi, Int'l Circle, Amnesty Int'l DAWN ROBBINS — SAC Rep., Dorm Council, Pre-law Club ANN MERRICK ROBERSON — Delta Omicron, Sinfonicon, Pre-law Club, Orchestra, Canterbury, W&M Libertarians DAVID MICHAEL ROBERTS — Dandridge Soc., Sec., Class of December 1982 — VP PAMELA LYNN ROBERTS — Kappa Alpha Theta, W&M Theatre Backdrop Club, Orchestis Apprentice Premiere Theatre, Director's Wkshp J. CRAIG ROBERTSON — Building Landmark Abodes, Riding Bikes, Drinking Coffee, Talking (Codename Zen) KEVIN PATRICK ROBINS — Econ. Honor Soc., Intram's, Volleyball Club, Team LORELEEN ELANA ROBINSON — BSU, Dorm Council, W.M.V. JENNIFER H. ROGERS — Classical Civ., Classics Club, Little Sister, Chi Omega, Classics Dept. Assistant, Flat Hat REBECCA ALLEN ROGERS — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Freshman Dorm Cncl., Soc. Club STANLEY M. ROLEN — SA, Big Brothers of Wmbyg, Pi Sigma Alpha, Sigma Chi, CSA Intram's ERIC PAUL RORDA — W&M Review, Poetry Editor, Flat Hat, Graphus, Phi Kappa Tau, Pledge Master, Croquet Team LYNN MARIE ROSENBERY — Var. Gymnastics Cpt., Dorm Cncl. RONNEY ROWLAND III — Pi Kappa Alpha, East Coast Mktg. Inc., Womens Sports Information SUSAN RUBIN — Econ. Club, Omicron Delta Epsilon, Pi Beta Phi, Sec. Pi Kappa Alpha Little Sister MICHAELA RUTHER — Dorm Cncl., Circle K, Int'l Circle, MD Superdance Comm. GLENN I. RUFFNER — Catholic Student Assoc., Student Mgr. Commons KAREN M. RUFFNER — Catholic Student Assoc. DAVID A. RUPERT — SAC Rep., Pres. Asst., Head Resident, Athletic Policy Comm., Tutor, Admt. Skills Program, Omicron Delta Kappa ALICE RLUSS — Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Beta Gamma Sigma, Mgt. Majors Club, Tutor Adult Skills Program TERRILL LYNN RUTLEDGE — Delta Delta Delta, Soc. Club, Educ. Club, Aerobic Dance by JRIM BETH ANN SALA — Honor Council, Mortar Board, VP Discipline Comm., Chi Omega, Pledge Historian, Asst. Treas., Recommendations Chmn., House Pres., RA, Dorm Cncl., Chorus, Emory Team Pres., Financial Aid Comm., RA Advisors Board Delta Phi Mu charter member PATRICIA ANNE SANDERS — Kappa Delta Membership Chmn., Canterbury Assoc., Covenant Players, Orchestra JAMES R. SATTERLY — Cpt. Var. Track, Pi Lambda Phi, Boh. Dublin Soc. ROBERT JAMES SAUNDERS — Circle K Club, Fund-raising Chmn. JV Soccer, Wmbyg Community Hospital Volun., VaPIRG, DENISE ELAINE SAVINO — Delta Delta, Delta, Asst. Rush Chmn., Sponsor Chmn. RACARADYNN DOROTHY SAYLOR — Tennis JODI G. SCARLATA — Econ. Club, Catholic Student Assoc., Govt. Honor Soc., Freshman Honor Soc. ROBERT D. SCHMIDT — Phi Sigma Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Cross Country, Track PATRICIA SCHMITZ — Wayne F. Gobbs Acting Soc., Catholic Student Assoc., Monroe Dorm Cncl. Transfer O.A. SHERRY EILEEN SCHMULLING — Kappa Alpha Theta, Asst. Soc. Chmn. Parhel Cncl. Sr. Officer Econ. Club, Col. Repub. MICHAEL JAY SCHNEIDER — Rush Chmn., Kappa Alpha, Phys. Ed. Majors Club, Die Hard Fan Club, Badminton Club PAUL DANIEL SCHNEIDER — Theta Delta Chi, CM KATHY SCHWARTZ — Kappa Kappa Gamma Pledge Trainer, Chem. Club, Pres. Mgt. Men's Tennis KAREN ANN SCHWEITZER — Band, Pep Band, Bio Club, CSA CAROLYNN JEAN SCOTT — Freshman RA, Upperclass RA, Superdance Comm., Supper Club DAVID WALTER SEAMON — Chem. Club, Treas., Gamma Sigma Epsilon, Circle K, Intram's, Wesley, Dorm & Area Cncl. Rep. RONALD T. SEEL — Kappa Alpha Sec., Philanthropy Chmn., Young Dem., H.C. Soc. Chmn. VEY Big Brother, Baseball CARL EDWARD SEHEN JR. — Col. Repub. Comm. Dir. 1st Vice-Chmn., Chmn., VaPIRG, Bd. of Dir. at Large, Treas., Young Am. for Freedom, Col. Wide Lecturs. Comm., Intramurals, Rilters SHERRI LYNN SELL — Pi Beta Phi, Membership Chmn., Sigma Phi Epsilon Goldenheart, Fine Arts Soc. Treas., Alum. Stu. Liaison Comm., WCWM U.W.M.C. EILEEN ELIZABETH SELLERS — W&M News Field Hockey KARI LAURAIYN SE-SOMS — Kappa Alpha Theta, Student

Educ. Assoc., Adult Skills Tutor DAVID B. SEXTON — Drapers' Scholarship Student, Int'l Circle, VP, WCWM-FM News Dir., Dorm Cncl. VP Academic, Calen. Adv. Comm. FHU Soc. Sec., STEPHEN C. SHAIFFER — Var. Wrestling, Kappa Sigma Liaison to the Alum., Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Campus Crusade for Christ, Volunteers for Youth, RA, Discip. Comm. ANNE HOPKINS SHANAMAN — Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta, Psi Chi Pres., Hot Poller KATHRYN KIMBERLY SHANKS — Delta Omicron Delta Gamma, Chmn., Chorus, Sinfonicon MICHAEL SHARMAN — Kappa Sigma House Mgr., H.C. Rush Chmn., Var. Lacrosse RA MARVIN SHAW — Theta Delta Chi, Govt. Honor Soc., O.A. Wavts Preschool JULIE A. SHEETS — Orchestis Apprentice, Womens Forum ROBERT BRUCE SHERMAN — W&M Theatre, Premier Theatre Dir. Wkshp., Backdrop Club, Sinfonicon Opera Co., Chmn. Exec. Council Theatre Students Assoc., Inter-univ. Christian Fellowship, Longshot Productions MICHAEL F. SHIELDS — Var. Track Var. Bsebl., Pi Lambda Phi, Sec. Pres., ROTC, Intram's, H.C., Army Nat'l Guard JOHN F. SHINE JR. — Acting Club, Acting Tutor Program MICHAEL A. SHULER — Theta Delta Chi, VP Sr. Class Soc. Comm., Interfraternal Council MICHAEL L. SIMPSON — Pi Lambda Phi, Lacrosse Chestnut Manor Soc. MARK ANDREW SINGLEY — Omicron Delta Epsilon, Phi Alpha Theta, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma, Col. Repub., Intram'l MARY HLOVEY SINNOTT — Pi Beta Phi, Pres., House Pres., Presidents Adh. Edu. Policy Comm., Omicron Delta Kappa, VP Board of Student Affairs, Senior Rep., Pi Delta Phi, Phi Sigma Alpha IRENE V. SISON — SAC Rep. ROBERT C. SKELLY — Econ. Club Steering Comm. Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta Omicron Delta Epsilon, Pi Beta Kappa, WCWM, Sigma Chi, Intam'l Chmn., Sportswear Chmn. DEBRA SLAUGHTER — Gamma Phi Beta, Adult Skills Tutor, Lacrosse EILEEN SANDRA SLODNIK — Karate Echo Staff, CSA CAROL NANCE SMITH — Orchestis Chorus, Delta Omicron, W&M Theatre Sinfonicon, Wesley Foundation DEBORA LYNN SMITH — Mgt. Majors Club, Int'l Circle, Circle K, Big Brothers Sister Org. JENNIE ELLEN SMITH — Student Athletic Trainer, Alpha Chi Omega, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Intram's, Phys. Ed. Majors Club MARGARET WALTON SMITH — Womens Forum, Rugby PAIGE P. SNARR — Sigma Chi Little Sigma, Mgt. Majors Club, Sr. LADDS Comm., Intram's ANGELA C. SNEAD — Mgt. Majors Club, Phi Alpha Theta Orchestra, Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Lambda Delta MARK THOMAS SOBERS — O.A., Orientation Asst. Dir., Dorm Council Pres. DONNA EVA K. SOLBERG — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Dorm Cncl., Chorus CYNTHIA DEE SPARKS — Chorus, Delta Omicron, Treas. Student Ed. Assoc., Canterbury Choir ANDREA SPASSARD — Psych. Club, Project Plus, Dorm Council, Circle K, Canterbury Evensong Choir H. KONRAD SPICER — Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Geo. Club, Bio Club, Spanish House, Covenant Players, Intram's LESLIE J. STAIKO — WCWM Womens Forum CLAUDIA J. STANTEN — DJ, Music Dir., WCWM Soc. of Collegiate Journalists SUSAN A. STATLER — Dorm Council, Young Dem., Intram's PATRICIA A. STEPHEN-HUISEN — Chorus, Col. Repub., Choir Kappa Delta, Mgt. Majors Club WILLIAM A. STEIN — Flat Hat, Acting Club, Intram's DAVID H. STEPHENS — Bio Club, Outdoor Club, Karate Club DEAN V. STERMER — Var. Tennis, Lacrosse, Pi Lambda Phi, V. Team EILEEN STOFAN — Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Gamma Epsilon, Geo. Club SUZANNE M. STRAUSS — Cross Country Coach Youth Soccer, Gamma Phi Beta Publicity Chmn., Photo Chmn., Student Ed. Assoc. MICHAEL PAUL STRAYHORN — Var. Bskbl., Volunteers for Youth BSO JONATHAN PAUL STRIFFER — Spanish House, Univer. of Salamanca, Band, Carpe Diem Club LESLIE STRIGL — Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Sigma Var. Swimming, Pi Beta Phi KAREN LEIGH SULLIVAN — Kappa Alpha Theta Sr. Class Gift Comm., Sr. Class Commencement Comm. MARY V. SWANSON — Var. Lacrosse Var. Soccer Sorority DANE J. SWENSON — Norwegian Hist. Soc., Tennis Sigma Chi Sec., Treas., Honor Council SANDRA

D. SWIFT — Bio. Club, Circle K, Wesley Foundation, Westminster Fellowship LINDA JOAN SYMONS — Circle K Volunteer, JV Fencing, Intramurals GAMMA Phi Beta VP WRA Rep. JOHN RAYMOND TAMMI — Sigma Chi Soc. Chmn., Acting Club, Intram's, George's ANGELA M. TAYLOR — President's Aide, Dorm Cncl., Flag Corps Corp., Black Student Org., Ebony Expressions, RA Alpha Kappa Alpha VP, Evaluation Comm. for Dean Ripple, Intram'l Womens Bskbl. GREGORY F. TAYLOR — Sigma Chi Pledge Pres., Magister Pre-law Club, Rugby MARTHA LEWIS TAYLOR — Circle K, Colonial Echo Soc. Club MICHELLE ZENOBIA TAYLOR — Black Student Org., Publicity Chmn., Alpha Kappa Alpha, IVY Leaf, Reporter ANDREA J. THIRINGER — USA Music Ministry, Student Ed. Assoc., Montpelier Summer Program BRENT M. THOMAS — Colonial Echo KERRIE THOMAS — Phi Mu Pres., Pub. Rel. Chmn., Chem. Club DAVID E. THOMASON — Intram's, Bio Club FREIDA A. THOMPSON — Black Student Org., Zeta Phi Beta, Ann-ROTC, Panhellenic Cncl. VICKY C. THOMPSON — Mermettes, Ed. Majors Club, Adult Skills Program Tutor DENISE KAY TILLERY — Baptist Student Union, VP Worship, Choir, BSU Choir, Delta Omicron Delta Gamma Songleader J. HOWE TIMOTHY — W&M Christian Fellowship, Pres., Flat Hat, Project Plus CONNIE JO TRACY — Phi Mu, Theta Beta Sigma PATRICIA D.C. TRINLER — Kappa Kappa Gamma, WRA Rep., CSA Treas., Intam's, Volleyball, Dorm Council, Admn. Treas. THOMAS H. TROTT — Interfrat. Council Pres., Sigma Phi Epsilon VP JANE M. TROTTER — Dorm Council O.A., Womens Soccer Club, Pi Delta Phi MARK KINGSBURY TUCKER — Econ. Club Council Head Soccer Rel., Intam's, Pi Lambda Phi, Pledge Class Sec., Treas., Athletic KATHY UHRIG — Jr. Year in Germany DAVID HENRY UTTAL — Psych. Club, Band, Psi Chi, Alpha Lambda Delta RUTH ELIZABETH UVEGES — Mermettes, Phi Sigma, Intram's Soph. Steering Comm., Health Careers Club, Canterbury Assoc., Pub. Council PAMELA C. VARNER — Delta Gamma, Pledge Pres., Frat. Ed. Chmn., Mgt. Majors Club, Pub. Chmn., Catholic Student Assoc. DEBORAH DIANE VAUGHN — Black Student Org., Alpha Kappa, Dean of Pledges, Health Careers BONNIE H. VEHRIS — Wayne F. Gobbs Sr. Acting Soc. Acting Tutor, Col. Repub., Dorm Cncl. ROBERT H. VESHANCEY — Sigma Phi Epsilon Omicron Delta Epsilon, Econ. Club, Intram's MARK W. VOIGHT — SAC Rep., Chmn. Res. Concerns Comm., Theta Delta Chi, Phi Alpha Theta Young Democrats GEORGE A. VOLKERT JR. — Baptist Stu. Union Carpe Diem Club SHERON RENAE WADE — Mgt. Majors Club RICHARD OGDEN WAGNER — Brass Ensemble Sigma Chi, Delta Phi Alpha, Int'l Rel. Club CATHERINE MARIE WALKER — Phi Mu, Soc. Chmn., Reporter, Adult Study Skills Tutor DENNIS M. WALLING — Band Dep. Band Jazz Band Bio Club, Orienting Club EUGENE CRAIG WALLO — W&M Histor. Fellowship, Christian Coalition for Soc. Concern., Bread for the World MARY S. WALTON — Chorus, Phi Alpha Theta RITA M. WARD — Chorus, ROTC, Queens Guard, Col. Repub., Hunger Project CARLA A. WASHINKO — Acting Club, Dorm Cncl., Flag Epl. Bskbl. Vblbl., Intram's GHERLY A. WATANABE — Navigators CAROLINE R. WATKINS — Kappa Delta Chap. Ed., Parl. Band, Honor Cncl., Class Club, Orchestra, Womens Club SOCY CHRISTOPHER P. WATKINS — Young Dem. Pres., Summer Program in Florence, Italy 1982 KATHLEEN WATSON — Kappa Delta Karate Club, Fine Arts Soc. JEROME WATERS — Var. Football, Kappa Sigma, Econ. Majors Club LAURA LYNN WEAVER — Pi Beta Phi, Pi Delta Phi, Lacrosse BRANT C. WEIDNER — Var. Basketball, NCAA Volun. for Youth CHRISTINA MARY WELLS — Tennis EDWARD G. WELLS — CSA, Pi Kappa Alpha Int'l Rel. Club, Soc. Chmn., Dorm Cncl., Fine Arts Soc., Intram's GWYNNE WELLS — President's Aide, RA, Chi Omega LISA KAY WELLS — Delta Sigma Theta, Black Student Org., Orchestra LISA LYNN WELSH — W&M Christian Fellowship, Core Group Leader, Missionary Orchestis Apprentice, Adult Skills Program Tutor PATRICIA

L. WEST — Pi Mu Corresp., Ind. Soc., Int. Soc., Sec. Serv. Soc., Dorm Council, Res. Ha., Life Comm., Emer. Life LITTLE SIGMA REBECCA BRUCE WEST-BROOKE — Pi Beta Phi, Intram's NANCY GRACE WELTMORE — Var. Swimming, Alpha Chi Omega, Parhel Rep., Adult Skills ED WHEELER — Omicron Beta, Project Plus, Var. Dorm Cncl. ROBERT J. WHITAKER JR. — Col. Rep., English Honor JULIAN LEVI WHITE — SA, VP Sr. Events SA, Black Student Org. Pres., College de Comm., RA, Speech House, Dorm Cncl., Acting Club MARY KATHRYN WHITE — Bas. Majors Club, Teacher's Day, Students' Beta Gamma Sigma SUSAN E. WHITE — Kappa Alpha Theta, Dorm Cncl., USA Mgt. Majors Club, Col. Womens Club, Sw. Club, Instruction KAREN LYNN WHITELEY — Pi Beta Phi, Baptist Student Union LESLIE YOLANDA WHITEMAN — Black Student Org., Zeta Phi Beta, Pres. PATRICIA L. WILMER — Dorm Cncl., Campus Loan Guide, Alpha Chi Omega Alum. Stu. Liaison Comm. DIANE LAWRENCE WILLIAMS — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Var. Fly Hockey, Phi Sigma EILEEN KAY WILLIAMS — Psych. Club Treas., Psi Chi, Eastern State Hosp. Volunteer Worker SARAH ALLETA WILLIAMS — Choir, Chorus, Mermettes, Student Athletic Adv. Comm., Chem. Club Gamma Sigma Epsilon WILLIAM L. WILLIAMS — Choir, Boroquo Chamber Singers, Sinfonicon, H.C. Soc., Dorm Council AMY LEWIS WILLIAMSON — Pi Beta Phi Newspaper, WCWM News CATHERINE THERSA WILSON — Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Kappa Alpha Little Sister, O.A. JACOB M. WILSON III — Tennis, Ebony Expressions, Black Student Org., Treas., Forensics SARAH JANE WILSON — Orchestra, Delta Gamma, Hist. Phi Alpha Theta TIMOTHY W. WILSON — RA, WCWM, W&M Christian Fellowship, Sinfonicon, Arts ELAINE PATRICIA WINDER — Delta Delta Delta, Soc. Chmn., Premiere Theatre SCOTT D. WOLF — Sigma Phi Epsilon, Academic, Pledge Pres., WCWM News-Feature Dir., Announcer, Producer, Soc. for Col. Journalists, Econ. Club, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Eta Sigma CAROLYNN WOLSEIFFER — Kappa Delta, Circle K, O.A. BSL, Handbell choir, Spanish House, Mgt. Majors Club THOMAS SHEUN — POK WONG — Mortar Board Treas., Int'l Circle Pres., Health Careers Club Pres., VP, Treas., CSA Folk Group, Eucharistic Mtn., Jr. Student Coord. Chem. Lab. Teaching Asst., Alpha Phi Omega, Colonial Fed., Review Chem. Club, Fine Arts Soc., Asia House, Chinese Brush Painting Instructor ALISON MARION WOOD — W&M Theatre, Canterbury Players, Sinfonicon, O.A. G.U. Oating Club, VP, Pi Beta Phi CHRISTIANE WOOD — Intram's, Artistic Club LEANN R. WOOD — Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sweetheart Circle, K. Seacull, Col. O.P. KIMBERLY JAN WOODIEFF — Kappa Alpha Lambda Pres., Dorm Cncl., Intram's, Honor Soc. MARC ALLAN WRIGHT — W&M Theatre Backdrop Dir. Wkshp., Premiere Theatre, Sinfonicon, W.M.V., WCWM, Fellowship, Proj. Kurt Wrigley — Var. Football, Intram's Kappa Sigma Phi Alpha JOSEPH MICHAEL YACKOW — Pres., Beta Dorm Council VP in Residence KEITH RITA M. WARD — Chorus, ROTC, Queens Guard, Col. Repub., Hunger Project CARLA A. WASHINKO — Acting Club, Dorm Cncl., Flag Epl. Bskbl. Vblbl., Intram's GHERLY A. WATANABE — Navigators CAROLINE R. WATKINS — Kappa Delta Chap. Ed., Parl. Band, Honor Cncl., Class Club, Orchestra, Womens Club SOCY CHRISTOPHER P. WATKINS — Young Dem. Pres., Summer Program in Florence, Italy 1982 KATHLEEN WATSON — Kappa Delta Karate Club, Fine Arts Soc. JEROME WATERS — Var. Football, Kappa Sigma, Econ. Majors Club LAURA LYNN WEAVER — Pi Beta Phi, Pi Delta Phi, Lacrosse BRANT C. WEIDNER — Var. Basketball, NCAA Volun. for Youth CHRISTINA MARY WELLS — Tennis EDWARD G. WELLS — CSA, Pi Kappa Alpha Int'l Rel. Club, Soc. Chmn., Dorm Cncl., Fine Arts Soc., Intram's GWYNNE WELLS — President's Aide, RA, Chi Omega LISA KAY WELLS — Delta Sigma Theta, Black Student Org., Orchestra LISA LYNN WELSH — W&M Christian Fellowship, Core Group Leader, Missionary Orchestis Apprentice, Adult Skills Program Tutor PATRICIA

Felix Aquero
English, Alexandria
Barbara Ann Baffer
Government, Newport News
Alan David Brodie
Arts Science, Williamsburg
David Henderson Burt
Law, Wilmington, DE
Ataullah Khan Chaudhry
Unclassified, Williamsburg

Felipe H. Chia
Higher Ed., Lawrenceville
Cecil Harvey Creasey, Jr.
Law, Richmond
Jessica Ann Crook
Unclassified, Plymouth, England
Tobin Willis Demsko
Masters in Sociology, Falls Church
William C. Dodson, Jr.
Unclassified, Bassett

Dana Elyachar
Special Ed., Scarsdale, NY
Joanne Montine Fenity
Master of Arts, Cranbury, NJ
Walter E. Kubitz
Law, Fairfax
Lee David Lampos
Law, McLean
Martin L. Lopez
Law, Alexandria

G

R

A

D

U

Day student spirit

Day students Ed Chapman, Karen Wenz, and Wanda Adkins promote the spirit and involvement of the day students at the College Ready for a victory over Brown, the students ride up DOG Street to Cary Field.

Christopher Maggio
Law, Williamsburg
Mary V. Manson
Chemistry, Williamsburg
Bruce H. Matson
Law, N. Brantford, C.I.
Turk McCleskey
History, Richmond
Cindy Clare Moreland
Law, Alexandria

B. Gayle Morgan
Law, Gloucester
William Naphy
Unclassified, Ivanhoe
Paul S. Paloski, Jr.
Unclassified, Williamsburg
James A. Penney
Law, Williamsburg
James David Penny
Law, Virginia Beach

Susan Cameron Polesnak
MBA, Richmond
Ronald G. Reel
Law, Williamsburg
Harry Shubin
Law, Fairfax
Rajender Verma
Business, New Delhi, India
Michael J. Walsh
Law, Newport News

A T E S

Tuition. Books. Food, clothing, shelter. These were the monstrous expenses

that consumed the bank accounts of many. Years of savings were vanquished overnight. Check after check was surrendered to The College. What student had not been chilled by a vague and dreadful fear as he passed through the ill-fated doors of the Treasurer's Office? Here, legends were told of bank accounts that ventured boldly into this remote corner of James Blair, never to return. Year after year, age upon age, tribute to the College was demanded and faithfully paid. Students paid out of duty. And out of fear — fear that they might be cruelly invalidated, cancelled out of existence at registration.

Unknown to students through the ages, a driving force lay behind these unceasing demands for money. But not until recent times was the source revealed. Unknown to all but a few students, lurking in the dusty recesses of the Treasurer's Office lived the bane of every student's financial life. There, among the endless piles of outgoing bills, and records of ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE, the Money Monster lay in wait. This is his tale.

FEATURE

Money

The Money Monster lived in fiendish anticipation of registration. September was his glory month. Room deposits, tuition, board fees, music fees, and athletic fees poured into James Blair. It was lifeblood to the fiend. He gorged and glutted. But he was never satisfied. Year by year his demands grew: higher tuition, fewer grants, and a student activities fee placated him for a time. But his gnawing hunger always returned. The voracious glutton demanded money, money, money.

One year, as winter was just settling in, the Money Monster grew restless. He knew that he would have to find new sources of income. It was time for the Money Monster to move on.

Meanwhile, students were just managing to scrape by. They were not wealthy. Many were still ravaged and penniless from the monster's fall onslaught, but they were making it. Then, disaster struck.

(cont'd on p. 374)

---

Money (cont'd)

---

Once again, students shell out the bucks for books.

The Money Monster began to reproduce. He sent his offspring forth into the unsuspecting town. They appeared in restaurants and theatres. They haunted the Greyhound and Amtrack stations. They even invaded CW's colonial shops, drawing naive students into their eager money-grubbing clutches. Paul's, the Green Leaf, Second Street, and Baskin Robbins hosted the most voracious monsterlets. No one was outside the power of the Money Monster and his growing empire. Even those students who resisted his call until the wee hours
(cont'd on p. 376)

---

Money (cont'd)

---

With most banks miles away, and a $10 limit on check cashing elsewhere, the Campus Center desk provided funds for many students. Here a check is scrutinized for all the necessary information: dorm, phone, address, GPA, bloodtype . . .

of the morning were trapped. Scavenger monsters lived in the Tinee Giant and gathered tribute from the last hold-outs.

One way or another, everyone fell victim. For work or play, clothing or cosmetics, travel or food, everyone heard the Money Monster's call. And the problem continued to grow out of control.

The Money Monster only smiled and rubbed his hands in gleeful anticipation. Just a few weeks until VISA and Mastercards arrived on campus. After that, the possibilities would be endless.

— Ellen Slotnik

Mark Beavers

Rhythm

Dave Safon, a drummer in the pep band, pounds out the Tribe fight song during the O.D.U. basketball game. Despite the enthusiasm of the band and crowd, O.D.U. won 43-42.

OMICRON DELTA EPSILON ECONOMICS

- Brad G. Angevine
 Peter Atwater
 William Austin
 Mary H. Beale
 Tracey Braun
 Lyman Brown
 M. Robert Bryant
 Michelle P. Burchett
 Peter Christian
 Phillip J. Christie, Jr.
 Paul Decker
 Marie E. Ernst
 Mark J. Farinella
 Thomas Fauls
 Kriss L. Fillbach
 Edward M. Foster
 Laura Fraedrich
 Robert F. Garnett, Jr.
 Scott Gerber
 Roger L. Gill
 Thomas Gilmore
 Jonathan Guyton
 Suzanne Halboth
 Margaret C. Harris
 Hilarie M. Hicks
 Ann Kempinski
 John Lannen
 Todd L. Larkin
 Alberto N. Laureano
 Robert B. Lavery
 Ung Lee
 Susan R. Lightner
 Benjamin R. Lowe, Jr.

- Christopher Lynch
 Linda K. Mayo
 Kevin M. McGahren
 Shelley R. Meister
 Sheila E. Mertes
 Caroline Muller
 Charles S. Murray, Jr.
 Sally A. Musick
 Robert J. Nicol
 William Parks, II
 David R. Payne
 David A. Price
 Kevin Robins
 Susan Rubin
 David M. Safon
 Jodi G. Scarlata
 Dennis G. Shea
 Mark Singlev
 Robert Skelly
 Robert Skelly
 Nickolas J. Sojka, Jr.
 Mariss L. Straders
 Charles V. Stanlev, Jr.
 Kimberly A. Turner
 Eric van der Walde
 Donald M. van Rhyn
 Robert H. VeShancev
 Richard O. Wagner
 Jerome Watters
 Paris Wilson
 Scott D. Wolf
 Patricia A. Zillian
 Laura L. Zanni
 Julie A. Zydron

PHI BETA KAPPA
ALPHA CHAPTER

- Mary De-Light Alcorn
 Diana Lynn Browning
 Henry Keith Chenault
 Sandra Anne Craig
 Christian Grant Curless
 William Leonard Davis, Jr.
 Robert Spencer Earle
 Susan Jean Englehart
 Elizabeth Ann Ferguson
 David John Ficenec
 Catherine Anne Flanagan
 Mary Shepherd Gwaltney
 Andrea Rae Hissong
 David Leonard Kersey
 Julia Claire Kirkendall
 Alice Jean Kutteroff
 Rosemarie Lytton
 Kenneth Russell Manning
 Susanna K. Melhwaime
 Walton Johnson Page
 Corinne A. Schmidt
 Mark Andrew Singlev
 Robert Charles Skelly
 Mariss Lauris Straders
 David Henry Uttal
 Elizabeth Lynn Weidenmuller
 John Simon Whitelaw
 Terri Ann Yarbrough
 Douglas Kent Yarrington

SIGMA GAMMA EPSILON Geology

- Elizabeth Beasley
 Ray Boswell
 Matthew Cro
 Monica Genadio
 Tracy Glassburn
 Cynthia Goff
 Steve Johnson
 Randy Lohr
 Chris Myers
 Chris Myers
 Lane Reed
 Konrad Spicer
 Ellen Stolan
 Andrea Victor
 Terry Watson
 Amy Wendt

PI DELTA PHI French

Karla K. Anderson
 Seden E. Atesoz
 Magda M. Badran
 Christina M. Belt
 Bruce L. Biber
 Dean Bland
 Howard K. Bos
 Leila M. Byron
 Candace C. Carlisle
 Karen A. Crick
 Jane A. Crick
 Christian G. Curless
 Mona B. Czuch
 Darby Dunn
 Francois Espourteille
 Bard L. Estabrook
 Anne L. Fallon
 Karen P. Finger
 Kathleen E. Finn
 John J. Flanagan
 Elizabeth A. Green
 David M. Grimes
 Karin Hawley
 Daniel P. Hodges
 Elizabeth A. Hutcheson
 Julie R. Irwin
 Lucia M. Johnson
 Susan E. Johnson
 Shelley E. Kindred
 Dorothy B. Kirk
 Margaret S. Koach
 Brian S. Krachman
 Deborah F. Krasich
 Kirsten R. Leafstrand

Paula R. Levesque
 Maia L. Lewis
 Elizabeth T. Martell
 Gabriela Martin
 M. Catherine Mayberry
 Marcia L. O'Connell
 Parva Oskoui-Fard
 Peyma Oskoui-Fard
 Barbara Palmer
 Barbara Pastrick
 Sandra Peterson
 Janet M. Phillips
 Andrew D. Pratt
 Elizabeth S. Pristley
 Victoria J. Quinan
 Robert L. Rambow
 Teresa L. Richard
 Joanna C. Sabec
 Edwin J. Sabec
 Sherry E. Schmulling
 Anne Searle
 Lena V. Shapiro
 Andrea L. Spessard
 Maria A. Stamoulas
 Linda S. Sturm
 Jane M. Trotter
 Rachele R. Valente
 Christopher P. Watkins
 Laura L. Weaver
 Leslie A. Wetrick
 Lisa L. Willis
 Wendy P. Wilson
 Jennifer Wong-You-Cheong

PHI SIGMA Biology

Peter Francis Boehling
 James Peyton Brady
 Mary Katherine Burkholder
 Pamela Dawn Carbone
 John Stephen Carbone
 Henry Keith Chenault
 David William Dowler
 Matthew Alan Galumeck
 Scott Gary Holmes
 Lisa Anne Jackson
 Valerie Anne Johnson
 David Leonard Kersey
 Diane Elise Kirkley
 Janet Ellen Lackman
 Christopher Paul Kosnik
 Margery Ann Lackman
 Phillip William Landes
 Apollo Yuen Leong
 Marsha Mae Monhollon
 Melissa Jeanne Moore
 Sally Ann Musick
 Stephanie Pocsick
 Andrew Damian Pratt
 Kathleen Marie Raley
 Wendy Leigh Rilling
 Charles Michael Ruland
 Anne Marie Snider
 Teresa Lynn Soukup
 Mariss Lauris Straders
 Amy Elizabeth Stenger
 Laurie Anne Thornton

SIGMA DELTA PI Spanish

Lydia Bernstein
 Karen Mary Bogan
 Sarah J. Cornelius
 Monica Ann Genadio
 Suzanne Elizabeth Halboth
 Kenneth Connors Harris
 James Claude Holloway
 Teresa Lynn House
 Carol Lee Liddle
 Beth Lee Miller
 Deborah Moffett
 Mary E. Pastore
 Barbara Smith
 Kara Yvonne Tewell

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

Peter Atwater
 Stephen Bisese
 Lyman Brown
 Ford Cochran
 Karen Dudley
 David Edleson
 Travis Ebel
 Kriss Fillbach
 Carolyn Finocchio
 John Flanagan
 Scott Gerber
 Cynthia Goff
 Carolyn Henne
 Steve Johnson
 Valerie Johnson
 David Kersey

Julie Kirkendall
 Jean Latu
 Myungli Lee
 Brad McCord
 Lawrence Michaels
 Michele Morrow
 David Price
 David Safon
 Kathy Schwartz
 William Scott
 Mary Lloyd Simmott
 Leslie Striegl
 Ruth Uveges
 Lisa Wells
 Sue Wise
 Patricia Zillian

PHI SIGMA ETA and ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA Freshman Honoraries

Michelle Amaya
 David Armistead
 Robert Barnes
 David Bass
 Pamela Beltran
 David Boroughs
 Mary Bowman
 Rebecca Browning
 Jan Burges
 Laura Burrus
 Angela Castile
 Judy Cicatko
 David Cloud
 Margaret Collins
 Christopher Comey
 Colleen Cooke
 Ann Cooper
 Susan Coumes
 Susan Creigh
 Kim Cronin
 Mona Czuch
 Richard Deloria
 Anne Detterer
 Kristie Deyerle
 Christopher DiLouie
 Venecia Doane
 Thomas Douglas
 Kelly Doyle
 Ellen Duffy
 Kevin Duffy
 Karim Edwards
 Chantal Emerson
 Peter Enko
 David Fetter
 David Field
 Patrick Frakes
 Tara Frederickson
 Susan Gantz
 Richard Gossweiler
 Sarah Grady

Lisa Ohler
 Kristine O'Keefe
 Mark Osler
 Linwood Pendleton
 Robert Pontz
 James Pratt
 Regina Puglisi
 Lydia Pulley
 Anne Raper
 Heidi Reihansperger
 Colleen Roche
 Soh-Yeong Ro
 Leonard Rozamus
 Linda Sabin
 Michael Saltzman
 Roy Sauberman
 Andria Silver
 Charles Sisson
 Marjorie Snipes
 Lunne Stephens
 Adriane Stewart
 Richard Tarrant
 Jonathan Tarrant
 Monica Tetzlaff
 Karen Thierfelder
 Christine Valkenburg
 Heidi Van
 Lisa Von Eschen
 Laura Walker
 Julia Waller
 Karen Weiler
 Evelyn Westbrook
 Susan White
 Robert Wiese
 Brian Wimberly
 Rachel Wright
 Mark Wychulis
 Nancy Young
 Sharon Young
 Kimberly Zieske

BETA GAMMA SIGMA Business

- Sandra K. Arrance
- Jill R. Binsley
- Dale Kirk Blandford
- Krisann M. Caruso
- Elizabeth C. Cloud
- Richard J. Cole
- Frederick Crow
- Dee L. Doverspike
- Travis M. Ebel
- Carolyn J. Finocchio
- Gerald C. Frazzee
- Ben P. Gamel
- Marie L. Glady
- Philip S. Gross
- John Halliday
- Claire Hayes
- Michael E. Karl
- Michael J. Kelliher
- Carol M. Knapp
- Linda J. Lewis
- Frances G. Longest
- Scott F. MacLaren
- Kevin M. Marra
- Leland W. McLeod
- Thomas L. Michaels
- Lawrence E. Michaels
- James Mowery
- Suzanne M. Musciano
- Gail M. Nichols
- Brantley W. Orrell
- Christine Y. Paradis
- George C. Pierides
- Edward Pool
- Alice L. Russ
- Beth Ann Sala
- Paige P. Snarr
- Angela C. Sneed
- Robert N. Springer
- Teddy A. Stout
- John B. Williamson
- Martha L. Winston

Honorary
 John C. Jamison, Dean Designate,
 School of Business Administration

Faculty
 John F. Kottas, Zollinger Professor,
 School of Business Administration

DELTA PHI ALPHA German

- Erika B. Bleck
- Kathryn M. Bruzas
- David R. Carlson
- Sarah B. Chapman
- Juliet E. Doolittle
- Karin S. Hawley
- Julia M. Horman
- Ellen V. Jeffrey
- Jennifer C. Jones
- Diane Linne von Berg
- Scott C. McCleskey
- Robert D. McTier
- Katherine J. Uhrig
- Richard O. Wagner
- John S. Whitelaw
- Mark R. Wildman
- Julie A. Zydron

MORTAR BOARD

- Peter Atwater
- Carolyn Finocchio
- Cynthia Goff
- Carolyn Henne
- Margery Lackman
- Jean Latu
- Myunghi Lee
- Paul Markowski
- Mary Pastore
- David Rubin
- Beth Sala
- Thomas Wong

PSI CHI Psychology

- Mary De-Light Alcorn
- Kurt John Baumberger
- Gail Lorin Bechly
- Mary Kaye Benton
- Eric MacDonald Bowman
- Nancy M. Croll
- Kim Marie Duffy
- Barbara T. Gallini
- Laura Louise Gaudian
- Scott Gary Holmes
- Pamela Sue Hudson
- Joseph Hilliard Johnson, Jr.
- Julia Claire Kirkendall
- Karen Margaret McDowell
- Kimberly Anne Mehuon
- Anne Hopkins Shanaman
- Susan Lee Sherwood
- Lynette Marie Shoemaker
- Karen L. Stone
- Michael Lee Sturm
- Dawn Allison Traver
- Laurie Ann Tubbs
- David Henry Utal
- Ellen Kay Williams

PI SIGMA ALPHA Government

Leslie Allsopp
William Austin
Mary Beale
Paul Boykas
Matthew Bradley
Stephen Bretson
Lyman Brown
Rickey Cobb
David Coffman
Jean-Paul Ebe

Gregory Edwards
Thomas Fauls
Anne Foster
Mary Gallini
Andrew Goldsmith
Anne Golwen
Jon Klein
Sarah Locantore
Bryan McElvaine
Patricia Powis

Robert Quinan
Randall Rowlett
Jodi Scarlata
Clark Schweigaard-Olsen
Marvin Shaw
Mary Lloyd Sinnott
Kimberley Woodie
Patricia Zillian
Julie Zytron

F.H.C. SOCIETY

Peter Atwater
Peter Boehling
Matthew J. Danilowicz
David W. Dowler
Robert A. Fantuzzi
William E. Fecteau
Peter F. Fletcher
George F. Jack
Walton J. Page
William C. Scott
David B. Sexton
William L. Williams
Miles L. Chappell
Robert P. MacCubbin
James N. McCord
Richard H. Prosl
J.H. Willis

DELTA OMICRON Music

Lisa H. Bartlett
Angela E. Castle
Janne Coppola
Catherine Dehoney
Donna Tune Dixon
Katherine M. Dodge
Kathia R. Fisher
Anne C. Foster
Hilarie M. Hicks
Gretchen C. Hines
Angela P. Huffman
Jennifer C. Jones
Margery A. Lackman
Amy Allen Levine
Dianne L. McCall
Beth L. Miller
Pamela J. Persigehl
Ina Susan Powell
Suzanne L. Richardson
Ann M. Roberson
Kathryn K. Shanks
Julia Mae Shen
Carol Nance Smith
Cynthia Dee Sparks
Laura E. Tanner
Joan Marie Testin
Denise Kay Tillery
Janice L. Trammell
Zoe A. Trollope
Linda C. Wood
Dawn M. Zimmerman

KAPPA DELTA PI Education

Jill Apperson
 Tony Auby
 Bonna L. Baffer
 Mary R. Bartlett
 Maragaret Bernhard
 Carolyn Blackwell
 Debbie Boykin
 Mary Frances Briley
 Danora Jan Brockman
 Karen Budd
 Karen L. Carthey
 Lucille Cavallaro
 Almeda Clements
 Elizabeth M. Collins
 Nancy Colvin
 Nancy Conlon
 Carol Cooper
 Ann Cosby
 Sharon Crossland
 Joseph P. Cullen
 Aretie Danley
 Elaine Davies
 Patricia Dowd
 Okey Rex Evans
 Pam R. Evans
 James Firebaugh
 Connie Frangos
 Carolyn Gary
 Sarah G. Hawkins
 Patty Hile
 Stacey Holahan
 Susan Holler
 Stephen Hopkins
 Kathleen Houser
 Randy Howard
 Susan Howard
 Karol Hull
 Keren Humphrey
 Barbara Hund

Mark Johnson
 Jerry Kiser
 Carolyn Lawrence
 David Lydick
 Tracy Malloy
 Carolyn Mosby
 Susan Nelson
 Martha Newsom
 Gail Newton
 Timothy Payne
 Faith Pierce
 Dorothy Powell
 Anne Pratt
 Cindy Ragland
 Dick Randall
 Leslie Lane Ransome
 Sue Rayfield
 Hugh Rowland
 Jan Rozzelle
 Bruce Schoch
 Dorothy Schweickardt
 Holly Shreiner
 Pamela Stickney
 Hella Straube
 Leslie Tapscott
 Dorothy Thomas
 Carolyn VanVerrick
 Joni Wallace
 Karen Way
 Hattie Webb
 Jeannette Wedding
 Sabra Ann Welch
 Chris Wells
 Lisa Wells
 Mary Ann Wessbecher
 D.T. Wessells, Jr.
 Jeremy Williams
 Lorette Williams

PRESIDENT'S AIDES

Peter Atwater
 Stephen D. Bisese
 Bradford S. Dunkin
 Marvellen Farmer
 Carolyn J. Finocchio
 Katherine M. Filippone
 John P. Fitzpatrick
 Mark J. Linaugh
 Kathleen A. Myers
 Tobey A. Rawson
 Linda E. Reynard
 David M. Safon
 William C. Scott
 Mary Lloyd Sinnott
 Angela M. Taylor
 Gwynne B. Wells
 David L. White
 Patricia Ann Zillian

SOCIETY FOR COLLEGIATE JOURNALISTS

Shoshana Aborn
 Julie Alton
 William J. Andrews
 Mark Beavers
 David Bogardus
 Dabney H. Carr
 David Christensen
 David Cochran
 M. Ford Connor
 Wm. Jeff Corsi
 Thomas Corsi
 Christian Curless
 Mathew Danilowicz
 Elizabeth Davis
 Anne Doyle
 Devin Doyle
 Thomas Dunbar
 Robert Famuzzi

Elizabeth Ferguson
 John Fleming
 Anne Folan
 Lisa Daniels
 Mark Forde
 John Funk
 Robert Guillen
 Elizabeth Hammer
 Paul Haspel
 Lisa Heath
 Mike Holleran
 Scott Hunter
 Sharilyn Jee
 Craig Johnson
 Bill Kamberger, Jr.
 Janet Kirklev
 Warren Koontz

Sally Lewis
 Bradley Maxa
 Kim Moosha
 Stephen Odom
 M. Liz Offield
 Alicia Rubi
 R. Scott Schroeder
 Robert L. Scott
 Ellen Slotnik
 Claudia Stanton
 David Sweet
 Laurie Thornton
 Sarah Williamson
 Tim Wilson
 Scott D. Wolf
 Benjamin Wood
 Alexander Zavistovich

D
DI
IR
RE
E

Vad, Ghazi Robert
 Abbey, Robin Elizabeth 250
 Abbot, John Peattie
 Abbott, Ginger Clark 31, 312
 Abed, Salah Jalal
 Aborn, Shoshannah 328, 385, 407
 Achaval, Marie F
 Acrel, Jill Ogden 182, 294
 Adair, Kenneth Jerome
 Adams, Carolyn Landa 328
 Adams, Greg David 194, 328
 Adams, Heidi 13
 Adams, Jennifer Leslie 294
 Adams, Jennifer Lynn
 Adams, Karen Elaine 164, 328
 Adams, Leslie Todd 328
 Adams, Mary Beverley
 Adav, Sherry S
 Addison, Karen Beth
 Aderton, Aileen Hasbrouck 294
 Adkins, Andrea Ruth 280
 Adkins, Carl Edward, III 312
 Adkins, Charles Edward
 Adkins, Kent Lavalle
 Adkins, Steven Mark 312
 Adkins, Wanda Gail 372
 Adubato, Beth Ellen
 Agard, Martin Dean
 Agee, Joe 118
 Agehoff, Robert Scott 194
 Agnew, Catherine Ann 328
 Aguiro, Felix E. 330, 370
 Ahmad, Muzaffar
 Aiken, David Clark, Jr. 194
 Ajmani, Assem Eric 280
 Akvama, Mitsuhiro

Albert, Michelle 184, 312
 Alberston, Kimberly Lynn 170, 312
 Albiston, Alfred Barlow 312
 Alock, Jane Allison 328
 Alcorn, Mary De-Light 182, 328, 380
 Alden, Ellen Michelle 182, 328
 Aldridge, Daniel Milton 280
 Aldworth, Susan Kiley 328
 Alexander, John Eric
 Alexander, Steven Richard 280
 Alford, Annette Marie
 Ali, Daud Robert
 Allan, Susan Elizabeth 312
 Allee, Elizabeth Ann 280
 Allen, Albert Gillis, II
 Allen, Douglas Dewey
 Allen, Edith Louise
 Allen, Frank Acre, Jr.
 Allen, Janice Michelle 174, 287, 294
 Allen, Mark Armstrong
 Allen, Stephen I'moothy
 Allen, Susan Marie
 Allen, Teresa Jo
 Allen, William Roger 312
 Alleva, Brian John 312
 Allev, Judy Leigh
 Almi, Susan Frances
 Allison, Carrie Marie 176, 294
 Allison, Christopher Jay
 Allison, Clifford Kent
 Allison, James Hill, Jr.
 Allison, Mead Ashton
 Allison, William C. V.
 Allred, Richard D.
 Allred, William Stanley
 Allsopp, Leslie Chamberlan 328, 384
 Alm, Charles Arvid
 Almeida, Todd Stuart 194, 280
 Almond, Barry Price
 Almstedt, Kirsten Anne
 Althaus, Gregory Paul 312
 Alton, Julie Ann 328, 385
 Alvis, Suzanne Claiborne 328
 Amass, Patricia
 Amava, Michelle Irene 180, 280
 Ambler, John Mark 312
 Ambler, Richard Anthony
 Ambrose, Carla Dawn 328
 Ameen, Cynthia J. 280
 Amerman, Robert Harry
 Ames, Heather Renee 294
 Ames, Kathy Rames
 Amico, Frederick F.
 Amin, Zafar
 Aminuddin, Ah Kuh 257
 Ammons, Ryland Cornelius

Amorella, Christopher Bynes
 Anderegg, Scott Marshall
 Anderson, Amy Jane
 Anderson, Claude Wood, Jr.
 Anderson, Connie Sue 39
 Anderson, Douglas Allen
 Anderson, Gerald Benton
 Anderson, James
 Anderson, Jane Denise 328
 Anderson, Jane Rutledge 294
 Anderson, Judith M.
 Anderson, Karen Anne 294
 Anderson, Karen Lynn 329
 Anderson, Karla Kay 329, 381
 Anderson, Lori Lynn 294
 Anderson, Mary Elizabeth
 Anderson, Michael Eric
 Anderson, Nancy Ellen
 Anderson, Patricia Mary 294
 Anderson, Penelope June 280
 Anderson, Robert Frank 312
 Anderson, Robert I.
 Anderson, Sandra Hobbs
 Anderson, Scott Douglas
 Anderson, Susan Patricia
 Anderson, Kristin Hope 198, 265
 Andreason, Kristin Marie 329
 Andregg, Scott 210
 Andresen, Annette Laurel Bunker
 Andrews, David Ramer
 Andrews, Eleanor Erwin
 Andrews, Susan Elaine 329
 Andrews, William James 385
 Andrews, William Ronald
 Angevine, Brad Geoffrey 200, 312, 380
 Anne, Pramila Rani 329
 Anson, Susan Diane
 Anstine, Timothy Mark
 Anthony, John Patrick
 Anthony, Karen Sue
 Anthony, Marika F.
 Anuskewic, Deborah Renee
 Apperson, Jill Suzanne 385
 Appleby, Pamela Sue 329
 Applegate, Andrew Jackson
 Appleton, Sharon Virginia 329
 Applewhite, Andrew M. 312
 Apier, Seth H.
 Aragona, Christopher Andrew
 Arata, Virginia Anne 294
 Arbabi, Darius
 Arbogast, Teresa Louise
 Archer, Beth Ann
 Archer, Sharon Jean 294
 Ard, John Lawrence 210
 Ard, Michael James

Arents, Donald Nicholas, Jr.
 Armilla, Arlene Marie 294
 Armistead, David Brent 280, 407
 Armistead, Elizabeth Bland 83, 184
 Armitage, Thomas M.
 Armstrong, Craig Evan
 Armstrong, Michael David
 Armstrong, Michael P.
 Armstrong, Terence William
 Armstrong, Todd Robert 204, 294
 Arneson, Scott Edward
 Arnold, Martha Leigh 294
 Arnold, Michael Alan 165, 206
 Arrance, Sandra Kay
 Arries, Sheila Ann 294
 Arsenault, Cathi Marie 280
 Artman, Janet Michele
 Arwood, Mary Katherine
 Ashbacher, Lynn Anne
 Ashburn, Margaret Edwards 294
 Ashby, Alison Paige 329
 Ashby, Gayle Lynette 329
 Ashby, Michael R.
 Ashford, Susan Joanne 329
 Ashley, Anna Leigh 180, 280
 Ashworth, Alan Clark 212, 294
 Ashworth, Joanne Lee 180, 312
 Asimos, George, Jr.
 Asplundh, Susan Leshe 168, 280
 Astruc, Salud
 Atchison, William Preston 294
 Atesoz, Seden Evube 312, 381
 Atherton, Michael David
 Atkinson, Deirdre Renee
 Atkinson, Julie Kathryn 280
 Atkinson, Ronald Earl, Jr.
 Atlee, Joanne Marie 196
 Atran, Steven M.
 Attlesv, Mark Graham
 Atwater, Peter William 329, 380, 382, 384, 385
 Aub, Tony R. 385
 Auel, Adam Benkert 280
 Aufenger, Richard Fox, III
 Aulenti, Denise M. 329
 Austin, Harry Antrim, III
 Austin, Susan Belle
 Austin, William Thomas 329, 380, 384
 Apter, Daniel Miles
 Avers, Steven Leo 329
 Avery, Victoria Frances 294
 Avis, Laura Jo 294
 Avoli, Cynthia Mae 312
 Awotesu, Olufemi Babayomi 255
 Axton, Anne Berkelev
 Aydtlett, Valerie Anne
 Ayotte, Theresa Marie 280

Baader, Michael Joseph
 Babes, Paul Andrew
 Bacallao, Susana 312
 Bacherman, David 263
 Bachmann, Michael James 257
 Badeau, Douglas Dauphinot
 Badura, Kim Marie
 Baer, Jeanette Marie 280
 Baer, Sherry Anne 312
 Baerenz, Fred Peter 40, 178
 Baffer, Barbara Ann 370, 373
 Baffer, Bonna Louise 385
 Baggish, Jeffrey Steven
 Bailey, David Scott 294
 Bailey, Donna L.
 Bailey, Lydia Lee
 Bailey, Martha Davenport
 Bailey, Mary Lynne Williams
 Bailey, Shirley Rebecca
 Bailey, Virginia Benton 172, 294
 Bamum, Lori Kaye 329
 Baccio, John Patrick 312
 Bakeman, Bonnie Allen 172
 Baker, Emerson Woods
 Baker, Kelly Marie
 Baker, Kenneth Ross
 Baker, Kyle Derrick
 Baker, Maureen Elizabeth 280
 Baker, Patricia Maria 280
 Baker, Sandie Jay
 Balac, Joseph Felix, Jr.
 Baldauf, Jean Marie
 Baldwin, Lisa Marie
 Baldwin, Stephen Mitchell
 Baldwin, Todd Wrigley 329
 Bahles, Ramona Leigh 280

Green Leaf Cafe
 SERVING
 4 P.M. - 2 A.M.
 Indoor Garden Dining
 Continental Cuisine
 Cocktails
 765 Scotland St. 220-3405

The Flower Cupboard

Full Service Florist

"We're just a little different"

Daily delivery service - Plants, fresh & silk flowers
 Creative corsages, nasegays & boutonnieres

220-0057

205 N. Boundary Street
 (Across from Sorority Court)

Compliments
 of Your

Bell Phone Center

C T O R Y C T O R Y

Ball, John Allen 294
 Ball, Susan Marie 170, 312
 Ball, Thomas Francis 329
 Ballar, Bruce William
 Ballance, Roger Glenn
 Ballew, Sandra J.
 Ballette, Andrea Lynne 294
 Baltz, Frank Randall
 Bamberger, Sylvia Karen 312
 Bandy, William Hollis
 Bane, Constance Marie 164, 280
 Banfi, Gabriel Ignacio
 Banks, Pauline Boyd
 Bantley, Albert George
 Banwell, Sharon
 Barakos, Jo-Anne 164, 312
 Baranowski, Stephanie Ann 329
 Barber, George Raymond
 Barclay, Karen E. 280
 Barclay, Pamela Novotny
 Barco, Susan Gwynn 280, 407
 Barden, Ronald Lewis
 Barefoot, Elizabeth Ann 329
 Bargamin, Paul Nelson
 Barham, William Thomas 202
 Barinka, Karen Diane
 Barker, Cynthia Lee 75, 176, 312
 Barksdale, Barbara
 Barlow, Kimberly Kea 294
 Barlowe, Charles Kimbrough
 Barna, Jeffrey Richard
 Barner, Daniel Paul
 Barnes, Dena Marie 184, 312
 Barnes, Ellen Frances
 Barnes, Jamie Len
 Barnes, Rebecca Louise 280
 Barnes, Robert Alfred 280
 Barnett, Daniel Lee 204
 Barnett, Paul M.
 Barnhardt, Walter Andrew
 Barno, Barbara Ann
 Barnsback, Michael Earl 178
 Baron, Michelle Marie 84, 280
 Baroody, Ann Mitchell 168, 329
 Baroody, Julia Hooper
 Baroody, Monica Jean 294
 Barr, Jennifer Ann 312
 Barrick, Brent Ramsey 178, 271
 Barry, Eleanor Ann
 Barth, Elaine Pauline 168, 329
 Bartlett, Elizabeth Anne
 Bartlett, Jeffrey Wayne
 Bartlett, Lisa Hope 312, 384
 Bartlett, Mary Ross 32, 385
 Bartlett, Peter Mandeville
 Bartok, Deborah B.
 Barton, Mary Catherine
 Barton, Nancy Jane
 Barton, Roberta S.
 Barton, Thomas Joseph
 Baskett, Cynthia Karen
 Baskett, Virginia Grace 168, 294
 Basley, Allison Marie
 Basnight, Kord H. 294
 Bass, David Gerald 200, 280
 Bass, Robert Woods, Jr. 194
 Bateman, Mary Elizabeth 210
 Batemanhorst, Kathryn Mary 312
 Bates, Brian John 329
 Bates, Valerie Ann
 Bateson, William Moffat
 Batkins, William Wayne
 Batliner, Ronald, Jr.
 Battaglia, Kristen Marie 280
 Battle, Robert Emmett
 Baty, Christie Ann 329
 Baule, John Frederick 312
 Baum, Belvin Scott 380
 Baum, Rebecca L.
 Bauman, Robert Arthur
 Baumberger, Kurt John 329
 Baumgarten, Linda 19
 Baur, Raymond Haiman, III
 Bavis, Robert Charles
 Bavnard, Tracy Marie 329
 Bazin, Michel Francois
 Beadles, Dabney Anne 172, 313
 Beal, Elizabeth Harrison 170, 407
 Beale, Karen Lynn 219, 329
 Beale, Mary Hunter 329, 380, 384
 Beale, Sam T.
 Beasley, Elizabeth Lee 356, 380
 Beasley, John Brockington, Jr.
 Beasley, Mark Brannon 294, 312
 Beaumont, Suzanne Marie
 Beavers, Mark Carothers 385, 407
 Bebak, Julie A.
 Bechly, Gal Lorin 182, 330, 407
 Beck, Anne Theresa 280
 Beck, Patricia Dawn
 Becker, Betsy Lynn 100
 Becker, Carl S.
 Becker, Donna Caroline 182, 294
 Beckles, Claude Cyril
 Beckwith, Karen Ann 294
 Beckwith, Robert Lowell
 Bedlor, John Peter 330
 Beelen, Gary David 208
 Begley, Jerry Dawson, III
 Behl, Catherine Mary 330
 Bell, Amy Victoria 294
 Bell, Crystal Jean

Bell, Edward James, III
 Bell, Elizabeth Franke 280
 Bell, Gregory Russell
 Bell, Lauri Ann
 Bellis, Christopher Lukas
 Bellmund, Sarah Anne
 Belsches, Allison Paige 172, 280
 Belsches, Basil Raymond, III 178, 271, 330
 Belt, Christina Marie 196, 330, 381
 Beltran, Pamela Theresa 280
 Benbrook, Kevin Patrick
 Ben, Edward L. 330
 Bender, Joseph Garrick
 Bender, Ralph E. L., III
 Benefield, Susan West 196, 294
 Bengtson, Alice Miner 262, 280
 Bengtson, Elizabeth Miner 198, 262, 313
 Benham, Kathy Yost
 Benitez, Larisa Vargas
 Bennett, Frances Churchill 208
 Bennett, John Faber
 Bennett, Judith A.
 Bennett, Kenneth Sean
 Bennett, Leah Elizabeth 280
 Bennett, Leslie Anne
 Bennett, Lynn P.
 Bennett, Todd Napier
 Bennett, William Joseph 294
 Benson, Robert Donald, Jr.
 Benson, Stephanie Dale 198, 330
 Bendley, Russell Keith
 Benton, David Reginald
 Benton, Mary Kaye
 Benz, Debra R.
 Berg, Karen Elisabeth 172, 294
 Bergen, Lee Douglas
 Berger, John E. 313
 Bergman, Ronald Warren
 Bergoffen, Jodi Susan
 Beringer, Julie 198
 Berman, Carl R.
 Bertman, Mark Edward 178, 407
 Bernard, Charlene Elizabeth
 Bernath, Wendy Sue 137, 176
 Bernhard, Margaret Maguire 385
 Bernhard, Robin C.
 Bernstein, Lydia M. 381
 Berquist, Carl Richard, Jr.
 Berquist, Karen Ann
 Berry, Margaret JoAnne
 Berry, Russell Elliot 330
 Berry, Shannon Christine 198, 265, 294
 Berry, Stephen Mitchell
 Berrvill, Pamela S.
 Bertia, Ann L. 208
 Bertuam, Lindsey 48
 Besto, Elizabeth Anne
 Bessler, John Edward 194
 Best, Dan 255
 Betts, Nancy Lawrence
 Betts, Susan Gerard
 Betz, Kimberly Anne
 Better, Karla Elena 196
 Bever, Lisa A. 330
 Bevma, Eric Stephen
 Biber, Bruce Lorenz 381
 Bice, Stacey Jo 192, 330
 Bickel, John William
 Bickert, Dale John, Jr.
 Bickley, Margaret A. 294
 Bidanset, Deborah Joan
 Bidwell, Virginia Leigh
 Bietman, Anne Marie 118, 294
 Bigler, Bernard Philip
 Binsley, Jill Roberts
 Birnkammer, Jack Andrew 330
 Birsinger, Gregory Todd
 Bischoff, Claudia Maria
 Bisczat, Raymond J. 186
 Bisese, David Lawrence 210, 294
 Bisese, Stephen Damian 206, 330, 382, 385
 Bish, Lisa Ann
 Bishop, Jeffrey Dupre 194
 Bishop, Steven Paul 313
 Bisignani, Brian William
 Bitto, Pamela Ann 280
 Black, Brian Douglas
 Black, Christopher Alvin
 Black, Jennifer Lynn
 Black, Linda Rose 313
 Blackstone, Deborah Lee 280
 Blackman, Annette Kay
 Blackwell, Brian Keith
 Blackwell, James Elbert
 Blackwell, Jennifer A. 294
 Blackwood, Terence Goodwin 206, 280
 Blackwood, Thomas James
 Blaha, Caroline Lois 164, 330
 Blaine, Steven Wesley
 Blair, Kenneth Bruce
 Blake, Joyce H.
 Blake, Susan Gayle 294
 Blakemore, William Alexander, Jr. 257, 330, 413
 Blanchard, Anne Elizabeth
 Blanchard, Mary Alicia
 Bland, Dean Franklin 381

Branch, Victor Kay 313
 Brand, David Douglass 200, 313
 Brandes, Patricia Anne 333
 Brandon, Mary Katherine 333, 381
 Brandt, Andrew Gerhart 294
 Brandt, John Robert
 Bratton, Kathleen Agnes
 Braun, Tracey Elizabeth 333, 380
 Braxton, Gregory Barnett
 Braxby, Frederick Edward
 Brazil, Terence Scott 178, 313
 Bready, George Galt, Jr. 313
 Breeding, Robert Franklin, Jr.
 Bregman, Chanley Michele
 Breidegam, Julie L.
 Breidenbach, Therese Eileen 176, 294
 Brendel, Joseph Raymond
 Brennan, Christopher Michael
 Brennan, William James
 Brenner, Matthew Gary
 Brenner, Steven Lowell
 Brent, Lesley Dianne 333
 Bresnahan, Joseph Michael
 Bretsen, Stephen Norris 333, 384
 Brice, Kathryn R. 196
 Briceland, Walter Vance 294
 Brickey, Brett Randolph 178
 Brickhouse, Mark David 333
 Bridenshine, William A., Jr.
 Bridges, Barbara S.
 Bridges, Jeffrey Lee 210
 Bridges, Richard Blake 280
 Bridgforth, John Cunningham 200
 Brien, Una Frances
 Britley, Mary Frances 385
 Brinker, John T.
 Brinkley, Douglas Wright 280
 Brinkley, Sabrina Elizabeth
 Briscoe, Gregory William 313
 Brisette, Alan Richard
 Bristow, Leila Marie
 Britt, Warren Hunter
 Brittain, Timothy James
 Britton, Bruce Stuart
 Britton, Ronnie Kris
 Broach, Diane Carol 313
 Broach, Jennifer Susan 168
 Broadwater, John D.
 Broberg, Lisa Louise
 Brock, Jennifer Leigh 294
 Brock, Kara Sue
 Brocki, Mark Christopher
 Brockman, Danota Jan
 Brockman, Jeffrey Clarke 194, 294
 Brodell, Albert Peter
 Brodie, Alan David 330, 371
 Brodnax, William Frederick, IV 178, 313
 Broecker, Theodore James, Jr. 333
 Brogan, Patrick Michael
 Brooks, Arthur Eugene
 Brooks, Charlotte I.
 Brooks, Claire Jean 271, 313
 Brooks, George Kirby, III
 Brooks, George Ulric, III
 Brooks, Glenn Robert 280
 Brooks, Gordon Patrick
 Brooks, Howard David 83, 294
 Brooks, Hugh A.
 Brooks, Matthew John
 Brooks, Nancy Elizabeth 170, 294
 Brooks, Stephen Michael
 Brooks, Tama Vass
 Brooks, Thomas Ward 212
 Broomall, Larry 278
 Brophy, Maria Rose 196, 333
 Brosnahan, Ann Marie 280
 Brotzman, Robert John
 Broughton, Bradley Powell 313
 Brown, Angela Marlene
 Brown, Ann Catherine 280
 Brown, Carol Jane
 Brown, David Creighton
 Brown, Dirk Lamar 333
 Brown, Elizabeth Fletcher
 Brown, Francis Wilson, Jr.
 Brown, Gloria A. 294
 Brown, Heather Anne 198, 265, 294
 Brown, James Barton, Jr.
 Brown, James Marie 280
 Brown, Jessica Lauren 313
 Brown, Kae 19
 Brown, Karen Leigh
 Brown, Kathleen P.
 Brown, Laurel Anne 313
 Brown, Leslie 19
 Brown, Leslie Allison
 Brown, Lorm Darbie 196
 Brown, Lyman Robert 333, 380, 382, 384
 Brown, Michael Christopher
 Brown, Nancy Hogshead
 Brown, Nancy Suzanne 182, 333
 Brown, Nora Mary
 Brown, Richard C.
 Brown, Roxanne Theresa 313
 Brown, Stanley 276
 Brown, Steven Douglas
 Brown, Steven Lawrence
 Brown, Steven Withrop
 Brown, Tanya Yolanda 164, 228, 281

Browne, Carl C. 140
 Brownell, Richard Joseph
 Browning, Diana Lynn 333, 380
 Browning, Jean Gillett 313
 Browning, Nancy Elizabeth 178, 333
 Browning, Rebecca Lee 280
 Brownlee, Tracy Ann 180, 294
 Broyles, Teresa Ann 333
 Brubaker, James Graham 27, 280
 Bruce, Mildred Davis
 Bruce, Michael H.
 Brunson, Cheryl Denise
 Brunzie, Marion Wynne 333
 Bruzas, Kathryn Mary
 Bryan, Jeanette
 Bryant, Gary M. 295
 Bryant, Mills Robert, III 333, 380
 Bryant, Raymond Keith
 Bryant, Sandra Brown
 Bryden, James David
 Bubon, Julie Elizabeth 164, 210
 Buchanan, David James
 Buck, Lilli L.
 Buckingham, Hazel
 Buckus, Lori Rae
 Bucklen, Debra Leigh 182, 333
 Buckley, Barbara Mary
 Buckley, Colin Hugh Buckley, Simon T.
 Buckner, Janet Elizabeth
 Budd, Terry
 Budd, William Matthew 295
 Budinger, Cynthia Gay 280
 Buehner, Laura Anne 295
 Buesser, Gary Robert
 Buehler, Phillip Arthur 178
 Buldan, Louis Stacy
 Bull, William R., Jr.
 Bullock, Kevin Andrew
 Bumgardner, Gayle Lynn
 Bumgardner, Gene V.
 Bunting, Brian John
 Bunting, Kenneth Paul
 Burchard, Jonathan Carlton 313
 Burchett, Michelle Preston 170, 333, 380
 Burdick, Brett Alan
 Burford, Elizabeth M.
 Burger, Edward Dorsey, Jr.
 Burger, Elizabeth Brooke 280
 Burger, Lavonne Jane 295
 Burgess, Jan Edith 295
 Burgess, Kristi Dawn 172
 Burgess, Merle Estelle
 Burhans, Ann Mc Lam
 Burke, Ann Wyatt
 Burke, Colleen Patricia 295
 Burke, Leslie Susan
 Burke, Patrick Joseph
 Burkholder, Pamela Dawn 313, 381
 Burks, Sharon Browning 180, 295
 Burmeister, Lisa Anne 164, 313
 Burnett, Michael Kenneth
 Burnette, Bonnie Aldine 280
 Burnette, Thornton Graves 295
 Burns, Richard Edmond
 Burns, Scott G.
 Burns, Stephen Darr
 Burr, Elizabeth Ann 280
 Burrus, David R.
 Burrus, Laura Wilson 176, 280
 Burruss, William Terrell, III
 Burson, Joyce Elizabeth
 Burr, David Henderson 371
 Burton, Cara Jane 295
 Burton, Dennis Cleat
 Burton, Ellen Kepler 313
 Burwell, Louise Marrow
 Busby, William Storey, III
 Buscemi, Lawrence A.
 Bush, Deborah Jane 281
 Bush, Jane Elizabeth 281
 Bush, M. Lee Anne Washington
 Bush, Michael Ray
 Bushmann, Paul Jeffrey 178
 Bushong, Sherry Lynn
 Butchko, Marsha G.
 Butler, Beth Ann
 Butler, Damon Casque
 Butler, David Ferrell
 Butler, David Mather
 Butler, Jane Langford 281
 Butler, Karen Gail 182, 333
 Butler, Kenneth Gregory
 Butler, Marc Hausch 210
 Butler, Priscilla Nolan 164, 281
 Butler, Thomas Edward
 Butterworth, David Randall
 Buxton, Michael J.
 Buyer, Terry Don 281
 Buzzell, Barbara Ann 181, 333
 Buyer, Kevin Patrick
 Byers, Tracy Elizabeth
 Byles, Richard Alan
 Bynum, Carol Alison 330
 Bynum, Elizabeth Anne 296
 Byrnie, Jean S.
 Byrne, Patricia Jacqueline
 Byron, Leila Mae 333, 381
 Byrum, John Kenneth 296

A Full Service Camera Shop

Film Developing · Repairs

Located at
MERCHANTS SQUARE
Massey's Camera Shop
 447 PRINCE GEORGE STREET
 PHONE 229 3181 · WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA

Gaan, Paul Werner
 Cahano, Theresa Marie 313
 Caher, Paul Reid 313
 Cabell, Elizabeth Bell 196
 Cadorette, Thomas Michael
 Caffarella, Edward Phillip
 Caffery, Michael Anthony 210
 Caffrey, Thomas Arthur
 Cain, David Howard 281
 Cain, Judith Lynn 182, 333, 409
 Calantoni, Terry Ann 333
 Caldwell, Victoria Furke 168, 200, 201, 333
 Calhoun, Ansley Carol 281
 Calhoun, Cary McFadden
 Calhoun, Scott Douglas
 Call, Edward Kimball, Jr. 333
 Callahan, Sharon Marie 281
 Callery, Katherine Cecilia 168
 Callinan, Ellen Mary
 Calnati, Joan Lydia
 Galpin, Kathleen Mary 281
 Calvert, George David
 Calvert, Walter Randolph
 Caminer, Victoria Beck
 Camp, Robert Richard
 Campana, Robert Alan
 Campbell, Amy Elizabeth 281
 Campbell, Angela Kay 281
 Campbell, Claire Cecilia
 Campbell, Dwayne Marcus 186
 Campbell, Jeffrey David 206, 333
 Campbell, Jennifer Beth 295
 Campbell, John Evan
 Campbell, John Wade
 Campbell, Marianne J
 Campbell, Mary Kathryn
 Campbell, Melissa 333
 Campbell, Rack Damon 333
 Campbell, William Nelson, Jr. 194, 333
 Canada, Andrew Joseph, III
 Canning, Craig 66
 Cannon, John 194
 Canonico, Mary Patricia 313
 Canterbury, Todd William 178, 334
 Cantun, Michael Ronald
 Cantrell, Joy Crafts
 Cao, Huyen Van 313
 Capen, Scott Richard 186
 Caplan, William Marie 255, 281
 Caprio, Fred Blackledge
 Caputo, Catherine Ann 281
 Carabonica, Amy Roxanne
 Carbone, John Stephen 313, 381
 Carden, Randel Allen

Carden, Ronald Wayne
 Carew, Anna Harriet 257, 281
 Carey, Barbara Jean
 Carey, Kristen Denise
 Carey, Mark Gordon 334
 Carrillo, Gina Louise 108, 334
 Carley, Daniel Joseph
 Carlin, Rebecca Inez 313
 Carlsle, Candace Celeste 182, 334, 381
 Carlson, David R
 Carlson, Elaine Mary
 Carlson, Hans Michael
 Carlson, Julie Marie
 Carlson, Keith Richard 334
 Carneal, Terri Lynn 281
 Caropresso, Ruben Antonio 281
 Carpenter, Barbara Elizabeth 180, 334
 Carpenter, Julia Moore 334, 413
 Carpenter, M. Courtney 75
 Carpenter, Robert John
 Carpenter, Thomas Edgat
 Carpenter, Wendy Jean
 Carper, Joy 334
 Carper, Lillie M
 Carr, Dabney Hughes 194, 314, 407
 Carr, Dabney Jefferson, IV 334, 385
 Carr, Debra Ingrid
 Carr, Heidi Marie Ecatrice 281
 Carr, Kamala Mitchell
 Carrington, Dolores Marie
 Carroll, Joseph Thomas
 Carroll, Randall William
 Carson, Mary Reese 164, 334
 Carter, Elizabeth Bolling 334
 Carter, Gerald William 334
 Carter, Herbert J
 Carter, Herman L, Jr
 Carter, Richard 281
 Cartwright, Patricia Ann
 Cartwright, Terri Lynn 180, 334
 Caruso, Krisann Marie 180, 334
 Carver, Elizabeth Chapman
 Carver, William Franklin, Jr. 281
 Carwile, Tommie Lynn 282
 Casavecchia, Nadine Mirville 282
 Casev, Helen Elizabeth 334
 Casev, Jonathan Ralph
 Casev, Michael James
 Casev, Patricia I
 Cashwell, Marion Henderson
 Cason, James Bartels 295
 Cass, Susan Marie 282
 Cassani, Joanne Marie 334
 Cassano, Daniel Anthony
 Castellani, David Matthew 334
 Castle, Angela Elizabeth 282, 384
 Castro, Stephen Kenneth 334
 Casswell, Laurie Elizabeth 334, 407
 Catano, Nancy Irene
 Catlett, John Baldwin, Jr
 Catron, Robert 81
 Catron, Vickie Gail
 Caudery, Victoria Susannah Maria 196
 Caughey, Michael Thomas 313
 Causey, Mary Hedrick
 Cavallato, Samuel Joseph
 Cedeno, Karen Ann 334
 Cesar, Archa
 Chahalis, Scott Christian
 Chan, Melissa Jane 313
 Chakravorty, Agnis Chandra
 Chalfoux, Oliver S
 Chamberlavne, John Hampden 178
 Chamberlin, Patricia Alice 313

Chambers, Floyd Allen
 Chambers, Jav 53, 250
 Chambers, Laura Michelle 334
 Chambers, Rolly Lee
 Chamlee, Susan Lynn 313
 Champine, Patricia Diane 196, 334
 Chan, Kar Yee
 Chandler, Kimberley Lynn 334
 Chandler, Laura Hatcher
 Chandler, Leland Foston, III 334
 Chang, Eddy Sunwook
 Chang, Nien-Chung David
 Chao, Chien-Pai
 Chao, Jeanette C
 Chaos, Tom Suzanne 180, 295
 Chapin, Scott Thacker
 Chapman, John Edward 372
 Chapman, Leah Kimberly
 Chapman, Paul Harold 295
 Chapman, Sarah Brotherhood
 Chapman, Sharon Eugenia 166
 Chappell, James Edward 212
 Chapple, Alison L. 295
 Char, Sandra Sue 164
 Charlton, David Holland
 Charney, Catherine 180, 334, 356
 Chase, Darlene E
 Chase, Jane Lynn 75
 Chases, Andrea Lauren
 Chatten, Christopher Lee 313
 Chaundry, Ataulah 370
 Chen, Hu-Dong
 Chen, Lie-Jane
 Chenault, Henry Keith 334, 380, 381
 Cheng, Clement Justin
 Cheppo, John Stephen
 Chernock, Roy 102
 Cherundolo, Jean Marie
 Chewning, Jeffrey Lynn
 Chia, Felipe H. 370
 Chichester, Peston Moncote, III
 Chigi, Donna L
 Childs, Christopher Donnell
 Cho, Hye Yoon
 Cho, Sungae
 Chou, Shya-Li Alice
 Chovanec, Richard Francis
 Christensen, David Lee 65, 313, 385
 Christian, Charlsa Carole 282
 Christian, Elaine Marie
 Christian, Peter Noah 334, 380
 Christiansen, Rick Charles
 Christie, Michelle Georgia 282
 Christie, Phillip Jay, Jr. 313, 380
 Christner, Wallace Ernest
 Christopher, Elizabeth Irene 176, 295
 Christy, Karen Noel
 Chu, Hsueh Jean
 Chu, Robert Yao-Hwa
 Chu, Sharon Chi-Hwei
 Chukney, Chip 265
 Chukney, Kate 265
 Chuday, John Charles 334
 Church, Jane Marie
 Church, Robert Ray
 Churchill, Maureen Leonne 166, 334
 Churn, Severn Bouden 208
 Cicale, Marguerite Mary
 Cicatko, Judy Ellen 129
 Cieplicki, Keith Brian 981
 Cimetman, Sandra Ann 263, 334
 Clancy, Elizabeth Hope 282
 Clark, Anita G. 282
 Clark, David Allan 295
 Clark, David Evans
 Clark, Emily Alexandra 182, 295

Clark, Keith Spencer
 Clark, Kevin Patrick 282
 Clark, Laron Jefferson
 Clark, Lisa Marie 313
 Clark, Ralph Raymond, II 335
 Clark, Stephen Patrick
 Clarke, Catherine Lynn
 Clarke, John Gordon
 Clarke, Judith Lightfoot 77, 81, 313
 Clarke, Kimberly Ann 55, 335
 Clarke, Ron 200
 Clarke, Victor Gordon 147, 335
 Clausen, Mark Alan 200
 Clauser, Mike 200
 Claybrook, Helen Elizabeth 180, 335
 Clayhead, Hellion 180, 335
 Clayton, Daniel George, III
 Claytor, Joseph Neil 135, 212, 335
 Cleary, Patrick Roger, III 313
 Clement, Grace Ann
 Clements, Amanda Ruth 295, 385
 Clements, Frankie Leon
 Clemo, George John
 Clemson, Richard Conrad 210
 Cleveland, Mark Wiley 407
 Clifford, Gail Suzanne
 Cline, Barbara Jane 335
 Cline, Robert W
 Clinton, Stephen Joseph 202
 Clinton, William Joseph 204, 282
 Close, Karen Ann 255, 295, 381
 Cloud, David Stanley 282
 Cloud, Elizabeth Conrad 335
 Coakley, Paul Roman
 Coates, Mary Beale 296
 Cobb, Rickes Lynn 384
 Cobert, Rebecca Louise 295
 Coble, Robert Joseph 206, 295
 Cochran, Alexander Smith, III 206
 Cochran, Christopher Paul
 Cochran, M. Ford 228, 230, 382, 385
 Cockrell, Tracey Shereen
 Cololla, Michael N
 Cody, Angela Bonita
 Coe, Rich 53
 Coffey, Ellen F
 Coffey, Timothy P
 Coffman, David Allen 313, 384
 Coghill, Robert Calvin 26
 Cogswell, Laurie Ann 295
 Cohen, Jeffrey S
 Cohen, Michael Jay
 Colavito, Elizabeth Ann 282
 Cole, Clayton Kenneth
 Cole, Mark Leonard
 Cole, Richard Jeffrey 313
 Cole, William Christopher 295
 Cole, William Dalton
 Coleman, Christy Shevelle
 Coleman, Frederick Douglas 335
 Coleman, Henry 69
 Coleman, Jeffrey Peters
 Coleman, Katherine Lochiel
 Coleman, Rick 191
 Coleman, Russell Vaughn, III 313
 Coletton, Peter L
 Collier, Joel Wesley 282
 Collingwood, Courtney Willis
 Collins, David Samuel
 Collins, Joseph Matthew
 Collins, Julia Lynn 407
 Collins, Margaret Ann 168, 282
 Collins, Nathan Foward
 Colme, Joseph V
 Colonna, Claude Bundick, Jr.
 Colton, Chris James
 Colvocoresses, James A

Colwell, Thomas Row 335
 Comey, Christopher Herald 282
 Comskey, Charles Joseph
 Commander, Scott Christopher 295
 Compton, Marilyn Jean
 Compton, Michael Scott 295
 Conroy, Bruce H
 Conaway, James Richard
 Conaway, Sandra Rebecca
 Conaway, Teresa Sharon
 Conda, Cesar Vincent 335
 Conde, Juan Fernando
 Coniglio, Steven Joseph
 Conklin, George Hazelton
 Conklin, Robin Allen 335
 Conklin, Sharon Williams
 Conley, Pamela Louise
 Conley, Robert Alan
 Conn, Susan Lynn 61, 180, 313
 Connell, Andrea Robm
 Conner, Donnie Gray
 Conner, Melissa Dorothy 295
 Conlee, John 4
 Connolly, Loree Ann 100, 335
 Connolly, Sharon Marie
 Connor, James Lee
 Connor, William Jeffrey 233, 335, 385
 Connors, James Joseph 186, 202
 Constantine, Mark Damron 26
 Conte, Nicholas 313
 Contos, Melissa Jeanne 176, 335
 Conway, Kathleen Marie
 Conway, Richard A
 Cook, Edward James
 Cook, Lionel Dean
 Cook, Michael Samuel 313
 Cook, Thomas Peter
 Cook, Tina Marie
 Cook, Virginia Kaye
 Cooke, Colleen Doris 164
 Cookson, John Thomas
 Cooney, Debra L
 Cooney, Mary Jean
 Cooper, Ann Cameron
 Cooper, Kevin Douglas
 Cooper, Mitchell Eben
 Cooper, Richard Alan 108, 113, 336
 Cooper, Sharon Rose 336
 Copeland, James 276, 290
 Copeland, Nancy Lee 296
 Copland, Gordon Harrison
 Coppola, Joanne 313, 384
 Corbett, Francis James
 Corbett, Jeanne Sicles 198, 336
 Corcillo, Judith Marie 196
 Corcillo, Margaret Ruth 198, 296
 Cord, Monica Louise 282
 Cordovana, Diana Lynn 296
 Cormier, Camille Marie 313
 Cormier, Robert Henry, Jr.
 Cornehus, Sarah Jean 182, 336, 381
 Cornelius, Steven Scott
 Corneil, Christopher Scott 282
 Cornell, Elizabeth Anne
 Cornell, Michelle Lori
 Cornett, Dana Jean
 Corneet, Joseph Buran 296, 315
 Corning, Nancy Doyle
 Cornwell, Ava Christina 336
 Correll, James Allen
 Corry, Daniel Richard 287
 Corsi, Thomas Michael 224, 314, 335
 Corvelli, Janet Lee
 Cosio, Lourdes H. 314
 Coski, John Matthew
 Costley, Christopher Bemis
 Cote, Nancy Louise 198
 Cotta, Karen Smith 176
 Cottingham, Ann Roberta
 Cottle, Linda Jean 184, 336
 Cottrell, Elizabeth Pace
 Coughlin, Kevin Andrew 202, 314
 Coulson, Cynthia Jane
 Coulter, Diane Marie
 Coumes, Susan Renee 282
 Counen, Margaret Frances 336
 Courtney, Katherine Anne
 Cousins, Michael Patrick 84, 263, 314
 Cousins, Patrick Saint George
 Cousins, Susan Lindsey 182, 296
 Coutlakis, Peter James
 Coval, Scott Alfred 251, 260, 261
 Cove, Ruth Lynn 282
 Covert, Katharine Jane 296
 Covello, James Michael 202
 Covington, Janet C
 Cowan, Jennifer Marie 164, 336
 Cowan, John Andrew
 Cowden, Mark Joseph
 Cowgill, Ida Alln 336
 Cowley, Stacey Diane
 Cowling, Gary Lawrence 314
 Cox, Adrienne Morgan
 Cox, Caroline Elizabeth
 Cox, Craig Allen 282
 Cox, Helen Hart 164, 336
 Cox, Martin 407
 Cox, Virginia Meade 180, 296
 Coxson, Kristin Marie 336
 Coyle, Kathleen Margaret
 Coyne, Nora Ann 336
 Crabtree, Diana Harman
 Crabtree, Roy Eugene
 Craghead, Susan Elaine 314
 Craig, Christopher Matlane 200, 282
 Craig, Elsie Whitfield
 Craig, John M
 Craig, John Scott 265, 296
 Craig, Sandra Anne 176, 336, 380
 Crane, John Joseph
 Crane, Robert Louis 262
 Crapol, Heidi Ann
 Crapps, Thomas Porter 296
 Crase, Kimberly Yvette 198, 336
 Craun, Ned Lowell

Creagh, Robert Tracy 121
 Creane, Kevin Walsh
 Creane, Anthony Joseph
 Creasey, Cecil Harvey, Jr. 370
 Creckin, Robert M
 Creekmore, Mary Catherine
 Creigh, Susan Lynn
 Cress, Debora Lynn
 Crick, Jane Alice 336, 381
 Crigger, Donald Ruxton 314
 Crill, Sandra Lee 73, 272, 336
 Crimi, Jacqueline Elizabeth 176
 Crisco, Carl Richard
 Crittenden, Guy Smith 117
 Cro, Matthew Bradley 178, 380
 Crockett, Joanna Gav
 Croll, Nancy M
 Cromley, Clayton Lee
 Crompton, Corey Kyle
 Cromwell, Richard Joshua
 Cronin, Kim Lorrell 282
 Cronin, Laurence Vincent
 Cronk, Kay-Margaret 176, 282
 Crook, Jessica A. 370
 Croonenberghs, Robert E.
 Cropper, Hugh, IV
 Crosby, Nancy Mettauer
 Cross, Anita Marie 196, 282
 Cross, Kimberley Sands
 Cross, Martin Kiel 26, 29
 Cross, Timothy Christopher
 Crossland, Sharon Ann 385
 Crossman, Ann H.
 Crosswhite, Catherine Leslie 170, 282
 Crotty, Kathleen Elizabeth
 Crowley, Colleen Marie 296
 Crowley, Paul Roger
 Cruikshank, Nannette W
 Crum, Charles Noel
 Crummer, Margaret Leigh 170, 208
 Crump, Gregg Alan 200, 296
 Crumpton, Sharon Rene 166
 Crusier, George Edwin, Jr. 204
 Crutchfield, Julia L. 296
 Cruz, Robert A
 Csellak, Linda Marie 336
 Cuevas, Norma
 Cuff, Thomas J. 70, 102, 336
 Culberson, Stephen Dennis
 Cullather, Kevin Kessler 296
 Cullen, Joseph P. 385
 Cullen, Thomas William
 Culler, Susan Ann 336
 Culp, Robert Alan
 Culver, Alana S.
 Cumbee, Richard 276
 Cumbers, Richard Charles
 Cumbia, Gilbert Garner
 Cumings, E. Parker
 Cunneen, Sheila Marie 262
 Cunningham, Martha Lauren 178, 180, 296
 Curcio, James
 Curless, Christian G. 230, 336, 380, 381, 385
 Curry, David George, Jr. 336
 Curtis, Kathleen Ann 282
 Cuthrell, Brian John 314
 Czuch, Mona Belle 282, 381

ONE OF THE LEADING BANKS IN AMERICA.

UNITED VIRGINIA BANK

Member FDIC

THE WILLIAM AND MARY BOOKSTORE

For all your student needs.
Books, Supplies, Records, Sportswear, W & M Items.

Dagostino, Nina Lynn 336
 Dagostino, Robert Louis
 Dahl, Allen Payne
 Dahlburg, Jill Potkalikova
 Dahlburg, Russell Blackadore
 Dahnk, Jeanne Patricia
 Daigle, James Leon, V
 Daley, Dinah Gay
 Dalgleish, Gordon Douglas
 Dalton, Catherine Ann 314
 Dalton, Steve Anthony
 Damon, Denise Yvonne 81, 336
 Dambury, Elizabeth Rosemary 180, 296
 Dandridge, William Rangelov 206, 336
 Danforth, Scot Edward
 Damalier, Greg 46
 Daniel, Charming Williams, III
 Daniel, Kimberly Ann
 Daniel, Larry Russell, Jr. 42
 Daniel, Mary Jane 296
 Daniels, James Vernon 178, 271, 314
 Daniels, Lisa Lee 296, 385
 Danilowicz, Matthew Joseph 228, 336, 385, 384
 Danley, Aretie Gallins 385
 Dantzschler, Cynthia Anne 314
 Dantz, Mary Elizabeth
 Darke, William Hugh
 Darnell, Andrew Vaughn
 Daugherty, James Hamilton 121, 336

Daugherty, Jay William
 Daugherty, Silas Clark
 Daughters, Carolyn 314
 Davenport, James Lewis
 Davis, Philip Anthony 206, 296
 Davis, Alan Gregory 208
 Davis, Barbara Lee 176, 314
 Davis, Charlotte Scott 336
 Davis, Donna Marsh
 Davis, Elizabeth Edward
 Davis, Elizabeth Carpenter 385, 407
 Davis, Emil Vincent 75
 Davis, Jerry Allen
 Davis, Joseph Fleming
 Davis, Joy Ann 196, 336
 Davis, Kimberly Susan
 Davis, Louis Detrick 204
 Davis, Mark Lawrence 263
 Davis, Mark Robert
 Davis, Michelle Renee 336
 Davis, Nancy E
 Davis, Nannette Louise 337
 Davis, Richard 284
 Davis, Robert N
 Davis, Susan Lynn 198, 296
 Davis, Thomas Bennett
 Davis, William Spencer, Jr. 337, 380
 Davison, Daniel Carson
 Dawson, Philip Arthur John 337

Dav, Henry Fenton, III
 De La Macorra, Jose Antonio 257, 337
 Deal, Betty Jean 337
 Deal, Jeffrey Lee 262, 314
 Dean, Susan Flame
 Deangelis, Lauren Carole 178, 337
 Deans, Sandra Dorothy Hughes
 Dearing, Bryan Kevin 337
 Deaton, Stuart Armour 186
 Debebe, Betu
 Decker, Edward Parker
 Decker, Kathryn Lee 296
 Decker, Mark C
 Decker, Paul Lalbot 337, 380
 Decker, Richard Henry, III 206, 296
 Dedrick, John Robert 75
 Degnan, Margaret Mary 251, 337
 Dehoney, Catherine 184, 337, 384
 Dehones, Eleanor
 Delaplane, Mark Andrew
 Delisle, Peter Francis
 Delk, Elizabeth Wood
 Dellarocca, April
 Delly, Daniel Purnell
 Delly, Sharon Lee
 Deloach, Richard Alan
 Delong, Keith Ham 194
 Delong, Linda June 314

Deloria, Richard Anthony 407
 Delosangeles, Joseph Ernest 208
 Help, Victoria Ellen
 Delserone, Laurie Jean 337
 Deluca, Jeffrey Lee
 Demaio, Jamie Elizabeth 296
 Demarco, Michele Anne
 Demarco, Richard John, Jr
 Demkowicz, John Brian
 Dempsey, Paul M
 Demsko, John Willis 370
 Denrke, Sarah Louise
 Denham, Douglas Scott
 Deninger, Lisa Meredith
 Dennis, Harry Adrian, III
 Dennis, John Upshur 296
 Dennis, Stephen Wayne 200, 282
 Dennis, Todd Elliott 194
 Denison, John Fley, Jr. 314
 Deonellas, Thomas Anthony 311
 Deppen, Randall Lee
 Deren, Baska 126
 Deren, Barbara A. 107, 337
 Derflinger, Richard Thomas
 Derfinge, Arlene Gerard
 Desaulniers, Donna Marie
 Desaulniers, Eugene Robert
 Deslaur, Sandra Jean 208, 314
 Desimone, James Michael

Desler, G. Lanette G.
 Desmarais, Donna Suzanne 198, 337
 Desmond, Diane Jeannette 300
 Detrick, Brian Scott 337
 Dettlerer, Anne Marie 282
 Devan, William Arthur 282
 Devers, Robert Scott 296
 Devers, Jerry Jo 314
 Devlin, Felicity Anne 337
 Dewele, Katherine B
 Dewandl, Mark Steven
 Dewey, Mark Robert
 Dewhurst, Kathy Lynn
 Dewler, Kristie Anne 282
 Diamond, H. Gordon
 Dias, Robert K
 Dibble, Joy 282
 Duenzo, Dina Anna 314
 Duindio, Vincent James
 Duck, William Lee, Jr
 Dickerson, Angela Darby 282
 Dicosimo, Jane
 Dickey, Deborah Marie
 Dicus, Kimberly Ann
 Diehl, Daniel Curtis
 Dier, Cary Langhorne
 Dieter, Nancy Susan
 Diggs, Sheila R. 296
 Diliscia, Renata Sharon

Dillon, Kelly Lynn
 Dillon, Latic G
 Dilouie, Christopher Jon
 Dimauio, Dennis Robert
 Dimauio, Desiree Kay 184
 Dinardo, Annemarie 296
 Dinardo, Paul Gerard
 Dingman, Clayton Jay
 Dingman, Michael Sterling 200
 Dimkins, Cheryl Getard 174
 Dinoia, Gregory Thomas
 Dippold, George John, Jr. 100
 Ditmore, James M
 Dittman, Duane 276
 Divecchia, Michael Lora
 Dix, Douglas Alexander 84, 186
 Dixon, Donna June 184 248 338, 384
 Dixon, Mark Allen 338
 Dixon, Martha Ann 296
 Doane, Venesia Leigh
 Dobbins, Sarah Jean 142
 Dobbins, Laurie Jean 296
 Dodge, Elizabeth Catherine 180, 338
 Dodge, Katherine Marie 314, 384
 Dodson, David Lewis 338
 Dodson, Gary Wayne 338
 Dodson, William C, Jr. 370
 Doerflinger, Joan Taylor 255, 282
 Doerken, Wendy Elizabeth
 Doggett, Wayland Allen, III 200, 338
 Doherty, Kathleen Ann 296
 Doherty, Sharon Linda 296
 Dohmann, Patricia Lynn
 Dolan, Elizabeth Rose 314
 Doldre, David Andrew
 Dollard, Michael
 Dolson, Andrew Joseph 80
 Dommel, Paul Alex 178
 Domzalski, Margda Lynn 282
 Donahue, Margaret J
 Donaldson, Alexander MacFarland
 Donegan, Pamela Brooks
 Doner, Gretchen Kunkler 282
 Donnelos, John Michael 200, 338
 Donohoe, Laura Elizabeth
 Donohue, Christopher
 Donohue, John Joseph 296
 Donohue, Melanie Ann
 Dooley, Adam Chun 296
 Dooley, Priscilla J
 Doolittle, Juliet Ellen 338
 Doran, James Joseph, Jr.
 Doran, Weldon Carroll, III
 Dorans, Barry Joseph
 Dorsey, Bridget Kathleen 165, 265, 338
 Dorsheimer, Sherry Sue
 Doss, Marlon Turner, Jr. 338
 Doub, Diana Caroline 198, 338
 Doucette, Michael Joseph
 Doucette, Michael Robert
 Dougald, Scott Allen
 Dougherty, Michael John
 Dougherty, Michael Paul
 Douglas, Geri Lea 282
 Douglas, Jerry Mack, Jr.
 Douglas, Scott Merrill
 Douglas, Thomas Henry 296
 Dove, Robin Anna 338
 Dover, Stephanie Bonner
 Doverspike, Dee Lynn
 Doverspike, Monte A
 Dow, Cheryl Susan 338
 Dow, Donald Wendell, III
 Dowd, Megan Patricia 297, 385
 Dowds, Eileen A

Dowdy, Matthew Clark 212
 Dowler, David William 202, 314 381, 384
 Downer, Kenneth Everett
 Downing, John Gregory
 Downing, Ronald John 297
 Downs, William F
 Doss, Mary Lynn
 Dove, Anne Elizabeth 338, 385
 Dove, Kelly Anne 282
 Dove, Kevin Patrick 202, 385
 Dove, Susan Claire 282
 Dovon, Jeffrey Mayer
 Drach, Robert Davis 338
 Dram, Mary Elizabeth 73, 314
 Drake, Ann Marie 172, 282
 Drake, William Baker 178
 Drees, Paul Frederick
 Dreiman, Jean Marie
 Drew, Laura Darby 282
 Drews, Linda Marie
 Dreyfus, Emily Catherine
 Driscoll, Scott Thomas
 Droge, Martha Jane 26, 75, 282
 Drummond, Doug Bryan
 Du, Bao
 Duane, Jani Lynn 338
 Dubus, Maureen Helen 282
 Duck, Cynthia Ann 196, 339
 Dudley, Karen Elizabeth 314, 382
 Duff, Abigail
 Duff, Julie 126
 Duff, Suzanne Melton
 Duffly, Ellen Eileen 297
 Duffly, Kevin James
 Duffly, Kim Marie
 Duffly, Sheila J
 Dufresne, Randi Elizabeth
 Duggan, Jeremiah Timothy
 Duggan, Made Michelle
 Duggan, Margaret Jean
 Duggan, Paul Joseph 255
 Duke, Donna Jacqueline 196
 Duke, Randal Cory 339
 Dula, Marsha Lowmley
 Dullaghan, Marie 297
 Dullaghan, Michael Francis
 Dunbar, Thomas William 385
 Duncan, Barbara Brothers
 Duncan, Beth Ellen
 Duncan, David Wayne
 Duncan, Jane Elizabeth
 Duncan, Patricia I
 Dunkin, Bradford Spalding 339, 385
 Dunkle, Karen Ruth 297
 Dunn, Edythe Butt
 Dunn, Mikell Darby 339, 381
 Dunn, Pamela Jean 164, 314
 Dunn, Timothy Peter 339
 Dunsmore, Gayle Renee
 Duquette, Paul Andre
 Durant, Ann Elizabeth 339
 Durkin, Anthony Scott 208
 Durkin, Denise Marie 339
 Durette, Barbara Jean
 Duro, Bob 204
 Duvall, Kathleen
 Dwyer, Alison Ann 184
 Dwyer, Mary Ellen
 Dyess, Jackie Lynn
 Dzedzic, Karen Elizabeth 297
 Dzioniewski, Stephen George

E
 E
 Eadie, Tracey Lucretia 166, 339
 Eagle, Kevin Sean
 Eagle, Kimberly J
 Earl, Archie William, Sr.
 Earle, Robert Leonard 380
 Early, Emily Bryant 196
 Earner, Brenda Christine 339
 Eason, Andrea Elizabeth 339
 Eastman, Edward Shirell, Jr.
 Eaton, Jack Bernard, Jr.
 Eaton, David Thomas
 Ebe, Donald Charles
 Ebe, Jean-Paul Stanford 339, 381
 Ebe, Michele Anne Allegra 164
 Ebel, Travis Montgomery 314, 382
 Eberhardt, Nancy Claire 339
 Eber, Elizabeth
 Echalar, Gisele Carmen 196, 297
 Echevarria, Michael Joseph
 Eckert, James Gerald
 Eckert, Joan Kimberly 198, 297
 Eckert, Bele 1282
 Eddins, Todd Weldon
 Edeburn, Paige Boskin 198, 314
 Ede, Kathleen Marie
 Edgette, Mary E. 314
 Edgren, Mark Gordon
 Eder, Tracy Canille 164
 Edleson, David 339, 382
 Edmonds, Steven Merritt
 Edmunds, John Barton 200, 297
 Edmunds, Wayne Little
 Edwards, Cynthia Lynn 180, 282
 Edwards, Victor D. 176
 Edwards, David Norman
 Edwards, Gregory William 314, 384
 Edwards, Karin Leslie
 Edwards, Leslie Anne
 Edwards, S. Beth Jennings
 Edwards, Steven Wayne
 Edwards, Straughan Franklin
 Edwards, Vanessa A
 Edwards, William Joseph
 Egan, Ina Marie
 Ehlers, Carrie E. 339
 Ehrich, Victoria Madelyn
 Eimer, Ronald William
 Einarsson, Monica K 176
 Einseln, Hillevy Ann 172, 314
 Eisert, Judy Anne
 Ekland, Margaret Anne 282
 Elder, Steven Fred
 Eller, Marian Teresa 339
 Elliott, Robert Obie, Jr.
 Ellington, David Laine
 Elhott, Maurice Scott
 Ellis, Adele Louise
 Ellis, Gerry W
 Ellis, Hal Roberts, IV
 Ellis, Holland Dunston, Jr.
 Ellis, Kathleen M
 Ellis, Rex Marshall
 Ellis, Vicki Lynn 282
 Elzes, Virginia Lee 293
 Elser, John Charles 314
 Elshaf, Ahmed Abbass Abd
 Elwell, Karen Elizabeth 339

F
 F
 Ely, Richard Albert
 Elychar, Dana 370
 Emans, Jennifer Lynne
 Emans, Robert 254
 Emerson, Chantal Gabrielle
 Emery, Andrew Craig
 Emmett, Richard James
 Emory, Alison Ruth 80, 339
 Emory, Roger Earl, Jr.
 Endres, Joseph Robert
 Engelsen, Patti Yvonne
 Englehart, Susan Jean 339, 380
 English, Dana Kay 339
 Enko, Peter J
 Ennis, Patrick John
 Enslley, Gretchen Deirdre
 Enslow, Dana Charlotte 196
 Ephrussi, Jane Frances 168
 Epling, Carol Ann 297
 Epperly, John David, Jr.
 Eppler-Thomas, Marion A
 Epstein, Deborah Stadlin
 Erdahl, Kathryn Marie
 Erdahl, Kent Bradley 339
 Erdmann, Thomas Karl 212
 Erle, Elizabeth Fagonilo 282
 Erickson, James Robert 210
 Ernst, Marie E. 339, 380
 Erskine, James Michael
 Ertl, Karin Elizabeth
 Ervin, James Brian
 Ervin, Mary Virginia
 Erwin, Terri Ann
 Espejo, Michelle Christine 315
 Espejo, Pierre Mark
 Espourteille, Francois Andre 381
 Essen, Bruce Michael 339
 Esterling, Linda G
 Etchberger, Melissa Anne
 Etheridge, Vernon Alfred, Jr.
 Etkin, Lori Anne 315
 Etzel, Jeff Charles
 Eubank, Charles R
 Eubank, Elizabeth Ruchie 339
 Evans, Ann Saunders
 Evans, Arthur Chase
 Evans, Catherine M. 339
 Evans, Dana Shawn
 Evans, Jane Anne 182, 315
 Evans, John R
 Evans, Katherine Tyler 176, 315
 Evans, Kimberly Sue 329
 Evans, Laura Lee 282
 Evans, Mary Carol 198, 339
 Evans, Okey Rex 385
 Evans, Pamela R. 385
 Evans, Philip Henry
 Evans, Rosemary Helen Rees 168, 282
 Everts, Scott H
 Ewing, Elizabeth Ellen
 Ewing, Jim Gregory
 Exell, Karen Elizabeth 339
 Exton, Keith John
 Fazzell, Carol Melissa

F
 F
 Fabbri, Scott Michael 178
 Faber, Kim W
 Face, Cheryl Jeanne 339
 Fadiou, Odette Mary 178, 315
 Failon, Brian Keith 339
 Faircloth, Gary Wayne 206
 Fairhurst, Virginia L
 Fairweather, Elizabeth Catharine 176, 282
 Falk, Linda Anne 86, 180, 297
 Falk, Robert S
 Fallon, Anne I. 282, 381
 Falls, James Ross 339
 Falvo, Mary Louise 282
 Fan, Julia Sumwai 339
 Fanelst, Jane Elizabeth 282
 Fanning, Julianne 78, 80
 Fannuzzi, Robert Alan 230, 340, 384, 385
 Faragasso, Gregory G. 208
 Farber, Kenneth G
 Faria, Kristine Erin 315
 Farnella, Mark John 340, 380
 Farris, Thomas Linwood 340
 Farkas, Mark David 339
 Farmer, Marion Sever
 Farmer, Maryellen 198, 297, 385
 Farmer, Thomas Wade
 Farnsworth, Anne Christine
 Farrell, John Fitzgough 184
 Farrell, Seth Garfield
 Farrington, Thomas Wilson
 Farris, Melissa Kimetha 340
 Farris, Terry Jo 297
 Farwell, Allison Vail 297
 Fashbaugh, Howard Dilts, Jr.
 Faus, Thomas Emerson Dubois 200, 340, 380, 384
 Fausz, Jeanette Fox
 Fawley, Lora Ann 168, 340
 Fav, Michael M. 75
 Feats, Joseph Clyde, Jr.
 Feathers, Martha Lynn 168, 297
 Fedreau, William Edward
 Fedor, Mary Ellen 119
 Feldman, Andrew Eric 202, 340
 Feldner, Nancy Lynn 75, 340
 Fennit, Joanne M. 370
 Fennell, Dale John
 Fennell, David Edward
 Fennstamaker, Richard Lisle, Jr.
 Ferrebee, Melvin James, Jr.
 Fergione, David Michael 340
 Ferguson, Charles G
 Ferguson, Elizabeth Ann 340, 380, 385
 Ferguson, Jennifer Morris
 Ferguson, Lisa Kay
 Ferguson, Mark George
 Fernandez, Griffin Willoughby
 Ferrari, Lauren Anne
 Ferrari, Mary Catherine 340
 Ferrer, Peter Gerard 212
 Ferrell, Susan Rae
 Ferris, David James
 Ferris, Mark Thomas 315
 Ferry, Penelope Shepherd
 Fetter, David Richard
 Fetterman, Ruth Deborah 184
 Fetters, James Michael 212
 Ficenece, David John 340, 380
 Field, David Benson 282
 Field, Thomas Burnam
 Fielding, John Patrick
 Fiers, Kimberly Ann 170, 297
 Fiesta, John Robert
 Fies, William E
 Filippone, Katherine Marie 198, 297, 385
 Fillbach, Kriss Lea 340, 380, 382
 Fillmore, Eleanor Vogt
 Finch, Janet Elizabeth
 Findley, Jan 315
 Finger, Karen P. 381
 Fink, Bruce C.
 Fink, Kevin Alan Hill 282
 Finn, Jennifer Marie
 Finn, Kathleen Elizabeth 180, 340, 381
 Finnegan, David Lye 315
 Finnetty, Marguerite Frances
 Finney, Frederick W
 Finocchio, Carolyn J. 341, 382, 385
 Firebaugh, James Calvin 385
 Fischer, Donna Rose 176, 341
 Fischetti, Nancy Patricia 282
 Fish, Jeffrey James 212, 297
 Fisher, Cynthia Rae 315, 384
 Fisher, Daniel J
 Fisher, Graydon Bruce
 Fisher, Jeffrey L. 194, 297
 Fisher, Karen Elizabeth
 Fisher, William Wright, II 332
 Fishwick, Paul Anthony
 Fithian, John 125, 244
 Fitzgerald, Kathleen 282
 Fitzgerald, Lawrence James
 Fitzgerald, Lynn Page 196
 Fitzgerald, Raymond Peter, II 282
 Fitzgerald, Susan Eileen
 Fitzgerald, Virginia Nantz 210
 Fitzpatrick, John Peter 206, 315, 385
 Flaherty, James M
 Flaherty, Jean Elizabeth 297
 Flamano, Dolores Louise

SHAMROCK SYSTEM

THE PUB AND THE LATE NIGHT WIG

WISH GRADUATING SENIORS THE BEST OF LUCK

IN ALL FUTURE ENDEAVORS.

Hamm, Elizabeth Jason 282
 Hanport, Georgia
 Hangan, Catherine Anne 314, 380
 Hanagan, John Joseph 341, 381, 382
 Hanagan, Maureen Ann
 Hannelly, Stephen John
 Harin, Mark August 341
 Harter, John Bradford 315
 Hecce, Howard 282
 Fleming, David 341
 Fleming, John David 186
 Fleming, John Howland 185
 Fleshman, Karen Michelle
 Fletcher, Anita B
 Fletcher, David Bruce
 Fletcher, James Christopher
 Fletcher, Karen S
 Fletcher, Peter Frederick 384
 Fletcher, Timothy Farrell
 Flickinger, Gregory Charles
 Flinn, Donna Paige 282
 Flint, Amy Beth
 Flinton, Rachel Towne
 Flood, John Gerard
 Flood, Michael Patrick
 Flowers, Stephen Lee
 Flynn, Robert Laurence
 Flynn, Stephen Joseph 210
 Fogg, Steven Walter
 Folan, Anne Cecile 75, 385
 Folch-Pi, Frederic J
 Folev, Lisa Lynn 315
 Folzenlogen, Joan Carol 196, 297
 Fones, Andrew William 194
 Fontenot, Kenneth James
 Foor, Elizabeth Amy 178, 335, 341
 Ford, Thomas Bradford 40
 Forde, Mark Whelan 212, 341, 385
 Foreman, George William 200, 315
 Furet, Michael James
 Forgrave, Paul Robert, Jr 315
 Forney, David Gilbert
 Forrest, Alan W
 Forster, Beverly R
 Fossum, Ronald Dean 297
 Foster, Anne Churchill 341, 384
 Foster, Beits Lynn 341
 Foster, Cheryl Ann
 Foster, Edward Michael 178, 380
 Foster, John Andrew
 Foster, Robin Lynn 172
 Fountaine, Michael Brent
 Foutz, Susan Leigh 341
 Fowler, Bryan Keith
 Fowler, Kathleen Marie 196
 Fowler, Lynda Kaye
 Fowlkes, Carl B
 Fox, Daniel Fitzgerald
 Fox, David Marc
 Fox, Kathleen Alexandra
 Fox, Louis Lafontaine, Jr
 Fraedrich, Douglas Scott 341
 Fraedrich, Laura Lee 341, 380

Frakes, Patrick Francis
 Franchina, Gregory Jon
 Francis, Alexandra Ann 182, 297
 Francis, Laura Annette 182, 341
 Francis, Patricia R
 Frankel, Adam Scott 178
 Franklin, Gregory William
 Franklin, Sally Elizabeth 176, 341
 Franko, Mark Damian
 Franks, Charles Willis
 Franks, Deborah Evaline
 Franzshen, Stephen Keith
 Fraser, Lance Bernard
 Frazier, Gerald Clifford, Jr
 Frazier, Linda Carrier
 Frazier, Anne E
 Fredette, Thomas J
 Fredrickson, Tara Christine 282
 Freeauf, Jordan Gray
 Freedman, Jon Bruce
 Freedman, Robin Renee 407
 Freeman, George Clifford, II
 Freiling, Paul Thomas 341
 French, Courtney Larzelere
 French, Susan Renee 170, 315
 Fretts, Christopher Alan
 Frev, Debra Lynn 196, 316
 Friedland, Lynn
 Friedland, Marsha Lenett
 Friedman, David Jay 341
 Friedman, Suzanne G
 Friend, Susan Gail
 Frier, Susan Lloyd 184, 316
 Fritz, Pamela Jo 341
 Frve, Elizabeth Ann 164
 Fryer, Jacqueline Catherine
 Fryer, Kristine Leigh 283
 Fryklund, Kurt Charles
 Fucella, Lisa Marie 316
 Fucella, Joseph Edward 126, 341
 Fuchs, Linda Ann
 Fuess, Deborah Ruth 316
 Fujita, Kathryn Nanae
 Fukuda, Mark Minobu 297
 Fulcher, Elizabeth Ann
 Fulghum, Elizabeth Harris 283
 Fulton, Jean Marie
 Fulton, Junius Phillip, III
 Fulton, Marylouise Anderson 168, 283
 Fulwood, S Leigh
 Funk, Gary Francis
 Funk, Johnny Talmage 235, 341, 385
 Funk, Melissa Lenore
 Funk, Tamara Helen 283
 Fuqua, Laura Beth 297
 Fuqua, Ruth A 164, 341
 Furman, Stephen Bruce 283

Gabler, Johannes Kurt
 Gada, William Preston
 Gadbos, Laurence F
 Gahagan, Jennifer W
 Gahagan, Luther P
 Gaillot, Christopher Robert
 Gaillot, Ursula Annette
 Gainer, Vera E
 Gair, Mary Catherine 283
 Galan, Cristina Marie
 Galanko, William Andrew
 Gall, Jeffrey Scott
 Gall, Sarah Louise 341
 Gallagher, David Robert 284
 Gallagher, Julia Evans 168
 Gallagher, Lynn
 Gallagher, Marie Elizabeth
 Gallagher, Mary Kate
 Gallagher, Michael John
 Gallimore, Phyllis Ann
 Gallini, Barbara T 316
 Gallini, Mary Elizabeth 384
 Gallo, Adam Andrew
 Gallo, Thomas Anthony
 Galloway, Christine Pettit 284
 Galloway, Stephen Gregory 200
 Galumbeck, Matthew Alan 255, 381
 Galvao, Helena Maria
 Gamble, Charles Thomas, Jr 137, 316
 Gamel, Bennett Palmer
 Gammisch, Robert Allen
 Ganjer, Nahid Ghohzadeh 341
 Gannon, Jane Ann 170
 Gantz, Susan Beth
 Garcia-Lariguera, Daniel William
 Gardner, James G 297
 Gardner, Laurie Jeanne
 Gardner, David Anthony 297
 Garfield, Richard I
 Gargam, N Adam
 Gariepy, Mark Steven 200, 341
 Garland, Barbara R
 Garland, David Steven 316
 Garland, Margaret Lee 75
 Garner, Kathryn Anne 341
 Garner, Travis Elizabeth
 Garnett, Lisa Dawn
 Garnett, Robert F 316, 380
 Garnier, Michael James
 Garr, Karen Virginia 284

Garrett, Deborah Marie 184, 196
 Garrett, Julia Isdale 172, 297, 307
 Garrett, Michael Thomas
 Garrett, Tammy Vinson 366
 Garrison, Janet Russell 341
 Garrison, Roger C
 Garrity, Christopher Brendan
 Gartman, Michael Duane 178, 343
 Garvey, Stephen Joseph
 Garvin, Joseph Patrick
 Garvin, Michael John
 Gary, Arthur Evan
 Gaskell, Cecile G
 Gaskill, Robert John
 Gasparich, Gail Ellen 316
 Gates, Alan Bigelow 341
 Gates, Penny Ann
 Gatz, Robert Christopher
 Gauthan, Laura Louise 168
 Gavaler, Joan Susan 297
 Gavan, James Paul
 Gay, Darnel Robert
 Gayheart, Michael Andrew
 Gebhart, Bradley Richard 225, 341
 Gedro, Julie Ann 298
 Geer, Matthew Harold
 Geismann, Scott James
 Gelman, David Eric
 Genadio, Monica Ann 380, 381
 Gendron, Rebecca Sue 284
 Gengler, Marion Church 316
 George, Elizabeth Anne 180, 311
 George, James Francis
 George, Jonathan Andrew
 George, Lisa 298
 George, Pamela Gay 164, 342
 George, Robert William
 Gerald, Roque Rene
 Geraldts, Patricia Ann
 Gerard, Steven Clinton 190, 224
 Gerber, Scott D 342, 380, 382
 Gereck, Stephen John 342
 Gerenser, Robert Stephen 200, 201
 Gergely, Christine Elizabeth 298
 Gerhart, Virginia Lee 342
 Gerken, Deirdre Ellen 172, 298
 Gerlitz, David Thomas
 Gerstl, Brenda Lee 342
 Geschickter, Charles Freeman
 Geisinger, George Catlett
 Ghaphery, James Scott
 Ghatak, Lila Ram 284
 Ghatak, Radha Ram 298
 Giangreco, Nancy Lee
 Gianturco, Mark Delio
 Giannakakis, Ellen 342
 Gibbons, Dana Joel 210
 Gibbons, Edward Patrick 264
 Gibbs, Elizabeth Alexander
 Gibbs, Susan Eileen
 Gibson, Donald G 210
 Gibson, Lisette Nadine

Gibson, Mel Jean 172, 284
 Gibson, Vincent Douglas 200, 342
 Giddings, Martha Loreta
 Gidley, Megan Elizabeth
 Giermak, Yvonne Ellen 284
 Gilbert, Sarah Louise 172, 284
 Gilbert, Barbara Helen
 Gilbert, David Mark 342
 Gilbert, Erik Orlin
 Gilbert, Judy Vlynn
 Gilbert, Laura Lynn 298, 342
 Gilbert, Louis Arthur 298
 Gilbert, Scott Lee 296
 Gilbertie, Celeste Marie 284
 Gilles, Charlotte Marjorie 317
 Gilheany, Carolyn-Gail Crystal
 Gill, Jana Gayverne
 Gill, Joe Gordon
 Gill, Roger Lynn 380
 Gill, Sherry Leigh 298
 Gillin, Ronald E, Jr
 Gillespie, Rhonda Michelle
 Gillespie, Virginia Clare Heide
 Gilliam, Charles I
 Gilliam, Marie Kimball
 Gillette, Alan Stephen 298
 Gilman, Elizabeth Rose
 Gilman, Karen I
 Gills, Tim 265
 Gillock, Kathryn Duane 342
 Gilmore, Thomas McNeil 380
 Gimpel, William Jeffrey 317
 Ginger, Susan Lynn 172, 298
 Gingers, Christine Lee 176, 317
 Giorgiano, Joseph F
 Giorgi, Deborah I
 Giorgi, Tina Marie
 Gladding, Donna M
 Gladding, Polly Lynn 284
 Gladys, Marie Yvonne
 Glagola, Karen Jeanne 298
 Glancy, Richard Daniel
 Glaser, Mark Gustav 342
 Glasgow, Debra Denise 298
 Glasheen, Virginia Tetesa
 Glasburn, Tracy Ann 180, 380
 Glasser, Gregory Nelson
 Glasser, Wendy Diane 342
 Glazier, Richard Lynn
 Gleason, Patricia Ann
 Gleason, Robert Christopher 262
 Gleason, Scott Robert
 Glendening, Bruce Bradford
 Glenn, Paul Lee 186
 Glenshaw, Peter
 Glindeman, Larry William
 Glover, Bobby Joel
 Glover, Donald Christian
 Glosowicz, Teoma Marie
 Godhenour, James Bradley
 Godfrey, Janet O
 Godschall, Melanie Ann

HOLIDAY INN WEST — Striving to Be #1

Located just 4 blocks behind the college, Holiday Inn West has provided a comfortable place to stay in Williamsburg for over 23 years. Owned and operated by Inez Cushard, Holiday Inn West strives to become "number one in people pleasing." Its convenient location, outdoor pool, and its latest addition, cable T.V., are just some of the attractions that make the Holiday Inn a favorite hotel of William and Mary Alumni and tourists. The Inn is even a member of the Kingsmill Golf Club. According to Shelly Wager at the front desk, "We don't charge for children nineteen years or younger who are traveling with their parents." Open all year round, Holiday Inn West accepts tours and gives special group rates for tours reserving 20 or more rooms. With such service, the Holiday Inn West really does seem number one in making its customers satisfied.

Goetselbecker, Robert M. 194
 Goll, Cynthia Lee 73, 342, 380, 382
 Goldberg, Mark
 Golder, Paul Elliott 317
 Goldsmith, Andrew Steven 384
 Goldsmith, Michael Gene
 Goldstein, Julie Anne 164, 317
 Goldston, Harold Maxwell R. 298
 Golembiewski, Michele Rae 298
 Goll, Margaret H.
 Gollomp, Jeffrey Andrew
 Golven, Anne Hilliard 184, 342, 384
 Golwen, John Stone 200, 284
 Gombatz, Michael Wagner
 Gonzalez, Edward
 Gonzalez, Aljays R.
 Gonzalez, Stephen Joseph 317
 Goode, Elizabeth Whision 206, 342
 Goode, Pleasant W.
 Goodhart, Sally Turner
 Goodling, Rob Atlee
 Goodman, Kenneth D.
 Goodrich, William Scott
 Goodson, Mark Edward 200
 Goodwin, Phyllis Ellen 298
 Goodmeier, Brian Edward
 Gordon, Paul Francis 235
 Gordon, Peter Jezi 200, 298
 Gordon, Susan Irene 298
 Goretli, Julian Frederic 257
 Gorman, Kieran Marie
 Gorman, Mary Kathleen 182, 298
 Gormley, Glenn R.
 Gormours, Donna Marie
 Gosnell, Joan
 Gossman, Richard James 342
 Gossweiler, Richard Carl
 Gottesman, Marcia Ellen
 Gottwald, Bruce Cobb, Jr.
 Gough, Kevin Robert
 Gould, Laura Catherine 298
 Grady, Sarah Rose 182
 Graft, Jon Scott
 Graham, Janet Ruth 342, 407
 Graham, John Paul
 Graham, John Robert 342
 Graham, Mary Douglass 284
 Grainger, Steven Marc
 Grainger, Michael Scott
 Granados, Rodolfo Jose 317
 Grane, Kimberly Ann
 Grant, Bruce William 178, 342
 Grant, Heather Yates 107, 198
 Grant, Jean Elizabeth 317
 Grant, Mary I.
 Grant, Robert John
 Grasmeyer, Christine Anne 342
 Graves, Lillian Archer 298
 Graves, Margaret Morgan
 Graves, Thomas 270, 277
 Grav, Anne Marie
 Grav, Campbell Watkins, III 284

Grav, Joel Russwin
 Grav, Maureen 214
 Grav, Patricia Lee
 Grav, Robert Charles
 Grav, Sarah Joanna
 Gray, Travis Averta 212, 342
 Greaves, Bridget Ruth 164, 342
 Greco, Camille M.
 Green, Charles Mitchell, Jr. 178
 Green, Elizabeth Ann 244, 342, 381, 407
 Green, James Frederick
 Green, Malcolm Omand
 Greenbaum, Erik Scott
 Greene, Mollie Sue 168, 317
 Greenisen, Julie B.
 Greenland, J. Kingsley, II
 Greenwald, Brent Hirsch 317
 Greenwood, Patricia Carol
 Greer, David Armistead
 Greer, Elizabeth Gail 317
 Greer, Julie Lynn 298
 Greer, Susan Bolfin 317
 Gregg, Catherine Ann 342
 Gregg, Jennifer Lee
 Gregg, Kimberly Rene 298
 Gregor, Michael Paul 202
 Gregory, Richard Wayne
 Gregory, Robert Scott
 Gregson, Jim Howard
 Gregson, Katherine Ann
 Grehl, Kimberly Anne 317
 Greiner, Robert Dwight
 Griev, Maureen Antoinette 317
 Grubben, Timothy Edmund
 Griener, Annette Beverley
 Griesser, Arthur Francis
 Griffin, Amy Rosalind 43, 407
 Griffin, David Stiles
 Griffin, Martin K.
 Griffith, Lawrence Alphonso, Jr.
 Griffith, Vanessa Wynne 182, 317
 Grigg, Michelle Yvonne 298
 Griggs, John Neumann 186
 Grimes, Barbara I.
 Grimes, David Mackenzie 342, 381
 Grimes, Ronald Robert 342
 Grimes, Terry Neill
 Grimsley, Anna Neblett 164, 285
 Grisson, Charles Michael
 Grisson, Edward Preston, Jr. 206, 285
 Grist, Jeffrey Scott 317
 Grist, Jennifer Ann
 Groft, John Scott 317
 Grolman, David Louis 210
 Groom, Laura Elizabeth 184, 317
 Groseclose, Virginia Litton 285
 Gross, Jennifer Jeanne 298
 Gross, Karen Lee 184, 298
 Gross, Philip Stephen 342
 Gross, Steven Edward

Grossman, William Howard 194, 342
 Grote, Ronald Anthony
 Groves, Lorraine Anita 298
 Groves, Virginia Susan 298
 Grubber, Janet Marie 298
 Gruta, Judith Anne
 Grus, Tracy Nottingham
 Grunder, Henry Dale
 Guarnieri, Nancy Stewart M. 298
 Guillen, Robert Louis 198, 342, 407
 Gunner, Gail
 Gunsto, David Frank
 Gula, Margaret Jeanne 176, 317
 Gulestan, Ann Elizabeth 285
 Gullion, Terry W.
 Gunderson, Jennifer Lisa 172, 297
 Gunn, Ann Holmer 342
 Gunn, Deborah Katherine
 Gunnoe, Charles Dewey, Jr. 285
 Gunnoe, Cynthia Dee 164, 343
 Gunter, Larry Martin 317
 Gur, Lynne Michele 317
 Gur, Michael Eugene 200, 285
 Gurnee, Susan Margaret 343
 Gurski, Jeffrey Mark
 Gushee, David Paul
 Gussman, David S.
 Gustafson, Lee Ann
 Guthrie, John William, III 343
 Guthrie, Laura Lynn
 Guyton, Jonathan Todd 380
 Guzzo, Jeanne Marie 86
 Guzzo, Mary Carol
 Gwaltney, Katherine Darden
 Gwaltney, Mary Shepherd 380
 Gwathmey, Henrietta

Haas, Robert Gordon 200, 343
 Haber, Lori Jeanne 343
 Habig, Douglas Bradley
 Hackett, Norm 212
 Hackett, Mims, III
 Hade, Kevin Douglas 343
 Hadjigeorge, Christine Ann 164, 317
 Hadjin, Jennifer Louise
 Haegele, Sharon Kay 176
 Haeuslein, Antje Ursula
 Hagar, Christina Lee 196, 285
 Hage, John Christopher
 Hagedorn, Nancy Lee
 Hager, Virginia Russell
 Hagerman, Drano Ray
 Hagin, Christopher Joseph 140
 Hagood, John Lindsey
 Hagstrand, Donna E. 285
 Hague, Joy Marie 196
 Hahn, Gerald Anthony, Jr.
 Hahn, Scott Robert 175, 206, 343
 Hahn, Suzanne Milege
 Haight, Heidi Anne 168, 239, 343
 Hailey, Christopher Blau
 Hainer, Catherine Ellen 317
 Haines, Kimberly Ann 297
 Hairston, Pamela Deanice
 Haislip, Robert Tully 200, 201, 317
 Hajost, Donna Jean 168
 Halberstein, Dan Martin
 Halboth, Suzanne Elizabeth 343, 380, 381
 Hale, Mary Lynn
 Hale, Robert Clark
 Hale, Sarah Louise
 Hale, Theodore Brian
 Haley, Deborah Lynn
 Haley, Greg Joseph
 Haley, Robin Lynn 317

Hall, Channing Moore, III
 Hall, David Alvin
 Hall, Deborah Lynne 343
 Hall, Helen C.
 Hall, Ian Michael
 Hall, James Everett, Jr. 344
 Hall, Kathleen J.
 Hall, Kathryn A.
 Hall, Kevin Dale
 Hall, Mark Carter
 Hall, Mark Johnson 317
 Hall, Martin Ellison
 Hall, Michael Crissmas
 Hall, Stephen Michael 285, 297
 Hall, Steven Lee
 Hall, Steven Michael
 Hall, Terri Alison 196
 Hall, Terry Rae 297
 Hall, William Breckenridge, Jr. 297
 Halla, Kenneth Paul 285
 Hallenberg, Kristin Helene 285
 Haller, Alison Leona 285
 Halligan, Kelly Anne
 Halishev, Mary Elizabeth
 Halpern, Peter Martin 344
 Halvig, Margaret Jean 285, 407
 Halstead, Gary Randle 257, 344
 Halstead, Margaret Ann 285
 Hamada, Hirovuki
 Hambleton, Christopher Alfred 317
 Hamby, Sherry Lynne
 Hamel, April 344
 Hamel, Bruce Roger
 Hamilton, Melissa Donnelle
 Hamilton, Randall Carson
 Hamilton, Timothy George 178
 Hammer, Elizabeth Mary 344, 385
 Hammes, Meg Leigh 196
 Hammett, Sheryl Davis 285
 Hammer, James Wingfield, III
 Han, Kyu Hyun 285
 Hanahoe, Maria Helene 285
 Hanback, Lawrence Donald, III
 Hancock, Dana Marie 285
 Hancock, Priscilla Ann 198, 317, 353
 Hancock, Steven Mallory 297
 Handley, Susan Kay 182, 344
 Handly, Gail B.
 Haneklau, Greg Wilham
 Hanes, Ok-Hoo Chung
 Hanes, William Charles
 Hankla, James Kirk
 Hanley, Thomas Llovd
 Hann, Josce Ann
 Hannaman, Albert Otto 202
 Hanve, Richard Shaw
 Hanrahan, Janet Marie
 Hansen, Diane Elizabeth 172, 318
 Hansen, Jill Platt
 Hansen, John Kenneth 235
 Hansen, Marta Ann
 Hansen, Susan Elizabeth

WILLIAMSBURG SHOPPING CENTER

GROWING TO SERVE THE STUDENTS OF WILLIAM AND MARY BETTER

Other fine stores opening beginning May 1st.

Directory of stores

A & E. Contractors, Inc.
 Adams Shoe Company
 Capital Loan Company
 Carr Realty
 Colony Lanes
 Electrolysis
 Food Lion
 Fotomat
 John's Hairstylists & Barber Shop
 The Health Shelf
 Laundercenter
 LaVogue
 Mays
 Modern Beauty Salon
 Nautilus of Williamsburg
 Nottingham Hallmark

Peebles Department Store
 Peninsula Hardware
 People Drug Store
 Roses
 Sal's Italian Restaurant
 Sidney's
 So-Fro Fabrics
 Stitches
 Virginia ABC Store
 Virginia Federal Savings
 & Loan Association
 Virginia National Bank
 Walls Alive
 Williamsburg Fine Arts Studio
 Woolworth

Located at the corner of Richmond Road and Monticello Avenue. Just 1/2 mile from the college on the college bus route.

Harbold, Virginia H
Harcus, Jane Lee
Harder, Eric Joseph 344
Hardin, Phillip Neal 285
Harding, Katherine Michelle 344
Hardy, Angela Winn
Hare, Deborah Ann 344
Harenchar, James Joseph
Hargest, Charles Lloyd 344
Harhan, Timothy Martin
Harley, Tony 72
Harlfinger, Mollie Marguerite
Harlow, Ronald Monroe 178
Harman, Herbert Delton
Harman, John Whittemore 200, 297
Harman, Ronald Eugene
Harman, Marie Criscia 166, 344
Harnby, Fiona Kathryn 76, 80, 344
Harned, Margret Ann 285
Harnish, Lynda Jean
Harper, John Michael
Harper, Lisa Dawn 285
Harrill, Jeffrey Gilliam 210, 344
Harrington, Bob 362
Harrigan, Donna M.
Harrill, Paul Daniel
Harrington, Lance M.
Harrington, May 13
Harris, Archie Lee, Jr.
Harris, Cam M.
Harris, David Gordon 344
Harris, Elizabeth Anne 297
Harris, Herbert C.
Harris, J. Robert, III
Harris, James Franklin, III
Harris, Jimmy Foster 344
Harris, Kenneth Connors 255, 257, 344, 381
Harris, Kimberly Gayle 344
Harris, Kimberly Kay
Harris, Margaret Carrell 172, 344, 380
Harris, Molly Louis 285
Harris, Patricia Hubbell
Harris, Robert Lee R. 318
Harris, Suzanne Katherine
Harrison, Cassandra Virginia 178, 344
Harrison, Elizabeth Garland 318
Harrison, James Gardner, III 344
Harrison, Katharine Lindsey 164, 344
Harrison, Kathleen Susan 172
Harrison, Lloyd B., III
Harrison, Marcie Beth 263, 297
Harrup, Janice Marie 198, 297
Hart, Brian E.
Hart, Catherine Margaret
Hart, David E. 318
Hart, Patricia Helen 344
Hart, Susan Pretlow
Hartman, Charles Dudley, IV
Hartsoe, Robert Jones
Harves, Gale Andrew
Harves, Robin Lynn
Harwood, Margaret Scott
Harwood, Tamera Yvonne 318
Hashim, Bruce Thamer
Hashimoto, Karen Michi 344
Haskell, Mark Elnathan 297
Haspel, Donald Paul 226, 344, 385
Hatch, Shawn Richard Hatcher, Jane Bright
Hatter, Jeffrey Edward 208
Hatton, Susan Elizabeth 344
Hauer, Catherine Anne 297
Hausch, Mike 26
Haushalter, James Aloysius
Havens, Timothy John
Haverty, Lisa Michele 190
Hawkens, Edward Roy
Hawkins, Douglas Scott 285
Hawkins, Jerry Michael 318
Hawkins, Sarah Lou Gaddy 385
Hawkins, Susan Crigler 344
Hawkins, Suzanne Vaden
Hawks, Ronnie Perry 200
Hawley, Alison Pier 176, 318
Hawley, Diane Wilson 157, 176
Hawley, Karin Seelmann 344, 381
Hawthorne, Kathryn Howe
Hayden, Carol Patricia
Haves, Claire S.
Haves, Helen Elizabeth
Havnes, Carla Flena
Havnes, Kim 196
Hays, James William 200
Hays, Murrell Jerome
Hayward, Donald M.
Haywood, Susan Elizabeth
Hazard, Holly Elizabeth
Head, Daniel Martin, Jr. 200, 297
Healey, Edward J. 318
Healy, George 279
Healy, Terence William
Heard, Andrew Michael 344
Hearth, Janet Hall 285
Heath, Jennifer Lynn
Heath, Lisa Ann 164, 264, 344, 385
Hebenstreit, Karl Francis, Jr.
Hecht, Gary Michael
Heck, Audrey C.
Hecker, Kathryn Lee 180
Hedgepeth, Marion Yvonne
Hedges, John Harold 344
Hedley, Harold Hastings
Hedley, Mark
Hetele, William John 285
Heflin, James Randolph, Jr. 318
Hegel, Jennifer Lynn 345
Heidenreich, Ute 318
Heidt, Lawrence L.
Heikes, Michael Lowell
Heilman, Elizabeth Ellen
Heimann, Terri Lynn

Heise, Eric Joseph
Held, Gary Philip
Helfrich, Paul 19, 55
Helgeson, Vicki Sue
Heller, Cathleen Betz
Helms, Jennifer Lynne 318
Hemmer, Holly Kay 345
Henderson, Gordon Scott
Henderson, Michael F. 200, 345
Hendrickson, Teresa Lee
Heneghan, Laurel Ann 285
Heneven, Jim 133
Henkel, William Bradshaw
Henle, Andrew C.
Henley, Anne Leigh 176, 285
Henley, Jeffrey Scott
Henne, Carolyn Lee 168, 382
Hennigar, Harold F.
Henning, Mary Kathryn 345
Henry, Elizabeth Anne 297
Henry, Patricia Ann
Henry, Sharon Denise
Henry, Vaughan Scott 345
Henshaw, Mary Ellen 182, 345
Hensler, Karen Marie 318
Hensley, Robert
Herbst, Anne Mary 285
Herbst, Carl Albert
Herlby, Scott C.
Herman, Patrick W.
Hern, Michael Lee
Hernandez, Silvia Margaret
Herring, Albert Augustus
Herrman, Jana Jo
Herschler, Jeffrey Marc
Hertzler, Amy Michele
Hertzler, Conrad Craig
Hertzog, David W.
Heslop, Jeffery Lynn
Hess, Karen Leigh 182, 345
Hess, Kathleen Marie
Hesse, Robert Peirce 318
Heth, Amy J. 285
Hevener, James Jordan
Hewitt, James Barton
Hewitt, Natalie Diane
Hewlett, Diana Anne 297
Hewlett, Renee Evat
Heywood, Kenneth Francis
Hickey, Colin Joseph
Hickey, Kathleen Ann
Hickman, Danna Lynne
Hicks, Hilarie Margaret 318, 380, 384
Hicks, Thomas Harry
Hicks, Vanessa Ernette
Higgins, James Stuart
Higgins, Patricia Anne
Higgins, Thomas Frederick, III
Higuchi, Soichiro
Hilbish, Shirley Jeanette 299
Hildreth, Nancy Alison
Hile, Patricia Cora 385
Hill, Andrea Marie 285
Hill, Celayne G.
Hill, Gary Lee
Hill, James Christian 345
Hill, Richard Joseph
Hill, Robert Bradley
Hill, Sara Bernard
Hill, Sheila Gibbs
Hillegas, Craig James 299
Hillenbrand, Karin Marie 299
Hiller, Anne Victoria
Hillinger, Michael George
Hilton, Elizabeth Ann
Hines, Bohly Dean, Jr. 178, 299
Hines, Gretchen Clair 196, 318, 384
Hines, Julius Holman
Hinnebusch, Maureen Ann 103
Hinote, Roni Sue
Hinton, Rebecca Rocelia
Hintz, Lorac Celea 299
Hinz, Mary Siegrist
Hitata, Peter Manabu
Hirschy, Bradford Dudley 299
Hissong, Andrea Rae 380
Hissong, Mark Todd 285
Hitt, Bassam S.
Hixson, Richard Joseph
Hixson, Richard Michael
Ho, Soon L.
Hoag, David Andrew
Hobbs, James Michael 318
Hobson, Bonnie Eve 299
Hodges, Daniel Powell 381
Hodges, Jan Anne 172, 345
Hodges, Mary Ellen S.
Hodges, Reginald Albert 180
Hodges, Stephen L.
Hoefel, Craig James
Hoek, Wilhelmina N.
Hoekstra, Dune Marie 168, 318
Hoen, Margaret Marel 176
Hoey, Philip Joseph
Hoff, James G.
Hoffman, Eric George
Hoffman, Frederick Alan
Hoffman, Holly Haines
Hoffman, Joe
Hoffman, Katherine Elizabeth 190
Hoffman, Richard Lee
Hogan, Colleen Mary 285
Hogan, Martin Patrick 165
Hogge, Adam David
Hogge, Frederick Neal
Hogge, Raymond Lee, Jr. 200, 345
Hohl, Ursula Ingrid 345
Holahan, James Charles
Holahan, Stacy Hamman 385
Holden, Horace Pope, Jr. 299
Holland, Mary Elizabeth 345
Hollands, Christian Austin
Holleman, Lois F.
Hollen, Deborah Anne

Compliments of Yearbook Associates Your College Portrait Specialists

Holler, Margaret S. 385
Holleriman, Michael J. 73, 272, 345, 385
Hollomon, James W., Jr.
Holloway, James Claude 381
Holloway, Lisa Ann
Holloway, Sharon Elizabeth 345
Holman, Melinda Kay
Holmberg, Anne Kristen
Holmes, Bruce Eric 346
Holmes, Carol Suzanne 285
Holmes, Chelene Estelle 318
Holmes, Scott Gary 318, 381
Holmes, William Richard
Holsinger, Carol Anne
Holsinger, James Bradley 73, 265, 272, 346
Holt, Amy Tredway
Holt, Edwin Wright 285
Holt, Jennifer Mary 184, 299
Holtzinger, William Jefferson
Holz, Rebecca Glynis Gretchen
Homaker, William Emil 299
Honich, Grace Marie 299
Hood, Teresa Louise
Hook, Harold Erskine 228, 346, 407
Hooker, Lester 277
Hooper, Dana Hutchinson 126, 176
Hoopes, Scott Martin
Hope, Robert Meredith
Hopkins, Andre Fadel
Hopkins, Elsa Shaw
Hopkins, Joan Marie
Hopkins, Laura Ann 190, 299
Hopkins, Monica Veronetta 160, 318
Hopkins, Susan Lynn
Hopping, Brian Loun
Hori, Yuichi
Horn, Julia Marie
Horn, Robert Emery
Horn, Stephen James
Horner, Sharon Elizabeth 166, 318
Horowitz, Faith Ann
Horowitz, Howard Brian 212
Horowitz, Robert Michael
Horrocks, Alison Katherine 170, 318, 335
Hotvath, Stephen John, III
Hossain, Muhsheh
Houck, Tracy Ann

Hough, William James
Houghton, Hilary Noyes
Houser, Teresa Lynn 172, 318, 381
Houser, Kathleen Renee 346, 385
Howard-Smith, Richard Hugh
Howard, David Patrick
Howard, James Michael Howard, Mary McKean
Howard, Pamela Ruth 300
Howard, Susan Lynn 346, 385
Howe, Geoffery Allen
Howe, Susan Gail 300
Howe, Timothy John 261, 263, 346
Hove, Daniel Brent
Hovle, Karen Latave 346
Hovi, Thomas Michael Hranowsky, Tamya 180, 300
Hsu, Wei-Ming 300
Hubard, Jill-Lavlor 285
Hubbard, Catherine Michele 198, 380
Hubbard, Stephen G.
Huber, Jeffrey Alan
Huber, John Daniel 194, 346
Huber, Victoria Lynne
Hubert, Chrissa Marie
Hudson, Pamela Sue 198
Hudson, Tyler Midlane 318
Huether, Stephen Charles
Huey, Yolanda Iness 285
Huffman, Angela Page 172, 346, 384
Huffman, Kelly Victoria 198
Huffman, Stephen James
Huge, Christopher Scott 180
Huggins, Harold Andy
Hughes, Jeffrey S. 194
Hughes, Joseph Alphonso 75
Hughes, Peter Matthew
Hughes, Sara Lou 265
Hughes, Harvard Michael
Hughes, Michael Raymond 346

Hugney, Kimberly Ann 285
Hugo, Timothy Douglas
Huijter, Marjorie Joan 246
Hull, Doyle Edwin, Jr.
Hull, Sarah Shank
Hulme, Richard Leon 200, 285
Hulman, Donald Scott
Humes, Kimberly
Humphrey, Keren M. 385
Humphries, John F. 318
Humphries, Lance Lee 318
Hundley, Mary Louise 184, 346
Hundley, William Gregory
Hunnell, Cheryl Balfus 346
Hunnus, Howard Ray
Hunt, Amy Kathleen
Hunt, Charles Stormont
Hunt, Courtney Shelton 346
Hunt, Karen M. 300
Hunt, William Allen, Jr.
Hunter, James Douglas 300
Hunter, James William
Hunter, John William 385
Hunter, Margaret M. 184, 233
Hunter, Rhonda R.G.
Hunter, Scott Jay 263, 300
Hug, Mohammed Saïd
Huilbrink, Gregory Stephens 202
Hull, Helen Ann 346
Hurley, Roberta A.
Hurley, Terence William
Hurley, Timothy Edward
Hurst, Winston Seton 202
Hurt, James Walter
Hurtubise, Michel Pierre
Hurtwit, Frederick Steven
Hussey, John Edward
Hussey, Angela Marie 172
Hutchens, Anne Elizabeth 381
Hutcherson, Elizabeth Ann 190, 380
Hutcherson, John Turner
Hutchison, Sallie M.
Hutnison, Jack Ross, Jr.
Hutnison, James Ralph
Hutton, Cindy Hart
Huzzey, Linda M.
Hydon, Rebekah L. 300
Hyland, James Patrick
Hylton, Elizabeth Ellen 27, 184
Hylton, Robyn Carla

Jewsee, Glenn Jerome
 Jett, Rhonda Lynne 285
 Jett, Raphael Chongyub
 Jewell, Andrew Vincent 285
 John, Sarah
 Johns, Ingrid Ann 170, 262
 Johnson, Andrea Lynn 347
 Johnson, Barbara Louise
 Johnson, Carey SuelLEN
 Johnson, Carolyn Chesson
 Johnson, Craig Steven 347, 385
 Johnson, David Edward 347
 Johnson, Davina Keeta 301
 Johnson, Dennis Elizabeth 318
 Johnson, Edward Joseph
 Johnson, Frank Andrew
 Johnson, Hwasacha, Jr. 301
 Johnson, James Walter
 Johnson, Janet Elizabeth 318
 Johnson, John Francis 347
 Johnson, Joseph Hilliard, Jr. 36, 347
 Johnson, Julian Woodrow
 Johnson, Justina Maria 318
 Johnson, Karen Aime
 Johnson, Katherine Ann 347
 Johnson, Keith Avery
 Johnson, Kerke Alan 133, 200, 301
 Johnson, Kimberly Renee 301
 Johnson, Kristet Gustav Eduard
 Johnson, Kristine Lynne 148, 318
 Johnson, Laird Langhorne 347
 Johnson, Marjorie Alice 301
 Johnson, Mark V. 385
 Johnson, Mary Helen 196, 265
 Johnson, Melaine Anne
 Johnson, Melissa Ann
 Johnson, Michael William 285
 Johnson, Michele Leshe 285
 Johnson, Monica Jean 318
 Johnson, Norman Douglas 285
 Johnson, Pamela Sue 165, 285
 Johnson, Pamela Sue
 Johnson, Phillemon Levi
 Johnson, Raymond Paul
 Johnson, Richard Gordon
 Johnson, Robert Paul
 Johnson, Stephen Gerard 347, 380, 382
 Johnson, Susan Elizabeth 347, 381
 Johnson, Susan Marie 285
 Johnson, Thomas Palmer, III 301
 Johnson, Timothy A.
 Johnson, Valerie Anne 318, 381, 382
 Johnston, David Holland 285
 Johnston, Milton Lynn 194
 Johnston, Roy Neil
 Jolly, Deborah Carol 318
 Jones, Alan Leonard 347
 Jones, Anthony F. 194, 301
 Jones, Ariel Lynette
 Jones, Brad Carlton
 Jones, Charles Kevin 301
 Jones, Christopher Henry 212
 Jones, Derrick Carl
 Jones, E. Joanne
 Jones, Elizabeth Walsh
 Jones, Gordon Bradford
 Jones, James Harrington
 Jones, Jennifer C. 347
 Jones, Jennifer Carol 285, 384
 Jones, John Bennett 26, 285
 Jones, Julie Ann 164, 301
 Jones, Karen Alayne 108, 347
 Jones, Karen Dawn 285
 Jones, Kendall, Jr.
 Jones, Kimberly Cheryl
 Jones, Laura Elisabeth
 Jones, Laura Holt 347
 Jones, Laurie Mae
 Jones, Leigh F.
 Jones, Leonard Jefferson, Jr.
 Jones, Leslie William
 Jones, Lisa Dale
 Jones, Mary Willis 196, 265, 301
 Jones, Michael Anthony
 Jones, Paul Michael
 Jones, Richard Graham, Jr. 186
 Jones, Sharon 168
 Jones, Tammy Luamne 285
 Jones, Thomas Michael 347
 Jordan, Dan Jeffrey 200, 318
 Jordan, Jeffrey Lee 264, 347
 Joshi, Anil Vasant
 Jost, Paul Gregory
 Jowett, Keith Douglas
 Joyce, Jennifer Mary 318
 Jovner, Anne Hunter
 Jovner, William Henry 218, 318
 Judy, James Alan 285
 Jue, Patricia Kay 347
 Juliano, Robert Thomas
 Jurczak, Karen Jean
 Justice, Melissa S. 180

Kach, Mary Kay 184
 Kahl, Andrew Hayes 26, 285
 Kaiser, Jennifer
 Kaiser, Jennifer M.
 Kalafatis, Nicholas F.
 Kalanis, Michael Andrew
 Kalanis, Peter Evan
 Kalk, Bruce Howard 318
 Kallen, Gregory Margaret
 Kamaviana, Sri Anggren 301
 Kamberger, William Leroy, Jr. 347, 385
 Kammerer, John Paul
 Kamstra, Anne Patterson 184, 347
 Kane, Andrew James
 Kane, Brian Douglas 285
 Kane, Jeffrey Morgan 178
 Kane, Robert Edward, Jr.
 Kanstonoom, David Arnold
 Karch, Anne Marie 301
 Karch, Michael Edward 347
 Kashiour, Michelle Mehera
 Kater, Jamie Lynn 208, 301
 Katman, Eileen C. 176, 285
 Katona, Scot Alan
 Katz, Ruth Anna 285
 Katz, Stuart Edward
 Kaulfers, Joy Celma 302
 Kaupels, Khy Jean 318
 Kavanagh, Sean Patrick 154, 204, 208
 Kayjian, Judy Lynn 198, 318
 Kay, Bryan Lee
 Kay, Katherine Mahon 347
 Kay, Matthew William
 Kaylor, Herbert William 218
 Keater, Bruce Alan
 Keales, Bridget Rice
 Kearbs, Donald William 265
 Kearney, Bernard 82
 Kearney, Colleen Teresa 347
 Kearns, Annette Marie 302
 Kearns, Colleen Patricia 318, 356
 Kearns, James Roland, Jr. 347
 Kearns, Mary Ann
 Keating, Elizabeth Ann 170
 Keating, John David 302
 Keasney, Bernard 318, 322
 Keck, Martin Douglas
 Keeler, Robert Franklin
 Keeler, Steven James 194, 348
 Keen, Carolyn M.
 Keen, Patricia Ann 318
 Keenan, Cheryl Ellen
 Keenan, Josephine Anne 286
 Keener, Karl Harry
 Keeton, William Presley
 Kegel, Mary Louise
 Kehres, Jennifer Louise 164
 Keihn, Barbara Ellen
 Keitzy, Susan Lee
 Keith, Clyde Robert
 Keilher, Craig Paxton
 Keller, Katherine Nadine
 Kelleher, Kathleen Anne
 Keller, J. Paul
 Keller, Steven Edward
 Kelley, Mary Teresa
 Kelley, Maureen Sonta 348
 Kelley, Patrick David
 Kelley, Rosemarie Anastasia
 Kelley, Sharon Ann
 Kelliher, Edwin Patrick 194
 Kelliher, Michael Joseph
 Kellogg, John Rossworn
 Kellum, Kimberly Jane
 Kelly, Brent Joseph 348
 Kelly, Catherine Maureen 302
 Kelly, David Robert
 Kelly, Irene E. 286
 Kelly, Joseph Terence
 Kelly, Thomas Joseph 348
 Kelsey, Denham Arthur
 Kelso, Mark Alan 302
 Kelson, Christine M. 286
 Kem, Michelle 348
 Kemp, Bradley Sterling 178, 348
 Kemp, Linda Jeanette
 Kempfski, Ann 380
 Kempton, James Russell
 Kennedy, Katherine Gertrude 302
 Kennedy, Mark 113
 Kennedy, Peter D.
 Kennedy, Sarah C.
 Kennedy, Suzanne Marie
 Kennedy, Talbot 407
 Kennelly, Christopher John 348
 Kenney, Ann Cecilia
 Kenney, Christopher John
 Kennon, Monica Everts 348
 Kent, Catherine Mary
 Kepler, Karen L.
 Kerby, Kendall Scott 240, 318
 Kern, Stephen Edward
 Kerns, Laurie Leigh 302
 Kerns, Patricia R.
 Kerr, Tracy Lee 196, 318
 Kertsev, David Leonard 348, 380, 381, 382
 Kertsev, Ian George 200
 Keshishian, Lora Isabella 286
 Kesler, Robert Milton, Jr.
 Kessler, Harry W. III
 Kessler, Lisa Louise 348
 Ketchum, Eleanor Amanda 286

Kevoorkian, Elvise Anoush 286
 Key, David Carlton
 Key, James Louis, Jr.
 Keyes, Elizabeth Marie 286
 Kidd, Judith Lorraine 348
 Kidd, Sabrina Michelle 174, 348
 Kidwell, Rhanna 168, 286
 Kiley, Donald Thomas, Jr.
 Kilgore, John D.
 Killham, Nina Ceccha 348
 Kim, Duk Han 208
 Kim, Kwang Ho
 Kim, Yong Sung
 Kimball, Susannah Wetherbee 128
 Kimble, Hunter D.
 Kimble, Vicky Lynn
 Kindred, Shelley Elizabeth 302, 381
 Kindrick, Diane Elise 318, 381
 Kincke, Margaret M. 348
 King, Elizabeth 55
 King, Jennifer Ann 286
 King, Laurie Anne
 King, Lynn
 King, Michael Dean 318
 King, Randall William 194
 King, Steven Dennis
 Kingsbury, Kevin Bruce
 Kinley, Paul Gregory
 Kinzhofer, Alexander Rado
 Kinzie, Magon 286
 Kippus, Paul Kenneth 318
 Kiracole, David James 73, 318
 Kirby, Michael D.
 Kirby, Richard Edward
 Kirby, Susan Frances 182, 318
 Kirk, Anne Kathryn 198, 319
 Kirk, Dorothy Brooke 172, 302, 381
 Kirkendall, Julia Claire 196, 380, 382
 Kirkland, Larry Eugene
 Kirley, Janet Ellen 381, 385
 Kiser, Jerry Douglas
 Kissell, Gary 83
 Kiss, M. Fay
 Kitzmann, Katherine Moore
 Kivalek, Anthony 348
 Kledzik, Ramona Jane 168, 349
 Klein, Jon Douglas 263, 319, 384
 Kline, Hilary Ellis
 Kline, Kirsten Alice
 Kline, Pamela Ann
 Kling, Elizabeth Babcock 286
 Klingler, Ruthellen Clara
 Klingmeyer, Wilbert Anthony 75, 349
 Kloor, Juergen Arnold 349
 Klunk, William Joseph 194
 Klyvac, Karen Lynn
 Kanchel, Kurt Lee 407
 Knapp, Andrew Lawrence 113, 265, 325, 349
 Knapp, Carol Mary
 Knight, Kristy Lynn
 Knight, Verdis Isom
 Knopes, Christopher Alfred
 Knoth, Thomas Allen
 Knott, Jane Ellen
 Knowles, John Frank 286
 Koach, Margaret Suzanne 381
 Koch, Edward Graeme, II 302
 Koch, George Edgar
 Koch, Mary K. 302
 Koch, Michael Wayne
 Koegl, John Julius, I 286
 Koempel, Susan Beth 302
 Koepfler, Eric T.
 Kohut, Andrew J.
 Koleski, Karen M. 184, 349
 Kolligs, Walter Michael Kolmer, Ann Cameron 319
 Kondracki, Marvonne 168, 302
 Kontopanos, Gregory Konstantin 265
 Kontos, Christopher Dale
 Kontos, Michael Christopher 349
 Koolman, Derek Porter
 Koontz, Terence Wade 206, 302
 Koontz, Warren Svke 349, 385, 407
 Korff, Donna Lee 170
 Koschmeder, Mark Andrew 302
 Koschwanec, Katherine F.
 Kosko, Mary Elizabeth 198, 286
 Kosnik, Christopher Paul 381
 Kost, Virginia L. 164, 319
 Kostel, Kathryn Hobbs
 Koumanelis, Artemis S.
 Kovalek, Anthony Robert
 Kovaleski, Serge F. 200
 Kovorkian, Anoush 26
 Kowalski, Mark Harold 349
 Krachman, Brian Scott 178, 349, 381
 Kraemer, Randall Paul 75
 Kraft, Nancy Ellen 198, 302
 Kraft, Ellen Marie
 Kramer, Karen Lea 319
 Kramer, Robert Paul
 Krasch, Deborah Eave 349, 381
 Kraus, Geoffrey Peter
 Kraus, Matthew Herbert 349
 Kraus, Robert William 165
 Kraus, Stephame Jean 196
 Krauthem, Mark David 186
 Krauthem, Tracey Leigh 170, 302
 Kravitz, Michael Joseph
 Krebs, Margaret Rees 198, 302
 Kren, James Scott 349
 Kren, Susan Mary
 Krich, Victoria Jean
 Krizan, Lisa Marie 180, 302
 Kroll, Edwin Keith
 Kroll, Samuel Michael Krotseug, Marsha Vandye
 Krowe, Valerie Lynne 172, 302
 Kruelle, Denise Ann 286
 Krugman, JellTrev Jon 49, 286
 Krulitz, Pamela Ristau 286

Krumel, Joanne Marie Marie
 Krup, I. Stephen
 Kruse, Timothy Arthur 319
 Kubitz, Walter Edward 370
 Kuan, Nancy Marie
 Kucherov, Michael Frederick
 Kuczo, Alison Anne 176
 Kuenmerle, Melaine Sue 178, 349
 Kuhn, Ana Marie 172, 319
 Kuhn, David Harold
 Kuhn, Kathryn Elizabeth
 Kubnel, Paul Christopher 194
 Kubnis, Joyce Ann
 Kubnis, Philip Laurence
 Kummer, Michael Brown 125
 Kump, Christopher Brooks 349
 Kunhardt, David Lee 202, 349
 Kunkle, Richard
 Kuppermire, Ariel Bernard 194, 257
 Kurisky, George Anthony, Jr. 212
 Kurpit, Barbara Janet
 Kurtz, Mary Patricia 286
 Kusan, Jeffrey Paul
 Kushman, Alice C.
 Kutteroff, Alice Jean 349, 380
 Kveton, Ellen Marie
 Kwon, Oh Suk
 Kyrios, Christian Lewis

Lackman, Margery Ann 349, 381, 384
 Lacks, Bert Monroe 302
 Laclair, Reid Alan 46
 Lacy, Karen Frances 302
 Lacy, Robert K.
 Ladd, Teresa Faye 349
 Lafrankie, Robert Lewis
 Lagarde, Douglas Howe
 Lagomasinos, Andrew Joseph Lahne, Daniel Roger
 Lake, Andrew James 210
 Lake, Kevin Allan 210
 Lam, David T. 349
 Lamb, James Gerard
 Lamb, Thomas Joseph 349
 Lambert, Ann 119
 Lambert, Mark Roger
 Lambotte, Carol D.
 Lamm, Claudia Marie
 Lamphere, Renee Ann 176
 Lampos, Lee David 370
 Lancaster, Theresa Lynne
 Langhantun, George Richard, III
 Langhantun, Margaret Mary
 Landen, Jill Arnett
 Landen, Robert Kizza, 208
 Landes, Phillip William 319, 381
 Landes, Rebecca Leigh
 Landis, Deborah Lynn
 Landis, Raymond Earl, III 349
 Landman, Samuel Alan
 Landon, Terry Jean
 Lane, Corby Elizabeth
 Lane, Daniel Joseph 296
 Lane, Edward Emerson, Jr.
 Lane, Kathryn Tynes
 Lanev, Robert Carl Eric 200, 302
 Lang, Edmonia Leech
 Lang, Michael Joseph
 Lang, Peter Wilson 286
 Lang, Thomas Irvin 206
 Langan, John Edgar
 Langmaid, Benjamin Houghton 302
 Langston, James Rudolph, Jr. 319
 Langston, Kerry Reynolds
 Lanham, William Glenn
 Lamer, Vicki Mooza
 Lamer, Willis Powell, III
 Lannen, John William 319, 380
 Lantz, Steven Richard 349
 Larte, Elizabeth Bennett 75, 180
 Larkin, Athena Miriam
 Larkin, Todd Larry 380
 Larrick, Richard Paul 286
 Larrimore, Zanette Borum
 Larsen, Gregory Slack
 Larsen, Kellie Marie
 Larsen, Larry S. 202
 Larson, Bruce J.
 Larson, Kathryn Page
 Larson, Richard Jon
 Larson, Stephen James 349
 Lascara, William Anthony
 Lash, Richard Anthony
 Lasky, Kenneth Jordan
 Lassen, Thor John
 Lassiter, Mark T.
 Lassiter, Richard Max 349
 Lattanze, Teresa Sharon
 Latu, Jean Marie 164, 215, 349, 382
 Laughlin, John Ramsey
 Laureano, Alberto N. 349, 380
 Laurent, Harold James
 Lauriti, John Christine
 Lautenslager, Leslie 184, 302

Lannucci, Lisa Ann 198
 Lannuzzi, Mark Philip
 Lden, Alexander Riddick 82
 Lhle, William James
 Lida, Mary Ichu 318, 407
 Illovsky, Jerome
 Imfeld, Tom Lynn
 Ingeman, William Eric
 Ingram, Heidi Marie 172, 318
 Ingram, Laura Ellen 300
 Ingrassia, Lisa Clare 300
 Interlandi, Frank Douglas
 Iovino, Philip
 Ireland, Kevin Thornton
 Irvin, Allison Annette 176, 407
 Irvin, Karen Elizabeth
 Irwin, Julie Richt 196, 381
 Isaac, David John 202
 Isaac, Katherine Elizabeth
 Ishihara, Shotaro
 Ishikawa, Emi Marie
 Ives, Linda Susana 347
 Ivey, Adam Forrest, III 318

Jack, Dixie Leigh 285
 Jack, George Francis, Jr. 81, 318, 384
 Jack, Marlene 347
 Jackman, Fileene Theresa 347
 Jackopin, Jon Philip
 Jackson, Audrey Veronica 318
 Jackson, Dorothea Gisella
 Jackson, Dwayne Anthony 206, 300
 Jackson, Edward Woodrow
 Jackson, Helen J.
 Jackson, Joseph Fowler
 Jackson, Julia Sarah 318
 Jackson, Kelly Ann
 Jackson, Lisa Anne 381
 Jackson, Lynn M.
 Jackson, Paul Vernon
 Jackson, Susan Ann
 Jacobs, Bradley Anson 285
 Jacobs, Marvin Rodgers, II 318
 Jacobs, Michelle Foushee 347
 Jacobsen, Audrey Louise
 Jacobson, Leila Marie
 Jaeger, Robert V. 347
 Jaffe, Laurence H. 285
 Jaffe, Eric Steven 347
 Jahn, Eric Robert 318
 Jam, Indu
 James, Lucia Maria 347, 381
 James, Mark Christopher 318
 James, Patti Lynn 285
 Jameson, Henry 70
 Jamison, Gregory M. 318
 Jamison, Phillip Graham
 Jans, Julia Jane 285
 Jansen, Laura F.
 Janss, Peter Martin 285
 Jarnon, Amy I. 27, 272, 277, 278, 279
 Jarosak, John James, Jr.
 Jarvis, Thomas Paul 318
 Jarvis, Christina Lynn 285
 Jay, Roy Joseph
 Jean-Michel, Mari R.
 Jec, Sharilyn Kim 228, 347, 385, 407
 Jeffers, Ellen Virginia 176, 318
 Jenkins, Kathy Lee 176, 347
 Jenkins, Jenkins, Thomas Keith
 Jenkins, Timothy West
 Jennemann, Karen Sue
 Jensen, Brian Juel
 Jensen, Nancy I. P.
 Jensen, Thomas Francis 202, 301
 Jerome, Barbara Olivia
 Jerome, Danciele Marie
 Jerome, Michele Marie 265

- Laverty, Robert Burnham 190, 349, 380
 Lavin, Kimberly Anne
 Law, Elizabeth Ann 286
 Lawler, Jay Bradford 349
 Lawler, Kelly Summers 168
 Lawrence, Miriam Conway 172
 Lawrence, Robin Ann
 Lawrence, Rodney Allan
 Lawrence, Susan Stephanie Laws, Christine T
 Lawson, Janet Elaine 198, 286
 Lawson, Susan Marie 349
 Lav, Stuart Page
 Lavcock, Jimmie 94, 149
 Lavden, John Michael
 Layne, Charles Mark
 Layne, Teresa Renee 319
 Lavton, Gregory Lee
 Lazo, David Michael 349
 Leaf, Anne Marie 319
 Leafstrand, Kirsten Ruth 265, 350, 381
 Leahy, Cathlin E.
 Lease, Kelly Eaton
 Leazer, Benny Art
 Lebu, Kimberly Elizabeth 302
 Ledwith, Jennifer Anne 168
 Lee, Aecha
 Lee, Cherie Garrett
 Lee, Lai Man
 Lee, Myunghee 350, 382
 Lee, Robert Kimbark
 Lee, Robert Withers, III 350
 Lee, Roland William
 Lee, Ling Keun 319
 Lee, William Robert
 Leedy, Kendra Lyn
 Lees, Jeffrey Evans
 Leeson, Todd Albin
 Lefebvre, Bertrand G
 Lefkowitz, Robert Arnold
 Leftwich, Andrea June 172, 262, 286
 LeGarde, Doug 186
 Leggett, Felicia 350
 Leggett, Robert Alexander
 Leibowitz, Jonathan Stuart 139
 Leimer, Randal Joe
 Leinbach, Tyler Howard 187, 212, 350
 Leite, Diane Valente 255, 319
 Leite, Margarette Valente 302
 Lemmon, Angela Marie 350
 Lenciewicz, Joseph Francis, III 194
 Lenorm, Frank T. 262
 Lenhart, Jeffrey Grant
 Lenz, Alecia Ann
 Leonard, Lynn Ann 172, 286
 Leong, Apollo Yuen 255, 319, 381
 Lerch, P. Charlotte 172, 319
 Lerner, Jordan
 Lesesne, Marvrose Lyle
 Lesko, Gregory P. 350
 Lesser, Steven Jay 117
 Lester, Christopher Raymond
 Lester, Mary E.
 Lester, Victoria Sue 350
 Letchworth, Leslie Tapscott
 Letourneau, Linda Marie
 Lett, Wayne Dixon
 Leupold, Katherine Ann 286
 Leuthold, Marc Daniel
 Levesque, Paula Rae 196, 350, 381
 Levi, Jonathan Sprint
 Levine, Amy Allen 384
 Levine, Noah Stephen 194
 Levitt, Cary Alan
 Levy, Larry Scott
 Levy, Leslie Sue 182, 319
 Levy, Mitchell A
 Lew, Sally Ann 179
 Lewellen, Mitzi Jo 350
 Lewis, Donna Jean
 Lewis, Edward Charles
 Lewis, Elizabeth Michelle
 Lewis, Ellen Louise 180, 302
 Lewis, Heidi Marie 286
 Lewis, James Eldon, Jr. 286
 Lewis, Jennifer Lou 196, 295, 319
 Lewis, Kathleen Grace 302
 Lewis, Linda Joan 172
 Lewis, Maia Linda 176, 381
 Lewis, Michael
 Lewis, Sally Ann 180, 350, 385, 407
 Lewis, Sandy K. 302
 Lewis, Sara Elizabeth
 Lewis, Stephen Burton 194
 Lewis, Ted 154
 Lewis, Thea J.
 Lex, Nancy Lee 170, 319
 Levland, Stephanie Louise 302
 Li, Ka Kui Peter
 Li, Marion Minqin 286
 Li, Yong
 Liakopoulos, Patricia Alexis
 Libassi, Paul Matthew 212
 Libby, Theresa Ann
 Liceaga, Carlos A
 Liddle, Carol Lee 381
 Lieb, David Allen
 Liddle, Colleen Ann 350
 Light, Cynthia L.
 Lightner, Robert Paul 319
 Lightner, Susan Renee 350, 380
 Liles, Matthew Vann 200
 Lillard, Mary L.
 Lillie, Raymond John
 Lim, Anne 196, 302
 Lim, Catherine Anna
 Lim, Hyun Kyong
 Limberger, Sheryl Renee 350
 Limm, Diane Rose 198, 302
 Linaugh, Mark Joseph 186, 385
 Lind, Gregory Jon
 Lind, Robert Stuart
 Lindes, Kelley Michelle
 Lindgren, James Michael
 Lindner, Jeanne Michelle 261, 267, 302
 Lindsey, Christine Michelle 286
 Lindsey, Honey Elizabeth
 Lindsey, Jeanne Pypier
 Lindsley, Todd Theodore 103, 302
 Link, Kevin Wesley
 Linka, David Bremner 319
 Linnane, Michael Forrest
 Linne Von Berg, Diane Catherine 164, 350
 Linville, Carla Ann 176, 302
 Lipinski, Katherine Cecilia
 Lipuma, Deborah Marie
 Lisella, John Franklin 186
 Liskey, Lesim Deming 286
 Lissfelt, Jennifer Ann 319
 Lissfelt, Sarah Cameron 350
 Liston, Judith Anne
 Littauer, Deirdre Bedinger Lucas 350
 Litten, Jonathan Jay
 Little, Ann Louise 182, 350
 Little, Diane Beth 164
 Little, John Joseph
 Littlefield, Elizabeth Scott 264
 Liu, Chih-Shing
 Liu, Shang-Bin
 Livingston, Glenn Alexander
 Lyvinton, Becky 70
 Llanso, Roberto Javier
 Llanso, Thomas Harlan 350
 Llewellyn, Jeanne Ann
 Locantore, Sarah Jane 182, 350, 384
 Locasale, Gregory Thomas 194, 302
 Locke, Mary Ann 350
 Locker, Ellen Fern
 Lockerby, Robert Charles 350
 Lockwood, Eunice E.
 Lockwood, Peter Edson
 Lockwood, William A
 Loftin, Mary Valerie
 Logan, George Chamberlain 319
 Logsdon, Barry Glyndon
 Lohr, Randall Nehrenz 350, 380
 Loker, Rebeccah Burch 42, 302
 Lokos, Nathan Stuart 350
 Lomas, John Fraser
 Lombardo, Anthony Gerard
 Lombardo, Chiu K 272
 Lomagan, Daniel Glenn
 Long, Cheryl Anne 184
 Long, Helen Ann
 Long, James Simester
 Long, Margaret Comey
 Long, Robert Matthew
 Long, Susan Louise
 Long, Thomas Payne 302
 Longerbeam, Orville Nelson
 Longerbeam, Patricia Moran 350
 Longest, Frances Gayle 182, 350
 Longmire, Jill Elizabeth 302
 Longstreet, Susan Cannon
 Longworth, Carol 245
 Lonick, Christine Marie 350
 Lonick, James Gerard 212
 Lomax, Jerome Leroy
 Looney, Kevin Francis
 Lopdrup, Eva Jane 302
 Lopez, Kenneth E. David
 Lopez, Martin L. 371
 Lorch, Michael John 212, 302
 Loudy, Elizabeth Anne 286
 Loughlin, Janet
 Lounsbery, Anne Lynn
 Love, Bradley Curtis 350
 Lovegren, James Andrew 212
 Lierz, Bret David
 Lovett, Mark Emerson
 Loving, Treasa Elaine 350
 Lovko, Kenneth Ray, Jr. 319
 Lowe, Benjamin Franklin, Jr. 315, 319, 380
 Lowery, Janine Maria 286
 Lowery, Nancy Ann 319
 Lowndes, Nancy Theresa
 Lu, Mu-Zhen
 Lucas, Albert 186, 302
 Lucas, Joseph J. 117, 194, 351
 Lucas, Nathan Jacob
 Lucketti, Nicholas Michael
 Lucidi, Donald Gerald 219, 321
 Ludington, Kristin Wishart 302
 Luebhusen, Susan Daphne
 Luebs, Karen W. 180, 321
 Lukens, Helma W. field 170, 286
 Lukin, Craig George
 Luman, Catherine Lea
 Lunceford, Julie Ann
 Lunde, Timothy Jay
 Lundquist, Peter Eugene
 Lung, Tseng-Yue
 Lusco, Deanna Marie
 Luter, Laura Stockmon
 Lutz, Cecelia M.
 Lutz, Lisa Susan 286
 Lutz, Victoria Ann 321
 Luzzatto, Donald Allan
 Lydick, David Howard 385
 Lyle, William Aaron
 Lyman, Stacy Ann
 Lynch, Christopher Michael 321, 480
 Lynch, Kevin John
 Lynch, Linda
 Lynch, Vanessa Rae 182, 351
 Lyons, Arthur Gilbert
 Lyons, Cynthia Maxine 321
 Lytton, Rosemarie 351, 380
 Mack, Harold Milton
 Mack, Joseph E. Jr.
 MacKarevich, Gerard Matthew
 MacKay, Donald Gordon 286
 MacKay, Lesley Katherine
 Mackin, Kathleen Ann 182, 302
 MacKinney, Lamara Lynne 321
 MacKinnon, Keith Patrick, Jr.
 MacKinn, Rodd Jeffrey 202
 MacLaren, Scott Foster
 MacLeod, Douglas P.
 MacMasters, Wayne Allen
 MacRae, Howard Lalt, Jr.
 Madden, Todd John
 Mader, Claudia Christine 302
 Madero, Martha Helena 302
 Madison, Benjamin Verbin, III
 Mageras, Harry John
 Mageras, Yastiki
 Maggio, Christopher C. 370
 Maggio, Eric Robert 321
 Magnant, Renee Janet
 Magnus-Sharpe, Marc Steven
 Maguire, Scott Alan
 Maguschak, Barbara Ann
 Mahibub, Shahrar
 Maher, Daniel Joseph
 Maher, Patricia Karen
 Mahoney, Christine
 Mahoney, John D.
 Mahler, David Lee
 Maimon, Jonathan David
 Maimon, Mary Elizabeth
 Maitso, Christine Marie
 Makonnen, Jerusalem
 Male, Jean Ellen 321
 Mallet, Maria Ann 351
 Mallion, Tracey Ann
 Malloy, Patricia A.
 Malloy, Martin Stephan
 Maloney, Linda Ann
 Maltepe, Ova 321
 Manardo, Susan Andrea
 Mance, Veronika Tracy
 Mancini, James Carl
 Mandulak, John P.
 Manfredi, Jennifer Ruth
 Mangels, Andrew Peter 210
 Mangione, Carol Anitra
 Manhard, Virginia Rose
 Manis, Robm Elizabeth 351
 Mann, Gerald Lee
 Mann, Robert Walter
 Manning, Kenneth Russell 351, 380
 Mansel, Kelli Kathleen
 Manson, Amy Hayes
 Manson, Mary Virginia 371
 Mantus, David Scott
 Manuele, Vincent Orrie
 Mapp, George Richard, A.
 Marblestone, Tracy Ann 184, 321
 Marcos, Amy Ann 184, 200, 321
 Marboney, Andrea Maria 286
 Marlenick, Catherine Ann
 Marwick, Stephanie
 Margolin, Samuel Gershon
 Margolis, Ellen Gayle
 Marjulin, Brooke Grenville
 Marling, Lisa Dussault
 Marlotte, Gloria Jean 109, 351
 Markes, John Brian
 Markowski, Paul Skallinan 351
 Marks, Bryant Maxey, Jr.
 Marks, Christopher Alan
 Marks, Howard S.
 Markwith, Glenn Page
 Marley, Catherine Anne 170
 Marlowe, David Rives
 Marzol, Manolita Akiko
 Marousek, James Lawrence 257
 Manquard, Vincent
 Marra, Kevin Michael
 Marrazzo, Bernard Richard Marron, Brian Richard
 Marshean, Amy Lynn 302
 Marsh, Robin Renee 351
 Marshall, Catherine Janet 351
 Marshall, Lindsay Wynn
 Mattel, Thomas Charles
 Mantell, Elizabeth Therese 351, 381
 Matteis, Gary Bradford
 Mathinsen, Hugh Hum
 Martin, Bobbie Sue
 Martin, Deirdre Jane
 Martin, Eda Williams
 Martin, Gabriela 381
 Martin, George Daniel 302
 Martin, George Richard
 Martin, Hansen Oliver
 Martin, Kenneth Alan
 Martin, Laura Ann 172, 286
 Martin, Lawrence Joseph
 Martin, Luc C. Claudette
 Martin, Margaret Ann
 Martin, Michele Ashton 180, 351
 Martin, Mitch 192
 Martin, Terence Patrick 212
 Martinez, Victoria Beatriz 176
 Martini, Cindy S.
 Martorana, Jeffrey Thomas
 Marshall, Amy Louise 286
 Marvell, Diane Vondrehle
 Marvell, Thomas Bravton
 Marzullo, Jay P.
 Masci, Robin Lara
 Mason, Amy H. 302
 Mason, Monica
 Mason, Timothy Patrick
 Massard, Patricia Anne 286
 Massaro, Anne Naume 172, 351
 Massaro, Laura
 Massey, Robert Douglas 186
 Massie, Sharon Yvonne
 Masters, Jane Marie 286
 Masters, Lora Jean
 Masterson, Charles Vincent, III
 Masterson, J. Bruce 292
 Mastroianni, Mary Patricia
 Mastano, Alfred
 Matera, Cynthia Renee 286
 Mathers, Christopher 19
 Matheson, John Whitman, Jr.
 Mathis, Lisa Michelle 286
 Mathson, Bruce Howard 371
 Matson, Cheryl Maite
 Matsumoto, Stephen Kenji 321
 Matsumaga, Steven Roy
 Matuura, Raymond
 Matteo, Joseph Peter 194, 302
 Matthews, Christine G.
 Matthews, James David
 Matthews, John Rosser, III
 Matthews, Perry Anne 302
 Mattis, Marlon 84
 Mattson, Alexandra Christine M.
 Mattson, Ann Louise
 Mattson, Robin Jean
 Maxa, Andrea Marie
 Maxa, Bradley Alan 385
 Maxey, Robin Carol
 Maxson, Susan Annette
 Maxwell, Barbara Louise
 Maxwell, David Michael 286
 Max, David Bryant
 May, Denise Jeanette 129, 352
 May, Melinda Dea 280
 Mayberry, Martha Catherine 352, 381
 Maybury, Kathleen Patricia
 Maybury, Susan Gail 302
 Mayer, Frank William 210
 Mayer, Jeffrey Thomas 302
 Mayer, Steven Frederick
 Mayes, Milton C.
 Mayfield, Carolyn Sherill
 Mayhew, Robert Timothy Michael Maynor, Barbara Ann 352
 Mayo, Linda Kay 321, 380
 Mayonada, David James
 Mays, Laurie Elizabeth 286
 Mazze, Eric Anton
 Mazure, Kathleen Louise
 Mazzuchelli, Michael Glenn
 McAllister, Lois Jean
 McAllister, Paul Burton
 McBeath, George Raymond 352
 McBratney, Sarah Perry
 McCaffrey, Donna Susan
 McCaffrey, Howard Thomas 111 212
 McCall, Dianne Lynn 302, 384
 McCall, Benny 23
 McCalla, Sheila Corolee
 McCann, Francis Michael McCann, Kevin
 McCarty, Cara Suzanne 302
 McCarthy, James Anthony

- Maadouf, Nada 190, 321
 Mabry, Sara Ellen 286
 MacArthur, Gordon Cameron 321
 MacAuley, David Mark
 Macawili, Wesley Gomez
 MacCagnan, Victor, Jr. 351
 MacColl, Deborah Lynn 286
 MacDonald, George Holland
 MacDonald, Heather Ann 180, 302
 Mace, Hayley Susan 168, 321
 MacGregor, Katherine Iris 286

Men's and Women's Distinctive Clothing

For Collectors of the Classics

Alexander Beegle
 OF VIRGINIA

207 Laskin Road, Virginia Beach
 Military Circle and Selden Arcade, Norfolk
 The Village Shops at Kingsmill, Williamsburg

Featuring a selection of fine silver, jewelry and crystal.

Between Scribner Bookstore and Binn's Fashions

The Silver Vault, Ltd.

427 Duke of Gloucester Street
 Williamsburg, Virginia 23185
 Phone 220-3777

Army ROTC helps put you ahead.

You've heard that before
So, make us prove it
We think we can

Army ROTC helps keep all your options open. That means a lot unless you're absolutely certain how you want to spend the rest of your life. It prepares you for success in both civilian and military careers.

How?
First and maybe
foremost Army ROTC
teaches you leadership.
Practical leadership. How to deal with and influence people, how to make things happen. Business and government always pay a premium for leadership!

While you take the Advanced Course, you also earn $100 per month.

That'll help pay your expenses.

You earn your commission while you earn your degree. The commission, by itself, testifies to your leadership abilities.
You have the option of an Army career with all the pay, prestige and travel opportunities of an officer.

There are plenty of other reasons why Army
ROTC makes sense for a young man or woman
determined to get ahead.
We'd like to tell you more.

Army ROTC

ROOM 1
BLOW GYMNASIUM

Phone: 253-4366

ARMY ROTC Learn what it takes to lead.

THE ALUMNI HOUSE

THE BOTETOURT BOUTIQUE

THE SPECIAL GIFTSHOP FOR WILLIAM AND MARY ITEMS

OPEN WEEKDAYS, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

McCarthy, James Francis
McCarthy, James Thomas
McCaughan, Mary Ann
McClanan, Martin Whitehurst 194
302
McClenne, Barbara Tilghman
McClenne, Elizabeth Gal 174, 352
McCleskey, Nathaniel Turk 371
McCleskey, Scott Clifflord 321
McClintock, John Scott 352
McCloskey, Christine Marie
McCloskey, Elizabeth Frances 286
McClure, Robert Alan
McCollough, Leland Wallace
McCollum, Beverly Faye 302
McCombs, Mary Amanda 168
McCord, Ann Meredith 286
McCord, Bradley T. 352, 382
McCoy, Barbara Lynne 164, 352
McCoy, Daniel Joseph, Jr. 208, 352
McCoy, Henry Banks, III 76, 321
McCoy, Teresa Faye 352
McCrae, Scott Stanawa 194, 302
McCraw, Elizabeth Adams 170
McCready, Andrew William
McCrory, James Willard 407
McCulla, Andrew Richard
McCullers, Ruth Elizabeth
McCullough, Sidas Alfred, III
McCurdy, Cathy Neil 352
McCurdy, David Arden
McCutchan, Stuart J. 352
McCutcheon, Mary Beth McDaniel, Dana Duane
McDaniel, James Frederick 286
McDaniel, Kelly Gwen 321
McDaniel, Rebecca Leigh 302
McDaniel, Richard F. dsm
McDaniels, Deborah Jo 286
McDuffett, Amy Sue 321
McDonald, Gabrielle Beth 286
McDonald, Gary Lee 352, 407
McDonald, Ingrid Elizabeth 166, 352
McDonald, John Francis
McDonald, Richard Timmins
McDonald, Susan Lee 286
McDonnell, James Richard
McDonnell, Sheila Lynn 184, 321
McDonough, Michael Cornelius 210
McDowell, David J. 194, 262
McDowell, Julie Ann
McDowell, Karen Margaret 172, 352
McDuffie, John Kevin
McEachern, Cheryl Elizabeth
McElhens, Gwendolyn Louise 352
McElligott, Susan Gavin 164, 321
McEnderfer, Katharine Louise 172,
352, 381
McEntee, Lawrence Joseph, Jr.
McFarlane, Peter Neil
McGaffey, Beth Constance 180
McGahren, Brian Joseph 302

McGahren, Kevin Michael 352, 380
McCaughy, Karin Lee
McGee, Douglas Patrick 302
McGee, John Divine, III 304, 407
McGee, William Casey
McGeorge, Stephanie Blair 286
McGettigan, Kevin James 200, 321
McGhee, Ellen Marie 286
McGimpsey, Diane Carole 180
McGinty, Michael Edward
McGlennon, John 233
McGlynn, Mark William
McGorin, Denise Marie
McGovern, Margaret Ann 196, 304
McGrath, Joy Ann 198
McGrath, Patrick Timothy 286
McGraw, Bradley Dwan
McGregor, Sarah Patterson 304
McGuire, Carol Ann 352
McHeffey, James Eugene 364
McHenry, John Joseph
McHugh, Manus Kevin 286
McHugh, Margaret Mary
McIlwaine, Susanna K. 380
McIlwaine, Thelma H.
McInerney, Anne Elizabeth 170
McKay, Douglas Kirby 352
McKee, Colleen Anne 170, 304
McKee, Wendy Cadwalader 176, 321
McKeeman, Susan Jane
McKeever, Kelly
McKenna, Kate Dylan 352
McKenna, Laura
McKenna, Robert Bruce
McKeon, James Kirk 352
McKinnon, Bill H.
McKrien, Alice 46
McLane, Shawn Creg 140
McLaughlin, Christine Louise 352
McLaughlin, Kevin John 304
McLaughlin, Nadine Louise
McLean, Michael John
McLeod, Elizabeth Helen 168, 352
McLeod, Thomas Lawrence
McLeskey, James Thomas, Jr.
McLester, Scott Geary
McMahon, Paul George
McManus, John Bryson
McManus, Mary Monica 180, 352
McManus, Michael Gerard 194, 304
McMenamin, David Ashley 304
McMillen, James Randall 321
McMillen, Paula Sue 286
McMillian, Rodney Dale 191
McMinn, Janet Marie 286
McMullin, Charles Taylor
McMurrer, Daphne Lucille 42, 172
McNally, Su Jer
McNeal, Anthony 304
McNeil, Daniel Arthur
McNulty, Janet Elizabeth 304
McParland, Patricia Alice 46

McPhaul, Anne Dacter
McQuilkin, Jeffrey James 212
McRae, Robert Charles 321
McReynolds, Joseph Andrew
McShane, Cornelius Michael
McTier, Robert Dinneen
McVicker, Melanie Rose 172, 352
McVos, Michael Arthur
McWilliams, Phil 194, 257
McWilliams, Sarah Margaret 164
Meade, Marsha Louise 286
Meade, Mary Ruth 286
Meagher, Michael Edmund 145
Meanev, Heather Charlotte
Meats, Druanne 352, 198
Mears, Lillian Daehann 286
Meers, William Carl, Jr.
Mee, Michael Anthony
Meehan, Brian Walter
Meehan, Laura Jean
Meehan, Paul Patrick
Meehan, Thomas Edward
Meell, Timothy Joseph
Meese, Alan James
Megale, Christopher Scott 212, 304
Mehuron, Kimberly Anne 352
Meidl, John Joseph
Meiers, Marjorie L.
Meils, Christine Marie 287
Meinhardt, Michael Benedict
Mennick, Elizabeth Anne 198
Meister, Shelley Rose 380
Mekan, Moazzam Ahmad 352
Melany, Michelle Lynn
Melchers, Gari Andrew 287
Melkin, Matthew William
Mellott, Deborah Lynn
Melton, Russell Wulfree
Melton, Tracy Matthew 210
Melville, Craig Arthur
Mendum, Mary Louise
Menefee, Mary Katherine
Mercado, Douglas Edward 304
Merck, Rebecca Jean
Meredith, Richard Vanzandt
Meredith, Sunshine Duke 170, 352
Mergner, William Harris, Jr.
Merrill, Linda J.
Merskine, James 287
Mertes, Sheila Eileen 182, 321, 380
Merwarth, Leigh Ann
Messenger, Mary Alice
Messick, Dale Edward
Mettler, Mary Elizabeth 265, 353
Metzner, William Joseph
Meyer, Judy Renee 353
Meyer, Kevin Richard
Meyer, Patricia A.
Meyer, Randall Paul
Meyer, Susan Karen 287
Meyers, Ann Louise
Meyers, Donald Eugene

Meyers, Terry 277
Meyers, Thomas Edward 200, 304
Michael, Daniel Lawrence 304
Michael, John Craig
Michaels, Hillary Ruth 42, 287, 407
Michaels, Lawrence Edward 353,
382, 407
Michelow, David Rudolph
Middlebrook, Todd Victor
Middleton, Donna L.
Middleton, Lisa Rose
Middleton, Robert Benjamin
Middleton, Robert W.
Middleton, Sharon Ann 180, 353
Mihalik, Marybeth
Mika, Andrew J.
Miland, James John
Miles, Andrea Joy 166, 353
Miles, Karen Covner
Miles, Thomas F. 194
Milkavich, Joan R.
Milkes, Ardianne Lynn 353
Milke, Steven Walter 304
Miller, Sally Ann
Miller, Elaine Young
Miller, Belinda Ellen 305
Miller, Beth Lee 80, 353, 381, 384
Miller, Bradley Tilford
Miller, Dana Snyder
Miller, Donna L.
Miller, Ericka Marie
Miller, Frederick Taylor
Miller, Graeme Bruce 186
Miller, Gregory Atwood 194
Miller, Jackie Story, Jr.
Miller, James Dewey
Miller, James E.
Miller, Julie Ray 287
Miller, Kristen Renee
Miller, Laura Beth
Miller, Lori Ann
Miller, Lori Sue
Miller, Monique Elizabeth 170, 353
Miller, Randy Lee
Miller, Richard John
Miller, Robert C.
Miller, Sharon A.
Miller, Steven Michael Miller, Willis Glen, Jr.
Milligan, Lisa Ann 353
Milligan, Mark Hunter 168
Mills, Jonathan Benson
Mills, Robert Hugh 194, 353
Milne, Luonda Gale 353
Min, Sung Ki
Mimer, Paul Stevens
Munzee, Susan C.
Munnich, Jodi Lynn 128, 129
Munnick, Jonathan Allen 212, 353
Munnix, Leslie Montague 353
Miranda, Richard James
Mirck, Carole Sue

Mir Khan, Mary-Shirin
Misage, Lisette 287
Mistele, Thomas Michael 305
Mitchell, Denise
Mitchell, Diane Lisaeth
Mitchell, Elza Louise 353
Mitchell, Gregory Jerome
Mitchell, John D.
Mitchell, Martin Lane
Mitchell, Mary Ann
Mitchell, Mary Louise 353
Mitchell, Patricia Ellen 170, 305
Mitchell, Robert Burklin
Mitchell, Sharon Swenk
Mitchell, Sheila Gregory
Mitchell, William Patrick 244, 354
Mitchell, Willie Herman 287
Mitrovic, John Andre 354
Mitsumata, Masatoki James
Mittiga, Mary Adele
Mo, Cheol
Moakley, Christopher John
Moffett, Deborah Perry 321, 381
Mohler, Debra Lee 305
Mohney, Marvin Ray
Mohney, Sharon Eileen
Mohr, Samuel Arnold
Mok, Camilla Lynn
Moslina, Hamid Hassanali 194
Molier, Elizabeth Anne 287
Molnar, Victoria Frances
Moloney, Joann Mary
Monfalcone, Laura Lennon 354
Mongram, Suzanne Elizabeth 287
Monhollon, John Pylant
Monhollon, Marsha Mae 255, 381
Monn, Mary Elizabeth 287
Monroe, Charles F.
Monroe, Edward Lee 212, 354
Montalto, Marie Daneen 196, 287
Montinoia, Juan Miguel Reyes 354
Montjoy, Conley Elizabeth
Montuori, David Alan 305
Moody, Dana Pearl 321
Moon, Anita Hye Jung
Moon, Cary Nelson, III
Moon, Catherine Avers 287
Moon, Ilrwong
Moon, Nicolette Slaton 321
Mooney, Doreen Ellen
Mooney, Michele Gene
Moore, Arlene Ann
Moore, Betty Ann 164, 305
Moore, Daniel D. II
Moore, Glenn Tyler
Moore, Joan Ruth
Moore, John C.
Moore, Kenneth Steven
Moore, Lonnie Carroll, Jr. 117, 186
Moore, Lucie Howard
Moore, Margaret Anne 176, 305
Moore, Margaret Ellis 354

Moore, Melanie Annette
 Moore, Melissa Jeanne 381
 Moore, Ronnie Fisher 186
 Moore, Sara Carolyn
 Moore, Steven Alton 354
 Moore, Theron Langford
 Moore, Thomas Harold
 Moore, Vicki Lou 288
 Moore, William T. P.
 Moosha, Kimberly Barnes 164, 305, 385, 407
 Moran, James Ellies, Jr. 321, 407
 Moran, Stacey Lynn
 Moravitz, Michael Lewis
 Moreau, Melanie Beatrice Martha
 Moreau, Stefanie Rae 196, 354
 Moreland, Carla Shaffer
 Moreland, Cindy Clare 371
 Moreland, James Michael 305
 Morgan, Barbara Gayle 371
 Morgan, Kendra 180, 305
 Morgan, Mary Katharine 288
 Morgan, Melanie Karvn
 Morgan, Sean Patrick
 Morgan, Vincent Craig 354
 Morikawa, Joshi 264
 Morina, Joseph Thomas
 Morini, Carol Ann
 Morison, Jennifer Lynn
 Morris, Brian Nelson
 Morris, Robin Rae 288
 Morrison, Elisabeth Shaw
 Morrison, Eric Kenneth 133, 305
 Morrison, James Scott 210
 Morrison, Kimberly Anne 351, 354
 Morrison, Matthew Shannon 321
 Morrow, Jane Elizabeth
 Morrow, Michele Denise 166, 196, 354, 382
 Morrow, Robert Scott
 Morse, Garry Wayne
 Morse, Roger Alan 212, 354
 Mortimer, Melissa Anne
 Morton, John Flood, IV 192, 200, 305
 Morton, Lawrence Raymond
 Mosby, Carolyn Lewis 385
 Mosby, Marlin Lacey
 Moser, Donald Keats
 Moser, Katherine 288
 Moses, Kimberly Ann 21, 288
 Mosher, Jeffrey John 212
 Mount, Brian Jeffrey 354
 Mountain, Martha Jean
 Moustafa, Mohamed Zaki
 Mowatt-Larssen, Eric
 Mowery, James Herman, III
 Mozingo, James Milton
 Mozley, Sally Robin
 Mueller, Loretta A.
 Muilenburg, Robert Gerrit
 Muir, Sheila E. 354
 Mulhall, Marguerite Patrice 184, 321
 Muller, Caroline Ann 196, 354, 380
 Muller, Sandra Lynn 164, 305
 Mulligan, Michael Mark
 Mullins, Alisa Marie 182, 305
 Mullins, Larry Keith
 Mullock, Daniel Clark
 Munden, Robert Joseph 186
 Mundorff, Gretchen Adele
 Munford, Morgan Alex 202
 Munro, Debra Kay 321
 Munroe, Thomas A.
 Munsev, Michael Reid
 Munthali, Rachel
 Murakami, Linda Yuri 355
 Murdock, Mark Wellington 321
 Murdock, Susan Ann 305
 Murphy, Barbara B.
 Murphy, Claire Annette
 Murphy, David Hall
 Murphy, Douglas Andrew 306
 Murphy, John Alec 288
 Murphy, John Scott
 Murphy, Kathleen Anne
 Murphy, Kenneth Shae 355
 Murphy, Michael John
 Murphy, Patrice
 Murphy, Thomas Howard
 Murphy, Thomas Joseph 210, 355
 Murrav, Charles Spencer, Jr. 195, 200, 201, 380
 Murrav, David Frank
 Murrav, Laura
 Murrav, Matthew Sweetman 355
 Musciano, Suzanne Marie 198, 321
 Muse, Melissa Lynn 306
 Musick, Sally Ann 321, 380, 381
 Musselman, J. Rodney
 Musser, Jan Christina
 Mustacchia, James Nicholas
 Musto, William A. 118, 321
 Muten, Erik Olaf
 Mutti, Michael Charles Chase 321
 Mvatic, Ronald George 355
 Myers, Arthur Vinton
 Myers, Christopher Robert 380
 Myers, Douglas Ericsson
 Myers, Eric Tipton
 Myers, Kathleen Ann 233, 235, 385
 Myers, Mark Gordon
 Myers, Thomas Wayne 288
 Myks, Christs Renee
 Myrom, Melinda J.

Naajtes, Lori L. 355
 Nabory, Truman Alan 39, 178
 Nagel, Carla Lynne
 Nagle, David E.
 Namkung, Min
 Nanni, Anita Marie
 Naramore, Barbara Lynn
 Naphy, William 371
 Nash, Cynthia Lynn 355
 Nass, Daniel Arthur
 Natsios, Karen Elizabeth
 Navarro, Sylvia Chandri 198, 288
 Nazak, Jennifer Lynn 170
 Neal, Anne Carter
 Neal, Bonnie Lynn 170, 306
 Neal, Elizabeth Tankard 306
 Nealon, Joseph P.
 Neary, John David 200, 306
 Nebergall, Peter Jonathan 351, 355
 Nedrow, Norma Jean 288
 Nef, Patricia Ann
 Neider, Karin Jean 306
 Neil, Douglas Gordon 200, 288
 Neil, Peter Herbert
 Nelms, Jeffrey Neal 206, 288
 Nelms, John David 194, 355
 Nelson, Carlton
 Nelson, Dale S.
 Nelson, Debbie Gave 182, 288
 Nelson, George Edward
 Nelson, Helane Marie 288
 Nelson, John Kennedy
 Nelson, Richard Jay
 Nelson, Steven Conrad
 Nelson, Susan B. 385
 Nemith, Brenda Gould
 Ness, David Garner 206
 NESTE, Jane Elizabeth 288
 Nettles, Brvar Chappell
 Nettles, John Gregory 186, 306
 Nettles, Kathryn Carter 355
 Neuhauser, John Willard
 Neves, Peter David 194
 Nevlud, Anne Barbara 306
 Newbury, Lynn 288
 Newcomb, David Ray
 Newland, Barr Gary
 Newman, Cara Allison 82, 306
 Newman, John Robert, Jr. 355
 Newman, Kendall Joseph
 Newman, Robert Ferrell
 Newman, Shonra Clare
 Newman, Susan Ann
 Newport, Jon Stuart
 Newsom, Martha Elizabeth 36, 164, 355, 385
 Newson, Perry Young
 Newson, Tracie Snyder
 Newton, Bambi Lynn 306
 Newton, Gail Brooke 385
 NGO, Adeline Hwang
 Ni, Yuan-Biau
 Nichols, Edwin Creighton 306
 Nichols, Gail Marie
 Nicholson, Harry James
 Nicholson, Terry Keith 355
 Nickerson, Gary Wayne
 Nickerson, Sandra Kay
 Nicklin, William Sonner 288
 Nicol, Robert James 178, 355, 380
 Nicotra, John Joseph
 Niemiec, Melanie Diane
 Niezgodna, Deborah Anne 321
 Nikolic, Nikola Andrew
 Nimo, John Alexis 288
 Nissly, Nedric Lee
 Nitschke, Randall Mark
 Nitschke, Sally 184
 Nix, James Henry
 Nixon, Richard Dean
 Noble, Thomas John
 Noffsinger, Denise Larae 321
 Noffsinger, David Clifton
 Noland, Royce Paul, Jr.
 Norcross, Brenda L.
 Nordstrom, Clyde William
 Nordstrom, Dennis E. 355
 Nordstrom, Karen Lee
 Norehad, David Christopher
 Norman, Judith Marie 168, 355
 Norris, Deborah Ann 196, 206, 355
 Norris, Frances Virginia
 Norris, James Michael
 Norris, Jody 184, 306
 Norris, Mary Christine
 Norris, Michael Fisev
 Norris, Todd William 204
 Norrod, Caleen Frances 172
 North, Gregory David
 North, Gretchen Barlow
 Norwood, Whitney Lee 168
 Notel, Christine Jeanne 215, 355
 Nuckles, Nancy Elizabeth 182, 355
 Nuckols, Betsy
 Nuckols, Karen Lee 265, 321
 Nuckols, Melody Carter 355
 Nugent, Diane Marie
 Nugent, Paula Claire 306
 Nums, Kelly Lee
 Nygaard, David Eric 265

O'Brien, John Joseph
 O'Brien, Kathy Lynn
 O'Grady, John Brad
 O'Hara, Charles Joseph
 Oakley, Miriam Kay 182, 321
 Oakley, Tamara Jane
 Oates, Gregory Roderick
 Obadal, Nancy Marie 168
 Obata, Mary Grace 321
 Obensham, Sarah Adair
 O'Brien, Elizabeth 306
 O'Brien, Joanne Margaret 355
 O'Brien, Karen Linda
 O'Brien, Lisa Ann 288
 O'Brien, Nancy Jean 306
 O'Brien, Nancy Margaret
 O'Brien, Susan Mary 888
 O'Brien, Thomas Wolfgang
 O'Brien, Timothy Clyde
 O'Brien, William Ross 288
 Obuchowski, Matthew Thomas 288
 Ockreider, Susan Kay
 O'Connell, Marcia Lidell 355, 381
 O'Conner, Timothy Michael 288
 O'Connor, Frederick Thomas
 O'Connor, John E.
 Oddo, David Paul 212
 Odiaga, Marco Fernando
 Odum, Stephen Farrell 321, 385
 Odonohue, Daniel John
 Odonohue, John Michael Ofield, Mary Elizabeth 385
 Oglesby, Penny E. 321
 Oghine, Fred Leland 306
 Ogrady, Kelly Jean
 Ohler, Lisa Allison 288
 OKeefe, Jeanne Marie 321
 O'Keefe, Kevin Cornelius 306
 O'Keefe, Kristine Maura 288
 O'Keefe, Richard George
 O'Keefe, Terrence Robert
 O'Keefe, John Patrick
 Okerstrom, Lori K. 355
 Okeson, Lars Gunnar 194
 Olenich, Matthew Walter 321
 Oliver, Craig Thomas
 Olsen, Karen Ingrid 288
 Olsen, Michael Jon
 Olsen, Paul Michael Olson, Scott Bradley
 Olson, Christopher Michael Olson, James Arthur
 Omohundro, James Peers
 Onder, Neemie Sedef 288
 Ondis, Catherine Berwind 176
 Oneal, Karen Elaine
 Oneill, Julie Gay 198, 306
 Onke, Lauren Elizabeth
 Ord, John Ellwood
 Oreilly, Timothy Patrick
 Orenstein, Judith Ellen Organ, Craig Paul, Jr.
 Orgel, Steven Gary
 Orr, Harold A.R.
 Orr, Joanne Marie 288
 Orr, Lynne Hamilton
 Orrell, Brantley Swann
 Orrell, Eve Shartle
 Ortiz, Carlos Francisco 178, 355
 Osborne, James Lee Edward
 Osborne, Sally Ann 355
 Oshaughnessy, Kevin John
 Oskoui-Fard, Parva 355, 381
 Oskoui-Fard, Pevma 355, 381
 Osler, Mark William 73
 Oslin, David Wayne
 O'Sullivan, Jean Mary
 Ota, Barry J. 178
 Otis, Marion Blinier
 Othoson, Eric G.
 O'Toole, William
 Ottaway, John Palmer, III 206
 Ottinger, Deborah Ann 321
 Otto, Silvia Cristina 164, 306
 Overstreet, Beth Ann 288
 Overy, Richard Dennis Thomas
 Owen, Andrea R.
 Owen, Brandon Gerald 206, 306
 Owen, Cheryl Lynn 288
 Owen, Roderic I.
 Owens, Collins Leonard, Jr.
 Owens, Kathy Gear
 Owens, Robert Gerard 306
 Ozmorc, Shari Ellen 321

Packer, Nancy Elizabeth 170, 355
 Packman, Deborah Ann 198, 306
 Paddock, Gregory Lynn 204, 355
 Padgett, Kathryn Ann 321
 Pafford, Ellen Adair
 Page, John E., II
 Page, Walton Johnson, Jr. 380, 384
 Paige, Mark R.
 Painter, John Adam 312
 Parsley, Beaumante
 Pak, Nosuk 355
 Palmer, Barbara 381
 Palmer, Carolyn
 Palmer, Helen Towles 182, 356
 Palmer, Jeffrey Neil
 Palmer, Joan Marie 306
 Palmer, Kathy Marie
 Palmer, Richard 77
 Palmes, Guy Kevin 306
 Paloski, Paul S., Jr. 371
 Palumbo, James John 337
 Pandak, Valerie 164, 321
 Panoff, Stephen Edward 246
 Pantelidis, Thalia
 Pao, Jui-Lian
 Paoillo, Cynthia Ann
 Paozinho, Thomas Franklin
 Papajohn, Christopher John
 Papaha, Jean Louise
 Paradis, Christine Yvonne 113, 176
 Parash, W. Paul
 Parham, Karol Renee
 Parham, Sandra Ellen 288
 Parisi, Raymond John, Jr. 321
 Park, Gregory Kee Hwa 212, 356
 Park, Linda Suzanne
 Parker, Amy Watson 288
 Parker, David
 Parker, Elizabeth Heath 306
 Parker, Gary Marsh
 Parker, Jeannette Elaine 288
 Parker, Susan Bowen
 Parker, William Melvin, Jr.
 Parker, William Thomas 321
 Parkhill, Barry 94
 Parkhill, Bruce 147
 Parkin, Deborah Lee
 Parks, Donald Lambert 321
 Parks, Pete 264
 Parks, William, II 230, 356, 380
 Parmele, Richard Everett
 Parr, Emily Shawn 356
 Parr, Monica Lea
 Parsons, Edward F.
 Pastel, Mary Jane
 Pasteris, Susan Louise 306
 Pastore, David Michael 321
 Pastore, Joseph Gerard 306
 Pastore, Lora Ann 356
 Pastore, Mary Elizabeth 356, 381
 Pastrick, Sandra Lynn 198, 306, 381
 Patane, Ann M.
 Pate, Peggy Ellen 356
 Pate, Susan Lori 180, 356
 Patash, Lawrence A. 288
 Patrick, Michael Harris
 Pattee, Suzanne Ruth 164, 306
 Patterson, Kathleen Aisa 288
 Patterson, Archie Jay, II
 Patterson, Catherine Frances 288
 Patterson, Lowell Horace, III
 Patterson, Patsy Annette
 Patts, Janice Ann
 Paul, Chris Arthur
 Paul, Lawrence Mark
 Paul, Karen C.
 Paul, Donna L.
 Pavlor, Mary Rebecca 356
 Payne, Cheryl C.
 Payne, David Romie 380
 Payne, Samuel Kirk 200, 306
 Peabody, Thomas William
 Pearce, Leann Carter 180, 356
 Pearl, David Russell
 Pearsall, Pamela Elizabeth 184, 306
 Pearson, Cynthia Luing 321
 Pearson, Lorraine Geraldine
 Pearson, Jana Kathleen
 Pearson, William Tabb
 Peav, Mason Andrew 306
 Peav, Spring Erica 356
 Peck, David Collins
 Peebles, Pamela C.
 Peete, Linda Judith
 Peery, Bryan Franklin 288
 Pemberton, Michael Arthur 306
 Pena, Juan Manuel
 Pennington, Elizabeth Jane 184
 Pennington, Linwood Hagan
 Penland, Mary Andrea
 Pennell, Linda Louise
 Penney, Anne Elizabeth
 Penney, James V. 371
 Penney, Kathryn Jeanne 170
 Pennington, Penny Oakley 306
 Penry, James David 371
 Penola, Carol Ann
 Penrose, Gary Steven
 Peple, Edward Gordon III
 Peple, Jane Malloy
 Peppic, Teravie Michelle 288
 Peremes, Nancy Ellen
 Peter, Rexey Nancy Ellen
 Perkins, Cynthia Ann 196
 Perkins, Harvey William

Perkins, Randall Ambrose, III 202
 Perkowski, Matthew Eaton
 Perper, Melanie Rose 184, 306
 Perrine, William Chadwick
 Perry, Debra Fayre 208, 271, 288
 Perry, Donna Lynne 306
 Perry, Gregory Thomas
 Perry, James Michael
 Perry, John Edward
 Perry, Lenore W.
 Perry, Monica Leah 214, 251, 306
 Perry, Nancy S.
 Perzichell, Pamela Jane 356, 384
 Peters, Amy Eliza 356, 407
 Peters, Rise Jean 356
 Peters, Susan Lynn
 Peterson, Barbara Anne 321, 356, 381
 Peterson, Eric David
 Peterson, James Howard 306
 Peterson, Paul Eric
 Peterson, Susan Elizabeth 184
 Pettit, Tracy Lynn 321
 Petree, David Larcomb 306
 Petres, Frances Ann 288
 Petri, Steven Richard
 Petrie, Douglas John
 Petrograd, Patra
 Pettv, Dwayne Kevin 306
 Pezzella, Harris Joseph 306
 Pfirman, Christopher Keith
 Pflughrath, Peter Kirk 206
 Pforr, Cameron Dean
 Phan, Thoavon
 Phelan, Patricia L.
 Phelps, Mary Catherine 288, 407
 Phillips, Janet M. 357, 381
 Phillips, Bruce A. 200, 321
 Phillips, Daniel Paul 288
 Phillips, Dawn Grifton
 Phillips, Emelie L.
 Phillips, Glenn Jean 288
 Phillips, Jennifer Marie 288
 Phillips, Karen Lee 75
 Phillips, Kevin Michael 178
 Phillips, Martha Ann 321
 Phillips, Michael Edward
 Phillips, Robin Noel
 Phillips, Scott Curtis 357
 Phillips, William Clarke
 Phillos, Akryvoulia
 Philpott, Sharon Kay 306
 Phlips, Jonathan Everett
 Phlips, Margery Sue 357
 Picciano, Laura
 Piculo, Saveria Teresa
 Picken, Scott Lisle 321
 Pickens, Eric Lee
 Pickett, Regan Christie
 Pickenpaugh, Lori Ann 196, 406
 Pickrel, Jan Marie 176, 321
 Pickrell, James McCaw, Jr.
 Pierce, Christine Louise 322
 Pierce, Donna Hope
 Pierides, George Cyprian
 Pierson, Frances Laura
 Pierson, Myra M.
 Pierson, Noah Ross 288
 Pietrasanta, Robert L.
 Pihland, Elyn Page
 Pihland, Robert Stanley, III
 Pimental, Rochele August
 Pine, Jeremy 13
 Pines, Andrew Ricks 357
 Pingleton, Susan Frances
 Pipan, Mary Ellen 257
 Piper, Amy L. 176
 Piscatelli, Pamela Joy 288
 Pitman, John M.
 Pittman, Mary Katherine
 Pizza, Dominick Vincent
 Placke, Stephen Michael Plazcek, Walter Holton 357
 Planas, Rita Maria
 Planer, Rudy Will 322
 Plante, Laura Kathleen
 Plaster, Henry Garnet 200
 Platt, Elizabeth 182, 322
 Platt, Leigh Cheney
 Platt, David Peter
 Plotz, Rachel Elaine
 Poksik, Stephanie 381
 Pommerville, Martha Martin
 Pontier, Jean-Marie
 Ponsiak, Susan Cameron 371
 Polcastro, Stephen John
 Polidoro, Joseph Richard
 Polk, Cary Foraine 288
 Pollard, Jessica L.
 Pollard, Lisa Ann 322
 Pollard, Mary Kay
 Pollok, Karen Elizabeth 168, 357
 Ponia, John Michael 288
 Pomerantz, Bruce Steven
 Pommerring, Philip Andrew 288
 Pomponio, Carol Patricia 188
 Poms, Craig Alan 206, 357
 Poms, Keith Bryan
 Pond, Jesse Earl, III
 Pond, Mary Jane
 Pontz, Robert William
 Pool, Edward Fuller, Jr.
 Poon, Jennifer Lee
 Pope, Emma Jane 288
 Popman, Flame M.
 Porter, Michael James
 Porter, Caitlin Jennifer 321
 Porter, Donna Lynne 306
 Porter, Janet Anne
 Porter, Lisa Ellen
 Porter, Virginia Louise
 Postnow, John 257
 Potter, Barbara Ann 371
 Potter, Kathryn Brew
 Poulson, David Mar 306

No order too big or too small, Stadium Oil delivers it all!

One or one thousand... S.O.S. will deliver the gallons of oil you need! Stadium Oil Sales... at your service for 50 years.

Discount to Senior Citizens
Discount for cash or prompt payment

Stadium Oil Sales, Inc.

229-2877

Toano/564-3345

Poulsen, Donna Rebecca
Poureaux, Catherine Nancy
Powell, Antonia Marie
Powell, Elizabeth Lee 198, 306
Powell, Elizabeth Maynard
Powell, Ina Susan 80, 322, 384
Powell, James David 271
Powell, James Spaulding
Powell, Jeffrey O
Powell, Julia Coleman
Powell, Katherine Elizabeth 176, 357
Powell, Katherine Elizabeth 306
Powell, Kenneth F
Powell, Laurie Anne 322
Powell, Michael Kevin 212, 306
Powell, Richard Edward, Jr
Powers, Thomas B
Powis, Patricia Maria 357, 384
Prasch, Virginia Mary 168
Pratt, Andrew Damian 357, 381
Pratt, Anne Moore 385
Pratt, James Boggs 284
Press, Sandra Kaye 289
Prevate, Alice Ann 322
Pridl, Stephen Douglas 322
Price, Christopher Harry
Price, David Andrew 357, 380, 382
Price, James Edward
Price, Jameson Kent 77, 357
Priceman, Janet 45
Priddy, Samuel Vernon, III
Prillaman, Stephanie Owings
Prillaman, Trace Simone 306
Prince, Emily Laferro 75, 357, 363
Prince, Paul Edmond 322
Priolo, Karen Lorraine 357
Prior, Barbara Ann
Prislev, Elizabeth Sarah 357, 381
Proctor, Hester Williamson
Promo, Lorna M
Prowser, Deborah Irene
Prowser, Sean 178
Prowser, William Henry
Prutt, David Lee 357
Prybela, Tamara 357
Ptyor, Jill Anne
Prypsizyn, Mark K
Pszczynski, Anthony Lagaropolos
Puckett, Ryland Eugene
Pugh, Melanie
Pughs, Lovelace Wavne 357
Pughs, Michael Joseph
Pughs, Regina Marie
Pulju, John Michael Pulley, Louise Bradshaw
Pulley, Lydia Rose 184, 306
Punjabi, Akesh Ramprakash
Punjabi, Vina V
Prucell, Christopher Kelly
Prucell, Karen Budchik
Purds, Dana Kristine
Purrrington, Elizabeth Whitaker
Putnam, Lynn Colby 289
Pvon, Song Lim

Quaghano, John Romolo 322
Quaghano, Peter Vincent 289
Qualls, F Lee 186, 357
Quartana, Christopher Jon 80, 357
Quick, Victoria Jean 196, 357, 381
Quigley, Barbara Ann 357
Quigley, Joseph John
Quinn, Robert I Jr 357, 381, 384
Quincy, Michael I
Quinlan, Timothy Michael
Quinn, Anne M 322
Quinn, Barbara Louise 306
Quinn, Colleen Marie 172, 306
Quinn, Kathleen Joslyn 322
Quittmever, Charles 33, 277
Quynn, Anne Sewall 184, 357

Rabenberg, Kimberly Morrow
Raby, Shelly Ann 198, 289
Rackliffe, Dianne Louise
Rackliffe, Cynthia Lee 184, 357
Rackliffe, Elizabeth Ann
Raddav, Elizabeth 306
Raddav, Michael
Radell, Lianne Renee 289
Raffaele, Kimberly Jo 289
Raffertis, Moura Anne 306
Raghumathan, Vanamali
Ragland, Louise C 385
Ragland, Mark Bryan 236, 289
Ragland, Teresa Lynn 357
Ragunas, Kathleen E
Raines, Donna Marie 170
Raley, Kathleen Marie 357, 381
Raley, Marjorie Ann 322
Rambow, Stephen Frederick 381
Ramey, David Kirk 194
Ramey, Gwendolyn Denise 357
Ramon, Lourdes Maria 170, 322
Ramsay, James Streeter 306
Ramsey, Matthew Andrew 194
Ramsey, Robert Dennis 322

Ramsey, Sherris Lynelle 322
Rand, Hugh A
Randall, Edith Laverne
Randall, Richard Del 385
Randall, Yvonne Simon 385
Ransone, Leshe Fullet 385
Ransone, Sterling Neblett, Jr 200, 289
Ranzini, Paul Lange 81, 358
Raper, Anne Jarrell 289
Raper, Porter Gwynn 75, 322
Rapp, Thomas Anil 306
Rapuano, Kenneth Francesco 306
Rasco, Tina 257
Rasco, Christina Marie 180, 289
Rasmic, John Paul 358
Rattray, James B
Rauch, Thyra L
Rauen, James Andrew
Rauning, Deborah Ann
Rausch, Michael Patrick
Rauscher, Frederick Joseph, Jr 257, 284, 323
Ravinsky, Alyse Ann 129
Rawson, Katherine Wales 407
Rawson, Tohey Anne 172, 385
Raymond, Laurie Clark 323
Rayner, Raymond Paul, Jr
Reagan, Mark Andrew 75
Reagle, Amy Fithian 264
Reardon, Ann Marie
Reaves, Lynn Kerwin
Rebollo, Anthony Ernest
Rebstock, John Steven 358
Reckmeier, Kristina Maria
Reddy, Patricia Anne
Redweik, Anita Meta Jo
Reed, Janet Lynn 306
Reed, Jonathan Henry
Reed, Kathleen Mary
Reed, Lane Richardson 380
Reed, Mark Norman
Reed, Sharon 19
Reed, Theresa Consolvo
Reel, Ronald Glen 371
Reese, Catherine Ann 358
Reeves, Cheryl Marie 196, 323
Reeves, Harold Windal, Jr 323
Regan, Cynthia Catherine
Regan, Michael J
Reich, Amy Carolyn 358
Reichard, Diane Edwards
Reid, Carter Burwell
Reid, John William
Reid, Mary Courtney 323
Reidenbach, Jennifer Ann
Reigel, Ernest William
Reihansperger, Heidi Ann 184, 289
Reil, Mark Joseph
Reiley, John Edward, Jr
Reiley, Robert Werner
Reilly, Donald John 82
Reilly, Joseph Vincent
Reilly, Susan Anne 289
Reinhold, Ronald K
Remler, Helga Friederike
Rendleman, John Raymond
Renshaw, Kar Lynn 80, 289
Rentz, Michael John 323
Renwick, Lynn Robm
Repke, Scott William 138, 165
Resugno, Peter James
Resolute, Albert Joseph, III 202
Restivo, Diane Elizabeth
Reuben, Jane Samuelle 306
Revell, Robin S
Revere, James Hall, III

Rexrode, Sandra Jean
Reyher, Maria
Reynard, Linda Elizabeth 265, 323, 385
Reynolds, David Scott 178, 323, 356
Reynolds, Elizabeth Cabel
Reynolds, Frank Kevin 358
Rhein, David Robert
Rhodes, Kimberley Ann
Ribar, Cheryl L
Ribar, David Christopher
Ribeiro, Agostinho Joseph
Ricci, John
Rice, Beverly Arnette
Rice, Dana Lynne
Rice, Kimberly Carol
Rice, Lesa Mary 172, 289
Rich, Carol Ruth
Rich, Jennifer Lee
Rich, William Jennings 358
Richard, Johanna Carol 196, 381
Richards, Stephen Anthony 289
Richardson, Barrett Rives
Richardson, Donna L
Richardson, Eric John
Richardson, Julie Lynn
Richardson, Karen Renee 172, 306
Richardson, Kathryn Joyce 289
Richardson, Kevin Wayne 98
Richardson, Mark Benton
Richardson, Shelley Kay
Richardson, Suzanne Lee 384, 358
Richter, Edwin Hiram 407
Richter, Anne Patrice 358
Richter, Scott Hayes
Rickenbach, Robert Tyson
Rickman, Oscar Smith, Jr
Riddle, J Mark 358
Riedel, Christine W
Riggan, Douglas Allen 289
Riggenbach, William Vaughan
Riggus, Mary Hunter
Riggle, Melinda Ann 184
Riley, Julie Ann
Rilling, Wendy Leigh 358, 381
Rinaldi, Mark Gunnar
Rios, Adriana V 358
Ripley, Sally Bryant
Ripple, G Gary 278
Ritter, Linda Sue 182, 233, 323
Rivers, Walter Eugene
Rizzi, Douglas A
Rizzo, Philip Joseph
Rizzo, William M
Ro, Sob Yeong
Roak, Christopher Dale
Roark, Colleen Renee
Roaseau, Mary Lou
Robbins, Dawn Christine 358
Robbins, Donald Mills 206
Roberson, Ann Merrick 358, 384, 407
Roberson, Charles Scott
Roberson, Diane Leigh 289
Roberts, Amy Renee 289
Roberts, David Michael 358
Roberts, Gretchen Marie
Roberts, James Alfred 194
Roberts, Kimberly Paige 289
Roberts, Marcia K
Roberts, Pamela Lynn 358
Roberts, Paul Douglas 323
Roberts, Polly Elizabeth 170, 264, 323
Roberts, Susan Chandler
Robertson, Charles Daniel
Robertson, James Craig 56, 358

Robertson, John Christian 194
Robertson, Karen Elizabeth
Robertson, Lisa Ann 172, 290
Robertson, Louise L
Robertson, Stephen Clawson
Robins, Andrew Murray
Robins, Kevin Patrick 358, 380
Robinson, Allan Cushman, III
Robinson, Charles Arthur, II
Robinson, Cynthia
Robinson, Darryl
Robinson, Edward Barnes 186
Robinson, Kenneth Jerome
Robinson, Lee Ann 184, 323
Robinson, Lisa Marie
Robinson, Lorleen Elana 358
Robinson, Shirley
Robinson, Suzanne Elizabeth 290
Robinson, William Guionton
Robusto, Michael Anthony
Roche, Colleen Marie 306
Roche, Mary Ann
Rodgers, Catherine Ann
Rodgers, John Hunter
Roe, Deborah Seaver
Roeder, Valerie Jean 306
Roersch, Betsy Taylor
Rogers, Jennifer Hope 168, 358
Rogers, Mark Morgan 323
Rogers, Rebecca Allen 184
Rogich, Kenneth Blair 194, 290
Roh, Jav Hyung
Rohrer, Douglas Matthew
Rokicki, Stephen Paul
Rolen, Stanley Michael 358
Roller, Frank Coiner
Rollins, Janet Lynn 82
Rohsch, Helen Jan
Romano, Sebastian Vincent, III
Romness, Mark Joseph 212, 358
Romvak, Alan George
Ronayne, Kelly Peter
Rooney, Joseph Lawrence, Jr.
Roorda, Eric Paul 75, 224, 358
Rosa, Ricardo Desouza
Rose, Julia Margaret 180
Rose, Farris Dean
Rose, Patricia Anne 323
Rosenbaum, Amy Lynn
Rosenbaum, Terry Louise 168
Rosenberry, Lynn Marie 358
Ross, Amy Ann
Ross, Linda Romaine 323
Roughton, Robin Laura
Routson, Clint Douglas
Rowe, Laurie Haig
Rowe, Mary C
Rowe, Philip Todd 323
Rowe, Richard Alan 323
Rowland, Robert Richard, Jr
Rowland, Roney, III 200, 201, 358
Rowland, Thomas Anthony
Rowlett, Randy Barham 323, 384
Rowley, David D 202
Roy, Roger Charles, R 306
Royal, Frederick Louis, Jr
Rover, Christopher William
Rozamus, Leonard Walter, Jr.
Rozzi, Mark Richard
Rubl, Alicia Elizabeth
Rubin, David Charles 202
Rubin, Rochelle Elizabeth
Rubin, Shari Jean
Rubin, Susan 358, 380
Rucker, Alvne Claire Tristen 323
Rudd, Joseph Gary 178
Rudiger, David Scott

- Rudolph, Wendy Susan 172, 255, 307
 Rueckert, George Randolph
 Ruenes, Albert, Jr. 210, 323
 Ruether, Michaela Diana 185
 Ruffin, Carolyn Jean 323
 Ruffner, Glenn Irvin 358
 Ruffner, Karen M. 358
 Ruggari, Janice Marie
 Ruhnk, Volko Fabian
 Ruhr, Charles Eric
 Ruiz, Sylvia Patricia 323
 Ruland, Charles Michael 202, 381
 Ruoff, Tracy Alison
 Rupert, David Alan 359
 Rusnak, Irene M.
 Russ, Alice Louise 359
 Russ, Clarence Austin, Jr.
 Russell, Nancy A.
 Russell, Rebecca Louise 198, 323, 407
 Russo, Philip Lee, Jr.
 Russo, Teresa Lynn 307
 Ruszler, Linda May
 Ruth, Martha Joy
 Rutledge, Terrell Lynn 359
 Ryan, Leslie Mav
 Ryan, Mark Joseph
 Ryan, Marv Catherine
 Ryan, Matthew D. 194
 Ryan, Michael Gerard
 Ryan, Patrick Edward 200
 Ryan, Paul Herrick
 Ryan, Robert L.
 Ryan, William Thomas
 Ryder, Barry Keith
 Ryder, Christopher Marun
 Ryer, Clifford Henry
 Ryer, Jeffrey Allen
 Rverson, Nina
 Rverson, Thomas Bleha
 Rvon, Joan Elizabeth
 Ryther, Richard H.
- Safon, David Michael 323, 380, 382, 385
 Sahakian, Hedy Lina 290
 Sailer, Christopher Davie 290
 Saine, Mark Greer
 Sala, Beth Ann 168, 359
 Saldutti, Gregg Michael
 Sales, Norman B.
 Salisbury, Linda Johnson
 Salita, Adrian Charles
 Salmon, Karen Grace 290
 Salo, Darlene Frances 323
 Salter, Steve 235
 Saltzman, Michael Jacob
 Samek, Barbara M. Burlingame
 Samilson, Lori Ann
 Samuel, Rebecca Grace 172, 290
 Samuels, Donald Lee
 Samuels, Lisa Nell
 Sanders, George Robert, Jr.
 Sanders, Jeffrey Leroy 115, 116, 186
 Sanders, Patricia Anne 182, 359
 Sandler, Kenneth Alan
 Sandv, Kimberly Gail
 Sanner, Jill Elizabeth 196
 Sanner, Timothy Kevin 257, 280
 Sansone, Angela Marie
 Santamour, Gretchen Mary
 Santanna, Keila Marins
 Santilli, Ann Margaret 290
 Sargent, Matthew C.
 Sartelle, Richard Frederick
 Sartorius, Christopher William
 Satterley, James Raymond 150, 359
 Sattler, David Alan
 Sauberman, Roy Burton
 Saunders, Paul Christopher
 Saunders, Robert James 359
 Saunders, Sarah Lee
 Sausser, Mark Charles
 Savage, Emma Lou
 Savage, Malcolm Brooks, Jr.
 Savino, Denise Elaine 72, 359
 Savino, Jeffrey Michael
 Savino, Stephen Victor
 Savove, Charles Baker
 Sav, John Clifford
 Saylor, Carolyn Dorothy 359
 Scaff, George Eckert 178
 Scaife, John Hall
 Scalera, Catherine Mary
 Scanlan, Sheila Maree
 Scanlon, David Michael
 Scarborough, Julia Barham
 Scarlata, Jodi Grace 359, 380, 384
 Scarbo, Daniel Shawn
 Scarroer, Brian 210
 Schaeffer, Suzanne Rebecca 164, 307
 Schaffer, Tanva Gail
 Schardt, Thomas Dorn
 Scharf, Kristine Marie
 Scharpf, Susan Julia 307
 Schaum, Kent Wesley
 Schechter, Eileen Joyce 182, 290
 Schechter, Susan I.
 Schecter, Susan Anne
 Scherzinger, Richard
 Scherer, Edward Underwood, III 210
 Scherif, Susan Katherine
 Schiefer, Valerie Elizabeth 307
 Schiess, James Robert
 Schifano, Joseph V.
 Schif, Gordon Joseph
 Schiffman, Stuart David
 Schipper, Beth Susan
 Schisa, John Brooks 212
 Schleider, Marcelle Frances
- Schlick, Joseph Jordan
 Schloesser, Sven 208
 Schlosser, Rossi M.
 Schmehl, Robert Louis, Jr.
 Schmidt, Corinne A. 359, 380
 Schmidt, Douglas Craig
 Schmidt, Gretchen Ann 307
 Schmidt, Louise Anna
 Schmidt, Robert Daniel 359
 Schmitt, Elizabeth Lynn 307
 Schmitz, Patricia Ann 359
 Schmulling, Sherry Eileen 180, 359, 381
 Schneider, Gregory Scott
 Schneider, Michael Jay 178, 359
 Schneider, Michael Paul
 Schneider, Paul Daniel 360
 Schneppat, Gigi Desree 307
 Schober, Charles Pearson
 Schober, Bruce Paul 385
 Schoedel, Thomas Lawrence
 Schom, Cave 210
 Schonfeld, Michael Alan
 Schooley, Linda Maria 168, 290
 Schooner, Steven Lawrence
 Schoonmaker, Monique Leigh 307
 Schorr, David Arthur
 Schott, Lawrence Wayne 307
 Schriener, Herbert Albert 307
 Schroeder, Robert Scott 323, 385
 Schueller, Jo-Anne 307
 Schuette, Richard Francis
 Schulke, Denise Joy 290
 Schulte, Mark Joseph
 Schultz, Catherine Grae 104
 Schultz, Mava Phan
 Schupper, Robin Lori
 Schwager, Deborah Sue
 Schwartz, Kathleen Anne 360
 Schwartz, Lisa Kaulani 360
 Schwarzkopf, Joan Elizabeth
 Schweigaard-Olsen, Clark 384
 Schweitzer, Karen Ann 360
 Schweitzer, Stephen Adrian
 Scifres, C. Grigsby
 Scofield, Karl Edmond
 Scott, Brian Jerome 323
 Scott, Carolyn Jean 360
 Scott, David Mark
 Scott, Gretchen C.
 Scott, Julie Ann 210, 307
 Scott, Larry Joe
 Scott, Pamela Jean
 Scott, Robert Dean
 Scott, Robert Leonard 360, 385
 Scott, William Cooper 194, 382, 384
 Scudder, Harold S.
 Seal, Robert Kimball 323
 Seamon, David Walter 360
 Sequist, Colleen Mary
 Searle, Ann Boyd 307, 381
 Seel, Ronald Thomas 360
 Seeley, Gary 204
 Seeley, James Browning 263
 Seeley, Jeffrey Anderson
 Seelman, Richard Lee
 Sehen, Carl Edward, Jr. 360
 Selden, Lori Anne
 Selby, Mary 19
 Self, Ann B.
 Sell, Christopher Edwards 200, 323
 Sell, Heather
 Sell, Sherry Lynn 198, 360
 Sellers, Ellen Elizabeth 360
 Sellers, Robert Clarke
 Sellin, Alison A. 198
 Sepple, John Scott 178
 Serrano, Imelda 182, 323
- Servidio, Steven Marc
 Sesser, Andrew Kenneth
 Sessoms, Karl Lauralyn 180, 360
 Sessoms, Sonia Celeste
 Seu, Matthew John 194, 290
 Seward, Andrew Bryant 212
 Sewell, Janell Agnes 308
 Sexton, David Bernard 225, 258, 360, 384, 407
 Sevler, Alison Marion 290
 Shaffer, Mario Vincent
 Shah, Mehul S. 308
 Shafer, Stephen Carpenter 265, 360
 Shanahan, Jerevin Paul
 Shanaman, Anne Hopkins 360
 Shangraw, William Randall
 Shanks, Kathryn Kimberly 172, 360, 384
 Shanley, Nancy Elizabeth 308
 Shannon, Dorothea Mabe
 Shannon, Suzanne Purser 164, 323
 Shapiro, James Anthony
 Shapiro, Lena Varden 381
 Shapiro, Maria Elizabeth
 Sharkey, William James
 Sharman, Robert Michael, Jr. 356, 360
 Sharp, Andrew M.
 Sharp, Jov Brightwell
 Shaw, Edwin Ferebee, Jr.
 Shaw, Heather Louise 290
 Shaw, Marvin Lawrence 360, 384
 Shaw, Lucinda Anne
 Shea, Dennis Gerard 323, 380, 407
 Shea, Sara Treacy
 Sheehey, Erin Anne
 Sheeler, Harva Katharine
 Sheets, Julie Ann 360
 Sheffield, Sandra Jean
 Sheffler, John David 323
 Sheingold, Terry Faye
 Shelly, Helen Edwards
 Shelly, Thaddeus Rubel, III
 Shelly, Timothy Scott
 Shelor, Melinda Dare 308
 Shelton, Linda Close
 Shen, Julia Mae 323, 384
 Shepherd, Deirdre Vanessa
 Sherman, Lee Irvin
 Sherman, Mark Charles 215
 Sherman, Neil Edward 323
 Sherman, Robert Bruce 360
 Sherrick, Howard Joseph, Jr. 206
 Sherry, June Eileen
 Sherwood, Susan Lee
 Shewmake, William Henry
 Shield, Donna Whitmore
 Shields, Michael Francis 202, 361
 Shih, John Yozen
 Shin, Theodore Jinyoung 252, 308
 Shine, John Francis 361
 Shingleton, Jennifer Lynn 290
 Shirey, Tonva Sue 308
 Shoemaker, Lynette Marie 172
 Shonk, William Scott 206
 Shoop, Karen Lynn
 Short, Nancy Jane
 Shotton, Charles Thomas, Jr.
 Showers, Karen Lynn
 Shubm, Harry B. 371
 Shufflebarger, Ann Catherine 200
 Shuler, Michael Albert 212, 361
 Shull, Brian Briscoe 290
 Shumadine, Anne Ballard
 Shundich, Steven Frederick 206
 Shurtz, Karen Lee
 Siciliano, Stephen N.
- Sickler, Jeffrey John 194
 Siddall, Yvonne Roseena
 Sidebottom, Lawrence
 Siegel, Jonathan David
 Siegfried, Robert Coleman, II
 Siemon, Gail Judith
 Sierralla, Raymond Phillip
 Sigmontelli, Vincent Martin 206
 Sigwalt, Richard D.
 Silber, David Henry 290
 Sils, Jennifer Dell 196
 Silva, Frederick William
 Silver, Andrea Rose 290
 Silver, Timothy Howard
 Silverberg, Steven Mark 212
 Silverstein, Joseph Ralph
 Sm, Martha Elizabeth
 Simas, Joe O. III
 Simeone, Alan Arthur 208, 323
 Simeone, Lisa Marie 290
 Simmonds, Robert Mauret
 Simmons, Alan Duane
 Simmons, Christopher Dewitt
 Simmons, John Wesley
 Simmons, Karen Elizabeth 184
 Simmons, Katharine Purkins
 Simmons, Mary Diane
 Simmons, Robyn Karen
 Simmons, Sara Susan 323
 Simon, Daniel Jay 257, 323
 Simon, Steven Rex
 Simoneaux, Stephen Farrow 204
 Simpson, Leslee Durette
 Simpson, Michael Lawrence 361
 Simpson, Thomas Howard 200
 Singleary, Janet Carol 125, 164, 323, 407
 Singleary, Lola Johnson 308
 Singleton, Elizabeth Marie 323
 Singley, Mark Andrew 361, 380
 Sinnott, Mark Lloyd 198, 361, 382, 384, 385
 Sinnott, Tracy Marie 308
 Sipes, Bradley Allen
 Siren, David Bruce 290
 Strower, Brian
 Sitrka, Kenneth Michael
 Sisson, Charles Cleveland 290
 Sisson, Irene Virginia 58, 361
 Skellev, Suzanne
 Skelly, Robert Charles 361, 380
 Skerl, Patricia Ann
 Skinner, John Hagan
 Skinner, Marvin Eugene
 Skulski, Emil Alexander
 Slagle, Gary Sumnerell
 Slatten, Katherine Elizabeth 308
 Slattery, W. Scott 200, 290
 Slaughter, Debra Leigh 176, 361
 Slaughter, Mason Anne 198
 Sledjeski, Darren David 308
 Sleeper, Deborah Ann 164, 323
 Slocum, Peter Stuvsant, II 194
 Siodowicz, Mitchell Howard 186
 Slothower, Louis Paul
 Slotnik, Ellen Sandra 230, 361, 385, 407
 Slott, Kenneth Andrew
 Smethurst, Douglas Carter
 Smethurst, Jeffrey Hunt
 Smethurst, Lynda S.
 Smolkey, Thomas Richard
 Smrcina, Blair Edmund
 Smith-George, Deborah Wood
 Smith, Allison Marie 176, 323
 Smith, Barbara Alice 323, 381
 Smith, Carol Ann 76, 323

- Saatman, Lorraine Elizabeth 172, 323
 Sabatini, Laura Ellen 323
 Sabec, Edwin Joseph 381
 Sabin, Linda Susan 170
 Sabo, Kathleen Ann
 Sabol, Jeffrey Robert 210
 Sacks, David Ira
 Sacks, Ruth L.
 Sadler, Sam 27, 272, 277, 278
 Sadler, Susan M.
 Sadosuk, Gregory Scott 323

FARM fresh
SUPER SAVING CENTER

455 Merrimac Trail, Williamsburg tell us friend!

Smith, Carol Lynn
 Smith, Carol Nance 361, 384
 Smith, Charles Robert
 Smith, Charles William, Jr
 Smith, Craig Tiedke
 Smith, Cynthia Gail 170, 308
 Smith, Daniel Evan
 Smith, Deborah Lynn 361
 Smith, Deborah Ann 323
 Smith, Donna Jeanette
 Smith, Douglas Frank 178
 Smith, Dwight Everett 308
 Smith, Edward James, Jr
 Smith, Gary Havue
 Smith, Ian Clifford
 Smith, Janet Lynn 164
 Smith, Jeffrey Scott
 Smith, Jennie Ellen 361
 Smith, Jenny Chapman 308
 Smith, Joan Kristina
 Smith, John Edward
 Smith, Ken 277, 278, 279, 312
 Smith, Karen Louise
 Smith, Laurie Anne
 Smith, Lissa Maria
 Smith, Lynette Carol
 Smith, Lynleigh Page
 Smith, Margaret Walton 361
 Smith, Miti Mylene 198, 323
 Smith, Patrick Kevin
 Smith, Robert McCurdy, III 323
 Smith, Sandra Lee
 Smith, Stephen Douglas 75
 Smith, Stephen Emile
 Smith, Stephen Manning
 Smith, Stephen Meade
 Smith, Susan Page
 Smith, Wayne D
 Smith, Zella Louise 170
 Smitherman, Robert Joe
 Smolik, George Steven
 Smolin, Andrew Weitz
 Snarr, Paige Patrice 361
 Sneed, Angela Clayton 361
 Snipes, Anne Marie 381
 Snipes, Marjorie Moore
 Snow, Jean Marlen
 Snow, Lloyd Jeffrey
 Snow, Ravay Lynn
 Snowden, Suzanne Catherine 308
 Snyder, David Browning
 Snyder, Gwendolyn K
 Snyder, Lucinda Katherine 290, 407
 Snyder, Mary Kimberly 308
 Snyder, Melanie Suzanne
 Snyder, Richard Allan
 Sobal, David
 Sobers, Mark Thomas 361
 Sodeman, William Anthony 290

Sohna, Miki 361, 407
 Soholt, Christopher Erling 208
 Sojka, Nickolas J., Jr. 323, 380
 Solberg, Donna Eva Kristine 361
 Solderitch, Robert John
 Solomon, Hope Sydney 184
 Solits, Lynn Allison
 Somers, Elizabeth Gallagher
 Sonima, Carmine L., Jr
 Song, Joo Wha 42
 Soraghan, Patricia Cahill
 Sorensen, Anne Kathleen
 Sorongon, Victoria Renee 308
 Soukup, Teresa L. 323, 381
 Souza, Joel David
 Sowers, Elizabeth Ellen 290
 Spain, Leann Stanley
 Spalding, Mary Parke 196
 Spamol, William Joseph
 Spanolis, Artemis Maria 290
 Spatico, John Louis
 Sparks, Cynthia Dee 361, 384
 Spattow, Gregory Scott
 Spears, Dorothy Ann 176
 Speer, James Wilson
 Spence, Christopher Andrew
 Spence, Danna Jeanene 308
 Spencer, Debra Joan
 Spencer, Sandra Colleen
 Spencer, Taylor White
 Spengler, Ellen Jo 361
 Spessard, Andrea Lynn 361, 381
 Spicer, Henry Konrad 361, 380
 Spielberger, Joan Ellen
 Spilo, Michael I
 Spoilen, Kathleen Ann
 Spong, Mary Katharine
 Spong, Thomas Nicholas
 Spong, William B., Jr. 35, 278
 Spooner, Judith Anne
 Spotz, Barbara Elizabeth
 Spradlin, Charles Allister 323
 Spradlin, Katherine Lee 168
 Spragens, Rebecca Allison 308
 Springer, Jeanne Marie
 Springer, Joseph Stephen 118, 407
 Sprnger, Robert Nelson
 Sprinkle, John Harold, Jr
 Spruill, LuAnne Stevens
 Squires, John Lester 178
 Squars, Cynthia Jean
 Stadlers, Mariss Lauris 361, 381, 380
 St. George, Mary Elizabeth 164, 308
 Stack, Rebecca Ann 170
 Stadler, Herman Scott
 Stadulis, Lawrence P
 Stafford, David Martin 361
 Stahl, Susan Marvene
 Staiko, Leshe Joan

Stallings, John Michael
 Stallings, Thomas James 145
 Stalowitz, Valentin Mark 202
 Stamoulas, Maria Apostolos 308, 381, 407
 Stanford, Marcia Anne
 Stanslaw, William Charles
 Stanko, Edward John
 Stanley, Charles Virgil, Jr. 380
 Stanley, Julie Anne
 Stanley, Ronald Alwin
 Stanton, Claudia Joan 361, 385
 Stanton, Howard Burton, III
 Staples, Kimberly Anna 323
 Stark, Mallory Lynn 323
 Stark, Sheila Christine
 Stark, Theodore Alan
 Starke, Karen Lee
 Starr, Kathleen Alyson
 Statler, Susan Ann 361
 Staubes, Bradley Patrick 78, 80
 Stav, Grace E.
 St. Clair, Anne Leath 184, 323
 Steeg, Timothy Patrick
 Steel, Sally Lou
 Steele, Ashley Ann
 Steele, Kathleen Leslie 308
 Steele, Scott Irvin 361
 Steinhilber, Patricia Aletta 362
 Steenson, Ross Ashworth
 Stefaniw, Julie Daria
 Steffens, Rodney C
 Stein, William Andrew 362
 Steinert, Alexandra Thomas
 Steinhiber, August William, III
 Stem, Albert Franklin, Jr
 Stenger, Amy Elizabeth 208, 381
 Stephands, Angela L. 308
 Stephens, David Holmes 207, 362
 Stephens, Henry Howard
 Stephens, Lynne Marie
 Stephenson, Henry Louis, III
 Sterling, Carolyn S
 Sterling, Christina Cole
 Sterner, Michael Laurence
 Stermer, Dean Vance 362
 Stern, Kevin Michael
 Stern, Suzanne Paulette
 Steeler, Jean 108
 Stetson, Amy Elizabeth
 Stetson, Martha Thomas 323
 Stevens, Frederick
 Stevens, Marla Kaye 291
 Stewart, Adriane Lynn
 Stewart, Alice Freeman
 Stewart, Carolyn Lois
 Stewart, Catherine
 Stewart, James Kelly 308
 Stewart, Jennifer Lynn 308

Stewart, Kimberley Duncan
 Stewart, Reginald Craig
 Stuffer, Valerie Anne 212, 323
 Still, Maria F
 Stilwell, David A
 Stinson, Charles Michael 291
 Stipano, Daniel Peter
 Stok, Charles William
 St. John, Natalie King
 Stocker, Kevin Dean 308
 Stofan, Ellen Renee 362, 380
 Stoiles, Katherine 323
 Stokes, William Standley
 Stone, Carl Randall
 Stone, David Harris 200
 Stone, Earl G.
 Stone, Karen L. 323
 Stone, Keith Alan
 Stone, Kelly L. 265
 Stone, Susan Davidson
 Stone, Thomas Melvin, Jr. 178, 308
 Stone, Walter Lewis, Jr
 Stoneman, Rieta Cybele
 Storch, Sandia Kathleen
 Storer, Cynthia Lee 291
 Storer, Suzanne Marie
 Stott, Kimberly Elizabeth
 Stottlemeyer, Todd Andrew
 Stotts, Janet Lynn 308
 Stout, Lida Anne
 Stout, Teddy A
 Stover, Sheri Leigh
 Stramgan, Bradley James
 Straub, Joseph Phillip, III
 Straupenueks, Anita Laila
 Straus, Suzanne Marie 362
 Stravuz, Robert K. 178
 Stravhorn, Michael Paul 98, 362
 Straymond, Perry Ferran
 Street, Diana Lynn 172, 308
 Streeter, Jonathan Paul 362
 Strenger, Amy E. 323
 Striegl, Frank William
 Striegl, Leslie Claire 198, 362, 382
 Stringer, Laura Allison 164, 324
 Stringer, Charles J
 Strobel, Douglas Paul
 Strodel, Ross Alan
 Strong, Cecily
 Strubinger, Eric Keith
 Struthers, Lisa Ann
 Strucker, Joyce Annette 324
 Strucker, Rita Yvonne
 Stubbing, Laura Elizabeth
 Studeman, Kimberley Diane
 Sturm, Brian William
 Sturm, Linda Susan 381
 Sturm, Michael Lee 324
 Stutz, Reese Culbert

Styles, Kathleen M
 Suchniewski, Kathleen Marie 4, 26, 291
 Sugarman, James Thomas
 Sugg, Mary Elizabeth
 Sukol, Judith Anne
 Sukol, Leonard Read
 Sullivan, Cornelia Murphy 291
 Sullivan, Dean Alan
 Sullivan, Judy Stowe
 Sullivan, Karen E. 180
 Sullivan, Mark Leigh 362
 Sullivan, Kevin Richard
 Sullivan, Linda Ann
 Sullivan, Mark Francis
 Sullivan, Mary Elizabeth
 Sullivan, Richard Joseph 291
 Sullivan, Sean Malou
 Sullivan, Vincent Joseph
 Summers, Nancy Wharton
 Summers, Steven Glenn
 Summers, Susan Marie 324
 Summerville, Carole E.
 Sumner, Robert William
 Sung, Kim Yong 362
 Suprise, Diane Jave
 Surasky, Andrew Arnold 75
 Surprenant, Sally Linda
 Suttle, M. Joanne
 Suttle, Thomas G.
 Sutterfield, Cheryl Lynn 308
 Sutton, Lawrence Edward
 Swain, Susan Lorraine
 Swain, Tracy 362
 Swallow, David John
 Swallow, Stephen Robert
 Swanson, Karen Lynn
 Swanson, Mary Virginia 138, 139, 362
 Swartz, Robert John
 Sweeney, Brian Andrew
 Sweeney, Mark Joseph, Jr. 262
 Sweeney, Suzanne Christine 184, 324
 Sweet, David Lehardy 385
 Sweetser, Susann Ellen 168
 Swenson, Dane John 362
 Swete, Richard W
 Sweitnam, Mary Elizabeth
 Swezes, William Berkelev
 Swiegood, Cynthia Lynn
 Swift, Barbara Lynn
 Swift, Sandra Douglas 362
 Swink, Sharon Lynn 324
 Svbers, William Anthony, Jr.
 Sves, Howard R., Jr
 Sves, William Usher
 Smons, Linda John 176, 362
 Szele, Francis George

Suttle Jewelers
WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIRS

Fraternity and Sorority
Jewelry
Gemstone Rings
Pendants, Earrings
431 Prince George Street

Taber, Lynn Elizabeth 291
 Tadem, Carla Elaine 180
 Takemori, Chris Yuki 308
 Talberth, Harry John
 Talbot, Frank Christopher
 Tahaferro, Doris Jo vner
 Tahaferro, Mary E.
 Tamburino, Barbara Kells
 Tammi, John Raymond 362
 Tancill, Jeffrey James
 Tancredo, Katya Annella 309
 Tanner, Laura Elizabeth 172, 309, 384
 Tantiello, Peter 200
 Tarrant, Jonathan Edward 291
 Tascoff, Leslie Anne
 Tate, Mary Lynn
 Tatnall, Christopher Graham
 Tavloe, Cheri Lynn
 Taylor-Keiser, Jacquelyn M
 Taylor, Allen John 204, 324
 Taylor, Angela Michele 166, 362, 385
 Taylor, Barry Michael
 Taylor, Debbie Lynn 100, 196, 324
 Taylor, Debra Lynn
 Taylor, Gregory Francis 362
 Taylor, James White 309
 Taylor, Janice 80
 Taylor, Jacquelin Harrison
 Taylor, Jeremy Young 362
 Taylor, Jill Therese
 Taylor, Joseph Dodson, II
 Taylor, Lois Jean
 Taylor, Lynn Avers
 Taylor, Marc Andre 186
 Taylor, Martha Lewis 362
 Taylor, Michelle Zenobia 166, 362
 Taylor, Nancy Joy 170, 309
 Taylor, Tedford James
 Taylor, Wayne 230

Beecroft & Bull, LTD.

Clothing for Gentlemen

Established in 1958, Beecroft and Bull, Ltd. in Merchant's Square continues to provide fine quality clothing for men. The accent at the store is on "traditionals" — Woolrich sweaters and flannel shirts, Southwick suits, Izod Lacostes, and other classic accouterments of the gentleman with taste. "Our traditional clothing does not bend to the whims of fashion," said one employee. "We never have to get rid of anything."

Although a visit to Beecroft and Bull is generally thought of as a rare treat when one has somehow been able to amass the funding, it is not necessarily so — the store is amply supplied with clothing to accommodate everyone's budget.

Beecroft and Bull remains popular with all segments of the college community, both for its proximity to campus and for its ability to create the illusion of landed gentry. Although the Merchant's Square store is only for men, ladies are able to obtain clothing in the same fine tradition at the Golden Horseshoe Pro Shop.

Teates, David Bruce
Tegers, John Steven
Telfevan, Stephen John
Tellmann, Peter Rudy
Terhune, Joyce Catherine 208, 309
Terry, Charles Laymen, IV 212, 257
Testin, Joan Marie 384
Tetzlaff, Monica Maria 291, 407
Tewell, Kara Yvonne 381
Thacker, Dennis Wilson 178, 309
Thacker, Lisa Suzanne 309
Thalmer, Mark Alfred
Thayer, Whitney Leigh 140, 324
Theisen, Steven Harold
Theobald, Frederick Thompson, Jr.
Therianos, Mark Alexander 303, 324
Therriault, Dwayne Leo
Theuer, Stephen Richard
Thibeault, Suzanne Maria
Thierfelder, Karen Elizabeth 291
Thimsen, Theresa Louise 309
Thiringer, Andrea Juliana 37, 363
Thoman, Leslie Marie
Thomas, Andrew Keith 324
Thomas, Brent Mason 363
Thomas, Carole Ann
Thomas, Craig Nicholas
Thomas, Dorothy Worthy 385
Thomas, Elizabeth Aileen
Thomas, Jacqueline Paige 75
Thomas, Jonathon Jay
Thomas, Jonathon Scott
Thomas, Kerrie Lee 196, 363
Thomas, Mark Ellis
Thomas, Raymond Warren
Thomas, Robert William
Thomas, Sam
Thomas, Timothy Arnot 309
Thomas, Tina Schobel
Thomas, Ward J. 309
Thomas, Wendy Lee 196
Thomason, David Edwin 363
Thomasson, Mary Elizabeth 172, 291
Thombs, Kristel Sabrina 291
Thomes, Timothy Nicholas
Thompson, Amy Eldridge
Thompson, Bryan Fodd
Thompson, Ellen Treacy

Thompson, Freida Annette 214, 363
Thompson, Jeanette Louise 291
Thompson, John Mc Laney
Thompson, Margaret Holland 309
Thompson, Michael David
Thompson, Nancy Renee
Thompson, Pamela Maria 309
Thompson, Ralford Hall 309
Thompson, Roberta Waller
Thompson, Victoria Clare 363
Thompson, Zandra 251, 309
Thomson, Alyce Diane
Thon, Theresa Sue 180, 324
Thonev, Dennis A
Thorndike, Art 212
Thorne, Christopher Edward
Thorne, Karen E. 94, 100, 265
Thornton, Laurie A. 196, 324, 381, 385
Thorpe, Sheryl Lee
Thorvaldson, Alan Lee
Thurston, Anne A. 363
Thweatt, Charlotte Heun
Tiknor, Scott Brian 309
Tidd, John Thomas
Tiefel, Valeria 19
Tierney, Suzanne Stuart 172, 324
Tierney, Thomas Michael 202
Tillans, Pamela Jane 291
Tilhou, John V.
Tillers, Denise Kay 363, 384
Timberlake, Daniel Scott 178, 324
Tingley, Clement, IV
Tingley, Suzanne Thorsen
Tinsley, Elizabeth Ann 180, 291
Tipton, Elizabeth Carter
Tipton, Lisa Joan
Tobin, Lisa Shari
Tohn, Mary Elizabeth 172
Todd, Cecilia A. 1
Todd, John Wesley
Todd, Robert John
Toepke, Teresina Sue Skinner
Toffl, Glenn Theodore
Tolbert, Pamela Sue
Tolson, Edna Diane
Tomasel, John Joseph
Tondrowski, Theodore Norman Ira

Toner, John Patrick
Toomajian, Charles 278
Toomey, Patrick Christopher
Topalian, Terry
Tormey, Robert Emmet
Toussaint, Kathryn Noel
Toven, Stephen James 309
Towers, Mark Andrew
Towers, Sara Frances
Townes, Jacqueline Ramona 166
Townsend, Barbara Kate
Townsend, David Philip
Townsend, Tiffany I.
Tracy, Connie Jo 363
Trammell, Janice Leigh 324, 384
Tramosch, William J.
Traver, Anthony John 98
Traver, Dawn Allison 324
Travis, Patricia Jones
Traylor, John Howard
Trebout, David Alan, Jr.
Tremo, Philip D. 291
Trevino, Katherine Louise
Trexler, Sara Ellen
Trice, Ashton Pleasants
Trigg, Mary Brent
Trimbolt, Lisa Ellen 291
Trindle, John Michael
Trimler, Patricia Delaramen 84, 363
Trivers, Calvin Leroy
Troller, David Edward
Trollope, Zoe Anne 384
Trott, John Barry 252
Trott, Thomas Hale 210, 363
Trotter, Jane Meredith 363, 381
Trotter, Julia Anne
Trumbo, Mallourd Whitney
Trumbo, Oliver Ott
Trubel, Barbara Jane 324
Trso, Allie
Tubbs, Laurie Ann 324
Tucci, Richard P.
Tucker, Edith Ann 363
Tucker, John Worthing Jr.
Tucker, Mark Kingsbury 202, 363
Tulloch, Susan Darc 164
Tulloch, Robert Fleming
Tulvey, James Michael 145, 165

Turbeville, Charles Thomas Jr.
Turbeville, Connie Francine
Turcotte, Vickie Lynn
Turek, Sheila Marie
Turk, Milan Joseph, Jr. 206, 324
Turnage, Lynne Ann 324
Turner, Bradley Earl
Turner, Christine Lynn 324
Turner, David Hunter 363
Turner, Debra Paige 309
Turner, Elizabeth Adeline 363
Turner, Kimberley Dawn 380
Turner, Kimberly Anne 172, 324
Turner, Marvin Hood
Turner, Michael Gideon
Turner, Peter Merrick 190, 324
Turner, Rayna Lee 309
Turner, Tracey Elizabeth 265
Tuthill, Bartley F.
Tuttle, Ann Leshe 309
Tuttle, Rebecca Sue
Tuttle, Robert William
Tuttle, Steven Ashley
Tweedie, Martha Conrad
Twine, Sherree Ann
Tyler, John 264
Tyzee, Floyd Mark
Tyzinger, Mark Lloyd

Ugolino, Vida Marie 309
Uhrig, Katherine Jean 363
Uhrig, Mary Ruth 309
Ukrop, Robert Scott 200, 309
Ulmer, Elaine V.
Umberger, Amy Maria
Unscheid, Susan Margaret
Unger, Michael A.
Unkulasapaul, Marnia
Unkulasapaul, Yothin
Unruh, Kathryn Ball 180, 324
Upadhyaya, Alka K.
Updegrave, Douglas Ralph 309
Usher, John 116
Usher, Daniel Kevin 202
Ut Dale Ann, Jr.
Utall, David Henry 363, 380
Utz, Elizabeth Ernie 53, 182
Uveges, Ruth Elizabeth 363, 382
Uzzo, Lynn Marie 324

SALES/RENTALS

RECORD HEADQUARTERS

THE BAND BOX

517 Prince George Street

229-8882 229-8974

HSING LING

Chinese Restaurant

We Invite You to Sample Some Authentic Chinese Fare

10% Discount to Students

204 Monticello Shopping Center

220-2344

Vannort, David N. 309
 Vanwinkle, Alyssa Marie 168
 Varner, Charles 246
 Varner, Christopher Dean
 Varner, David Allen 206
 Varner, Pamela Catherine 364
 Vascotto, Anna L.
 Vassallo, Thomas Frank
 Vaughan, Kevin Leigh
 Vaughan, Patricia Page
 Vaughan, Thomas Leonard
 Vaughn, David
 Vaughn, Deborah Diane 166, 364
 Veca, Anthony J.
 Vehrs, Bonnie Hope 364
 Veintimilla, Laura Sue
 Veit, Anne Alison 170
 Venable, David Brian
 Verma, Rajender 371
 Vermilya, George Douglas, Jr.
 Verner, Bruce David 291, 309
 Veshancev, Robert Henry 364, 380
 Viar, Elisabeth Anne
 Vichos, Georgia Sotera
 Vickers, Vincent Hilton, II
 Vickery, George Kendall 291
 Victor, Andrea Eve 380
 Villa, Christine Marie 176, 310
 Vining, Christine Napoli
 Virga, Lori Ann 324
 Vitale, Jody Lynn 310
 Vitelli, George Carl
 Vogan, David 19
 Noigt, Mark William 364
 Volgenau, Lauren 265, 324
 Volkert, George Anthony 364
 Volkle, Arthur Joseph, Jr.
 Volpi, John Michael
 Voltz, Gregg Philip
 Von Kuhn, Philip Ferguson
 Voneschen, Lisa Anne 291
 Vonludwig, Amelie Lucy 310
 Vontoal, Dagmar Louise
 Voviazakis, Emanuel
 Vrooman, William I. III
 Vulpe, Shirley Ann F.

Vachris, Scott Charles 324
 Vagos, Charles James
 Valente, Rachele Rose 381
 Valenti, Mickey R.
 Valenti, Simonne 180, 309
 Valentine, Cathleen Marie
 Valeriano, Aurelio Rafael
 Valinski, Sue 184
 Valkenburg, Christine Ann
 Valley, Pamela Lynn
 Van Der Leeden, Pamela Gay 364
 Van Epps, Matthew John
 Van Wagner, David Paul
 Van, Heidi Marie
 Vance, Gasle F.
 Vance, Marian I.
 Vanleave, Terisa Rose 324
 Vandekamp, Diana Katherine 309
 Vandenberghie, Renee
 Vanderhyde, John Frederick
 Vanderwalde, Eric Jon 208, 380
 Vanderwerker, Wally D.
 Vandessel, Carol Hainwa
 Vandewalle, Sharon Smith
 Vandoorn, Leticia Natalie
 Vanhook, Marcia Allyson 196
 Vanhousen, Garret
 Vanrk, Margaret Jean
 Vanlandingham, Cynthia Elizabeth 164
 Vanlandingham, Sheryl Marie
 Vanloan, Nancy Louise
 Vanmeter, Beverly Ruth

Wachsmann, Howard Otto, Jr. 310
 Wade, Dana Renee 291
 Wade, Sheron Renae 364
 Wagner, Catherine Lynn 172, 324
 Wagner, Gregory Wayne 212, 324
 Wagner, Kristen E. 184, 310
 Wagner, Mejeanne
 Wagner, Richard Harlen
 Wagner, Richard Ogden 364, 380
 Wagner, Rita S.
 Wagner, Thomas Watts
 Wagner, William Patrick
 Wagner, William Robert
 Waitzer, Edwin Stuart
 Wajda, Rebecca Kay
 Wakefield, Kevin Carlson
 Walker, Joanna Lynn
 Waldman, Steven Michael
 Waldron, Karen Denise
 Waldron, William Anthony
 Walker, Amy Sturgis
 Walker, Catherine Anne
 Walker, Catherine Marie 364
 Walker, Christopher Joel
 Walker, Dan McMurray, Jr. 291
 Walker, Donald Earl
 Walker, Iva A.
 Walker, Jeannette Santors
 Walker, Jonathan Henry
 Walker, Laura Anne 196
 Walker, Mark Richard
 Walker, Rachel Sue 310
 Walker, Richard Andrew 210

Walker, Stacey Lynn 310
 Walker, Stephen James 324
 Wall, Charles Edward 291
 Wall, James David
 Wall, Marjorie Lancaster
 Wallace, Betty W.
 Wallace, Cynthia Denise
 Wallace, Diane Rose 196
 Wallace, Julia Ann 198, 291
 Waller, Jeffrey S.
 Waller, Julia Virginia 291
 Wallin, Edgar Venson, Jr. 291
 Walling, Dennis Michael 364
 Wallo, Eugene Craig 364
 Walls, Mary Margaret B.
 Walls, Neal Hugh, Jr.
 Walpole, Andrew Robert Nicholas
 Walsh, Catherine Jean 184
 Walsh, Colleen Anne 310
 Walsh, David Ignatius
 Walsh, Jacquelyn Marie
 Walsh, Marvellen
 Walsh, Michael John 371
 Walter, Douglas Benton 74
 Walter, Emilie P.
 Walters, Barbara Josephine 291
 Walters, Neal Lawrence 324
 Waltnav, Mary S. 364
 Walton, Denise Ann 291
 Wagner, Dulcie Y.
 Walylko, Carol Diane
 Wampler, Anne Marie, 182, 325
 Wang, Tzuu-Shin
 Wang, Yi-Cheng
 Ward, Erin Catherine
 Ward, Gordon Burke
 Ward, Henry Clay 291
 Ward, John William, Jr. 364
 Ward, Kevin James
 Ward, Rebecca Jeanne 265, 310
 Ward, Renee Louise 198, 291
 Ward, Rita Marjorie 170, 364
 Ware, Richard Lee
 Warner, George Harris, Jr. 325
 Warner, John Barrett
 Warner, Valerie Amelia
 Warren, April Ann
 Warren, David Lee 178, 310
 Warrick, Carolyn B.
 Warrick, Cindy
 Warrick, Paula Jean 164, 291
 Worthen, George A. II
 Wash, Thomas Atwood, Jr.
 Washinko, Carla Ann 364
 Watanabe, Cheryl Ann
 Waterland, Robert Leonard

Waters, Carrie Baird
 Waters, Hugh Richard
 Waters, William F.
 Watkins, Caroline Belinda 182, 364
 Watkins, Christopher Penn 364, 381
 Watkins, Mark Allen
 Watkins, Patricia Venita
 Watson, Kathleen Annette 182, 257, 364
 Watson, Mark Steven
 Watson, Terri Lynn 176, 325, 280
 Watt, Craig James
 Wattavakorn, Gollava
 Waters, Jeffrey Winfred
 Waters, Jerome Wendall 186, 365, 380
 Wauford, Jennifer Ann
 Wav, Karen Gillions 385
 Waymack, Jacqueline Rene
 Wayson, Brian Lee
 Weatherwax, Sarah Jane
 Weaver, Bennett Lewis 291
 Weaver, Hugh Mac, Jr.
 Weaver, Julie Hope 291
 Weaver, Laura Lynn 365, 381
 Weaver, Martha Frances 196, 310
 Weaver, Rebecca Anne
 Weaver, Sharon Lynne
 Weaver, Thaddeus James
 Webb, Barry Alan
 Webb, Bryon Scott
 Webb, Cynthia Anne 310
 Webb, Hattie Driver 385
 Webb, Kathryn Marie 291
 Weber, Daniel Max 291
 Weber, Linda Leigh 291
 Webster, David Newton, II 206
 Wedding, Jeannette Alexander 385
 Weeks, Kivoko T.
 Weeks, Susan Woodall 291
 Weening, Richard Henry
 Wegener, Barbara Anne
 Wei, Su Hwai
 Weidenmuller, Elizabeth Lynn 380
 Weidner, Brant Clifford 98, 365
 Weidner, Thomas Bert, IV 210
 Weihe, Philip Daniel
 Weiler, Karen Sue 180, 291
 Wein, Nancy Jane
 Weir, Duncan Richard
 Weir, Helen Marie 207
 Weirick, Leslie Ann
 Weissman, Robert Thomas 200, 291
 Welch, Kathleen 291
 Welch, Sabra Ann 385
 Wellen, Paul Anthony

Wells, Ann Camille
 Wells Christina Mary 142, 365, 385
 Wells, Edward Gregory 365
 Wells, Elizabeth C. 251, 382
 Wells, Gwynne Beamer 365, 385
 Wells, Lisa Kay 174, 365
 Welsh, Elizabeth Ann
 Welsh, Elizabeth King
 Welsh, Joseph Richard
 Welsh, Lisa Lynn 365, 385
 Welsh, Margaret E.
 Welty, Amy Thomson 287, 310
 Wendt, Amy Christine 196, 325, 380
 Wenger, Donald B
 Wennesheimer, Lisa Marie 310
 Wentz, Ellen Maura 24, 176, 310
 Wentworth, Linda Clark
 Wenz, Karen Elizabeth 372
 Werme, Paul Victor
 Wernecke, Karl Richard
 Wesley, John William
 West, James Odell, R
 West, Lisa Lynn
 West, Michael Allen
 West, Mildred 278
 West, Patricia Lee 196, 206, 365
 Westbrook, Evelyn Lorraine 310
 Westbrooke, Rebecca Eruce 365
 Westwater, Kathryn Mary
 Wetmore, Nancy Grace 164, 365
 Weybright, Anne Carol 176, 310
 Whaley, Janet Patricia 310
 Whearty, Meredith Austin 170, 291
 Wheatley, Robert Craig
 Wheeler, Laura Elizabeth 291
 Wheelless, Thomas Edwim, Jr. 365
 Whipkev, Lynn H.
 Whitaker, Glenith P.
 Whitaker, Pearl W
 Whitaker, Robert J, Jr. 365
 Whitaker, Russell Evenette, Jr
 White, Ann F
 White, Barbara Jayne
 White, Betty Joyce
 White, Brian Steven 202
 White, Carolyn Ann 291
 White, Clay Kevin
 White, Dan 24
 White, David Lee 385
 White, Elizabeth Lester
 White, Elizabeth Lynn
 White, James Hope
 White, Jeffery Elev 325
 White, Julian Levi 365
 White, Kristen Marie

White, Leslie 196
 White, Linda Laurie 291
 White, Marjorie Ellen 291
 White, Mary Jo
 White, Mary Kathryn 365
 White, Richard Hudgins
 White, Samuel Wiley 178, 291
 White, Susan Elizabeth 365
 White, Susan T 291
 White, Tanja Katarina
 Whitehurst, Bradley Scott 325
 Whitehurst, Bruce Tracy
 Whitehurst, Mark Alexander
 Whitehurst, Roy Stuart 310
 Whitelaw, John S 380
 Whitely, Karen Lynn 365
 Whiteman, Leslie Yolanda 214, 365
 Whiteside, Constance Lee
 Whiting, George C.
 Whitman, Nancy Jo
 Whitmer, Patricia Lane 365
 Whitmore, Deborah Trauth
 Whitmore, Jeffrey Ellis
 Whitney, Andrew Prince 86, 102, 150
 Whitney, James Marshall, Jr 310
 Whitney, Mark Bryan
 Whitson, Terry Jo
 Whitworth, Anne Brooks 291
 Whitworth, Sandra Lee 310
 Wickwire, Ann J
 Wiersema, Richard Edward
 Wiese, Robert
 Wiesner, Kevin Charles
 Wiggins, Darv Kevin 291
 Wiggins, Frontus Burbank, III
 Wiggins, Phillip Hiram 202
 Wigton, Martha I
 Wilcox, Catherine Mary
 Wilcox, John Leonard
 Wilcox, Meredith Chase 291
 Wildman, Mark Robert
 Wilgenbusch, Pamela Ann 291
 Wilkerson, Debra L
 Wilkinson, Richard Keith
 Wilcox, Edward Roane, III
 Willett, Rodney Turner 200, 311, 407
 Wilhelm, Keith Boyd
 Williams, Ann Laurens
 Williams, Barry Neal
 Williams, Breuda Lee
 Williams, Brenda I
 Williams, Brian Lee
 Williams, Carol Ann
 Williams, Diane Lawrence 184, 365

Williams, Douglas Wiley
 Williams, Dr Edgar Warren 19
 Williams, Edna Hall
 Williams, Elizabeth Anne 291
 Williams, Ellen Kay 365
 Williams, Grace Maria 174, 311
 Williams, Ian Thomas 200
 Williams, James Clark 194, 311
 Williams, Jeremy Bennett 385
 Williams, Lorette Hughes 385
 Williams, Margaret Ellen
 Williams, Mark Joaguin
 Williams, Mark Richard 202
 Williams, Martin Braxton, III
 Williams, Melanie Leigh 210
 Williams, Michael Douglas
 Williams, Nancy Love 325
 Williams, Rolf Peter Jeffrey 194
 Williams, Ruth L.
 Williams, Sandra Louise
 Williams, Sarah Alleta 224, 365
 Williams, Stephen Anthony
 Williams, Steven Robert
 Williams, Thomas Matthew
 Williams, Timothy Joe
 Williams, Warren Lee
 Williams, Warwick Vincent
 Williams, William Bryant
 Williams, William Llewellyn 365, 384
 Williamson, Amy Lewis 365
 Williamson, John Broadus, III
 Williamson, Mary Ann Frances
 Williamson, Sarah Elizabeth 224, 325, 385
 Williford, Mary Ellen 311
 Willis, Alotha Carol
 Willis, Frederick Michael 291
 Willis, Jere Malcolm Harris, III 384
 Willis, Lisa Lind 168, 311, 381
 Willis, Patricia Pritchard
 Willoughby, Steven Russell
 Willis, John Christopher
 Wilson, Amanda Lee 168
 Wilson, Brian Scott
 Wilson, Catherine Theresa 365
 Wilson, Dale Wagers
 Wilson, Greer D
 Wilson, Jacob McKinley, III 365
 Wilson, Jennifer Ann 311
 Wilson, John Robert
 Wilson, Karen Anne 182, 311
 Wilson, Kathleen Sue
 Wilson, Kelly Patricia
 Wilson, Laura Beth
 Wilson, Nancy 174

Wilson, Paris Dean 389
 Wilson, Sarah Jane 365
 Wilson, Susan A
 Wilson, Timothy Bland 194, 224, 325
 Wilson, Timothy Wayne 365
 Wilson, Wendy Paige 381
 Wilson, Wesley C
 Wimberly, Brian T.
 Winder, Elaine Patricia 365
 Windle, Lisa Anne
 Wines, Susan Elaine 325
 Winn, Doreen Elisabeth
 Winn, Sharon Patricia 311
 Winner, Laurie Ann 291
 Winslow, Mark Stevens
 Winstead, Charles Kirk
 Winstead, Rhonda Carol 180, 311
 Winstead, Susan Elaine 311
 Winston, Martha Leigh
 Winter, Elaine
 Winters, Mary Stewart
 Wise, Earl Edward, II
 Wise, Fred H
 Wise, Susan Elizabeth 325, 382
 Wiseman, Agnes Penultima
 Wiseman, Mary Elizabeth 311
 Witherspoon, Pamela Gay 291
 Withrow, Julie Ann
 Witmer, David Scott
 Witmer, Susan Le
 Wittkamp, Christopher Paul
 Wittkowski, John Mark
 Wlodarczak, Elizabeth Denise 291
 Woessner, Andrew Mohrmann
 Woessner, Stephan D
 Woglom, Marvellen 180
 Wolf, Jeffrey Scott
 Wolf, Scott Douglas 366, 380, 385
 Wolf, Tracy Lynne 182, 311
 Wolfe, Kenneth Mark
 Wolfe, Sally Frances
 Wolfinger, Gretchen Marie
 Wollerton, Alicia 82
 Woloszk, Karen Ursula
 Wolsiefer, Carolyn L. 366
 Wong-You-Cheong, Jennifer 381
 Wong, Thomas Sheung-Pok 255, 366
 Wood, Alison Marion 366
 Wood, Ann Louise
 Wood, Benjamin David Michael 67, 385
 Wood, Brock Richard
 Wood, Carolyn Faye
 Wood, Catherine Elizabeth 240, 325
 Wood, Christiane F 366

D. M. Williams
 MAKERS & SELLERS OF FINE LEATHERS

Wood, Emily Jane 325
 Wood, Fred Glover
 Wood, Karen Virginia
 Wood, Leanne R. 366, 407
 Wood, Linda Carol 384
 Wood, Mary Ann 164, 180, 325
 Wood, Michael Lee 200, 201
 Wood, Michelle Yvonne
 Woodall, Kathy Sue 325
 Woodard, Mary Blythe
 Woodcock, Kathryn Holmes 198
 Woodie, Kimberley Jan 366, 384
 Woodland, Deborah Anne 236
 Woodring, Julie Beth 311
 Woodring, Steven Keith
 Woods, Barbara King
 Woodward, Cindy Leigh
 Woodward, David 257
 Woodward, Richard Phillips 210
 Wootten, Thomas Mitchell
 Work, Karen Lynn
 Wormon, Ethelwyn Jeanne

Worst, Jeremy Alan 212
 Wourgola, John Michael
 Wray, Kevin Mark
 Wray, Linda Susan 325
 Wren, Geoffrey Gwyn
 Wren, John Thomas
 Wright, Anastasia Kristen
 Wright, Christina Dawn
 Wright, David McKinney
 Wright, Frederick George
 Wright, Gail Elizabeth 311
 Wright, James Lee
 Wright, Kelly F. 311
 Wright, Lisa Marie 255, 291
 Wright, Marc Allan 366
 Wright, Rachel Ann 311
 Wright, Robert Danielle
 Wright, Stephane Doss 77
 Wright, Thomas W
 Wright, Tracey Chapman 184, 311
 Wright, Wilham Howell, Jr
 Wrightson, Jane Blackwell

Wrigley, Kurt R. 115, 366
 Wunderlich, Linda Anne
 Wussing, Arnd 218
 Wyatt, Natahe Lynn
 Wychulis, Mark Brian 291
 Wysong, Mark Avery 97

Yackow, Joseph Michael 366
 Yacobi, John Andrew
 Yacobi, Marie Cary
 Yacos, Andrew John 208
 Yagello, Stan J. 115
 Yan, Yi-Fon
 Yankovich, James 279
 Yarbrough, Cheryl Lynn 366
 Yarbrough, Micah Joel
 Yarbrough, Terri Ann 380
 Yarrington, Douglas Kent 380
 Yates, Harry Robert, III

1250-B Richmond Road
 Williamsburg Shopping Center

Compliments

of

Binn's Fashion Shop

Yeapans, Demetra Mike 198
 Yeatts, Guy Steven
 Yeh, Chune-Sin
 Yencha, Maria Teresa
 Yenkowski, Gary Francis
 Yergin, James Arthur, Jr.
 Yeskolski, Beverly Anne
 Yi, Eun Yong
 Yi, Hweon
 Young, Amy Lee Marie 366
 Young, Debra Susan 325
 Young, Elizabeth Cornelia 174, 366
 Young, James Otis, Jr. 311
 Young, Janet Elizabeth
 Young, Kumi Marianne
 Young, Lawrence Edward, III
 Young, Nancy N. 172, 291
 Young, Sharon Ruth 291
 Young, Teresa Suzanne
 Youngblood, Gary Robert
 Youngblood, Marsha Ann 196, 311
 Younkins, Kathy Ann
 Ysasi-Diaz, Gloria N.

Zaccagnino, Robert Joseph
 Zacherle, Andrew W
 Zacks, Yuval Joseph 366

Zagorski, Shaion 49
 Zanca, Crispin A
 Zanetti, Susan Lynn 291
 Zanfagna, Deborah Carol 184, 291
 Zangardi, Carl Vincent
 Zaruba, Daniel Scott 366
 Zavilla, Thomas Paul
 Zavistovich, Alexander Russell 225,
 366, 385
 Zavrel, Mark Anthony 366
 Zaza, Robert Noone
 Zebrowski, Daniel Craig 194
 Zeiders, Elizabeth Maria
 Zeidler, Jeannette F
 Zeleznikar, Steven Louis 257, 325
 Zell, Wayne Martin
 Zerrenner, Karen Ann
 Zeuli, Steven David
 Zevl, Judith W
 Zhou, Ye
 Zieske, Kimberly Jane 291
 Zillian, Patricia Ann 23, 325, 380,
 382, 384, 385

Zimmerman, Dawn M 75, 366, 384
 Zimmerman, Tracy Jo
 Zimmermann, Matthew John
 Zink, Helen Louise 311
 Zinman, Daniel Charles
 Zinni, Laura Lynne 170, 380
 Zinsner, Charles, III
 Zitzelberger, Terry James 70
 Zobel, David Marshall
 Zoldork, Alan Joseph
 Zollett, Bernard Paul
 Zorn, Deborah Lynn
 Zorumski, Olivia P
 Zuber, John David 212, 311
 Zunika, E. Tempri
 Zwick, maria Milagros 196
 Zwicklbauer, Michael Franz 212
 Zvdron, Julie Anne 284, 325, 380,
 384

The Peanut Shop

Featuring Virginia's finest, specially roasted peanuts and peanut products, nut mixes and candies.

O R G A N I Z A T I O N S
O R G A N I Z A T I O N S

Alpha Chi Omega 164-165
Alpha Lambda Delta 382
Alpha Phi Omega 244
Alpha Kappa Alpha 166-167
Band 246
Baptist Student Union 366
Baseball 96-97
Basketball 98-101
Beta Gamma Sigma 383
Black Student Organization 251
Chi Omega 168-169
Canterbury Association 267
Cheerleaders 247
Choir 245
Christian Science Organization 264
Circle K 253
Clayton-Grimes Biology Club 244
Colonial Echo 224-231
Cross-Country 102-103
Dav Student Council 252
Delta Delta Delta 170-171
Delta Gamma 172-173
Delta Omicron 248, 384
Delta Phi Alpha 383
Delta Sigma Theta 174-175
Fellowship of Christian Athletes 262
Fencing 104-105
F.H.C. Society 384
Field Hockey 106-107
Flat Hat 224-231

Football 114-117
Forensics Society 256
Gamma Phi Beta 176-177
Golf 118-119
Greek Life 265
Gymnastics 120-123
Health Career Club 255
Hillel-Jewish Union 263
Interfraternity Council 214
Kappa Alpha 178-179
Kappa Alpha Theta 180-181
Kappa Delta 182-183
Kappa Delta Pi 385
Kappa Kappa Gamma 184-185
Kappa Sigma 186-187
Lacrosse 126-127
Lambda Chi Alpha 194-195
Lutheran Student Association 264
Martial Arts Club 257
Mortar Board 383
Omicron Delta Epsilon 380
Omicron Delta Kappa 382
Orchestra 18-19
Panhellenic Council 215
P.E. Majors Club 256
Phi Beta Kappa 380
Phi Eta Sigma 382
Phi Mu 196-197
Phi Mu Alpha 249
Phi Sigma 381

Pi Beta Phi 198-199
Pi Delta Phi 381
Pi Kappa Alpha 200-201
Pi Lambda Phi 202-203
Pi Sigma Alpha 384
President's Aides 385
Psi Chi 383
Queen's Guard 250
Riding 128-129
Riflery 132-133
ROTC 254, 396
Sigma Alpha Epsilon 204-205
Sigma Chi 206-207
Sigma Delta Pi 381
Sigma Gamma Epsilon 380
Sigma Nu 208-209
Sigma Phi Epsilon 210-211
Soccer 138-139
Society for Collegiate Journalists 385
Student Association 232-237
Swimming 140-141
Tennis 142-143
Theta Delta Chi 212-213
VaPIRG 232-237
WCWM 224-231
Wesley Foundation 266
William & Mary Review 224-231
WMTV 224-231
Zeta Phi Beta 214-215

A D V E R T I S E R S
A D V E R T I S E R S

Parlett's Gifts & Cards

How can you resist such cuteness and talent?
Come in and browse

open Monday-Saturday

229-7878

Merchants Square
421 Prince George St.

Alexander Beagle 395
Alumni House 396
Army R.O.T.C. 396
Band Box 402
Beecroft and Bull, Ltd. 401
Binn's Fashion Shop 404
C and P Telephone 386
College Bookstore 389
D.M. Williams Leather 403
Farm Fresh 399
The Flower Cupboard 386
Green Leaf Cafe 386
Holiday Inn West 391
Hsing-Ling 402
Massey's Camera Shop 388
Parlett Plak's 406
The Peanut Shop 405
Shamrock Food Service 390
The Silver Vault 395
Stadium Oil 398
Stitches 404
Suttle Jewelers 400
United Virginia Band 389
Village Shops at Kingsmill 405
Williamsburg Shopping Center 392
Yearbook Associates 393

C O L O P H O N
C O L O P H O N

E D I T O R S

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Shari Jee

D E S I G N

Eric Hook

C O P Y

Ellen Slotnik

S P O R T S

Julia Collins

G R E E K S

Judy Cain

ORGANIZATIONS

Dabney Carr

D I R E C T O R Y

Sally Lewis

A S S I S T A N T

Janet Graham

B U S I N E S S

Larry Michaels

S T A F F

D E S I G N

Susan Barco, Richard Deloria,
Meg Halsey, Hillary Michaels

C O P Y

Jay Alfred, Brent Armistead,
Robin Freedman, John McGee,
Kim Moosha, Becky Russell,
Dennis Shea, Lucinda Snyder,
Maria Stamoulas, Exeter Stay,
Monica Tetzlaff

MARK BEAVERS

Shari Jee Eric Hook

P H O T O S

Mark Beavers, Mark Berman,
Martin Cox, Liz Davis, Rob
Guillen, Mary Iida, Tallie
Kennedy, Kurt Knachel,
Warren Koontz, Amy Peters,
Kathy Rawson, Eddie Richberg,
Jan Singletary, Rob Smith

C O N T R I B U T E R S

C O P Y
Sharon Aborn, Elizabeth Beale,
Gail Bechly, Laurie Casewell,
Mark Cleveland, Matt
Danilowicz, Julie Garrett, Jim
McCrory, Gary McDonald,
Mary K. Phelps, Anne
Roberson, David Sexton,
LeAnne Wood

P H O T O S

Jim Morgan, Miki Solma, Joe
Springer, Stuart Wagner,
Rodney Willett

S P E C I F I C A T I O N S

Volume 85 of the Colomal Echo was printed by Hunter Publishing Company of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. All 4200 books were 9x12, 416 pages long. Books were sewn, rounded and backed. Paper stock was 80 lb., Patina Matte. Endsheets stock was 65 lb. Cover base material was Lexotone, base color was Slate Gray, with Silver mylar and debossed lettering in Optima Italic. All body copy was in 12 pt. Baskerville, captions were in 8 pt. Most headlines were Optima, with special headlines in Helvetica, Eurostile, and Avant Light. All copy, design, and photography staff-executed. Individual portrait photography done by Yearbook Associates of Millers Falls, Massachusetts. Total publication budget $47,300. Additional specifications upon request. Editor-in-Chief, Colomal Echo, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185. Thanks to: Bob Sheeran and Frances Bobbe of Men's and Women's Sports Information, Willford Kale of The Richmond Times Dispatch, the staff of The Flat Hat, Barbara Ball of The William and Mary News, and the Virginia Gazette, for the desperately-needed photographs. Yearbook Association, for bend-over-backwards cooperation. Hunter Publishing Company, for extension after extension and for making sense out of our confusing messes. Ken Smith, for not saying anything about our innovative ways of meeting deadlines. Laurie Casewell, Lisa Green, Amy Griffin, Alison Irwin, Mark McCloud, Dieter Poetschke and Sarah Williamson, for typing above and beyond the call of duty. Janet Graham, for being a life-saver. and Martin, wherever you are.

The trucker strike in January and February left many independent truckers in fear of highway assault, or no work.
After suffering chest pains on January 25, Alabama's winningest football coach died in early February of a heart attack.
Seemingly proud of his first two years, President Ronald Reagan gives a press briefing January 20 on his two-volume text.

Photo courtesy of The Richmond Times-Dispatch

What's news?

Locked away in our ivory towers, we were often oblivious to what was going on in the rest of the world. When you're away at school, you become very ego-centric: I must pass this test, I must this paper.

I've got to do this paper, I need money, I'm hungry. I'm tired. Weeks went by without even a glance at a newspaper or T.V. newscast, and worldly worries seemed far away.

But the world didn't stop while you went to college. Soviet leader Brezhnev died, and many questioned what the future would hold for U.S.-Soviet relations. Hundreds of innocent civilians were killed in Beirut. Reaganomics was taking a serious toll on the country, with unemployment at an all-time, post-depression high. Poisoned Tylenol resulted in the biggest consumer scare in history. The independent truckers played a deadly game over a few more cents a gallon, and the football players and owners fought a battle neither could lose. In Europe demonstrations against nuclear arms increased in number and intensity, while between the super countries, nuclear disarmament talks reached an impasse. Reagan sent more and more "advisors" to El Salvador, and the world feared that Central America would be a bloodbath over again.

Few of these significant events affected students deeply. No one could be held responsible, of course, but barricaded in our dorms, usually with the security forces' financial support, the average student remained relatively unperturbed. Some things had changed, however. The end of M*A*S*H saddened many. We had grown up watching the show over its 11 year span. Doonesbury was missed from the comics page. Was the fact that students were affected by a T.V. show and a comic strip proof of Gary Trudeau's words that we are a rather shallow, egocentric generation? Or was it merely a symptom of the sometimes overwhelming academic pressures of this school which left little time for anything but the most superficial of concerns?

(cont. on p. 410)

Tass announced the death of Leonid Brezhnev November 11
The symbol of the American Dream taken too far: John DeLorean's arrest for dealing cocaine to save his bankrupt auto industry

Late in the fall five people die from poisoned Tylenol capsules
PLO leader Yasser Arafat listens to addresses made at the February 15 session of the Palestinian Parliament-in-exile in Algiers club des Pins place

What's news (cont'd)

There were a few rays of light in the dark clouds of worldly worries, however. The most famous baby of the year, Prince William, charmed the millions who watched him grow. Barney Clark pioneered the first artificial heart demonstrating his courage and overwhelming will to live, and giving hope to other chronic heart patients. Where just a few years ago saw blocks-long gas lines and a serious oil shortage, this year saw a glut, a worried OPEC, and a little relief at the pumps. Vietnam veterans received a long-overdue tribute with the unveiling of the Vietnam War Memorial on the mall in Washington, D.C. — a tribute that was as controversial as the war itself. The Washington Redskins celebrated their first Superbowl victory in their forty year history, and jubilant Washingtonians danced in the streets. The advent of Real Men, new wave, and Valley Girls were dubious achievements, but other areas of entertainment made significant advances. Films such as E.T., Gandhi, and Tootsie expanded horizons.

Cats, the popular Broadway hit had its executive producer as one of W&M's own, Peter Neufeld. The controversial Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington was dedicated in 1982. Superbowl champions, the Washington Redskins, boasted the infamous 'I un Bunch' who lived it up after every touchdown. 1981's most celebrated couple Prince Charles and Lady Diana were the parents of 1982's most celebrated bundle of joy, Prince William.

Photos courtesy of The Richmond Times-Dispatch

Ben Kingsley portrays Indian leader Gandhi in the motion picture "Gandhi."
"Tootsie," the rave movie hit, starred Dustin Hoffman as a struggling turned actress.
William and Mary alum Perry Ellis was an econ major. Here he is shown taking to the runway with two of his models in New York.
Artificial heart recipient Barney Clark received his Jarvik-7 plastic heart at the University of Utah Medical Center. The heart was a landmark medical breakthrough.

Even television showed signs of promise with shows such as "St. Elsewhere," "Nicholas Nickleby," and "The Winds of War." Cats came to Broadway, produced by William and Mary alumnus Peter Neufield. And news of the success of other alumni, such as fashion designer Perry Ellis, television writer Karen Hall, and actress Glenn Close, was a small comfort to graduating seniors facing a tight job market and an uncertain future.

CONTRAST

The kid in Safeway plays Asteroids while his mother buys canned vegetables. The student buys instant coffee and runs to the express line; the checker wisks them over the scanner in seconds.

The contrast of Colonialism and high technology echos the contrast we all face at graduation. Garbed in black, we end an era of our lives. The times we have spent cursing William and Marv will lose its meaning. Of course, the largest sigh of relief will breeze through campus, but the melancholy will hold its own. Friends we hung around with, dropped in on, called up in the middle of the night while cramming for an exam, will return home, or a new home, and a new start.

There won't be a Freshman Hall where we can bask in our naivety. Instead, job interviews and "real-life" questions will demand adult attention. No, its not so grim. The worst job market in history and parallel unemployment is certainly intimidating, but to finally be free of academics is an exciting prospect.

(cont. p. 115)

Mark Beavers

As part of the college experience, organizations offer students chances to explore new areas. In contrast to expensive clubs outside of the campus, these organizations are usually inexpensive. Alex Blakemore takes full advantage of the Martial Arts Club Casino night at JB I, a contrast to the academic rigor. Many students consider art as a "weak" major. However, students such as Julie Carpenter know the hours that go into final portfolios.

CONTRAST (cont'd)

Homecomings will offer the possibilities to relive some of the memories whose significance we as students can barely appreciate now. But it won't really be the same. New faces, a totally computerized campus and new buildings will contrast with our old perceptions. Jefferson will be rebuilt but will it be the same? Even in the short time we were here things changed dramatically. College is such a big part of our lives yet it all went by so quickly. And once we get out, how much of it will really matter? Four years can be shorter than half an exam period.

After four years of criss-crossing the campus countless times, 1982 graduates take one last stroll. More than anything else, friends made it all worthwhile. After a VaPIRG meeting, Leslie Steiko and Mark Sherman make plans for the evening. Membership in an organization often means more than just a break from studies; they become an indispensable part of college life. Band member Christy Nodel reflects a moment while playing cymbals during a football game.

---

It's difficult to capture an entire year in 416 pages. What may be important to someone, someone else may not give a damn about. Only a handful of people really care about the Martial Arts Club, the riflery team, or the School of Education (or the fact that we chose to use shower tiles to represent dorm life). Each person has his own memories of this place that no other person can touch: the first time you met your roommate, the time you stayed up all night talking to a friend, your last class ever at William and Mary. What will be remembered in ten years or twenty is impossible to predict. We tried to capture the essence of this year. William and Mary provided the setting; our peers provided the contrast.

---

